ANNUAL MEETING.

The Fifty-first Annual Meeting of the New Haven Branch of the Woman's Board of Missions opened on Tuesday, May 9th, at ten o'clock in Center Church, New Haven following a preliminary prayer service led by Mrs. Charles E. Ewing.

"World Christianity will Bring World Peace" headed the program, and the signs of this movement at home in this first year of our second half century were shown by Mrs. Fairchild, Home Secretary, and Miss Ethel Sterling, Secretary for Young People's Work. Miss Woolsey gave the report of the Treasurer showing the largest receipts by far in the history of the Branch. Miss Reynolds offered a prayer of thankfulness for all our home societies, who have done so splendidly throughout the year.

The corresponding secretaries gave us glimpses of World Christianity Abroad in a brief sketch of what the past year has meant in the lives of our missionaries. Miss Savage prayed that we might be worthy of these wonderful women on the foreign field.

"The Share of the Woman's Board in World Christianity" was the subject of the address of its President, Mrs. Warner, showing us that each member of the Woman's Board is a messenger of God, with a wonderful vision for which to plan and pray.

Necessary business was then transacted, Mrs. Clarence Blakeslee, chairman, presenting the report of the nominating committee. Mrs. C. C. Elwell offered prayer for those accepting the responsibilities of office the coming year.

Mrs. Edward Hume closed the morning session with a devotional service. Following a luncheon served in both Center and United Church Houses, a pageant, "Africa's Fate in the Balance," was presented by members of Center Church Auxiliary.

A beautiful service of devotion, prepared by Mrs. Munger, was used to open the afternoon session at two-thirty. This service included the offering which was for the repairs on the Ahmednagar Hospital, and Dr. Ruth Hume spoke a few words explaining the use of the two "begging bowls" she had presented to the Branch and which were used to collect the offering.

Miss Minnie E. Carter, our youngest missionary, who six years ago was commissioned at our annual meeting, had as her subject "Christianity at Inanda, South Africa." She spoke of Mrs. Edwards' still active work with the girls and of the peculiar problems of the Zulu girls which are so difficult to solve, except as they are helped by a well trained staff of native teachers.

Another of our younger missionaries, home on her first furlough, Miss Katie Wilcox of Madura, spoke of the changing conditions in India to-day in politics, social conditions, education and the new freedom of the women.

Reverend Ernest W. Riggs, Associate Secretary of the American Board, speaking on "The New Outlook in Turkey," showed forcefully, the apparent hopelessness of the political situation, with Europe defeated in Turkey, the failure of all reform programs, of broken pledges and massacres; as contrasted with the bright international missionary outlook, with Constantinople as an oasis for the intellectual leaders of all oppressed nations and the plans for the new School of Religious Education, being built on this foundation. The most wonderful outlook of all and the secret of world peace is the salvation of the Turks themselves and it is an outstanding fact that the young men and women are reaching out for something cleaner and better and this work is being built up to-day by the missionaries, whatever the political situation to-morrow.

The meeting closed with the benediction by Rev. Roy M. Houghton.

Louise B. Porter,

Recording Secretary.
HOME REPORT.

SENIOR DEPARTMENT.

As we come together at this time our minds naturally revert to the meeting of one year ago, when the distinctive feature of our program was: "A Backward Look at the History of Fifty Years." Written as a labor of love and loyalty by our president, it is the greater privilege to mention it now although a twelve month has intervened that we may once more in a public way acknowledge not only its valuable historical data but the felicity and simplicity of narrative which characterized it.

What has the first year of a new half century wrought? We are grateful that your executive board of officers remained substantially the same and business could be taken up without the interruption of reorganization. Plans were made for the Fall county meetings and for the coming of the Woman's Board which was invited to New Haven that we might feel in a large sense that it prolonged and added honor to our Jubilee celebration.

The county meetings were convened at as early a date as practicable; Middlesex county at Saybrook with Mrs. Warner, president of the Woman's Board, and Mrs. Charles E. Ewing, missionary and Branch officer, the inspirational speakers; Fairfield county at Ridgefield, and Litchfield county at Roxbury the following day, with the rare privilege of hearing Dr. Harriet Parker tell her story of medical work in Madura. Dr. Parker on her return to her field had the significant honor of receiving the medal Kaiser-i-Hind at the hands of the Government. The New Haven county meeting was at Naugatuck with Mrs. Frederick R. Bunker, missionary, and pastor's wife as speaker, combining in her personality work foreign and home. This was made to include the usual October meeting in New Haven, omitted because the coming of the Woman’s Board was so near at hand.

The January Branch meeting was quite unusual. Mrs. Augur spoke upon “Home Fires and Home Folks” in the Philippines, which meant reviewing her experience during her residence of five years in Cagayan and Davao.

At the March meeting the subject of the program was Japan the home of our Miss Judson. Her work at the present date was briefly portrayed and her field more clearly brought to view in reviews of current books by several interested women. At this meeting a slight change was made in the constitution in order to allow more freedom in regard to place and number of public meetings.

The 53d annual meeting of the Woman's Board, November 9, 10 and 11, is the event of the year. It fulfilled every promise, met every anticipation, and in retrospect will always be a memorable occasion. We entertained five hundred guests and sought to make them as joyous as were we ourselves, and modestly hope they had as good a time as we did.

Fourteen executive meetings are recorded and one special all day meeting arranged by two of the New Haven county vice-presidents when particular efforts brought together representatives from the different societies in the county. The weighty questions of apportionment and the year's budget were most clearly and wonderfully presented by our treasurer, Miss Woolsey. She called for remarks from the floor which brought ready answers. This method of discussion, with helpful and stimulating suggestions from the chair, imparted a breezy atmosphere to the entire session. The social hour with luncheon together was felt to be valuable. A like meeting was held in Middlesex County where Miss Prudden and Miss Woolsey helped carry out a similar plan which proved equally worth while.
Letters were sent in April to all societies asking them for information and for their convenience a return card with blanks to be filled, was enclosed. Since the society in the church at Trumbull by glad consent of all concerned is once more in full fellowship with us, we number 141 senior societies varying in membership from 7 to 300. Ninety-eight cards are returned. We await 43.

The Woman's Board made a financial statement early in the Fall, asking the co-operation of all the Branches in preventing disaster. This appeal received prompt attention in our Branch, and our treasurer will give you the result.

The smaller societies are as much needed as the larger and we prize their constancy. The courage of the one woman who keeps alive the spirit of fellowship and of giving among neighbors and friends is inspiring all along the line. If with Federations and Associations, Guilds and Leagues, Church Days and Unions, any one of us has felt a bit anxious about our course the reports give assurance that these are not backward movements. We learn of a larger attendance at meetings, of the interest of a wider circle, of more captivating programs. From the one central meeting there has grown the desire for smaller, more familiar groups which has worked out with great success. Or per contra, there has developed a community interest. We have just heard of a Community Mission Study Class where the churches of all denominations unite. This gives great variety of method and permits generous rivalry, as committees are appointed from the different societies to arrange and carry out the program for that day. One of the Congregational societies provided an original play, "China Awake."

The missionary drama seems to become more and more appealing. A "Stitch in Time" and "Traitor Spies" are mentioned and others but the title not given. We wonder what a "talent luncheon" is and what are "Penny Sunshine Bags." Apportionments met is joyfully reported by a number of societies. The Norfolk Mission Band has joined the elder society, a consummation to which our Miss Hinsdale looked forward. The observance of the Day of Prayer, a union service of prayer and a special Holy Week service are all mentioned. We read of a pastor who is preaching strong missionary sermons. The study of the Text Book is quite universal. The proceeds of a flower sale paid the expenses of a delegate to the Summer School at Northfield. Programs in some cases are arranged in which young girls have a part. The stimulus of Mrs. Gates' presence has been felt at meetings and in the community. A number of societies have been favored with Miss Katie Wilcox’s presence and help. They say of her: She is a lovely girl and a great favorite. She is deeply interested in her work, and great hopes are expressed that she will be able while at home to awaken some who are now indifferent.

Mrs. Sibley is home on furlough. After visiting her family and friends in the West, she came East and has given time to our Branch, making a brief tour in Litchfield and Middlesex counties, speaking with great acceptance everywhere. One hostess says she is grateful for "the sweet presence in her home."

Mrs. Ewing has wrought valiantly for our Branch. She has visited more than twenty societies and spoken in Sunday Schools and in church service morning and evening. She starts for China in June. Her presence and helpful suggestions in our executive committee will be missed more than words express.

Mrs. Lucius R. Hazen was elected vice-president of this Branch in 1896. She wishes now to retire from this service. We are very reluctant to let her go and can assure her of our continued fellowship and friendship. We are confident that she will always serve. We congratulate her successor on the privilege of walking in Mrs. Hazen's steps.
We are feeling to-day the loss of Mrs. Miller’s presence. Her watchword was ‘Missions.’ Her love was the New Haven Branch of the Woman’s Board but not limited by any narrow lines. Wherever any burden awaited the uplifting hand, hers was ready. None can know what influences her earnest words have set in motion. We have just heard of a service held in her memory in one of our small societies. A memorial service was held by the City Mission participated in by her wards and friends, where she was much beloved. The same is true of all societies which her life has touched.

To you who feel that you have worked on in humdrum fashion and with many limitations—and this is true of most of us, I would like to take time to tell this story as it has just come to me: A man who was out of a job and had been a stone cutter, applied at a quarry for work. “Can you cut stone?” said the superintendent. “I can,” said the man and the superintendent gave him a drawing of a block of stone, telling him to work it out. When that stone had been cut he was given the drawing of another and told to cut a block accordingly. This he did and so the work went on from day to day till many months had passed and the workman grew weary. “I’ve cut, cut, cut” he said, “and to what purpose. I’ve nothing to show for it but my daily wages.” One day he was walking in a park. He saw a memorial arch so stately and beautiful that he stopped to admire it. Then he went nearer in order that he might study the details. Something about the blocks aroused him; he examined the work more closely and discovered to his surprise and delight that the monument was made of the blocks he himself had carved. An old story? Perhaps so. Is the lesson evident? It comes to you and to me.

Thera W. Fairchild,
Home Secretary.
HOME REPORT.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S DEPARTMENT.

The Girls' Rally in connection with the Annual Meeting of the Woman's Board in New Haven last November brought much new enthusiasm and inspiration to the Young People's Department. Following this meeting came several smaller rallies in cities and towns at which Miss Smiley, Mrs. Sibley, and others were our guests of honor. It means much for our girls to really get acquainted with our missionaries, and more active work usually follows.

In addition to the Boston Contest, the New Haven Branch is starting a Branch Contest to run from May 15, 1922, to January 15, 1923, and the award is to be a trip to Northfield in July, 1923. It is the hope that many will enter this contest.

In one place a missionary reading contest has been carried on, and the award to the individual girl reading the largest number of missionary books is a trip to Northfield this summer.

The Christian Endeavor Societies have been doing good work, and as the missionary programs are carefully planned we may hope for still larger results through these societies as well as the Cradle Rolls and Sunday Schools.

Many possibilities lie in the immediate future. As we face the new year, and plan for closer co-operation in mission work, home and foreign, we hope that greater results will be obtained, and that our Young People will have an ever deepening interest in our missionaries.

AFRICA.

The Report of the Inanda School begins with a quotation from Francis Havergal, "Another year of progress, Another year of praise, Another year of proving, Thy presence all our days." How did we receive this report? Five large pages were copied on the typewriter by Mrs. Edwards lest there should be a delay in our receiving it from the Woman's Board. She also copied six more pages telling of the work of various girls who have gone out from the school.

Are you thinking of Mrs. Edwards as an old lady? It is true that she celebrated her ninety-second birthday the 8th of July, that she is nearly blind, and that she does not leave her chair without crutches. It is true that last summer she was very ill with cardiac asthma and for five days and nights sat in a straight backed chair unable to lie down, but after a few weeks she seemed as well as before. She is up and out of her room before seven o'clock in the morning, ready for the day's tasks. Having taken a Chautauqua course in nursing since she was blind, she has during the last year prepared a class of girls to enter the Durban Hospital. She has also taught an advanced Bible class. The little girl whose life she saved by seeing that she had proper food and medicine, she has helped daily with her reading and number work. "Her mind," Miss Walbridge tells us, "is as clear and alert as a young woman's." Miss Walbridge, who is to direct the work in the New Haven Branch Industrial Building, writes, "It is an inspiration to meet such a woman, but to think I am to follow in her footsteps almost gives me heart failure." Mrs. Edwards keeps up with the news from America as well as the local papers and the religious and missionary periodicals. Old? No indeed, she is ninety-two years young.

Miss Clark has continued with the plan inaugurated by Mrs. Edwards, of setting out trees for future use as firewood, and seeking to raise on the school ground much of the food needed for the girls.

Although Miss Carter is at home this year and many of you will hear her speak, I fear she is too modest to tell you much about herself. Miss Walbridge says, "Miss Carter is a dear, the type that makes friends everywhere and with everyone. The Zulus adore her and she certainly has a wonderful influence with them."

Aside from her school duties, she does much evangelistic work in the villages. Some of the girls accompany her for Sunday School work in the kraals. In order to help the girls overcome their natural inertia, Miss Carter taught them to play basket ball, a sport they have entered into very heartily. The teachers wish that three more just like Miss Carter could be sent out to Inanda.

One hundred and ninety-six pupils were enrolled in the school during the past year, coming not only from Natal, but from Cape Province, Transvaal, Free State, and Basutoland. Phelps Hall was ready for the formal opening on April 18th, a much needed addition to the plant.

Those leaving the school have sought further training at the Normal School or the Hospital; have gone forth to teach or establish Christian homes, while those remaining continue to support one of the girls who is teaching in a distant part of the country, thus extending the influence of Inanda far into the interior of Africa.
China.

Pekin. Miss Andrews, who celebrated her eighty-first birthday in December, has continued her teaching the Bible to the College girls who come to her twice each week. She has also had three classes in the Bible Women’s Training School. Perhaps even greater value than the teaching are the hours she spends with those who come to her room for help and inspiration. After one of these visits the pastor of the Peking church, who had originally been in one of her classes, said, ‘‘I always feel when I am preaching that you are speaking through me, and that it is your message that I am giving to the people.’’ This is but an illustration of the influence of this life which for more than fifty years has been teaching the young people of North China.

Tunghsien. The Chinese name of the Boarding School is Fu Yu Nu Hsueh Hsiao. As it is more convenient to have an English name, on Mrs. Goodrich’s birthday, last November, it was announced that it would be called the Goodrich Girls’ School, as Mrs. Goodrich raised the money for the plant and was considered the real founder. The nearest primary school has been taken over, thus adding two lower grades to the school, with their buildings. The past year there were fifty-two boarders and a total of one hundred and fifty pupils. Twenty of the girls went to Bridgeman Academy this last year for further study and six recent graduates plan to train as nurses.

One of the professors in the Peking Union Medical College has made possible the use of a free bed in the Tunghsien Hospital for any of the poor school girls who may be ill, for which the teachers are most grateful.

Tientsin. Miss Sewall, whom the children learned to know and love during her recent furlough, reached Tientsin on October 6th, and was soon as busy as ever. She is now having oversight of the day schools in the country and of the work for women, both in the Tientsin churches and in the country. In her last letter she described the various Christmas gatherings, and was so appreciative of the boxes that had been sent, that I am sure all the children who had a share in preparing for the Christmas for their little Chinese brothers and sisters rejoiced when they read how many children were made happy.

 Foochow. Dr. Woodhull so aroused our interest in the medical work in Foochow that we are glad to have a small share in the work under Dr. Dyer, who has charge of the women's and children's wards and clinics in the general missionary hospital. She has been fighting diseases of all sorts and winning the confidence of Chinese women and little children. Many patients have suffered greatly from the hands of native doctors before they come to the hospital. The owners of a little slave girl was told by the Taoist priest that she was possessed of an evil spirit and would burn down the house. He offered to exorcise the spirit if the family in gratitude would promise to build a costly annex to his monastery. The child was rescued by a Christian neighbor and brought to the hospital. Later the family said they had betrothed and sold her so it was impossible to keep her. Dr. Dyer feels that China needs preventative medicines and education in hygiene and sanitation more than anything else. This work is commenced in our Girls' School where each girl has an annual physical examination, and frequent practical talks are given. Miss Thomas says: "Do you know what it means to a Chinese girl to come to our school? A chance to be clean and well; daily drill and supervised play in the open air gym. under our Chinese graduate physical director. Mentally, a chance to wake up from the death-like sleep of ignorance in China, and join the aristocracy of the educated. Spiritually, how can I tell what it means? All that it means anywhere to come into the light of the knowledge of Jesus Christ. The all-around change is a wonderful process to witness and it is thrilling to be able to make it possible. This year we have one hundred and twenty-five pupils.’’ Two members of the graduating class were married to Christian men. A part of the contract made with each girl who receives help from the school, requires that she shall be betrothed to a Christian.

The city of Foochow, where the Wen Shen Girls’ School is located, is larger than Boston, and the High School serves not only the city, but much of the province. Here Miss Helen Carter, of Washington, Conn., is located. Although she has gone only for a term of service, we are glad to claim her as our missionary. Her description of the contrast between the city without and within the compound, has made us realize more than ever what an oasis in the desert this spot becomes. We are grateful for her vivid descriptions of the home lives, weddings, and customs which her mother has kindly shared with us.

The field of service in the Pagoda Anchorage day schools is unlimited. These schools are the entering wedge into the most difficult places. ‘‘One of the pupils refused to burn incense to the idols even when his father punished him for not doing so, and he explained that he had been taught that idols were nothing but mud and powerless to help, while the Heavenly Father was displeased when people worshipped them.’’

MICRONESIA.

The Misses Baldwin write of receiving one letter two months after it was written, a most unusual experience, as letters are usually six or more months on the way. Letters written in 1914 were received at intervals during 1921, some having been in the P. O. all that time and some returned to the writers and forwarded. This gives a hint of the isolation of these workers.
The King is one of the deacons in the Kusaien church. He came with his family for the celebration of the Lord's Supper and lingered several weeks. The first delay was caused by the illness of the baby and they remained for the Misses Baldwin to doctor the child. Following that came the marriage of a daughter who had been in the school since she was a little girl. This occurred on June 3d, the King's birthday. A large crowd gathered and the remnants of the feast proved too much for one of the little sons who is a pupil in the school. Because of this illness and to celebrate the birthday of Miss Jane Baldwin the royal family were guests of the school for some weeks. Four children and two grandchildren of the King are in the school and the King frequently makes gifts of food when there is no supply on the Mission premises.

Miss Baldwin says, "There are few places on this earth where it is more distinctly Christian than it is on this island and where life is more secure and but few places on the foreign field where such a congregation can be seen worshipping God from week to week than can be seen here."

PHILIPPINES.

The Bible School for women and girls is proving a center of influence. In Miss Anna Fox's dormitory all the girls have become Christians. "Perhaps the happiest feature of this is the spontaneous movement toward Christianity. No special appeal was made to the girls, but of their own accord they came out strongly on the side of Christ." "A great field," we are told, "stretches out all around our little missionary band,—whole tribes responsive and ready for the work of the missionary and workers so overburdened with the tasks already in hand that they cannot go further afield to improve these opportunities. More workers for white harvest fields. Nowhere does this apply more truly than in the Philippine Islands and those sections of the islands which are the care of our Congregational churches.

Czecho-Slovakia.

Again the call for help comes from this young Republic. Mr. Porter writes, "If there were sufficient workers and funds, fifty new preachers could be placed in the field at once." Notices of Protestant services and Gospel messages have been placed in each of the fifteen electric car lines of Prague, in the twelve railroad stations, and about the city—a method impossible in former days. Twelve girls connected with the mission and as many more from other churches, have recently come to this country to study that they may be fitted for work among their own people in the United States. Mrs. and Mrs. Porter hope that some of them will return to do work in their own country.

Mexico.

Miss Margarita Wright, the principal of the Instituto Colon at Guadalajara, reports a good year with one hundred and sixty pupils, ranging from kindergarten through the sixth year, after which come commercial and preparatory courses. The Government has recognized the excellence of the school by incorporating it with the public schools of the country thus giving it a standing in educational circles. Two-thirds of the pupils come from non-evangelical circles, "from all sorts and conditions of homes, few knowing the first laws of cleanliness; but knowing altogether too much of degraded conditions and of the latest scandals." The changes under the influence of the school are first noticeable when the children begin to arrive with cleaner hands, faces and clothing, and the conversation is now pleasant chatter about the games. "The state superintendent of education was so pleased with the work in the kindergarten that he asked permission to send students from the Normal School to visit it and observe the methods used.''

Turkey.

Aintab. During the spring term of last year, the responsibility of the Girls' School rested upon Miss Trowbridge. She cheerfully took up unaccustomed duties, and in June graduated a class of fine girls, the first for several years. Through the summer she visited in city homes, and had a class of earnest Christian women for lessons in personal Christian work. Later, with a Bible woman, she went on a nine-weeks' tour among the surrounding towns and villages. They travelled up and down the steep roads on donkeys, using high wooden pack-saddles. They visited many Christian communities of returned exiles, and brought cheer and comfort to the discouraged, disheartened people. Miss Trowbridge wrote of the unsettled condition of the country, adding, "Many things are uncertain, but we know God is with us, and He faileth not."

Dr. Hamilton, after vexatious delays, arrived in Aintab in February; and is already "doing the work of at least three women."

The Girls' School opened joyously in the fall, starting on a five-years' course planned before the war. But the evacuation of the French, and the consequent migration of the Armenians, broke up the promising work. Miss Foreman followed most of her pupils to Aleppo, and has hopefully started again in that city with the higher grades; while Miss Norton and a native teacher are still carrying on the work of the lower grades in Aintab.

Miss Trowbridge teaches the Bible in the school, has classes of women, and visits in numberless homes. She says, "I feel sure that God is quietly working in many hearts, right in this time of fear, poverty and uncertainty; and it is a joy to see the life growing and spreading."

In a postscript she adds, "If this reaches you in time for the May meeting, give my loving greetings to all in New Haven, especially from my societies. May I send Josh. 1:8, 9 for the New Year of Work! God bless you all!"

Adana. The school opened with over two hundred enthusiastic girls, but like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky came the announcement of the French evacuation. The Christians, both Armenians and Greeks, were horror-stricken at the prospect before them. The rich and intelligent packed up and went immediately; and the poor tried to sell their possessions,—furniture, wood, salted grape-leaves, fruit preserves, all they had, if only they could raise money to get away. Teachers and cooks, servants and nurses, merchants and traders,—all left in haste and the city was practically deserted. The school was nearly empty, but the Americans were advised to keep at their post. So they stayed, hoping and praying that the door to Turkish hearts might be opened. It was a time of great anxiety, and Miss Webb took over two hundred orphan girls to Constantinople for safety.

Now the pupils have increased in number from five to forty-seven, of whom sixteen are Turkish; twenty-two, Armenian; and the others, Greek and Jewish. The recruiting among the Turks is slow, as there are many prejudices to be overcome; but it seems as if a beginning had been made, and the last words from Miss Borel are these, "I am every day more struck by the realization that God is at work constantly in His big universe, and keeps revealing Himself to all who search for that which is good."

Cesarea and Talas. These cities among the mountains seem less affected by the political turmoil, but there are many homeless wanderers, with no means of sustenance, hopelessly living as they can from day to day. Schools continue, and Miss Richmond has her hands full with kindergarten, relief, and church work. Miss Orvis sends good reports of the schools, but complains of the lack of efficient mail service, and is "hungry for a word from home."

Mrs. Sewny, hastening to obey the summons from Sivas, was detained by Turkish red tape for several weeks, first in Constantinople, and again in Samsoun. After an anxious journey, she arrived at Sivas only to learn that her dear friend, Miss Graffam, whom she had tried so hard to reach, had not rallied from an operation and had died three days before! It was a hard blow, but Mrs. Sewny went bravely on to Talas, her appointed station, and soon wrote that it seemed "good to be doing something worth while." She has charge of all the medical work, including the little hospital which is kept chiefly for the children from the three large orphanages. No American physician is there at present, but a young Turkish doctor does very good work. Mrs. Sewny also has the oversight of the outside relief department, and of the many industrial occupations, even a newly established central laundry. She attends to the housekeeping for the entire N. E. R. staff; and, as always, she is "enjoying her work."

Sivas. Two notable women have this year laid down their lives in Sivas,—women who had many friends in America as well as Turkey, women who made friends of enemies, and whose influence was tremendous all through those years of deportation horrors. Miss Mary Graffam, who seemed so necessary to the work and to the safety of the people, entered her heavenly home in August. Miss Annie Allen, who was highly respected even by the Angora government, succumbed to typhus after a hard winter journey over the snow-covered mountains, and in February her body was laid beside Miss Graffam's.
Marsovan. Although no missionaries have been allowed to return, the College plant is under American control, being used by the N. E. R. as an orphange. It provides industrial training for hundreds of destitute children, and is a center of relief work, benefiting thousands of suffering people. Miss Willard is in Constantinople, ready to go in and take possession at the first opportunity. Other missionaries of the station are working valiantly at other posts,—schools and orphanages; but all are longing for the day of their return to their beloved Marsovan.

Caucasus. Miss Caroline Silliman has done splendid work as head of the Educational Department in the huge Orphanages at Alexandrople. Housing, feeding, clothing and educating these 8,000 boys and girls has been a tremendous undertaking; but this year has brought a very marked improvement in their condition. Cheeks have grown plump and rosy; eyes have learned to sparkle, and lips to smile; minds have begun to expand, and souls to awaken. Is it not pitiful that, for lack of funds, some little ones cannot be admitted to these homes, and some already there must be sent away!

An invaluable native helper is described as "an earnest Christian, absolutely trustworthy, whose one desire is to give these boys a training with a real religious and moral foundation."

Last fall Miss Silliman, with others of the force, went on a three weeks' holiday trip to Tabriz, Persia, traveling in a ten-by-twenty box car lined with burlap, and enjoying the change and freedom from care. She is deeply interested in the orphanage, but is planning next fall to follow Miss Shane to Erivan, there to be under the W. B. M. again. She longs to get into the missionary atmosphere, and will be among many old friends from Van.
Of the Non Co-operation movement in India, and its effect upon our work, not very much has come to us in our missionaries' letters. Mention has been repeatedly made, of course, of the spirit of interest, and there has been recognition of the fact that even though the movement should fail, the distrust and bitterness which it has fostered in the minds of the ignorant will be long in dying out.

In connection with the agitation reported last year for a law requiring educational institutions which receive government grants to conform to a "conscience clause," whereby pupils may be excused from religious instruction on the ground of conscientious scruples, it is interesting to note that in the one Legislative Council where this has come to a vote, that of the Madras Presidency, it was decisively defeated, the Brahmins, in general, favoring such a law, and all others being opposed to it. In the Bombay Presidency no decision has been reached. The whole missionary body of the country realize that the passage of this law might mean the surrender of government grants, and the consequent need of consolidation of certain educational institutions, because of the cutting down of funds. Miss Bruce writes that the discussion of the question has been useful in helping missionaries to clarify their own ideas, and to work along the line of development of union institutions.

Ahmednagar. The year at Ahmednagar has been one of strain because of several cases of serious illness in the circle of workers. Upon coming down with typhoid fever, Miss Harris was taken to Miss Bruce's bungalow, which thereupon became and for months continued to be a hospital. Nevertheless Miss Bruce has seemed equal to the varied responsibilities resting upon her, and the school, with its "fortunate four hundred" pupils, has had a good year.
It is a group of able young college women who constitute Miss Bruce's associates, namely, Miss Woods, Miss Welles, and Miss Foster; and with the return to India in October of Mrs. Edith Smith the staff will be complete. Mrs. Smith, whose work has been in the manual and industrial departments, will be a more valuable helper than ever, for during her furlough she has been taking courses in domestic science, sewing, and nursing at Amherst Agricultural College.

Since practically all of the pupils of the school will become home makers, and many of them at an early age, such subjects as sewing, cooking, and hygiene are introduced as early in the course as possible. Another subject stressed is Bible study, to which one period a day is given throughout the course. All possible means are used by the teachers to develop character and promote ideals of Christian service among the girls, almost all of whom are Christian, but many of whom do not readily link up the idea of works with that of faith. Sewing for the poor, teaching classes during vacation, visiting the sick, conducting Sunday School classes, these are some of the opportunities for service offered the girls and used by them. A new means of character development is a scheme of student government in the class room, successfully inaugurated this past year.

With Dr. Ruth Hume on furlough, and Miss Johnson, superintendent of nurses, seriously ill with typhoid fever, the difficulties in the way of running the hospital seemed great enough, even before Dr. Harriet Clark, the capable new worker, was stricken with relapsing fever. A former assistant was summoned to take temporary charge, and the hospital has kept its doors open without interruption, though for a time Dr. Walter Hume was the "lady physician."
Bombay. The five city schools of Bombay have continued their work of teaching and training 250 children, though the stress of hard times has threatened to close one school, in order that its funds might be used for the others. In the boarding school there are 237 pupils; of these, only 77 are girls, 60 of them living in Bowker Hall, under the immediate care of Mrs. Tilak, a Brahmin widow, who is a strong Christian worker and a sympathetic mother to the girls. The temporary help of Miss Inglis at Bowker Hall has been much appreciated, but a permanent worker is still to be found.

Dr. Karmarkar has carried on the medical work in school and dispensary so far as her strength would permit. She planned to enter last summer upon the long rest prescribed for her, but after a few weeks of refreshment she was summoned back to the dispensary by a special need, and the plans for a long rest have since been in abeyance. Dr. Karmarkar strongly feels the need of an expanded medical work centering in the Bombay station, a work calling, perhaps, for two doctors, a man and a woman, both in full vigor. For herself, she looks forward to retirement, with the opportunity to continue, as a volunteer, within the bounds set by the frailness of her body, that work of physical and spiritual healing to which she has long been devoted.

Wai. Mrs. Sibley arrived in this country on furlough just after our annual meeting of 1921, and has sailed for India just before the annual meeting of 1922. During her attendance at the Woman's Board meeting in New Haven last November, however, and her spring tour in Litchfield and Middlesex Counties, many members of this Branch were able to make or renew personal acquaintance with her. Hard times, with high prices, have persisted in her field, and have somewhat affected attendance upon the day schools. The propaganda of non co-operation has also had some effect, though apparently not in the friendly personal relations between the people on the one hand and the missionaries and Indian Christians on the other. The Station School has been well attended, and the abundant water from its new well is a double blessing in a time of drought such as this has been.

Vellore. The development of the new union medical college at Vellore continues to be rapid. The faculty now includes six women physicians, one of whom, Dr. Katherine Scott, represents the Madura Mission. Voorhees College for men has welcomed the girl students to its classes in science and to the use of its laboratories; funds have been secured for several new buildings, and are sought for several others; a dispensary and a receiving ward have been opened in a congested part of Vellore. The first class of students to complete the course is graduated this year, and numbers about twenty. These Indian girls have shown themselves studious, earnest, Christian,—good material for the great work upon which they are entering. The number of applicants for admission to the school continues to be many times the number that it is possible to receive.

Madura. Returning from furlough to her work in the Capron Hall school, Miss Noyes reached Madura in December, accompanied by a most welcome recruit to the school forces, Miss Wyman. Since, however, Miss Wilcox had just left for her furlough, and Miss Wyman must spend her first year in language study, the blessings of an augmented staff will not be felt at once. This high and training school for girls, the only one in a population of millions, with its enrollment of over 500 pupils, including daughters, granddaughters, and great granddaughters of former students, sends out yearly thirty to forty trained teachers into all parts of the Madras Presidency. It is much in need of more land and buildings. Negotiations have for some time been under way for the purchase of a strip of land between the present property and the river, but they have not yet come to a successful conclusion. A little new hostel for the Kindergarten Training Department, with its opportunity for a few students at a time to learn at first hand cooking and domestic economy, has been opened, to the great delight of all concerned.

Miss Wilcox, who is at home on her first furlough, is giving generously of her time and strength to bring our constituency into even closer touch than ever with the work done at Capron Hill.

Dr. Harriet Parker hurried back during the winter from a too short furlough to help meet the insistent demands of the large, new hospital. Her arrival was especially timely because of the illness of Grace Kennett, once a waif whom she took to support and mother, now her hospital assistant. The need of an adequate number of doctors and nurses for this hospital must be squarely faced; indeed, there is distinct danger of the withdrawal of government aid unless an adequate staff is provided. The appointment of Miss Twichell, of Hartford, a trained nurse, is most satisfactory, but the desperate need of another doctor remains.

Japan.

Kyoto. The Imadegawa Kindergarten rounds out, this spring, twenty-five years of usefulness, and celebrates the occasion by receiving its first “grandchild” pupil, son of a Christian father and of a mother who, entering the kindergarten years ago, was said to be of a family which “had no use for religion.” The kindergarten influences always not only the child but the family from which it comes. Opposition to Christianity subsides. The parents feel that the Christian kindergarten gives the children something of value not to be had elsewhere. Of the 495 graduates of the kindergarten, many are known to have united with the church. The Imadegawa church itself, now in its own building, is an outgrowth of the kindergarten.

Matsuyama. Miss Judson's Night School, at Matsuyama, has also recently celebrated an anniversary, the year 1921 marking the completion of thirty years' work. The anniversary exercises were attended by 200 pupils and 200 guests, a company which filled the school hall to overflowing. The friendly and appreciative attitude of government circles and of the community were evidenced by the presence of the principals of several public schools, two or three city officials, representatives of important business interests, and the head of the provincial department of education, who brought the governor's congratulations. The school has received a small annual grant from the general and the local governments for fourteen and eight years respectively, and this past year, for the first time, it was put on the list of the emperor's benefactions. This official recognition of the work done by a distinctively Christian school is noteworthy. "Certainly," writes Miss Judson, "your school here is doing a great work in leavening the opinion of many educators, as well as in bringing students to Christ and training up Christian workers."

Apart from the thirty kindergarten pupils, who, of course, constitute a day department, there are about 220 students enrolled, boys being largely in the majority. Though Miss Judson keenly feels the loss involved in the withdrawal of many ambitious students just as they are becoming interested in Christianity, and consequently is trying to arrange and establish some modified high school course which would command a government diploma, and so hold these students in the atmosphere of the school until the completion of the course, yet, in fact, the record of the school for the development of Christian leadership has been a remarkable one. It is said that no other institution in Japan has sent so many young men to the Theological Department of the Doshisha, and that these students have the best of records, both during the course of study and afterwards as Christian workers.

Under the care of Miss Hoyt, the Girls' School continues to develop in its new and advantageous location. The management of the school has been vested in a board made up of both Japanese and Americans. The alumnae have formed themselves into a working body, and have made their first efforts toward accumulating an endowment. At Miss Hoyt's instigation, the students have taken upon themselves the management of many of the school's activities, and have thus put themselves in the way of developing initiative and responsibility. And back of all these modern methods for the betterment of the school is Miss Hoyt's earnest purpose not merely to arouse an interest in Christian teaching on the part of the students, but to lead them to live Christian lives and to keep their Christian ideals after they have accepted the teaching.

The special offering made by the Branch to this school in memory of Miss Twining is to be used for a reference library for the use of the teachers. "It makes me very happy," writes Miss Hoyt, "for we are so short of all kinds of reference books that I hardly realize that we are a school. A thousand thanks to the New Haven Branch." A bookplate bearing Miss Twining's name is to be made for these books.

As from time to time portions of the land on which the school was formerly situated are sold, it is expected that other permanent equipment may be bought, comprehensive plans for the development of the present site may be made, and may be begun.

AN ACT INCORPORATING THE NEW HAVEN BRANCH OF THE WOMAN'S BOARD OF MISSIONS, BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, STATE OF CONNECTICUT.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY,
JANUARY SESSION, A. D. 1882.

Resolved by this Assembly:

SECTION 1. That Rebecca W. Hart, Sarah S. Woolsey, Eliza A. Prudden and Hannah D. Hume, their associates and successors, are hereby constituted a body corporate, to be located in the City of New Haven, under the name of "The New Haven Branch of the Woman's Board of Missions," and by that name they may sue or be sued, defend or be defended, in all courts of this State and elsewhere.

SEC. 2. The said corporation may purchase, hold, sell and convey real or personal estate to any amount not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars, to be holden by said society at any one time.

SEC. 3. The objects and purposes of this corporation shall be to collect, receive and hold money given by voluntary contributions, donations, bequests or otherwise, to be exclusively expended for the christianization of women and children in foreign lands, by supporting such missionaries, teachers, bible-readers and schools and such other missionary work as may be selected by the board of officers, with the approbation of the Woman's Board of Missions located in the City of Boston, in the State of Massachusetts.

SEC. 4. The said corporation may have and use a common seal, and the same may alter and change at pleasure; it may appoint such officers as may be deemed expedient, and may make, ordain and put into execution such by-laws and regulations as shall be deemed necessary and convenient for the well ordering and government of the same, not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, the laws of this State, or the laws of the United States.

SEC. 5. This act may be altered, amended, or repealed at the pleasure of the General Assembly.

CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE 1. This society shall be called the New Haven Branch of the Woman's Board of Missions.

ART. 2. This Branch shall consist of a union of auxiliary societies in the Congregational churches of Connecticut in Fairfield, Litchfield, Middlesex and New Haven counties.
Art. 3. The object of this Branch is to increase the efficiency of the Woman's Board of Missions and to further its purpose of christianizing the women and children in foreign lands. To this end it shall endeavor, through auxiliary societies in the Congregational churches within its limits, to diffuse missionary intelligence and to raise money for the support of such definite work of the Woman's Board of Missions as this Branch shall assume.

Art. 4. The officers of this Branch shall be a President, Vice President, a Recording Secretary, a Treasurer, a Secretary or Secretaries for foreign correspondence, Home Secretaries, Assistant Secretaries, the members of a Coöperative Committee, and an Auditor, all of whom shall be elected annually. These officers, with the exception of the Auditor, shall constitute an Executive Committee, five of whom shall be a quorum for the transaction of business.

Art. 5. The Executive Committee shall have full power to do all that is necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this Branch and to fill vacancies in office during the current year.

Art. 6. All money raised by this Branch shall be sent to the Treasurer of the Woman's Board of Missions in Boston.

Art. 7. Membership in an auxiliary society shall constitute membership in this Branch.

Art. 8. Any number of women may form an auxiliary society, subject to the constitution of this Branch, by contributing not less than ten dollars annually, and by the appointing of officers.

Art. 9. Any number of children, or young people, may form a mission circle auxiliary to this Branch by contributing not less than five dollars annually.

Art. 10. The annual meeting of this Branch shall be held on the second Tuesday of May, and at such place as the Executive Committee shall appoint, at which the annual reports shall be presented and officers elected. At least one other public meeting, for missionary information, for devotional services and for the transaction of business, shall be held, during the year, at such time and place as shall be designated by the Executive Committee. A public meeting shall be held also in each of the four counties annually.

Art. 11. This constitution may be amended by vote of two-thirds of the members present at any regular meeting of this Branch, notice of the intended amendment having been given at a previous regular meeting.
BY-LAWS.

ARTICLE I. The Executive Committee shall hold monthly meetings, except during the month of June, July and August, call special meetings, cooperate in the annual and county meetings, recommend the appropriation of funds, and attend to all other business of this Branch.

ART. II. The President shall preside at meetings, have a general oversight of the interests of this Branch, and do all in her power to promote its welfare.

ART. III. The Vice Presidents shall assume the duties of the President when necessary, and be ready at all times to share the responsibilities of her office. Vice Presidents having special work in the counties shall encourage and stimulate auxiliaries, and promote new organizations, make quarterly reports to the Executive Committee, furnish information from the counties for the annual report, and once a year convene a meeting in their respective counties.

ART. IV. The Recording Secretary shall keep on record accurate minutes of all meetings of the Executive Committee and of this Branch, present them for approval at each succeeding meeting, and transmit votes to whom they may concern.

ART. V. The Secretary or Secretaries for foreign correspondence shall, as the official representatives of this Branch, write to the missionaries for information in regard to all the mission work of this Branch under their supervision, and secure all other information possible concerning this work, providing copies of the same for the Bureau of information, and for the Woman's Board of Missions. They shall also be responsible for an annual report and other reports as desired.

ART. VI.
