THE BAPTIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-SECOND ANNUAL REPORT,
1913-14.

THE "SWAN"

The quality, finish, and features of "Swan" Pens are now so well known that to describe them is something like explaining that a sovereign is a gold coin worth twenty shillings, having the Sovereign's head on one side, etc., etc.

Everyone consciously or unconsciously desires a "SWAN," because its possession gives one a sense of owning the best thing of its kind. There is also a delight in using a pen which slips so easily over the paper, and is always reliable.

THERE'S A "SWAN" FOR EVERY HAND.

Prices from 10/6

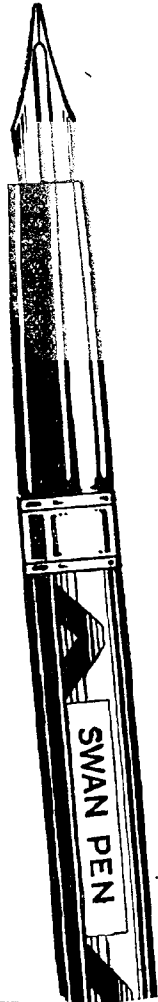

We allow for other and old pens.
Every "SWAN" is guaranteed.
We maintain in perfect order.

ALL STATIONERS SELL "SWANS."

NOTICE IN REFERENCE TO BEQUESTS.

As the kind intentions of some of the deceased friends of the Society have been rendered abortive for want of correct knowledge of the law, the Committee call special attention to the following directions:—

REQUISITES FOR VALIDITY OF WILL.—It should be remembered in the first place that, (a) A will must be in writing, and signed at the foot or end thereof by the Testator or by some other person in his presence and by his direction; (b) Such signature must be made or acknowledged by the Testator in the presence of two Witnesses, who must be present at the same time, and (c) Such Witnesses must attest and subscribe the will in the presence of the Testator.

GIFTS BY WILL TO CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS.—Gifts by will to the Baptist Missionary Society and other Charitable Institutions were formerly subject to restrictions stated in the "Notice in Reference to Bequests," contained in previous Reports. But the effect of the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1891 (54 and 55 Vict. c. 73), Secs. 3 and 5 and 9, is that no gift in favour of a Charitable Institution, made by the will of a Testator dying after August 5th, 1891, can be void by reason of the subject matter of the gift being land or an interest in land. The distinction formerly drawn between personal property which is an interest in land (that is, in any way secured upon or payable out of land) and pure personalty is abolished, and even land may now be lawfully given by will to a Charitable Institution. But lands so given must be sold within one year from the Testator's death, or such extended period as may be determined by the Court or the Charity Commissioners, and if not sold within such period it will vest in the official Trustee of Charity Lands, and the Charity Commissioners will order it to be sold, and the net proceeds of sale to be paid to the official Trustees of Charity Funds in trust for the Charity in favour of which the land has been given (Sec. 6).

1.—REQUEST OF AN ORDINARY PECUNIARY LEGACY TO THE SOCIETY.—In this case there is no need for the provision formerly inserted in wills directing the legacy to be paid exclusively out of such parts of the Testator's estate as might lawfully be disposed of for Charitable purposes. The bequest may be in the following form:—

"I give to the Treasurer or Treasurers for the time being of the Baptist Missionary Society, the sum of £ free of duty, for the general purposes of the said Society" (or, if so desired, "for the Translation Fund of the said Society," or "for the School Fund of the said Society").

2.—REQUEST TO THE SOCIETY OF A PECUNIARY LEGACY MADE PAYABLE OUT OF THE PROCEEDS OF SALE AND THE CONVERSION OF THE TESTATOR'S REAL AND PERSONAL ESTATE, OR OF A SHARE OF SUCH PROCEEDS.—Very frequently a Testator gives his real and personal estate or his residuary estate to Trustees on trust to sell, and out of the proceeds of sale to pay the legacies previously bequeathed, which may include a legacy to the Society. And a Testator may now bequeath a share of such proceeds to the Society. In these cases, although perhaps not essential, it is considered prudent, at all events until the interpretation of the above-mentioned Act has been settled by judicial decision, to add to the gift of the pecuniary legacy or share to the Society the following direction:—

"And I direct that in case all the real and leasehold estate comprised in the devise and bequest in trust for sale herein contained shall not be sold within one year from my death, then the said legacy (or share) herein bequeathed to the said Treasurer or Treasurers for the time being of the Baptist Missionary Society, and the duty thereon, shall be paid out of the proceeds of sale and conversion of my personal estate and the proceeds of sale of such of my real and leasehold estate as shall be sold within one year after my death in priority to all other legacies (or shares) payable thereout."

3.—GIFT BY WILL OF LAND TO THE SOCIETY.—If land or a house of any tenure or a freehold or leasehold ground-rent is intended to be given to the Society, it should be given to a Trustee or Trustees on trust to sell within one year after the Testator's death if practicable, and to receive the net purchase money and pay it to the Treasurer or Treasurers for the time being of the Society. The Testator will probably desire that the Succession Duty on the gift and also the cost of any application which may be necessary to extend the period of one year within which the sale must be made under the above-mentioned Act shall be paid out of his general estate. A gift by will of freehold land or a freehold house or a freehold ground-rent for the benefit of the Society may be made in the following form:—

"I give unto and to the use of (names of Trustees), their heirs and assigns, my freehold (description of land or house or ground-rent) upon trust to sell the same if practicable within one year from my death, and to receive the proceeds of sale thereof and thereout, and out of the rents and profits until sale to pay the expenses of such sale and all necessary outgoing, and to pay the residue of such proceeds and rents and profits to the Treasurer or Treasurers for the time being of the Baptist Missionary Society for the general purposes of the said Society. And I direct that the Succession Duty payable in respect of the above gift and also the costs of any application to extend the period for sale under the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1891, shall be paid out of my general estate."

A gift by will of leasehold land or a leasehold house or a leasehold ground-rent for the benefit of the Society may be made in the following form:—

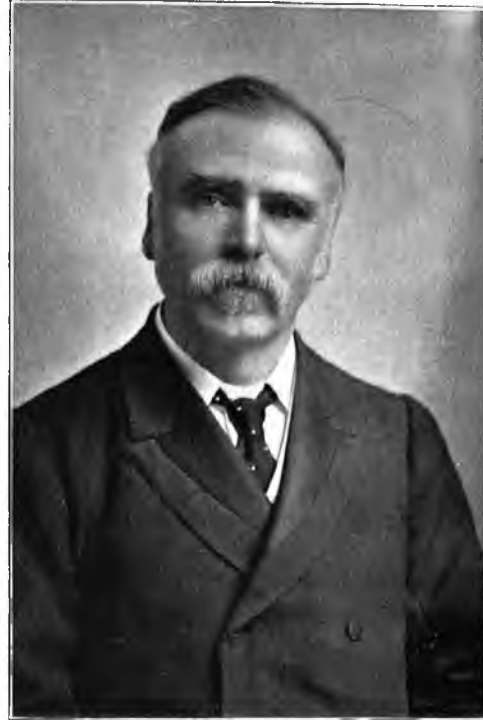

"I give to (names of Trustees), their executors, administrators, and assigns, my leasehold (description of land or house or ground-rent) upon trust to sell the same if practicable within one year from my death, and to receive the proceeds of sale thereof and thereout, and out of the rents and profits until sale to pay the expenses of such sale and the rent reserved by the lease under which the same premises are held and all other necessary outgoing, and to pay the residue of such proceeds and rents and profits to the Treasurer or Treasurers for the time being of the Baptist Missionary Society for the general purposes of the said Society. And I direct that the Succession Duty payable in respect of the above gift, and also the costs of any application to extend the period for sale under the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1891, shall be paid out of my general estate."

CONTRIBUTIONS.

THE Annual Accounts of the Society are made up on the 31st of March, previous to which all contributions must be forwarded. It is, therefore, desirable that the Current Year of Auxiliaries should be from January to December, to allow time for the Remittance of Contributions.

The Baptist Missionary Society

PART I

THE YEAR.

UNDER SIX FLAGS.

IT is an indication of the wide interests of the Baptist Missionary Society that its operations are being carried on in four continents and under the flags of six governments. The missionaries are seeking to establish a kingdom that is not of this world, the kingdom of our God and of His Christ. They are proclaiming the sovereignty of Jesus, uplifting the banner of His Cross, teaching men to obey His great law of love and righteousness. They have no part in purely political matters and they inculcate in all their converts the duty of loyal citizenship and respect for the Government of their country.

Missionaries are not unprepared for suffering, for they serve One who foretold that His disciples and messengers must share their Master's Cross. The record of this Society is a witness that men whose services to the state and to the common people will be fully recognised in the after time may be misunderstood and condemned during the years of their most heroic toil.

The whole of the operations of the Baptist Missionary Society were once gathered under the protection of the flag of Denmark in the settlement at Serampore, and though Serampore has long since been ceded to the British rule, the Royal Charter of Serampore College still bears striking testimony to the debt which the Mission owed the Danish flag, and the regard which Denmark had for the work of the Mission.

THE FRENCH FLAG

Under the Tricolour of France the Baptist Missionary Society has its nearest field of missionary effort, among our kinsmen of Brittany.

THE ITALIAN FLAG

The Italian colours float over as faithful evangelical mission work as is being done in any part of the world. In both these Continental lands the Gospel in its purity is the only hope of resistance to the materialism and infidelity into which Romanist error and superstition have allowed the multitudes of the people to drift.

THE PORTUGUESE FLAG

Beneath the flag of Portugal our missionaries, in three Congo stations, have this year been called to endure great trouble and anxiety. As this report is being written, the Rev. J. Sidney Bowskill is awaiting trial on the serious charge of having caused an armed rebellion against the Portuguese rule. That justice will be done and Mr. Bowskill will be acquitted we confidently expect, but the Portuguese Government is itself on its trial before the civilized world concerning the oppressive system of forced labour recruitment, the hatred and fear of which has goaded the unfortunate natives of Angola and the Lower Congo basin into open revolt. The desire of our missionaries is that the flag of Portugal may be unstained and that righteousness and peace may be established in all Portuguese dominions.

THE BELGIAN FLAG

That no Government can long prevail which is based on unrighteousness is proved by the passing away of the Congo Free State and the annexation of its territory by the Belgian nation. The Baptist Missionary Society is carrying on very extensive missionary work under the Belgian flag. Our missionaries gratefully report the marked improvement in the whole administration of the country. Religious equality is hard to attain, and we still have to complain of interference and inequity in certain places. The benefits which the Colony derives from Protestant Missions are now beyond question, and we only desire that the Belgian flag shall ever remain the symbol to the Congo people of the white man's just rule, of freedom and of peace.

THE CHINESE FLAG

The new banner of the Republic of China waves over an unquiet land. The Missionaries are helping to build up the new Chinese nation, and an important share in this work is being taken by the men and women of our own mission—in Peking, in Shanghai, in the Shantung University, in great cities like Sianfu, Tai-yuan-fu and Tsinanfu, and in remote and backward districts. Best of all, the Chinese Churches are taking a larger place in the national life and in the evangelization of the country.

THE UNION JACK

The flag of Britain flies over a great part of the non-Christian world. The majority of His Majesty's subjects are still unevangelized ; but where British police and magisterial authority can go, it is clear that the Church can easily send her gospel. The Union Jack with its triple cross will become a reproach to the Church if the message of the Cross be not proclaimed to all who are under the sway of the greatest Christian Empire of human history.

COLONIAL FIELDS

We recall with joy, in this year of the centenary of Jamaica missions, the Abolition of Slavery under the British flag and the spiritual emancipation of negro peoples by the ministry of our missionaries.

Throughout the century of peace which the British flag has secured to the island of Ceylon, the missionaries of this Society have laboured with faithfulness and success.

INDIA.

And in the great Indian Empire, among feudatory States as well as under the British administration, the work of the mission is prospering ; native rulers, national leaders, Government officials and the common people all recognize its value and desire its increase. "Send us more of your missionaries," say the foremost Indian leaders of to-day, both Hindu and Moslem ; "men of the intellectual calibre and large sympathy that we recognize as characteristic of those who have come in the past." "The Government is confronted by vast and intricate problems," say the responsible officials, "and we know that they are insoluble apart from the help of your missionaries."

THE BAPTISM ROLL.

IT is a heartening record that we are privileged to place under this heading, but more heartening to those who know the work abroad than to those accustomed only to the methods at home. In India, still, baptism often means ostracism from the old home, the old friends, the old rights and privileges : it involves scorn, persecution and outcasting. In Congo the candidate steps forth from the twilight of barbarism, and faces a new life surrounded by all the temptations of the old ; and in China the alliance with the " Jesus Doctrine " calls for the same courage, for the great mass of the people are still held fast in the bonds of their ancient faiths. So when we report 2,250 baptisms in our Mission in 1913, we speak of a sum of courage, devotion and faithful labour that it is impossible to appraise rightly. The number greatly exceeds that of last year, and for this we give praise to God.

BAPTISMS IN INDIA AND CEYLON

The total baptisms in the Indian Mission numbered 707, an increase of 102 on the previous year. In Bengal there were 405, in Orissa 154, and in North India 148 ; and the increase in church membership from all causes was 1,232. In the Lushai Hill District, no less than 140 candidates passed through the burial of the waters. The Sambalpore group of stations, the field of the great ingathering three years ago, had this year 95 baptisms : Purneah, in North Bengal, stands next on the roll with 74, Delhi has 61, and Cuttack 38.

In CEYLON the year has shown 48 baptisms, of which 39 come from the self-supporting native churches of the Colombo and Kandy districts. At the Colombo Girls' Boarding School two candidates were baptised and seven others have asked for baptism.

CHINA

There were 622 baptisms in our China Mission field in 1913, an advance of 172. Shantung, our premier province, had 415, Shansi has a roll of 75, and Shensi 132. In Shansi the largest roll of baptisms is found at Hsin Chow, the martyr field of that memorable year 1900. Here the 38 baptisms represent a great increase on any previous year. The same story of hope is told by Mr. Lower of Tai Yuan Fu, in reporting 11 baptisms in that city and 15 at the out-station of Chiao Ch'eng.

At Tai Chow Mr. Henderson Smith had the privilege of administering the ordinance for the first time in this district to ten men and a woman.

The Shensi roll of baptisms is headed by the San Yuan District, 91 candidates having been immersed at San Yuan and Gospel Village, the largest number for the last six years. Good news comes also from the far North, where 12 baptisms have taken place at Yenafu. Of these candidates Mr. Borst-Smith writes that "not one of them could have satisfactorily passed an examination in dogmatic theology, but each gave some token of love and loyalty to their new Master."

CONGO

In the roll of baptisms our youngest Mission again takes the premier place, with 838 candidates. Yakusu comes first with 221, Bolobo had 216, Wathen and Thysville 210 and San Salvador 111. Bopoto had 46, and Yalembe 20.

Yakusu has had the largest number of any year since the first baptism in 1902. With the steamer Grenfell to assist with the itinera-tion work, it was possible to examine the applicants in their own towns and to baptise them before their own townfolk and relatives. Greatly should the Baptist Churches at home rejoice in Yakusu, which has now 671 members scattered in 70 different villages. At Bolobo great success has been recorded in spite of a depleted staff. During one journey, 165 candidates were baptised in the villages of the Lake Leopold district by Mr. Stonelake. On the Lower Congo, Wathen and Thysville had 210 baptisms, and San Salvador, so much in the public eye of recent months, had 111. At San Salvador a strenuous fight had to be made against the heavy odds of the general unrest among the people and a weakened staff. The record of 46 at Upoto and 20 at Yalembe speaks of an earnest response to devoted and sacrificial effort.

There were 30 baptisms in our ITALY Mission—18 in the Roman District, 2 in the Tuscan and 10 in Northern stations.

INDIA.

THE outstanding event of the year in the Indian and Ceylon field of the B.M.S. has been the visit of the Deputation, Sir George Macalpine, LL.D., Chairman of the Committee, Miss H. M. Macalpine, and the Rev. C. E. Wilson, B.A., the Foreign Secretary. Thirty-three stations in which our missionaries are working were personally visited in the course of the tour, and in Calcutta the deputation attended two large Missionary Conferences. The first was a United Conference of representative missionaries of the B.M.S. and B.Z.M., from all parts of India and Ceylon, to consider the practical questions involved in the amalgamation of the two societies; and the second was the Triennial gathering of all the B.M.S. missionaries. Both these Conferences were remarkably successful and encouraging. The missionaries are eager for the Union and specially urge that we should send out more unmarried women missionaries to those twenty-one B.M.S. stations in India where no women's work has yet been organised. The B.M.S. is also called upon to appoint men to work in three stations opened by the B.Z.M.

THE INDIAN CHURCH.

At the Triennial Conference much careful consideration was given to the interests of the Indian Church, in its relation to the native pastorate, the Missionary Society, and the great work of evangelisation.

The Churches on the field which are the fruit of this Mission are being invited to take a larger share in the Missionary operations being carried on in their country. The Deputation brought back a cheering report of the progress already made. An increasing number of congregations are supporting their own ministers, and there are many evangelistic workers whose maintenance is provided in the country, without aid from the funds of the Missionary Society. Mr. Carey reports that five new chapels have been built by the Bengali Christians in the Beel district this year; and in Sambalpur, Kalka and Jessore, and in other places also, new chapels have been erected by local effort.

It has not been possible to obtain complete returns of the amount of money raised each year for Church and evangelistic purposes in our mission, but considerably over £3,000 is being collected annually in the B.M.S. stations in India, and upwards of £1,000 is paid in school fees. A great deal of voluntary labour is also devoted by the Christians to the Sunday Schools and other agencies. Nearly 10,000 Sunday scholars are being regularly taught in our stations by nearly 500 teachers. In many of these schools adults attend and are taught to read. It is reported that in one case rewards are given of soap and safety pins! The thoroughness of the teaching is amply shown by the remarkably good results obtained in the annual Scripture examinations conducted in the different vernaculars by the Indian Sunday School Union. It is acknowledged that our denomination stands in the front rank in this important department. This year scholars from our Sunday Schools have won medals and high prizes in the Hindustani, Bengali, Oriya and Lushai languages.

MISSION SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES.

Educational work is being steadily improved throughout our Indian field, and is being made more directly serviceable to its great missionary purpose, which is, first, the winning of the young life to the Saviour, and then the preparation of the Indian Christian community as a whole for its great place of influence as the enlightened and progressive factor in the life of the nation. The equipment of preachers, teachers, and hospital assistants, the Institutions for industrial training and the elementary village schools, are but special departments of this great branch of our Missionary propaganda. We are increasing the number and raising the standard of our boarding schools, both for boys and girls. New buildings are now being erected or are to be erected shortly in Barisal, Bistapur, Delhi, Bankipur, and Agra.

Vernacular Theological training classes are conducted at Delhi and Cuttack, for the North-west and the Orissa fields respectively, and at Serampore the Bengali Vernacular and English Higher Theological studies are conducted.

Steady progress has been made this year in the development of Serampore College. The present number of students in the Arts Department is 170; Vernacular Theological, 8; English Theological, 6; and a High School, 115. The co-operation of the Anglican Mission in exchange of lectures, and the presence on the staff of members of the Congregational and Syrian churches, are the first fruits of that larger Christian co-operation which is the great aim and purpose of the College Council and staff.

MISSION WORK FOR MOSLEMS.

A very important branch of the Indian mission is that which is directed specially to the winning of the great Mohammedan population.

In no part of the world are they so accessible as in India, and there are many signs of encouragement at the present time. The Triennial Conference has made a strong recommendation that in addition to the Rev. William Goldsack, of Jessore, recently added to the B.M.S. staff for this purpose, three other missionaries shall be appointed to devote themselves specially to Moslems. The Rev. Joel Lall, M.A., M.O.L., of Delhi, an Indian of conspicuous scholarship, a missionary of the Society and a powerful preacher, and the Rev. L. Bevan Jones, B.A., B.D., of Dacca, who is now in charge of student work, and has a hostel full of Moslem students, are designated for this development.

The Society must seek at home a third man who will gain the necessary preparation for this difficult and responsible form of service and then take up work in Ceylon. From several stations we learn that the Moslem maulvies are apprehensive of the effects of missionary work and are trying to counteract it. The diffusion of Christian literature specially prepared to open the minds and hearts of Moslem readers to the Gospel appeal is a most valuable agency, and is being increasingly adopted.

WORK FOR EUROPEANS.

A part of the missionary's duty in such a field as India, and by no means the least important and fruitful, is his ministry to the Europeans and Eurasians by whom he is surrounded. The Society has rendered much appreciated help to the English congregations in Bombay, Calcutta, Howrah, Chittagong, Agra, Dinapur, Jamalpur and other stations, and in Cuttack the direction of the European School and Orphanage is an integral part of the operations of the Mission. Very valuable work has been done in past years in this institution, and many of its former pupils are holding positions of influence and usefulness in various parts of India. One has only to see how much the progress of the gospel may be hindered by the absence of evangelical sympathy on the part of Europeans living in a mission field to understand how essential it is that every missionary Society should include as much as it can of spiritual ministry to these sections of the community.

WESTERN BENGAL.

CALCUTTA.

Population 896,067. There are 604,853 Hindus, 241,587 Moslems, 39,351 Christians, 1,919 Jews, with adherents of seven other religions totalling altogether 8,157. Ten Protestant Missionary Societies are at work in the city.

EVANGELISTIC WORK.

Mr. B. C. Ghose reports that our evangelists have preached the Gospel day after day at seven different places in CALCUTTA and its suburbs, and visited the sick people at the Campbell Hospital every Monday throughout the year. Every Tuesday they went to Sealdah, the junction of two important roads which lead to two railway stations, where large audiences are obtained, and on Thursdays they met at the junction of Park Street and Lower Circular Road. Besides preaching the Gospel by the roadside, they visited the people in their homes, and read the Bible with them and found them greatly interested in the study of God's Word. "There are a few among them who are 'almost persuaded' to become Christians."

Several Christian friends have helped in this valuable work, including Mr. John Faithful, Mr. P. C. Pramaniek, Mr. J. C. Benny and Mr. H. G. Banurji.

THE CHURCHES.

Entally Bengali Church.

Mr. M. N. Nath writes that the Sunday School work and the work of the Christian Endeavour Society have been carried on throughout the year with marked zeal, the Rev. Herbert Anderson helping many times by conducting the Bible Class attended by men and youths. "Some of our young men have been regularly present with me at the prayer meetings held at the houses of our members and attendants, and they helped me by praying, and especially by singing hymns." Some of the Endeavourers have been engaged as Sunday School teachers in Hindu patshalas. The teachers and girls of the ENTALLY Girls' School have started a women's weekly prayer-meeting at the Entally Chapel and have invited the women and girls of the church to attend.

"Our people," writes Mr. Nath, "though most of them poor, were very earnest in helping the flood-stricken people in the districts of Howrah and Midnapore, especially in Tarakeshwar and Contai. The children of our

I should gladly mention here that the girls of the Entally Girls' School denied themselves for helping the flood-stricken helpless people, and their superintendents and teachers, the European ladies, added to their contributions.

"Thirteen persons have been baptised during the year, and there are a number of candidates, mostly young men."

Colinga Bengali Church.

Mr. Joseph C. Benny, the Secretary of the Church, reports that owing to the ill-health of Mr. L. B. Shah, the Rev. B. C. Ghose undertook the pastoral duties this year.

The Sunday School is attended by sixty to seventy boys every Sunday morning. The church consists of forty-one members, and there are others who regularly worship with the members.

Entally Oriya Church.

The Oriya Church in Calcutta has, during the fourteen years of its existence, sought to meet the spiritual needs of, and to be the church home for, the many Oriyas, both church members and members of the Christian community, who find their way to Calcutta from Orissa for work in the metropolis. It is therefore in a sense auxiliary to the Church work and Christian effort of our own Missionary Society in Orissa, and to the work of the American Free Baptist Mission of Northern Orissa. The latest returns show that we have in Calcutta an Oriya Christian community of 442, of whom 157 are in membership with our church. A Sunday service is regularly held in the Entally church, also a Sunday School. The work of the past year has been satisfactory beyond the average. Six persons have been baptised and added to church membership.

"Speaking generally," writes Mr. Harvey, "the church members are quite poor—many of them finding employment as house servants in the city. In such positions, though humble, they have a glorious opportunity for consistent Christian witness among their Hindu and Muhammadan fellow-servants."

SUB-STATIONS.

The Southern Villages.

These villages are situated in the 24-Parganas, a district having a population of 2,434,104. There are 1,525,886 Hindus, 879,547 Muhammadans, 16,025 Christians, and a few adherents of seven other religions. The headquarters of our Mission are at Bishtupur. Six other Societies work in this district.

Mr. Shaw writes: "We arrived from Home in the middle of November, 1912, thankful that for the period of our furlough the work had been superintended and the field frequently visited by so enthusiastic a missionary as Mr. Jewson. Our welcome back to Bishtupur was a very hearty one, and we were made to feel once more at home among our people.

“ Within two or three days of arrival our first trip into the district took place. Its main object was attendance at the Union Committee meetings, but preaching in markets and talks with individuals, and other forms of Mission service, accompanied. Indeed, wherever one goes, and whatever may be the main object of the tour, opportunities for Gospel preaching by the wayside or in bazaar or Hindu courtyard are always occurring, and, after all, it is these things that form the bulk of our work. While not perhaps good material for a report, they are not perhaps less valuable to the accomplishment of the task in hand. The Union Committee meetings have been held four times during the year, at Dhanghata, Bishtupur, Khari and Lakhikantipur respectively. Usually some thirty or forty representatives of different churches attend these meetings, and are entertained during the two days entirely by the local church.

“ Another feature of the Union’s activity is the Annual Meeting, held for two or three days at the commencement of the year. These meetings were this year held at headquarters, i.e., here in Bishtupur, in the month of February, and nearness to Calcutta enabled us to get a good supply of able Bengali speakers. The subjects treated in the big gatherings chiefly concerned Christian responsibility, ranging from the responsibility to one’s self on to widening circles of family, national and world-wide obligation, under the rule of Christ.

“ Perhaps the chief characteristic of the year’s work has been the variety of Bible Classes and small Adult Schools for Bible Study, separate ones for preachers, for teachers, and yet another for the young men of Bishtupur. All these are studying the early chapters of the Book of Acts. We hope to hold an examination in this subject early in 1914, at which will sit, not only B.M.S. preachers and teachers, but B.Z.M. Biblewomen and teachers as well, as also as many outside people as we can persuade to join our classes.

“ In the day schools there is a roll of some 300 pupils, and in the Sunday Schools a somewhat larger number. These schools carry on a humble but useful work in circumstances very often the reverse of encouraging.

“ The sale of Gospel portions, and preaching and singing in bazaar and fair, have continued practically all the year.

“ The total of the community in the Southern villages is 1,625, which is exactly one thousand more than the total of church members, 625.”

Bishtupur School.

“ Early in July, at a meeting of the Education Board of the Bengal Mission, some important matters were settled with regard to the future of the Bishtupur School. The importance of the school to the large Baptist population of the Southern Villages and Canning was recognised by the raising both of the status of the school, and its grant from the Mission Funds. Instructions were also given to prepare plans and estimates for the erection of suitable brick buildings, and 10,000 rupees have been set aside from the Arthington Fund for this work. The Bishtupur School has long been the dearest part of our work in these villages, and the erection of suitable premises, and the provision of a staff qualified to teach up to the new standard, together with the increased number of both Christian boarders and day-scholars, will render its sphere of influence still greater."

STUDENT WORK.

Mr. Nag writes : "The Students' Hall, though it was opened only a year and a half ago, is already a very popular place of meeting for students, and several speakers have expressed themselves delighted at the reverent and respectful attention they get. We have now two hostels—one in the Students' Hall itself and the other in a rented house and these are as popular as ever.

"At the beginning of the session I had the privilege of baptizing a young man—a student—who was preparing for his B.A. examination. He had been reading the Bible very carefully for some time, and at last one day he communicated his desire to be baptized. I had not known a young man with more sincere faith in Christ, and more earnest devotion to Him, so I had no hesitation in baptizing him. According to my usual custom, after his baptism he was sent back to his home to tell his people of his conversion, and to stay with them as long as they did not cast him out, which they did that very evening. But after a time they invited him to go home, and to stay with his people, and promised in my presence not to interfere with his convictions. But since he went home I have not seen him or heard from him. This is sad, and I do not know what to think of it, but I, along with all others who know him, are convinced that, whatever the circumstances may be, he must have been keeping true to the Master. Shall we not continue to pray for Haridas Sircar ?

"We have had two public meetings throughout the year when the Colleges are in session. We have never had less than sixty, and often as many as a hundred and fifty present. On Sunday we have what we call "Divine Service for Students," at 4 p.m., and we have fifty to sixty students at every service. In this service we have Prayers, Reading from the Scriptures, and exposition of the portion read, and then a short expository sermon. We have also had four Bible Classes a week during the year, three conducted by me, and one by my associate, Assistant Missionary P. C. Sikdar. These Bible Classes have been well attended."

HOWRAH.

Area of district, 510 square miles. Population whole district 943,558. There are 742,283 Hindus, 195,599 Muhammadans, 3,120 Christians, 2,127 Animists and 373 belonging to six other religions. The Baptist community is returned as 423.

Mr. Millar writes that the year under review has given much cause for encouragement. The Church has had the benefit of the Jones Bequest, and a legacy of Rs. 500 from an old Church member, Mrs. South, and these legacies have paid for building, repairs and alterations, which for many years have required doing, but which hitherto have been quite impossible on account of the want of funds.

“Two earnest Christian ladies who came to Howrah as teachers in the local English School have rendered excellent service in both Sunday School and Choir. During the past year one other worker has been added to the staff in the form of a District Visitor among the poorer people connected with the European and Eurasian communities living in Howrah. The lady, Miss Brown, has for several months in the year given two days a week to visiting among the poor, and has had much blessing in her work. Into many a home she has brought the light of Christian sympathy, and has had opportunities for prayer and conversation with the people, which brought comfort to many. There are a great many poor homes in Howrah, and of those who rarely go to any place of worship.

“We have sought this year to extend our preaching, both evangelists and colporteur arranging small tours into the country villages, with very good results. Some hundreds of books and tracts have been sold; and opportunity has been afforded of getting into personal contact with the people in the villages. During the cold weather extensive tours were made into the district, and at one centre, Jagatballabhore, we made a fairly extensive stay, with preaching visits to all the villages for miles around.”

The Native Church.

The Native Christian Church has had a good year, and several new families that have moved into Howrah have been led to join themselves under the ministrations of the Hindustani Pastor. It is hoped that before long quite a number of young people will come forward for baptism both in the Hindustani and Bengali Church. The attendance at the services and response to the Word have been very marked. The proportion of young people, too, has been very encouraging. The work of the English Church has also been successful.

A high caste Brahmin of the Howrah District, a seeker after Truth, has been led to find it in Jesus, has been baptized at Brindaband, and has taken up village work at Baltikari.

SERAMPORE COLLEGE.

Principal Howells returned to his work in November 1912, with health completely re-established. He records his deep indebtedness to all members of the Staff, especially to Mr. Page and Mr. Drake. Early in 1913 Mr. Page received an invitation to become Principal of the new Language School for Missionaries in Calcutta. From March 1913, Mr. Hasler, of Bankipur, served as a Professor of English, Superintendent of the Arts Hostel and Business Manager of the Students' Chronicle, which was adopted as the organ of the College from January, 1913.

Progress of Reorganization.

We may take this occasion briefly to indicate what has already been accomplished in the direction of the reorganization of the College on the broad lines planned by its original founders.

(1) The College fabric has been put in thorough repair, and extensive alterations and additions have been made; new accommodation has been provided for students, Arts and Theological, and for professors, European and Indian. A commodious chemical laboratory has been erected, and on all sides it is admitted that the Hostel arrangements stand second to none in Bengal, while the College classrooms are still unsurpassed.

In October, 1910, the Higher Theological Department was opened. The students, internal and external, come from a variety of denominations—Anglican, Baptist, Congregational, Methodist, Presbyterian, and Syrian; and all parts of India are represented—Bengal, Bombay, Central India, Madras, Punjab, United Provinces and Rajputana. In 1914 we hope to be in a position to utilize the Charter by the granting of the Serampore B.D. degree to such students as have successfully completed the course. Representatives of the Anglican, Baptist, Congregational, Syrian and Presbyterian Churches are at present engaged in imparting theological instruction.

Departmental Reports.

In connection with the College, work is being carried on in the following departments:—

- (1) The Higher Theological Department.
- (2) The Arts Department.
- (3) The Vernacular Theological Department.
- (4) The Collegiate High School.

(1) The Higher Theological Department.

The Higher Theological Department, while small in comparison with the Arts, is making steady progress, and its paramount interests are not being lost sight of. There are at present sixteen students, six residential and ten external, taking an advanced theological course qualifying for the degree of Bachelor of Divinity.

All leading Christian denominations and all parts of India are represented, from Ceylon to the Khasia Hills. A distinguished representative of the Syrian community, Rev. Father Geevergeese, M.A., is now a full member of the College Staff. He is associated with Mr. Robinson in the teaching of Syriac, and is also Professor of Economics. Hopes are entertained that in due time Syriac may be recognized as one of the classical languages in the Syllabus of the University of Calcutta as it is at present in the B.D. Syllabus of Serampore College.

(2) The Arts Department.

There is a very considerable increase in the number of students this year owing to the opening of the 3rd year class. The opening of the 4th year class has been postponed until 1914. The organization of Serampore College on the Arts side began in 1911 with some 35 students. In 1912 the numbers were doubled, and in 1913 they are still again more than double, for there are now on the rolls 170 students. When the 4th year is complete in 1914, the numbers may be again doubled, consisting of a College of some 300 students. Of the students at present in the Arts Department, 17 are Christians, 2 Buddhists, 1 Muhammadan and the rest are Hindus. By far the greater number of the students hail from Bengal proper, but the College has some 6 from North Bengal, 9 from East Bengal, 4 from Behar and Orissa and 3 from the Madras Presidency. Thirty students are in the 3rd year class, 64 in the 2nd year class and 71 in the 1st year class. The new chemical laboratory is now complete and has already been occupied, and is a worthy addition to the material fabric of the College. The College Hostel is full, and there are now in residence some 60 students. A house has been temporarily taken for the opening of a new hostel. It is healthily situated on the riverside, and will serve its purpose until we are in a position to erect a new hostel building in closer connection with the College. Plans have been prepared with that object in view, and the College hopes to be in a position to meet the new demands in this respect.

In 1913, 28 students were sent up for the Intermediate Examination in Arts of the Calcutta University and out of these 17 passed; 2 in the 1st division 12 in the 2nd division and 3 in the 3rd.

(3) Vernacular Theological Department.

At the beginning of 1913, 6 students finished their course and left college, receiving appointments as Evangelists. There are now 8 students in the class, 3 belonging to the Baptist Missionary Society, 1 to the United Free Church Mission and 3 to the London Missionary Society. The three B.M.S. students will finish their course by the end of this year, and we hope to recommend them to the next Conference for appointment.

(4) High School Department.

At the end of 1912 Mr. T. H. Robinson, after two years of highly efficient work, resigned his position as Superintendent of the Christian Hostel, and his place has been taken by the Rev. A. C. Ghosh, who has fulfilled the responsibilities of his position with his usual patience, courtesy and thoroughness.

“The number of pupils on the roll is 106, of whom 72 are Hindus, 1 Muhammadan and 33 Christians. Nine students were sent up for the Calcutta University Matriculation Examination held on March 1913; eight were successful, 5 in the 1st division, 2 in the 2nd, and 1 in the 3rd.

“Sunday School classes have been held as usual and the International Lesson has been studied. Last year in the Sunday School Examination one of the boys took a medal, heading the list in Grade I. Four of our boys took the Bengal Christian Conference Examination and did well.

“The boys have a Junior Christian Endeavour Society and they have started gardening in the No. 5 compound in order to be able to give something to God as the outcome of their labour. We have been cheered by the conversion of four of our elder boys, who were baptized in the river during the Preachers' Conference.

Evangelistic Work.

“We regard the College and the Collegiate School as direct evangelistic agencies, and our educational work in these institutions and in the hostels give us ample opportunities for definite evangelistic effort.

In regard to evangelistic work in the town and neighbourhood of Serampore, Rev. S. S. Mukerji writes :—

“ We have four or five important centres in the town where with our theological students we have carried on open-air preaching pretty regularly. We always find people to listen to us. Then the Rath Jatra mela, which is attended by hundreds of men and women from different parts of the country, gave us splendid opportunities for nearly a fortnight of proclaiming at large the fulness of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ.

“ I have been able to make friends with a number of the well-to-do and educated people of the town by visiting them in their homes, and I hope to be able, ere long, to open a regular Bible Class with five or six of the Babus.

“ Singur, our only out-station, has been the most important centre of our evangelistic work. We have an Assistant Missionary and an evangelist there, both of whom are able and earnest workers. We have a school for boys, conducted by Nogen Babu, our Assistant Missionary, every morning from 7 to 11 a.m. Special attention is given to religious instruction. Our workers there generally spend their afternoons in visiting the neighbouring villages which are inhabited by low-caste Hindus. These people are simple, kind and hospitable, always ready to welcome us. Here lies a great opportunity for work. With prayer and steady preservice we may expect a rich harvest.

“ Mr. A. C. Ghosh was out in the district for a whole month with our Vernacular theological students from the middle of December last to the middle of January. Mr. Page joined Mr. Ghosh and spent nearly a week with him in the camp. A large number of important villages and markets have been visited. It was a month of hard and steady work full of inspiration and encouragement.

“ May God bless all our efforts for His glory.”

JESSORE.

This district has a population of 1,758,264. There are 667,936 Hindus, 1,087,554 Muhammedans, and 1,272 Christians, etc. The B.M.S. and C.M.S., and an independent Mission or two, are the only Societies represented among these people.

This year the JESSORE Report is the work of two missionaries. Mr. Reid writes of the work among the Nama Sudras and other Hindus, of the Out-stations, the churches, the schools, and Mr. Goldsack of his special work among the Mohammedans.

During the year a good deal of time was spent among the Nama Sudras, concentrating to a large extent on three sections of a large district. There have been no baptisms this year from among them, though several came very near to that step. The social and educational movement continues. A certain knowledge of Christianity is spreading widely among them, and while some have taken up a more hostile attitude to Christian propaganda, others are working among their fellows for a mass "conversion" to Christianity.

"All we can say at the end of this year is that the message of the Gospel is still listened to with much interest. Many are convinced that it is the religion for the Nama Sudras. A few have come very near to the Kingdom of God. Some of them may even be inside, though they have not yet gained courage enough to be baptized. We remain hopeful as ever that the leaven which is certainly at work in that community may soon so influence large groups of the non-caste Nama Sudras that we may have that big ingathering we have been looking for, and which events in other parts of India among somewhat similar peoples encourage us to expect."

The Bible Class begun some years ago in the house of a Deputy Magistrate was resumed, and the Summer school held in June was quite a success. The chief features of it were Mr. Sircar's lectures on the Gospels and Hinduism and Mr. Goldsack's lectures on the Koran.

"Among the churches it has been on the whole a year of progress, especially at Daulatpur. The rebuilding of the chapel there has called out the enthusiasm of the people as few things have done, and the foundation-stone laying by Mr. Lindsay, the District Magistrate, did much to foster this enthusiasm. A new building of a much simpler sort has been erected at Bahadurpur, where there are a few Christian families. These efforts, though only partly springing from the people themselves, speak of a certain amount of life and energy.

"The schools are progressing very encouragingly in things educational, while one of the most unpromising of the schools has given us an enquirer a fine young lad whom it is a joy to teach. Some of his questions are worthy of one double his years. His eager desire to learn of Christ and to follow Him has been very gratifying. He has asked to be baptized, and is showing himself in many ways a suitable though a young catechumen. There have been some changes in our schools. Those of the least efficiency have been closed, two new schools among the Nama Sudras have been opened, and the status of other schools is being raised. Had we staff enough to follow up more systematically the work done in the schools, their abundant possibilities would be more worthily realized."

Mr. Goldsack writes: I have been able, during the year, to translate and see through the press two more parts of the Bengali Quran, with commentary. A third part has been translated, and is in the press. In addition to this I have edited reprints of the following books: "Gita Har," "Quran in Islam," "One God," and "How to have healthy villages." I have also written a story in English for Moslem readers entitled "Ghulam Jabbar's Renunciation." This latter is in the press, and should be ready by the time this report is printed.

"One of the happiest forms of service in which I have had my privilege to engage during the year has been the conduct of an enquirers' Bible class of two or three Moslem enquirers, with one very enthusiastic Moslem baptised convert. It has been a real joy to lead these seekers into fuller light and knowledge. One of the members of this class has applied for baptism, but it was thought better to hold him back for further instruction and testing. For a part of the year I also conducted an English Bible class for Moslem students.

“ I have had two or three promising enquirers from amongst the Moslems who visit me from time to time. One of these, an educated man who speaks English, was given grace to make a definite stand, and is now, together with his young wife, in safe retreat in a neighbouring mission station, where he is receiving further instruction with a view to baptism. This man is earning his living as a school teacher. He is typical of a class, and that a growing one, of men who are thoroughly dissatisfied with Islam, and openly avow their disbelief in it.”

EASTERN BENGAL.

DACCA.

Dacca has a population of 2,960,492—1,052,256 Hindus, 1,893,470 Mohammedans, and 13,194 Christians. Of the Christians, 11,783 are Roman Catholics, and 683 Baptists. The figures include the population of the Narayanganj subdivision. Besides ourselves, there are Roman Catholic Missionaries, and Brethren of the Oxford Mission.

Through the departure of Mr. Knight for furlough before the end of the statistical year, no report is available on the general work of the station, but with regard to the important work among the students, Mr. Bevan Jones writes that the work at the Regent's Park Hall has entered upon a new era. “ It has grown so much of late in its different branches as to necessitate a division of labour, so we are now a properly constituted club (very much like a Y.M.C.A.) with an Executive Committee composed of the officers in the various departments, viz.: two librarians, a secretary for the Literary Society, two for the Sports Club, two for Social Gatherings, one for Bible Class and Lecture work, and one for the Ambulance Corps. The Commissioner for the DACCA Division, the Hon. Mr. Beatson Bell, C.I.E., I.C.S. has been our President for the past eighteen months, and Lord Carmichael, the Governor of Bengal, has done us the honour of becoming our patron. A short time ago Lord Carmichael sent us one hundred rupees to be used for the Hostel in commemoration of his visit at its opening.

“ During the year we have had two or three outstanding events at the Hall which are deserving of mention. One was a visit from Rev. A. Willifer Young, of the Calcutta Auxiliary of the British and Foreign Bible Society. He brought with him a quite new set of slides on Malaysia—the lecture was more than usually interesting, and he had a grand audience of 350 to listen to him. But at the Annual Distribution of Scriptures this year we had an even larger audience—only a few short of 400. These gifts are made each year by the British and Foreign Bible Society to successful university students, and we broke all previous records this year, making no less than 393 awards."

"We have had, as usual, junior and senior classes for Bible study, as well as the Saturday evening lectures on Religion and Ethics. Mr. Bridges and myself have had, in addition, men for private reading and discussion. One man, a devout Hindu, with very considerable knowledge of Christianity and a profound reverence for Jesus Christ, has been reading Bunyan's writings. Two others, both Brahmos, have been reading, separately, one of the Gospels, and have been deeply impressed. They are not satisfied with their present position. Of Moslem students, as we know them, we cannot report anything like the same intellectual activity. The orthodox Moslem has such a deal of routine 'reading,' and especially 'prayer,' to go through as to make him seem listless in matters of religion. In the Hostel itself perhaps no factor is working more surely to effect real goodwill and confidence than the influence of morning prayers. More of the Moslems attend than formerly. Another influence making for good feeling all round arises from the fact that we have been, especially Mr. Bridges, with them at their bedsides in times of fever, pain and sickness. So that repeatedly we have had cause to thank God for this Hostel, raised 'to the glory of God,' as the Arthington tablet has it, and for the opportunities it has brought us.

Four of the boarders this year are Christians, and surely we may be proud of them. One, a Bengali, is a medical student, another is a Burman studying for his B.Sc., a third is a Lushai Hills lad at the Engineering College, and the fourth a Garo reading in one of the Dacca schools. A notable development of the work is a Branch of the St. John Ambulance Association. Some twenty students have secured the certificate for "First Aid," and during the annual Janmashthami procession had a Red Cross Tent just off one of the densely-packed thoroughfares.

NARAYANGANJ.

Population, 779,564.

Mr. T. D. Williams writes of a year "starred with no miracles." "There are no very striking events, no great experiences to record. It has been a year of quiet and steady service."

Native Agency.

"Mr. Ram Charan Ghosh has been my right hand in the Bengali work and Mrs. Ghosh has managed very successfully a Sunday School where mothers and daughters alike sit at her feet. Their daughter, Mrs. Banerjee, is devotedly employed in a similar work among Mohammedan women and girls. In February last, our evangelistic staff was joined by Babu Indra Bhusan Sarkar, from Suri. He is our youngest evangelist here, and promises well. The transfer of Babu Prasanna Kumar Saha to Raipura has had a marked effect upon Rajendra Babu, who had struggled on alone there for many years, and the sphere has become one of great hopefulness.

Education.

“At Raipura we have a new master and a new mistress, and the schools have never been in so flourishing a condition. The Government Inspector reports well on the secular work, but better than this is the excellence of the results in religious teaching. Only the stern opposition of their parents prevents youths from publicly confessing Christ in baptism, but this will not always hold. At Srirampur a new building has been erected, and the number of scholars has increased one-fourth, while the school rolls at Baharnagar and Pirojkandi have been almost doubled, and the village folk at the latter place have built a new school-house and are clamouring for a second teacher and the raising of the status of the school. The girls' school at Mandalpara, supported by the European ladies of Narayanganj, continues to make progress. The promised enlargement has taken place, and now the accommodation is double that of last year. We had a great day at the annual prize distribution, when a large number of the patrons were present. They expressed themselves delighted with the specimens of needlework, modelling, and exercise books exhibited.”

Sunday Schools are held in connection with each of the above day schools, and also in three other centres. More candidates than ever sat for the S.S.U. examination, and the results of the oral division show still better marks.

Travelling and Other Work.

“Three tours have been made in the Mission house-boat. The demand for Christian literature in the villages is growing keener every year; each time we cleared out our stock of books. Much more touring ought to be done, and would have been done this year had it not been for the dilapidated condition of the Ichthus. Surely it will soon be the turn of Narayanganj to possess a motor launch.

“During the greater part of the year Mrs. Williams has continued to do midwifery nursing. After a period of enforced cessation, her eases are coming in again thick and fast. We rejoice also to chronicle the beginning of a new agency, a branch of the Y.M.C.A. It had long been in my mind to endeavour to do something towards providing some counter-attraction to the many temptations to which the youths of Narayanganj are exposed. What has been very heartening in launching this venture has been the sympathy we have received from the European gentlemen of the town.

“The new Y.M.C.A. premises adjoin the Mission House and could not be better situated. At present we have a reading-room with plenty of healthy-toned English and Bengali magazines and newspapers, and a recreation-room containing bagatelle and ping-pong tables. Gifts of good books would be welcomed from any source. We have enrolled fifty-three members.”

The English service at Narayanganj continues to be a source of help and inspiration.

BARISAL AND MADARIPUR.

Barisal is the headquarters of the Bakharganj District, which has an area of 3,654 square miles, and a population of 2,428,911. There are 1,693,905 Mussulmans, 719,557 Hindus, and 6,541 Christians. Madaripur, a subdivision in the Faridpur District, has a population of 816,203, of whom 247,102 are Hindus, 568,575 are Mohammedans, and 526 are Christians. The Baptist community in the united field numbers over 7,000; Other Missions at work are the Roman Catholic, the Oxford Mission, and the Seventh Day Adventists.

Mr. Carey writes: "This Report covers the twelve months from October, 1912, to September, 1913, inclusive. Mr. and Mrs. Raw with their little son arrived on December 4th. We welcomed them with a sense of great relief and keen anticipation. They have all won our hearts. Mr. Raw is a colleague in the true sense. He has re-organised the bazaar preaching and for some time taught a preachers' class. He has shared with me the conduct of Church services at headquarters, and the annual visitation of churches and schools in the district.

"Evangelist Pratap Chandra Deori has retired, and two young evangelists have joined us fresh from College. They belong to the last batch of students to be trained at Serampore with a view to employment by the conference.

The New Boys' Boarding School.

"The Contract for this school was signed on April 26th, 1912, and the work was to be completed within nine months, i.e., by the 30th January, 1913. The Contractor, however, failed us, and a new Contract was signed on April 29th. The work is to be finished by the 14th February, 1914. We may possibly be able to open the school in January, but in any case a whole year has been lost."

The General Christian Community.

"The Returns show a total of 7,607 in the nominal Christian Community, as against 7,449 the previous year, or a gain of 158. The Church Roll gives a membership of 2,403, as against 2,415 the previous year, or minus 12. There have been 29 baptisms and 38 losses by death.

The Churches.

"There have been indications this year of a perceptible improvement in the life and work of some of the village churches. Five chapels have been built, all with a roofing of corrugated iron, viz., Chaksingh, Pakhar, Chhabikharpar, Morakathi, and Muladi. The church at Dighaliya, in spite of scarcity, has been able to collect the fixed amount of rice for the support of its pastor. The Christian Endeavourers have been very helpful in this and other matters there. Pastors have been provisionally appointed at Mandra and Suagram, and Indurkani will be the next. The church there has selected, and is working to obtain the settlement of, a pastor. In the Kathalbari Section of the Indurkani Church a young school teacher, Umes, has conducted a live C.E. Society which brought about the conversion of two young married couples. I had the joy of baptizing them.

"The churches of Kaligram, Amgram, Nabagram and Askar have been torn by dissensions, and the people of Bhaluksi and Bharasakathi have drifted far away. On the other hand, a gracious spirit has been present at many of the services held on tour, and a power not of earthly origin manifested in quickening the conscience and melting the hearts.

"The magic lanterns have been, as usual, extremely popular. During eleven weeks of the Touring work, the lantern was shown in 63 places, 50 of these being Christian churches, 3 Hindu homesteads, and 10 Hindu High Schools. In the churches the audience numbered from 30 to 250. Taking 80 as the average, 4,000 Christians altogether saw the lantern on those fifty nights. On the thirteen nights when the teachers and scholars of the High Schools, with their families, were present, the average was reckoned about 500, or 6,500 in all. Hence about 10,000 people have this season, during the Rains alone, seen the entire story of the Life of Christ—His birth, boyhood, baptism, ministry, death, burial, resurrection and ascension, with a full explanation, accompanied by hymns. This does not take into account the Cold Weather work.

Education.

"Our record shows that forty-one schools have been at work, with an average of 1,121 scholars on the roll, and 671 in daily attendance.

"This is a gain of 4 schools, 82 scholars on the Roll and 52 in daily attendance. But it will take us a long time yet to recover fully from the effect of the unsparing retrenchment which has characterised recent years. After such a period, even when the money begins to come back, there is often a total inability to make it available and effective. Teachers have gone elsewhere, the former scholars have either entered some other school or missed their chance altogether, and interest in education has sunk to zero in the particular village concerned. And our school problems affect not only the Day-School education, but also Sunday-School effort and all the work amongst children.

"For want of accommodation, our Summer School could not be held this year. We are planning to hold it in January, when the New School buildings will be available."

Itineration.

"Our general itineration has included trips to the new Nama Sudra centre in Kailas Babu's field, and the Maghs and markets of the southern division of the district, also a round of the High Schools in the northern area.

"After the Mott Conference in Calcutta Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gladding of New York accompanied us for a fortnight in the Mission boats on a preaching tour, which wound up with a visit to Dhamsar for a Council Meeting, to give them a glimpse of Beel Church-life. These two delightfully keen and sympathetic visitors enjoyed every minute of their time, engaged with zest in the selling of Gospels in the busy markets of the South, and on one occasion had the joy through an interpreter of themselves announcing the Good News to a host of ignorant but eager non-Christian village-folk.

“ At the close of the rains, Messrs. Edmeades and French went out in the Zillah on a visitation tour of the dozen or so High Schools in the Northern Thanas, and everywhere met with a welcome such as shows what a fine field these schools are for Missionary interests and work. They sold to the masters and boys of these institutions over 6,000 books, mostly portions of the Bible.”

Student Work.

“ Mr. Edmeades has taught a class of boys in Bengali in the Preaching Hall on Sunday mornings ; and, along with Mr. French, conducted a students' Bible Class in English on Saturday afternoons, besides reading with many who came to their house, and occasionally visiting them in their lodgings. They have also led the bazaar preaching twice a week.

PIROJPUR.

A subdivision of Bakhariganj District, having a population of 550,418.

Mr. K. C. Sarkar writes : “ As we record the work of another year our first word must be one of praise. Our good Lord has cheered and encouraged us this year by bringing eight souls from the slavery of caste and the dark valley of heathenism into His kingdom. One of them, a high caste Hindu young man, was a writer in a zamindar's office. The other seven persons came out from among the Nama Sudra community.

Churches.

“ I am glad to report that four persons were converted at Matibhanga last November. Messrs. Carey, French, Edmeades and I went there on the occasion, and had a large gathering of Nama Sudras to whom we preached Jesus and His teaching. Then Mr. Carey baptized Gopal, Pyari and Tarak. Next day I baptized Pyari's wife. So a nucleus of another church has been formed in the midst of a large number of Nama Sudras, and a Mission school has been opened there.

“ Long ago I reported that all our converts at Sarenghati had gone among the Roman Catholics. Now I am thankful to report that twelve of them have come back and joined us, and the others are expected to return in a short time. Three Christians at Kalmegha had become Mohammedans, but are restored to us this year.

Touring.

“ We have made three tours during the year and have preached the precious Gospel of eternal life to the people whom we met in bazaars, markets, melas and villages. We have also sold Scripture portions and distributed tracts. Nowadays the people, specially the Nama Sudras, hear us attentively without making any opposition, and buy our books with much eagerness. In our last tour nearly 1,000 Scriptures portions were sold."

Town Work.

"Our work in the town proper and in adjacent villages was also carried on as usual. We have preached almost every day in the bazaar and markets. House-to-house visitation and conversation on religious topics are carried on regularly. Bible and Biblical books were borrowed and read by the gentlemen of the town. Sunday services were also attended by most of them and by outsiders. On two occasions I had to spend the whole night in the lodgings of two of my patients who needed careful watching and nursing."

Schools.

"The work of our Mission schools has been done regularly. Our girls' school has been amalgamated with the local girls' school, which has a grant from Government. My second daughter, who has passed the training of the United Missionary Training College in Calcutta, has been appointed head mistress. She has opened a Bible class in the school, and those girls who are permitted by their parents to attend the class are taught together with our Christian girls. Some twenty-two girls are now receiving religious instruction."

Colporteur and Biblewoman.

"Our colporteur Mahendra Nath Barai has done faithful work. About 3,500 Bibles, Scripture portions and other books were sold during the year. Our Biblewoman's work has also been carried on with much energy, the Scripture being read to 3,498 women."

CHITTAGONG.

Population 1,518,433. There are 1,089,024 Mohammedans, 347,189 Hindus, 70,010 Buddhists, 577 Animists, 1,430 Christians, and a few belonging to minor religions.

Mr. Teichmann writes that there have been many hindrances to our work this year at CHITTAGONG. "Whether it was due to the Turkish wars or to any other cause, I cannot tell, but I do not remember any year in my missionary life in which we have been able to sell so few Mussulmani Gospels and other literature for Mohammedans. This is a matter of great sorrow and concern to us, seeing that Chittagong is a mighty stronghold of the Mohammedans. There are comparatively more Mohammedans than at either Dacca or Jessore, and you cannot walk five minutes along a road without coming across a mosque.

“Our little Christian community has not increased in numbers. We have had rather losses by death and removals; still there are signs of a real return of those whom we had put under church discipline. The way of sinners is hard, and although they have been visited and lovingly treated, we have remained firm in not taking them back until they are willing to put away the accursed thing.”

“Out of our Bengali Christian Sunday School four children appeared at the last All-India Sunday School Examination: they all passed very creditably in the Junior Oral Division, one of them getting full marks, the others 97, 87 and 83 per cent. respectively.

“The Bengali Services have been held regularly in the Mission Chapel. Prasad Babu, who is nominally the Pastor, naturally took a large number of services, though we all had a fair share in these ministrations. The collections of the Bengali Church for the Poor Fund amount to Rs. 77-10, and for general expenses Rs. 115-1-4½. Our English services at the Railway Institute have continued to be a help and joy to us and others.

“During the three months of the cold season Mrs. Teichmann had about thirty children in the English Sunday School. In March almost all these children left for their schools in the hills and other distant places. She kept up, however, the school all the year for the sake of the little ones who were left.

“In March we all went to the Sitakund Mela, where we spent eleven days in hard but very happy work. Some 25,000 pilgrims had gathered to worship at this place of pilgrimage. We sold a great number of books, and preached from morn till night to everchanging crowds of pilgrims.

“In April Dr. Teichmann and a compounder from Chandraghona joined three of us from Chittagong at the Mohamuni Mela, where we worked for ten days and sold a great number of Burmese and Bengali Scripture portions. The sick folk were attended to in batches, and between each batch a short Gospel address was given. While at this Mela we addressed also a crowded meeting of scholars, teachers and supporters of the Entrance School on the occasion of the Prize Distribution.”

“With grateful hearts we raise our Ebenezer: ‘Hitherto hath the Lord helped us!’”

JALPAIGURI.

Jalpaiguri has an area of 2,962 square miles, and the population of the district is 902,660. 547,327 are Hindus, 237,456 Moslems, 8,054 Buddhists, 5,501 Christians (including Tea Planters, Government Officials, Roman Catholics, and Protestant coolies on the tea-gardens), 585 Baptists.

Mr. Mitchell writes that many changes have taken place during the year in connection with our staff of workers at JALPAIGURI. Mr. and Mrs. Woollard left in the beginning of the year for Rangpur; Mr. and Mrs. Hazelton arrived on the 7th February. “Shortly after their arrival, to our great regret, Mrs. Hazelton was obliged to go home on medical advice. Babu Benjamin Baroi from Suri is a great acquisition to our staff, a most thoughtful and interesting preacher, and just the sort of man we required to work among the educated classes of the station.

Bazaar Preaching.

“There has been no slackening of our effort in this direction, and I would repeat what I wrote last year, that is my conviction that open-air preaching is the most successful way of winning India to Christ. Our experiences during the past year have only deepened this conviction. The people themselves show their appreciation of these meetings by attending in large numbers wherever we go, either in the bazaars of the town, at weekly markets or in the village streets. The time has come when the Missionary can safely ask his hearers if they understand his message and thus lead them on to a friendly discussion of the Gospel he preaches. While preaching our evangelists sell Gospels and tracts, so that during the year large numbers of these silent messengers have been circulated throughout the district.”

Itineration.

“The Rev. S. G. Woollard, accompanied by Babu Jalahdar Chakrabarti and a colporteur, visited the villages to the north-west of Jalpaiguri in November and December last. They did good work in the markets in preaching and selling books. Ismail Babu and I paid two visits to Alipur Duars, and at Chakhuaketi two men and one woman were baptized. A school was opened there, and Krishtapal was appointed teacher and district visitor among the Uraos. Gaikatta and the adjoining villages have been visited several times during the year, and also some of the most important places lying between Siliguri and Dumar on the Eastern Bengal State Railway.”

Melas.

“The Rev. W. W. Hazelton, accompanied by the evangelists and a colporteur, spent a few days at the Jalpesh Mela, at which the Gospel was preached in Hindi and Bengali to large and attentive audiences. Babus Ismail Gazi, Kangali Charan Sarkar and Hajir Munshi spent a week at Bhotpati Mela. They preached to large crowds of earnest hearers at the Mela and in the surrounding pillages. Haldibari and the other local melas were visited as usual.”

Prayer Meetings.

“Besides the regular meeting for prayer, which is held in the Chapel every Thursday, another one has been held in the house of Phutti Jamadar near the Railway station. It is conducted on Wednesday evenings after preaching at Kadamtala. Our brother visits the houses of the people and gets them to attend the meeting.”

Baptisms.

Twenty-six baptisms have taken place during the year in this district.

RANGPUR.

Population 2,386,261. Hindus 803,784, Mohammedans 1,569,090, Christians (including 181 Roman Catholics) 599, Brahmos 8.

"For twenty-three years," Mr. Woollard writes, "the work at RANGPUR has had the support of Mr. and Mrs. Ellison, who have been a great power in a very difficult corner of the missionary field. I and my wife took over charge from our predecessors on the 7th of last February, and on our arrival here found much to be thankful for. Besides many other things, Mr. and Mrs. Ellison had left us a fine heritage in the little chapel which they erected during the last year of their stay in India."

"We prize this very much, but what we prize more is the fact that we have entered into the legacy of an Indian Church, which, although not very large in numbers, yet shines with purity. Both in Rangpur and at our sub-stations purity and honesty are the chief characteristics of the Christians—a fine tribute to the splendid work which has been done during the last twenty-three years."

Preaching.

"In the "bustis," at the railway stations, near the "kachari" (or law courts), in the bazaars, the "hats," the "melas," the Gospel message has been sounded forth. Interest has been aroused, the nail of the truth has gone home, some have come with their arguments and the nail has been clenched, for they have gone away more enlightened. In one case at least a young man has been driven to seek the way of salvation, and he is now numbered amongst our enquirers.

The Schools.

"In each of our five schools splendid work has been done, the numbers have increased considerably, the regular attendance has been good. At Madhapur there has been decided improvement, and at Tajnagar, by dividing the school into two sections during the rainy season, we have been able to almost double the number. Only last month I baptized three at Tajnagar; nor is this all, for one of those three, an Urao lad of eighteen years or so, of the name of Joseph, has been instrumental in bringing eight or ten others to a knowledge of Jesus Christ as their Saviour. These are now receiving special instruction, and are, I believe, almost ready for baptism."

"In our Parnati Para (or Rangpur bazaar) School the work of moulding has been freshly stimulated by the introduction of a Sunday School. The Sunday attendance, which is purely non-Christian, has been good, and I believe it will increase. The two schools amongst the Santals have also, on the whole, been working satisfactorily.

“During my last visit to Mohishlatta two fine young fellows of the Garo race, who had passed their Primary Examination under our Teacher, and who have since been reading in the Gobindaganj High School, came to me and expressed a desire that a school might be started amongst their own people. They said that if I would send them a Christian Garo Pundit they would provide him with a house and a School house. This offer has been confirmed by the headman of the village, who has said that he will give sufficient money so that the School house may have a tin roof. I am hoping to visit this village as soon as the roads are passable.

Among Students.

“In this section we must not fail to mention the work amongst the students of Rangpur. Our senior Evangelist visits the Hostels on Sundays just before our afternoon service, and the consequence is that nearly every Sunday several students are present at that service. Then also the roll number of our English Bible Class for Bengali students has now reached fifty-six. As usual the attendance fluctuates a great deal, but on the whole it is satisfactory.

Enquirers.

“I have already referred to the Enquirers' Class at Tajnagar, where some eight or nine men and some of their wives are receiving instruction at their own request. In most cases they are quite ready for baptism themselves, but there are a few obstacles which are keeping them back for a time. In some cases the man is waiting for his wife, who is less enlightened than himself, in another case some family difficulty has to be removed. By prayer and earnest effort these obstacles will, we trust, be overcome.”

A Village Church.

“At Baniharra or Balina, one of Mr. Ellison's last pieces of work was to form the band of some thirty-eight Christians into a Church, with Babu Gangaram Kumar as their elected Pastor. Thus the work of about five years was given a decided finishing touch, and our hearts were overflowing with gratitude as we sat down for the first time to take the Lord's Supper with that newly established Church. Since then it has been my privilege to remember our Lord's death with those Christians on two occasions, at intervals of three months, and at each of those services I had the joy of receiving newly baptized members into Christian Fellowship—on the first occasion one member, and on the second occasion four members. Altogether, this year, nine converts have received baptism at Baniharra, which means that now there is only one non-Christian family in those two villages.

“Our thanks are due to the Protestant European Community of Rangpur, who have been as regular as possible in attending our English services every Sunday evening. Above all we thank God for using us to advance His Kingdom in this District, and we pray for wisdom, grace and power, and what is even more necessary, the continual infilling of His Spirit, that His Kingdom may the more speedily come.”

DINAJPUR.

Population 1,687,863. There are 759,309 Hindus, 824,345 Mohammedans, 102,031 Animists, 1,964 Christians, and a few belonging to other smaller bodies. Baptists number 1,071.

Mr. Summers reports that at DINAJPUR the year had its full share of trial and disappointment. A scanty harvest tried our people severely, with the result that there was more than the usual loss through emigration to other districts. This, and the "capture" of our community at Netason by the Lutheran Mission, accounts for practically the whole of our decrease of thirty. The Netason incident is a very unhappy one. For a long time the agents of the Benagaria Mission had been endeavouring to persuade the Netason people to join them, and the death of a child "unbaptized," was worked upon. The parents were told that, being unbaptized, the child had died a heathen, and was therefore lost. So, to secure the rest of the children from such a fate, all went over to the Mission which was prepared to "save" the children.

The Churches.

"The progress previously reported at Kuaron has been fully maintained. The brethren have been giving thought to the heathen Mundaris in the villages round about them, with a view to carrying on evangelistic work among them during the period when work in the fields is slack. This concern for their fellow-men is one of the most hopeful of signs. At Makrampur the settlement of a land trouble of some years' standing will lift a great burden from the minds of the brethren, and will, I trust, leave them free to follow in the steps of Kuaron in seeking to evangelize their countrymen. The church in Dinajpur town has separated itself from some who walk disorderly, and whose conduct has long been a reproach.

Baptisms.

"The baptisms for the year total fifteen, the majority from amongst the Christian community. At the present time there are a number awaiting baptism at Torultola and Mahlepara, whilst in a new village, to which one of the Gobarbil brethren moved two years ago, there are no less than sixteen candidates. A hopeful work which we had begun amongst the Palis is being resumed, and the wife of the first convert awaits baptism.

"From several villages inquirers have come in, who have since been visited by the evangelists, and there are now in these villages a number of persons seeking baptism."

Books.

"A pleasing feature of the year has been the very large increase in the number of books sold. Over 14,000 books have been disposed of, the majority of which were Scripture portions. A peculiar feature of this work was the way in which Mohammedans refused to purchase Gospels, though they bought freely such as the Life of Joseph, the History of Creation and the Story of Elijah and Elisha. There was a great demand for 'Mukti-Sangit,' the one-pice hymn book published by the Australasian Baptist brethren, and nearly 3,000 copies were sold."

The death of Babu Rai Kumar Ray during the year, was a great blow to the work at Dinagpur. To his untiring exertions, his self-denying service, and his firm and loving guidance is due the great progress which the Mundari churches have made.

KHULNA.

Khulna has an area of 2,077 sq. miles, and a total population of 1,366,766. Our community numbers 1,418. Other Missions represented in this district are the Roman Catholic, the Oxford and the Seventh-Day Adventists, though the number of adherents of all these bodies is small.

Mr. W. C. Hunter, Mr. Milne's colleague at KHULNA, writes the general report of the station and describes some successful tours made at the beginning of the itinerating season. In Christmas week a happy visit was made to Majirgati, a Nama Sudra village in the north of the district, where a Mission School was opened last year. In January an interesting visit was made to Hoorka, another Nama Sudra village, where a footing was gained last year. "Mr. Reid kindly came from Jessore to help on this occasion. A hearty welcome was accorded us by a leader of the village, and a large shamiana was erected for a public meeting. While this meeting was going on Mrs. Milne was behind the scenes conducting a woman's meeting. Although at that time the people were not sufficiently of one mind to take any steps in the direction of opening a school in the village, this result has since been accomplished. In July last a Christian teacher was sent, and a Lower Primary School opened, the people providing the school house and accommodation for the teacher.

"In May another special evangelistic tour was made, Mr. Milne again accompanying us. This time Kadamdi, one of our largest churches, was made the centre of our campaign, the help of the Pastor and members being enlisted in preaching the Gospel in the neighbouring bazaars. Seven different bazaars were visited, some good audiences were secured, and at one place 120 Gospels (mostly Injils) were sold at one time.

"In the town of Khulna the work of preaching has been regularly carried on under Mr. Milne's leadership, and visits are also made to neighbouring market-places. The visitation of Hindu and Mohammedan gentlemen at their homes has been carried on by our assistant missionary, Babu Priya Nath Nath. An attempt has been made to recommence Sunday Schools in some of the neighbouring paras and villages, and already a start has been made at two places—'futpara and Labanchora.

The Churches.

“A large proportion of our touring season was spent among the churches, the condition of which continues to cause much anxiety. The annual meetings held at Jhaubuniya in February, however, were a great encouragement. There were probably well over 900 people present, and we were impressed by the amount of spiritual eagerness manifested. Over Rs.180 were raised for the I.B.M.S., and this sum has since been increased to Rs.222. A distinct advance was made, too, in the contributions to the Dharmmoddipani Fund for the support of a local preacher. Altogether a sum of Rs.160 has been raised, and regular monthly sums promised by the several churches. This has enabled us to take the further step of appointing our preacher, and the choice fell upon Bharat Chandra Biswas of Kadamdi, son of Ananda Chandra Biswas, the late devoted evangelist of the B.M.S.

“The Christian Endeavour movement continues to grow, and eight new societies have been formed. At the first Annual C.E. Rally, held at the time of our annual meetings, the Roll Call included the names of twenty-four Societies—men’s, women’s, and junior.

“At Sonadanga a branch of the Y.M.C.A. was formed, which, besides Bible class, reading room, etc., is to have evening classes at which those who are qualified will teach their neighbours carpentry, music, and office work. At Chunkuri also a Y.M.C.A. branch has been formed, and there, too, a leading feature is the holding of night schools for teaching reading and writing.

“The village school work has gone on steadily. The standard of our teaching staff has been slightly raised by the acquisition of two new M.E. pass teachers. In September all the teachers came up to Khulna for five or six days to what may be called a Summer School on a small scale, and Mr. E. A. Annett, of the India Sunday School Union, gave a very useful series of lectures on Sunday School methods. Mr. Milne gave some lectures on the art of teaching as applied to the day school, while some Bible lectures were also given by Priya Babu.”

In the Boarding School, which is under Mr. Milne’s care, there are sixty-two boys, fifty-four being boarders.

“Out of fifty-six boys who took the All-India S.S. Examination, forty-eight passed in the various divisions. These figures are the result of the examination held in July of last year.

“I have had to refuse not a few applications for places as boarders, not for want of space (there is still abundance) but because of the great increase in the price of rice. Had prices remained as they were two years ago I should have been able easily to take other twenty boarders. When weather permits, the boys spend an hour every morning at garden work and other kinds of manual labour.

“Outside of distinctively school work—in addition to the above—it has been my rule to take about half the school to the market, to sing the Gospel, every Wednesday, the other half going on Saturday. As I have often had occasion to remark, Bengalis are extremely fond of singing, and the youthful voices of my boys now draw a big crowd.

“Our Sunday School work has gone on regularly, the classes being conducted by Mrs. Milne, the housemaster, and myself.

“In June we had a Garden Party, to which about a score of young men were invited. Sixteen came, and a most pleasant afternoon was spent. Fourteen were Hindus, and two Mohammedans. In addition our preachers and Boarding School teachers were present. All enjoyed the tea and cakes provided. It reminded us of our Madaripur days. None of those present refused to eat the things baked by the hands of a Christian.”

Mrs. Milne has had her weekly women's Prayer Meeting, and lately a Work Meeting has been started.

PURNEAH.

Purneah has a population of 1,993,143, of whom 1,080,091 are Hindus, 793,672 Mohammedans, and 439 Christians. Most of the Christians are Europeans.

Mr. Watson writes that the year under review was a year of encouragement and blessing, despite the failure of crops, which caused much anxiety and suffering among the Christians, who are very poor. Conference having resolved to amalgamate the work in Malda with that of PURNEAH, it was decided to remove the staff from Malda to Purneah; this has been a distinct source of strength to the local church.

Evangelistic Work.

“Early in the year the news of the first enquirers reached us from a village just over the southern border of Purneah; soon afterwards we were visited by two men from the centre of the district. These two openings decided our plan of work for the first part of the cold season. The first village was visited much earlier by a colporteur from Malda, who had been gladly received by the people. The people were Santalis, and a number of them heard the word gladly; there were enquirers, too, in adjacent villages.

“After some months we had the joy of baptising some thirty people in two villages. The work in Khanki was equally encouraging, for the spirit of enquiry was abroad in several parts of the village, which is large and scattered. The number of enquirers in the beginning was very nearly fifty, and we were able to baptize nineteen. We are still visiting the village, and there is yet hope that some of the former enquirers may be gained. The women have been taught by a Biblewoman throughout the year, and about six are reported to be ready for baptism.

“The most striking event of the year was the baptism of fourteen Rajbansis at Birbaldangi, through the influence exercised over them by a gospel purchased at a mela in Dinajpur district several years ago. The Love of Christ appealed to them, and drew them to Him. As one of them said: ‘This is indeed the way we have lost; austerities and vows have failed to bring us peace.’ The new converts have passed through a severe testing time, and all have united to give them trouble and pour ignominy upon them, thereby hindering others who were preparing to follow them. They write very cheerily that, despite all these things, they remain with their faith in Jesus unmoved and unshaken.

Schools.

"The day schools are at a great disadvantage in Purneah district because Santali children attend school very irregularly during the rainy season, every child being forced into service in the fields. The teachers are discouraged, as they are unable to send children up for the Government Examinations, which take place soon after the harvest is gathered. The remedy appears to lie in a central school, where the most promising boys may be gathered, and opportunities given to complete their studies unhindered. Religious instruction is given in all schools. The most flourishing school is the new one at Birbaldangi, whose status must soon be raised. The children are most regular, some months returning no absentees; and their interest in Christian teaching is very keen.

"We have one new Sunday School in Purneah: Sunday schools are held in all the churches, the attendance being very fair."

BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOLS IN BENGAL.

Mr. Hughes writes that the results of this important branch of our work in Bengal are on the whole very encouraging. The increases for the year were as follows: Increases in Schools, 19; teachers, 43; Christian boys, 426; Christian girls, 341; Non-Christian boys, 69; Non-Christian girls, 39; Total increase in scholars, 875.

The increase in Christian scholars is considerable. It is progress of the very best kind, and if this means a greater sense of our responsibility regarding the distinctive religious education of our community, then we can take heart of grace, and look forward hopefully to still better things. The districts mainly responsible for this increase are Barisal, Bishtapur, Calcutta and South Lushai.

It is most gratifying to learn that there were 139 conversions in 25 of these schools, and that the majority of the 140 who were received into the Church by baptism for the period under review were Sunday School scholars of different ages.

BIHAR.

BANKIPUR-PATNA.

This Station is the western suburb of Patna City. The population of Patna District is 1,609,070, and Patna City 136,153.

"During the year under review," Mr. Dann writes, "we have endeavoured to consolidate and carry on our work, extension being impossible by reason of the smallness of our staff. Mr. Hasler was called to help the Serampore College Staff, and a man of his well-known efficiency and industry cannot fail to be greatly missed when absent from the station for so long a period. Nevertheless, the usual melas have been visited and the Gospel preached. Our indefatigable school-teacher, Charles Dutt, has rendered me valuable assistance in the evangelistic work at the Bankipur end of the City, and when I have, for various reasons, been unable to go out myself he has, with such company and assistance as he has been able to obtain, or quite alone, kept up the preaching and bookselling.

“During Mr. Hasler’s absence I have held Bible classes for English-speaking students. Two have attended regularly enough to justify their sitting for the Bengal Prizes’ Examination of the Young Men’s Christian Association in Calcutta.

“The Christian community has lived its life in peace and harmony. The Sunday services have been well sustained. Sunday Schools have as usual been well attended, and the last results to hand of annual and half-yearly examinations in Scripture knowledge have proved satisfactory. Our Boarding School has more than held its own in the matter of attendance. Forty boys are in the classes, and in addition we have in the Hostel one Christian in the final B.A. class at a local college, three high school students, a training school student and three Industrials, one of whom is just leaving us, having obtained a good post as a motor mechanic. Government have more than doubled the Tuition grant to our Christian Boarding School and have unsolicited offered us a Hostel grant in addition, which has been paid from April in the present year.

“The National Council held in Calcutta recommended the formation of a Provincial Council for Bihar and Orissa. This was accordingly done, at the time of the meeting of the Bihar Missionary Union in Bankipur in April. Including the delegates from Chota Nagpur and Orissa, there was an attendance of over 50 men and women missionaries. The finding of accommodation for the large number of visitors was a task made very pleasant by the kindly hospitality, not only of my fellow-missionaries, but of other friends in the station, and to them I am deeply grateful. The devotional and business meetings were characterized by unity and earnestness; the social intercourse also doing much to bring people together spiritually and mentally, and to deepen the spirit of harmony that prevailed.”

Student Work.

Mr. Hasler writes: “We have arranged only three lectures during the past twelve months at the Mission Church, the first of which was a notable one and attracted an unusually large audience. Dr. Horton of Hampstead helped us by breaking journey here and giving an address on ‘Muhammad, Krishna, and Christ.’ The Hon. Mr. LeMesurier, the Chief Secretary to the Government of our newly-constituted Province, presided. Dr. Horton was evidently impressed with the possibilities of work here. The monthly meetings at my house or at Mr. Dann’s for educated Indians have continued more or less regularly throughout the year, and have been appreciated. One of them was devoted to the consideration of Dr. Horton’s lecture, the subject being introduced by the leader of the local Theosophists.

Out-Station Schools.

“The work at both Jahanabad and Masaurhi has progressed satisfactorily and the schools at both places show numerical increase. At both schools several of the scholars competed this year in the All-India S. S. Examination, and the majority passed.

Colportage Work.

“In connection with this, the principal fact to chronicle is that of the Bookshop which we organized during the visit of the Indian National Congress last December. We had a good many visitors who came in to inspect the stock, which we had collected chiefly from the Bible Society’s Depot at Calcutta, the Christian Literature Society at Madras, and the North India Tract Society at Allahabad. Very few Scriptures were sold, since the majority of educated Indians apparently possess copies of the Bible, but a large number of C.L.S. publications were taken as well as some books of a more general nature. The total sales are: 47 Bibles, 186 Testaments, 3,420 Scriptures Portions, and 7,376 miscellaneous books.”

MONGHYR.

The population of the District is 2,132,893—1,923,008 Hindus, 200,339 Moham-medans, and 1,806 Christians. Other Societies in the District are the C.M.S.; the C.E.Z.M.; the B.Z.M. in Monghyr; and a Medical Mission in the Santal border connected with the U.F. Church of Scotland.

Mr. Collier writes: “The past year has been one of happy service, and the work of the Station and District has gone on much the same as in previous years, without any very exciting events.

“Efforts have been made to get the Indian Christians, of whom there are a considerable number not connected with the Mission, to do voluntary work, such as preaching in the bazaar and at melas: but the Indian Christians have not yet developed the sense of their responsibility regarding the evangelization of the people around them; It is only very gradually that the Indian Church will take over the work of the Mission and be able to carry on any definite and sustained evangelistic efforts. The solution of this problem, and many other in connection with the development of the work of the Church, will probably have to come from within the Church itself and not from any outside training or exhortation. The development of the Christian character and custom, which are essential for regular and sustained evangelistic effort, will probably be the work of many generations. Possibly our Western Missionary methods are unsuitable for the Indian Church and something more in keeping with Indian ideas will have to be adopted before the Church can take over the work of the Missionary Society.”

Church Services.

“The usual Church services have been well sustained, several of the members taking their turn in conducting them. In this way we have a band of lay-preachers for the services of the local church. There has been one addition to the membership by baptism and one loss through death. There have not been any serious cases of discipline during the year, but the Church roll was thoroughly revised in January, and the names of fourteen members who were either absent or dead were struck off. It was also resolved to admit those who are not Baptists, but are otherwise qualified for Church membership, to become members of the Church, their names being kept on a separate list for statistical purposes.”

Itineration.

“As soon as the new year dawned and the 1913 grants became available Mr. and Mrs. Ginn went into camp for five weeks in the south of the district, and on their return I went for a similar tour on the north of the river. My first camp was at Khagaria, and we had a good time there. Quite a number of people in some of the surrounding villages have been taught by the Evangelist Daniel Kanhai, and profess to believe in the Lord Jesus Christ, but they are not prepared to take the bold step of being baptized, which would mean their being put out of caste and disowned by their friends.

“Our last camp was pitched at Mahesh Khunt, and not far from the town of Gogri. The great feature here was the crowds which came night after night to see the Magic Lantern. One man sent for his friends who were living twenty miles away to come and see the tamasha. Throughout the tour we used the lantern almost every night and always had large gatherings, but at this place the crowds were so large that they became almost unmanageable. A large number of Scripture portions, tracts and other books were sold. Indeed on more than one occasion the whole of the supply which we had with us was disposed of.”

Education.

“The school at Bari Bazaar has prospered under the care of Babu B. N. Karan, and the one at the out-station of Begu-serai has prospered very well under Abiel Levi, who has been the teacher there for several years. The urgent need here is for trained Christian teachers for primary schools. It is exceedingly difficult to get Christian teachers at all, and most of those which we do get are far from satisfactory. The prospects offered by the Mission are not attractive to young men: they can find plenty of employment elsewhere with less work and better pay.”

Students.

“A number of students have been coming for Bible study, and one of them sat for the Y.M.C.A. Scripture examination a fortnight ago. A few days ago, while down by the riverside, I overheard some conversation between several young men who were sitting a short distance away; they did not know that I was there. One said, ‘You should always read the Bible whenever you have the opportunity.’ Another replied, ‘But what if I become a Christian?’ ‘It does not matter,’ answered the first, ‘whether you become a Christian or not, the Bible is good for all of us, and the teaching of the Christian religion is good.' I heard no more, but it was encouraging to know that conversations of this kind take place amongst the young men.

The Bible.

"It is very remarkable that although there are scarcely any converts from the higher castes, Hindus or Mohammedans, the Bible is becoming a household book which is increasingly read and revered by the educated people of both religions. Our Lord is invariably spoken of with great respect, and the teachings of Christianity are the ideal of faith and practice with a large number of the best amongst the people. We must not be discouraged because they do not come forward and be baptized. The Truth of God is working like leaven amongst them and will continue till the whole is leavened. We scarcely ever hear a word spoken against Christ nowadays. The opposition now is not to Christ but to the Western garb in which Christianity is presented to India."

Under the division of work arranged by the Monghyr Staff, Mr. Ginn is responsible for the superintendence of the work on the south of the river, with the outstation of Lakhi Sarai, the Colportage work throughout the whole district, some of the schools in Monghyr, and the charge of the Union Church of Jamalpur. He reports a year of steady work at Jamalpur, where several young men, who have come out for the first time from home to the workshops, have definitely connected themselves with our congregation. The church registers have been revised and made up in proper form, and these show the number of communicant members to be 48, while 61 others have desired their names to be registered as being definitely connected with the church as adherents. The site for the new building has been obtained.

Colportage Work.

"The Colportage work through the year has resulted in the sale of about 9,000 books. The number of Gospels and New Testaments sold has been well maintained and the number of cheap English New Testaments sold to students has been more than usual.

"In all departments of work," writes Mr. Ginn, "one feels the need of more trained and efficient workers,—teachers, colporteurs and preachers. We have fewer of these in Monghyr than ever before, and as a consequence the work must suffer."

DINAPUR.

A town in the Patna Division, situated on the southern bank of the Ganges, and with a population, according to the last census, of 54,934. It is one of the military stations of India. Dinapur Subdivision has a population of 315,697.

Mr. Dyche writes that the year at Dinapur was a very busy one, but the health of the staff has been good, and the work of the station fully maintained.

District Work.

"In the cold weather, with the two Evangelists and a Colporteur, I went itinerating, pitching our tent (easily recognized, for we had given it over 100 new patches before starting) at Bikram, a centre of many villages. Morning by morning and afternoon by afternoon, having had a short meeting for prayer, we set out with our bundles of books (mostly Scriptures) and visited day schools and village centres. At the schools we sang 'Bhajans' accompanied by music (if by a stretch of imagination a tambourine jangle could be so called) and, having thus collected a crowd, we preached, and offered Christian literature for sale. In some schools we sold as many as fifty Gospel portions. The children of the villages are promising soil for the seed of the Kingdom."

Station Work.

"We commenced the year with a 'Jalsa' when thirty were expected, and over fifty came. As well as the Bazaar-preaching this year, we have done house-to-house and shop-to-shop visitation. Starting out early in the morning we have remained until the dust and the heat of the sun have driven us home. Visitation proves an arduous task, but it is worth doing. Dinapur has hundreds of gulleys and thousands of houses teeming with people who cannot be reached in any other way.

"Last year a friend gave me a Magic Lantern. This has been of use to me in my work. During the past winter, every alternate Friday, the Hindustani Church was packed with folk anxious to see the pictures. I had no slides of my own, so borrowed some, and have shown and told the stories of the Life of Christ, Bunyan's Progress, Parables, the Delhi Durbar, etc. If some friend in Wales or elsewhere would give me a few sets of slides I could go on again."

Baptisms.

"The low-caste work among the Doms and Chamars still goes on. In May I had the pleasure of baptizing a Hindu and his wife, both of whom had been before the Church over three months on probation. There are now three inquirers, and we hope to baptize them after they have received further teaching.

"Last year our sales of Christian literature constituted a record for Dinapur. This year we have done better and sold almost 2,000 more of Gospels, tracts, New Testaments and Bibles. The colporteur works chiefly on the railway station. He sold 3,491 Gospels, books and tracts, and the total sales came to 6,449."

Work Among Soldiers and Anglo-Indians.

"In December the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders came to Dinapur, bringing their own Chaplain. The regiment is Presbyterian, but they unite with us for the voluntary services. The arrangement has worked happily, and during my holidays the Scotch Chaplain very kindly took all the English services in our Church, and thus saved the Bankipur brethren. In May three civilians and one soldier 'put on Christ by baptism.' They are standing fast.

"The English Sunday School, chiefly for soldiers' children, has prospered. It has been well attended and faithful work has been accomplished.

“Looking back with mingled feelings, the deepest is that of devout thankfulness to God for all He has been and done, and for the increased joy in service we have experienced as we have tried to “Prepare the way of the Lord and make His paths straight.”

GAYA.

Population: District, 2,159,498; Town, 49,921 (correct figure 75,000).

Colportage is an important feature of the work at GAYA, owing to the place being visited by so many pilgrims from all parts of India. Last year the work done by the members of the Mission was so good that there seemed little hope of it being surpassed this year; but some 3,300 Gospels were sold in excess of last year, and the value of the whole sales is Rs.575-8-3 as compared with Rs.439-7-9 for 1911-12. Mr. Hicks writes:

“While pilgrims wend their way to Gaya most of the year round, the greatest gathering occurs during fifteen days in September. Some conception of the opportunity it affords is gained when it is realized that of the 10,967 Gospels sold during the year, over 5,000 were, together with 131 New Testaments, sold during those fifteen days. Not only so, but one-third of the total sales took place during that strenuous period, and the result is its own commentary on the method and manner in which the brethren laboured.”

The Untouchables.

The work among the Doms gives promise of much fruit. We have not felt able to follow the lead of other Missions in regard to immediate baptism, but after the Sunday afternoon Hindustani Service the “convert” is called up before the church and there and then publicly renounces Domism and all its ways, undertakes to become a total abstainer, to obey the Ten Commandments, and in all things to follow Christ. Some ten have so far passed this ordeal, and some seven others are on the list, one of them a Dom witch-doctor.

“These Doms are being regularly instructed, and I hope in the near future to baptise some of them. Several have learned to read and write in a small way, and one is already teaching in the second Dom School opened in the other Dom basti, and is doing quite well. The drink habit has, as far as I can ascertain, ceased among the ten, and no small part of the joy of the Sunday afternoon service now is the regular presence of 15 to 30 Doms washed and clean, still rather smelly, but decently clad and joining heartily in the worship.”

The influence gained and the work that is going on in the Dom community are attributable solely to the self-sacrificing and consistent life and labour of Mohan, the Dom teacher.

District Evangelization.

“In the cold weather the Indian brethren toured in the north-west corner of the District. There will be no opportunity to return there for three years, hence every village within reach was as far as possible touched. In the second tour 164 villages were reached and the book sales totalled Rs.73.”

Various Activities.

“The Bible Class for Indian young men is very slowly establishing itself, and the attendances have gradually increased. The Indian Church has had a happier year than last. The Church roll has been revised, and a definite effort is being made by the Church members to support an Indian worker. The out-stations, Nawadah and Tikari, have been reoccupied during the year and two new schools have been opened in Gaya, one a second Dom school and one in a semi-Chamar basti. At the time of writing, all three are doing well and some scholars from each of the schools are regularly attending the Sunday afternoon service.”

Gaya's Urgent Need.

“I must add one word,” concludes Mr. Hicks. “There is exceeding need for extra help. At least three other evangelists are required. With these men judiciously placed out in the District we should stand some chance of covering more adequately our sphere. This is apart from the work among the hill tribes, which I have been unable to touch yet. The local Church will, I anticipate, support one new worker, but there is a distinct and definite call on the Mission to provide at least the other two men required.”

NORTH INDIA.

AGRA.

The population of the Agra District is 1,021,847: 885,841 are Hindus, 114,555 Mohammedans, 11,210 Jains, 7,229 Christians, 2,788 Aryas, and 224 Sikhs and Parsis.

The Indian Church.

The chief feature of the year at our Agra Station has been the introduction of the principle of self-government into the Indian Church. All the officers have been elected from among the members, and they have been left absolutely free to initiate their own methods and work out their own ideals. The officers elected are earnest men who have sought to do their duty. At its last annual meeting the church resolved to make a special effort to increase its contributions, so as to be able to pay a monthly sum to the B.M.S. for the services of Salamat Ali Khan, who has been acting as Pastor. These payments have been regularly made and remitted to the Mission House. The total collections during the year amounted to Rs.262-10, the largest annual income on record. Recently, some of the members of the church have met together, daily, to pray for a revival, and this is an indication of an earnest desire on the part of some for a better state of things.

Education.

"The erection of the new High School building," writes Mr. McIntosh, "has been a heavy responsibility. The Trustees of the Arthington Fund kindly lent us £1,000 to carry out our project, but difficulties, unforeseen, involved an expenditure of much more money than we had at our disposal. Last February, when the Hon. Mr. de la Fosse, the Director of Public Instruction, paid an official visit to Agra, I determined to present our case to him personally, and within a month of the interview I received official intimation, through the Inspector of Schools, that Government had sanctioned a sum of Rs.14,594 towards the building of the 'Baptist Mission Institution, Agra.' On the return of the Director to Allahabad, an unexpected sum of Rs.3,80,000 had been placed at his disposal, 'for the improvement of the accommodation of aided schools,' and it was then that the Director asked me to send in my application for a building-grant. The total cost of the new school will, probably, amount to Rs.26,000. The enclosing wall is now being rebuilt at a cost of Rs.2,000, and by the end of December we hope to have finished the whole work.

"From an educational point of view the school has made good progress. The staff has been increased and improved, and the efficiency of the school has never been better. The goal we have had in view and for which we have struggled hard has at last been secured, and we are now a duly recognised High School for the purposes of the School Leaving Certificate Examination. We close the year with 210 boys on the rolls, but when we are in full possession of the new building we shall have accommodation for 350.

"As an evangelistic agency, I am more than ever convinced of the importance of educational work. We have sought to make the Christian atmosphere of the school a real thing, and I have been very pleased to note the growing interest shown by the boys in the daily Bible lessons. We do not conceal from our students that our one aim is to bring them to Christ. We appeal to their hearts just as we would do to Christian lads, and in seeking to save their souls we are not driving them away from us, but on the contrary, we are drawing them nearer to us."

Out-Stations.

"At Dholpur on Sundays a small congregation, numbering ten, meets for worship, and their contributions for church purposes amounted to Rs.113-15-9. At Achnera the dispensary is a very great help to evangelistic effort. The Christian community scattered among the outlying villages has been systematically visited, and there are many inquirers, six of whom were recently baptized."

City Work.

"Among those who have regularly helped us in the preaching are two of our teachers in the High School, and a lay member of the Church Missionary Society. We take our stand on Tuesdays and Fridays in front of the masjid, a very busy thoroughfare and one of our oldest preaching-places in the city. Large crowds assemble round us on these occasions and give us a patient and respectful hearing. We have made it a rule when preaching to leave Hinduism and Mohammedanism severely alone. Believing that the Lord Jesus is the Light of the world, and that wherever the Light shines, darkness flees before it, we preach Christ in the various aspects of His redeeming grace. It is very encouraging to see so many college students around, come from a distance especially to hear us.

"The Baptist Mission is now the only one to undertake bazaar-preaching in Agra."

Havelock Church.

Mr. Evans writes: "The year under review has been one of quiet, steady work. Prayer meetings, Bible classes, and meetings in connection with the Soldiers' Christian Association are held each night throughout the week. Mrs. Lang takes two of them at Havelock and one at the Fort, and there have been very definite results, as seen by the noble stand for truth and righteousness that several men have taken."

"At the close of a Sunday Evening Service one man as he shook hands with me said, 'Sir, you know to-day is Trafalgar Day, and what is more it is my Trafalgar day. I have won a glorious victory through Jesus Christ my Lord.' It is a joy and inspiration to see the beautiful testimony that man's life is to the saving and uplifting power of the Cross of Jesus Christ."

BARAUT.

The District of Meerut, in which Baraut is situated, has a population of 1,519,364. There are 1,124,867 Hindus, 11,797 Aryas, 16,935 Jains, 2,706 Sikhs, 344,888 Mohammedans, 18,142 Christians, and 29 Parsis. The Christian Community includes 832 Baptists.

Mr. Morgan writes from Baraut that the year has been one of steady work and steady progress. There were thirty-four baptisms, a falling-off in numbers from last year, "but our efforts have been directed more to the building up in the faith of those already baptized than to the making of new converts, and we believe God has blessed our efforts.

“It is this desire, to form a strong Christian community, which has led us this year to open a fresh branch of work. We are trying to get one or two boys from every village where we have Christians. These boys we bring into Baraut to a Boarding School which is opened for six months in the year; the other six months they return to their homes and work with their fathers on the land. Our object is not so much to give these boys an education, although we teach them all the reading and writing we can: it is much more to give them consecutive Christian teaching. They have a good Bible class every day, and every Saturday they come to the bungalow, when my wife examines them in the Scripture they have learnt during the week and gives them a Bible lesson herself. We started this new venture with six boys last July, and already in October the boys can answer questions on the Life of Christ well, while they have learnt by heart a good deal of the Sermon on the Mount. We hope next year to get more boys and in this way to spread consecutive Christian teaching throughout every village in our district.

“This is our hot season effort. During the six months of the cold weather we try to draw together our elder Christians. Every Sunday afternoon we give an open invitation to all our Christians to come to our bungalow. We get between twenty and thirty on our verandah, and after they have all had a cup of tea and a bun we sing hymns together and have a happy time.

Contributions.

“The contributions of our Christian community throughout the year have amounted to Rs.214. Part of this has gone in finishing off the Church building, part to the poor fund, and the rest is being given towards the building of a house for one of our teachers in an out-station where it has been found impossible to rent one.

Our Staff.

“We have had one or two changes in our staff this year. Munshi James has left us after many years' service, and Alfred Baid has come from Shabdara. He has been quite an acquisition, and is doing good work in Dhikana. During our tours in the district my wife gave daily Bible classes to all the workers. These were much appreciated and proved a real help to the men in their preaching.”

Neglected Women.

On one point, however, Mr. Morgan feels anxiety. Our work is necessarily among the men rather than among the women. “We have seen in other places how the spiritual life of the community has suffered where the women have been neglected, and we fear for our own district. God is blessing our work here, and we have a growing community of Christian men and lads, and we would plead most earnestly for a lady worker to be sent here who would devote her time to work amongst the wives of our Christians.”

PALWAL.

Palwal is in the Gurgaon District, which has a population of 729,167. Of these 488,476 are Hindus, 235,653 Mohammedans, and 820 Christians. The S.P.G. (Cambridge Mission) have work in this District. Our field is the eastern half, which is occupied only by the B.M.S. and Women's Association.

The Palwal Church.

During the year 1913 the members of the PALWAL Church took a momentous step in the direction of self-support. Informal discussions of the subject had created in the minds of many the conviction that it was the duty of the Church to maintain an Indian pastor, and the Church Meeting, on February 1st, "called" Babu Prabhu Das, who had been for nearly a year on our Faridabad staff as teacher. The occasion of his recognition was marked by special services on March 2nd, an account of which has been published in the Herald.

The seven months that have passed since this step was taken have been a time of quiet, steady progress. Dr. Vincent Thomas writes :

" We have, on the first Sunday of the month, a collection for the Pastor's Fund, adopting the principle of 2 Cor. ix. 7. An average of the requisite Rs.30 a month has been maintained, of which Rs.25 is the Pastor's salary, and Rs.5 devoted to his travelling expenses. On the second Sunday a " Poor Fund " collection, and " General Fund " collections for the rest of the month, as in former years, make up a smoothly-working financial scheme. Our people give with a willing heart, not grudgingly nor of necessity.

" The Church-Roll, after thorough scrutiny and correction, has ninety-seven names. Of these, six are non-Baptist Associate Members, and sixteen are baptized " candidates-in-waiting " for full Church membership. The former are those who, being accredited Church members in other Communion, are associated with us in worship and in the Lord's work. The Palwal Church has publicly given them the right hand of fellowship, admitting them to all the privileges of membership, with the necessary exception of voting power.

" We have a C.E. Society, a Sunday Bible Class, preaching in bazaar and basti, and village work, in which there is no distinction possible between Mission work and Church work."

Evangelistic Work.

" In November, three Evangelists started on an extended tour on the eastern side of the district. In February Mr and Mrs Hasler, together with Babus Daniel Peter and Prem Das, went into camp on the western side of Palwal. They stopped at Mandkaula for a week, visiting in the morning the adjacent villages: in the afternoons Babu Daniel Peter did simple dispensary work, and in the evenings, as the villagers returned from their fields, preached at the various chaupals or caste-assembly places in the villages. These evening meetings were possibly some of the most successful of the whole tour.

Some of the villagers followed from place to place evening by evening. In only one village was there any evident disinclination to listen to us. In several villages it was clear that the men, at least, were losing their faith in idolatry; whilst one man said to me, "We shall not become Christians, but our children will." Such has been the leavening work of Mr. Hale's many tours in this district.

"We have no colporteurs in this district, the people being too illiterate, but Gospels and tracts have been sold on the camping tours, at melas, etc. Throughout the hot season the usual Friday evening preaching service in the bazaar has been maintained. Frequently as many as forty to fifty men and boys gathered around us for an hour or so.

The Medical work at Palwal is described in the Medical Section of this Report.

DELHI.

The population of Delhi District is 657,604, viz., 469,543 Hindus, 7,745 Mohammedans, 2,985 Sikhs, 5,693 Christians (including British troops), 7,638 Jains, etc. The S.P.G. and Cambridge University Missions, and the American Methodist Episcopal Mission, as well as our own, occupy this field.

Mr. H. J. Thomas writes that the transformation of DELHI, the one-time Capital of North India, into the greater Capital of British India, has begun to touch us as a Mission. The Government has bought up all the property south of the city within the area marked out for the new Capital. Our chapel has been bought, and the Christians scattered; some have come into Delhi and been united to the Central Church. But we are anticipating extension of Mission operations, for the New Delhi, with its larger population and greater importance, will surely be a challenge to all Christian Missions to re-enact Carey's great text, "Lengthen thy cords and strengthen thy stakes."

One or two lines of action appear plainly indicated. One is the development of low-caste schools on a broader and more scientific basis than has hitherto been attempted, and as an essential preliminary to this, a scheme is being discussed for the establishment of a Teachers' Training Class on up-to-date lines, including the Kindergarten system. English work, too, must receive more attention, both among the British soldiers and the largely increased European population.

The Church.

"Our Church Roll again shows a small increase. Eleven have been baptized in the central church, 4 in Shahdara, and 46 in the Khekra district; 39 in Sonahra, and 7 in Nagla, a new name added to the list of villages in the Khekra district where the Gospel has taken hold. The total membership now stands at 366, an increase of 20.

Evangelistic Work.

Mr. Lal Muhammad, assistant Home Missionary, has rendered great assistance by his frequent visits to the Khekra district. In the city he assists in the bazaar-preaching carried on by Mr. J. W. Lall and the students; and also goes in the mornings to preach to the crowds of Hindus who at certain seasons of the year throng the bathing ghats on the Jamna. The following is from a report of his work:

“One of my principal efforts is to make acquaintance with Hindu and Mohammedan gentlemen in their own houses: for there I get good opportunities for religious conversation in a friendly way. I think it will not be impertinent to tell of one Hindu gentleman, an old friend of mine in Delhi years ago. He gradually took a growing interest in the teaching of the Gospel; and at length boldly and publicly avowed himself as a true follower of Christ among his relations. But I am sorry to say he never received baptism, and in this condition he left this world in the beginning of the year, in a good old age. I know there are many Hindus like this one, who secretly nourish the love of Christ in their hearts.”

Books.

The colportage returns for this year are the highest we have yet reached, apart from the extraordinary operations in the 1911 “Darbar.” The sales totalled 14,276 copies.

Medical.

Mr. Saul David reports 7,149 cases or 22,354 visits of patients to the dispensary during the year, giving an average of 74 for the 302 days the institution was open; but the numbers varied from 2,943 in October to 1,425 in March. 2,420 cases were treated in their own houses, 570 written prescriptions were given to better-to-do individuals able to purchase their own medicine, 718 minor operations were performed. The total received from patients in the “pice” box or for medicine charged for amounted to Rs.114-9.

Mr. Stephen Thomas was compelled to leave for England during the year owing to nervous breakdown, and in May Mr. Joel Waiz Lal was called upon to pass through deep sorrow by the loss of his wife.

KHARAR.

The population of Ambala District, excluding Native States, in which Kharar lies, is 689,970; of these 380,592 are Hindus, 205,203 Mohammedans, 94,471 Sikhs, 2,187 Jains, 34 Zoroastrians, and 7,483 Christians.

Mr. Cooper reports that in KHARAR the Sunday and week-day services have been maintained most regularly, while the non-Christian population has been reached by the open-air meetings held in the bazaar. These continued to attract very attentive crowds.

The church in Kharar, fully alive to the necessity of supporting its own Pastor, has started a fund with a view to ascertaining what regular income can be depended upon ere anyone be approached with a view to taking up so important and difficult a position.

“ Some of the out-stations, too, are beginning to feel their responsibility in this matter ; and from among themselves may form a Panchayat, and elect an individual, giving him merely a nominal remuneration so as to free him to visit the homes of the scattered Christian members and community, encouraging them to hold family and public worship, ministering to the sick, advising the perplexed, and keeping in touch with the evangelist in charge of his particular district.

Village Christians.

“ These isolated Christians need all the sympathy and help that can be given them. In by far the majority of instances, the men only have been baptized ; the wives remaining heathen with all the predilections for their old rites and ceremonies. It is by no means surprising then that these are not ideal Christian homes, and that parents and children need patient fostering care.

Melas.

“ All the numerous local melas in Kharar, Manakpur, Babiana, Popna, Korali, Dangerian, Balolpur, Naras, Manimazra and Nandpur Kalan have been well attended. The chief objects of worship are Shiv, Kali, Mata and the shrines of fakirs and gosains. At a mela, in honour of the goddess of smallpox, at Korali, Evangelists, Colporteurs and Teachers were present, and from beginning to end the Gospel was preached without intermission. Mrs. Cooper, Miss Pearson, Mrs. N. Dass, and Mrs. S. Masih confined themselves to the work among the women, who gathered around them in large numbers listening most attentively. At Manimazra our mission workers were present in full force, assisted by several young men of the Kharar High School and some B.M.S. agents from the Kalka district.”

Touring.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper several times stayed for a week or so at Khizrabad, Korali and Manimazra ; and, making these places their headquarters, visited the surrounding villages. Mrs. Cooper frequently accompanied Miss Pearson to the Zenanas in Kharar, and to the homes of the villagers.

Schools, Books and Baptisms.

“ The preparation and teaching in the Sunday Schools have been much more thorough this year ; and altogether thirty more candidates presented themselves for the I.S.S.U. All-India Scripture Examination than last year, the total being 120. With regard to Colportage, a comparative table of statistics for the past three years shows gratifying results. There has been an increase of 815 in sales. The steady increase in the Government grant-in-aid, which we hope will be maintained, testifies to the general advancement of the village schools as a whole, and during the year there have been ten baptisms.”

Mission High School.

Mr. Gibson writes that the number of boys in the school remains about the same, though there has been the loss of several boys in the High Department on account of a new rule that boys over twenty shall not ordinarily be allowed to remain in the school. This is the third year that boys have been sent in for the Matriculation Examination, and the results have been as follows:—In 1911, 2 boys out of 11 passed; in 1912, 4 out of 14; and in 1913, 7 boys out of 10—the highest percentage in the district.

“The numbers in the school have been maintained; there has been general good feeling all round; the school has received commendation generally from the people of the District; trust has been shown by parents and guardians, and, as far as possible, truths have been taught to young minds that are capable of working out great transformations; but, what will the harvest be? That God alone can tell. It is ours to sow the seed and others may water, but somewhere, somehow, we know it will not be in vain.

“The total number of scholars is 168.”

KASALI AND DISTRICT.

Kasali and its out-stations are in the Ambala district, which has a population of 689,970. The population of Kasali is about 3,194. Of these, 1,804 are Hindus, 717 are Mohammedans, and 651 are Christians. In Kalka the population is 2,521 Hindus, 1,595 Mussulmans, and 115 Christians.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Williams returned from furlough in the early spring, and as soon as possible began to get into harness again. “It has been a year of change,” reports Mr. Williams. “and in some respects the hardest season in our Missionary experience. Soon after our return our Kalka evangelist, M. Yaqub, “fell on sleep.” He had been a faithful helper and we could ill spare him. Then resignations, transfers, and ill-health made many changes imperative, and with the exception of a couple of our school-teachers there has had to be a change in the location, of course within our district, of almost every other worker.

European Churches.

“At Kasali regular services have been carried on without a break throughout the season, while at Kalka the Missionary arranged for services as often as help was available, and himself paid a visit at least one Sunday a month in the hot season, and oftener in the cold season. In Kasali we have had a “record” number of soldiers at the “Parade” services. Besides the Sunday morning parade service there has been the regular evening meeting, and we have been heartened by the kindness of the ‘faithful few’ who have rallied to the work. Our soldiers, too, showed their appreciation of these services, and, best of all, there were several conversions and a number took their stand for Christ, and their place in His Church. We have had our mid-weekly service for the exposition of Scripture, and the little prayer and praise meetings on Saturdays.

Hindustani Services.

“In the out-stations the workers have had their regular little Sunday services, and in Kasauli and Kalka the Native churches have had unbroken services throughout the year. The Indian congregation has been larger than usual.

Preaching to Non-Christians.

“Regular bazaar-preaching has been maintained. The melas or fairs have been visited, and numbers of gospels and tracts circulated far and wide. We have had the usual cosmopolitan type of audience: Panjabi and Pathan, hill man and plain dweller, Bengali and up-country men—all sorts of religions and many languages have been represented. On one occasion, just as the Missionary was just leaving the bazaar, a young Brahman approaching said: ‘Salih, you are doing a good work for these poor people. I am a poor man, but would like to give you this,’ and, holding out his hand, he gave a rupee, which would mean about a quarter of his week’s wages as a clerk. He was thanked, and encouraged to read God’s Word for himself, which he promised faithfully to do.

Educational Work.

“Kalka school continued to increase until larger accommodation had to be secured, and a large block of buildings and compound were rented, and paid for from the fees fund. There are now nearly a hundred names on the register, and no extra cost due to the growth of the school has fallen on Mission funds. Nearly all the children at Kalka are the sons of Mussulmans and Hindus, but in Kasauli there are more Christian than non-Christian children. All our children receive daily instruction from the Word that makes wise into Salvation, and an endeavour is made to let the schools be Christian in atmosphere and teaching. Really good qualified Christian teachers are difficult to obtain, and as soon as fitting men can be secured we are anxious to reopen our day school at Nalagarh, and start one in a district between Kalka and that city for the scattered Christians whose children are now without day school teaching of any kind.”

Sunday Schools.

“The number of Sunday Schools has reached seventeen. There was one in Kasauli for about fifty little (and big) European children, most of whom were the sons and daughters of our soldiers. Then one of our Hindustani schools here, another in Kalka, and one in Nalagarh, were for our Christian community. Over 400 scholars are reported, with an average attendance of 350.”

Various Agencies.

“The Band of Hope has been maintained, and our four colporteurs have been hard at work throughout the year. Large numbers of Gospels and Christian tracts in various languages have been put into circulation. Over 4,000 Bibles, Texts, Gospels, and tracts have gone out far and wide; about 2,000 free handbills or tracts have been distributed, and over Rs.380 have been realised from sales. Our Biblewomen have been fully engaged in their influential work. Zenanas are visited, and teaching given to Hindu and Mussulman women and children. We have had a larger demand than ever upon our medical stores, but thanks to the generous kindness of personal friends at home, we have been able to help a larger number than usual, and all our out-station workers have had a useful and mixed assortment of medicines given them. Our little Christian Endeavour Societies at Kasauli and Kalka continue to hold their weekly meetings."

Baptisms.

"Among the baptisms this season, three candidates were from the Christian and three from the non-Christian community. One of the latter was a specially interesting case. The man had come to our services sometimes, and had shown his appreciation by giving a generous donation towards our Kalka Church. He came to the Missionary soon after the latter's return from furlough, and ever since has been in touch with us, and receiving preparation and instruction, and now, recently, after publicly declaring his faith in Jesus Christ, and expressing his sincere desire to be baptised, he was given this privilege. May his life and example inspire many others. Among the soldiers, too, there have been several cases of backsliders returning, or of men yielding to the claims of the Master for the first time. We have seen men broken down, but splendidly re-made afterwards in Christ Jesus."

Conclusion.

"We are grateful," concludes Mr. Williams, "for the opportunities our station and district give us, and are more than ever convinced of its importance and needs. We are often straightened in our need of men, but 'He is faithful that promised' and He has often cheered and blessed us."

SIMLA.

The population of Simla, during the season, is about 50,000, and that of the neighbouring Hill States about one million. The other Protestant Missions working in Simla are the Church Missionary Society and the Salvation Army.

Mr. Potter writes that 1913 was his thirty-second year of mission service. His work from the first has been essentially evangelistic, and Simla affords very special opportunities for the work of an evangelist. For instance, Bazaar-preaching reaches people from all parts of India and beyond—Afghans, Tibetans, Hindustanis, Bengalis, Madrasis and many others, of many types and many creeds.

Melas.

"Two principal melas are held annually near Simla. The weather was against our visiting the Sipi Mela in May, but we have recently visited again the Tara Devi Mela, where many goats and two buffaloes are sacrificed. Several Missionaries joined us, and aided in preaching and book-selling. Our party sold about 200 books, mostly Gospels. Including those sold by others at the Fair, in all about 500 books were sold, for which we are very thankful."

Mission School.

"Ours is the only Mission school in Simla for boys, and I regard it as a great privilege to teach these boys daily. The little boys have learned the answers in the Christian Catechism, and also Bible stories illustrated by coloured pictures. The big boys who can read have read through the Gospel of Matthew, and are now reading it through a second time. All are taught to sing Christian Hymns, and prayer is offered with them daily. We grieve to have lost the services of the headmaster, M. F. Daniel, on account of ill-health, as his Christian character was high, and he was a good teacher. We have put on another certificated teacher for the younger classes, but, on the other hand, we have given up the two senior classes, which were not well attended, and therefore costly. We wish to acknowledge the valuable services of Mr. Hitchcock of the Telegraph Department, who has taken much trouble to teach our boys drill, as a voluntary work for Christ. One good result of this training was that at the Viceroy's Birthday Fete thirteen of our Mission School boys won prizes. The great need in all our schools is that of trained teachers. That our school meets a need is seen in the fact that many hill boys attend it, one of whom has to walk five miles from his village daily to reach the school."

Indian Christian Church.

"Our congregation being composed mostly of domestic servants, varies from season to season, and even from week to week. Many on our list can seldom attend the church services, as Sunday is the great day for late breakfasts, and the entertainment of friends. The need for a suitable pastor of the Church is still felt. Failing this, one of our Evangelists has given special attention to visiting, and holding cottage meetings, and Mrs. Potter has also visited many of the Christians in their homes."

Hill States.

"We were able to spend seven weeks during the winter touring in the Hill States. The tour extended to Hari, 65 miles distant from Simla, where we erected boundary pillars on the land given us for Mission purposes by the Raja of Bilaspur. On the occasion of our visit a year earlier we took possession by worshipping on the spot. We had many willing hearers in the different towns and villages visited, and met many friends who had welcomed us in other years. The good seed was widely scattered by preaching, by song, and by the sale of Scriptures. May others reap where we have sown. Younger men are needed for this district, and those able to endure hardness."

Mr. Potter describes the festivities in connection with the birth of a son and heir to the Raja of Bilaspur, the giver of the site for our new station, and closes his report with the words: "We pray that the child may grow up a useful and just ruler, and that in this State of Bilaspur, which name means 'city of joy,' the pleasure of the Lord may prosper in his hand. We also pray that the Lord of the harvest may soon send forth labourers to occupy the site given us by the Raja for a mission station, so that the 90,000 people who have no missionary among them may soon hear of the Prince of Peace."

ORISSA.

CUTTACK.

Cuttack has been the Capital of Orissa for nine centuries, and has been under British rule since 1803. The Mission was established in 1822. The area of the District is 6,333 square miles, and there are 5,429 towns and villages, with a population, according to the census of 1911, of 2,109,139. The population of the town of Cuttack is 49,052.

The year has seen unusual and unexpected changes in our staff at Cuttack. Mr. and Mrs. Horsburgh, Mrs. Grimes, Mr. Warburton, Mr. and Mrs. Heberlet all had to leave the field for various reasons, while Mr. Dawson and Mr. Henderson ceased to be Agents of the Society. Mr. and Mrs. Davies, too, resumed work at Puri. These departures and resignations have necessitated a rearrangement of our staff on the field. Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins have left Berhampore and gone to Padampur to carry on the work there, and Mr. Stevens has charge of Bolangir till the return of Mr. and Mrs. Jarry from furlough.

The Cuttack Church.

Babu Jayanand Singh writes that the Cuttack Church is the largest of all the Churches in Orissa. The number of Oriya members was 732 on 30th September 1913, and the number baptised during the year 26. Mr. Young adds that the total church membership amounts now to 768—Oriya members, 732; European members 36.

Evangelistic Work.

"During the cold season of 1912-13, four parties were sent out by land and by water into the surrounding district, each party remaining out for about six weeks. This year, as last, the work has suffered from the absence of some of our evangelists through personal or family illness. As the brethren go from place to place their experiences are often much the same, yet at times incidents occur which show that what is being done by them is not without effect. At one village the hearers become noisy and were hindering the preaching, when an old man of some standing spoke up, saying he had read the Gospel of John, got at a distant place years before, and, mentioning His death and resurrection, spoke highly of the life and character of Jesus. He advised the crowd not to slander Him, but to quietly hear of Him and His religion, to read the books and thereafter ask questions. The disturbances ceased and the preaching went on.

“ Again, the preachers met with a schoolmaster who had bought and read some tracts and lost faith in idol worship and caste distinctions. Because of this, his family and the villagers despised him and called him a Christian, which in this land is indeed in many places a term of reproach.

Sub-Stations.

“ There are six of these. At Chaga, our largest sub-station, a Junior Assistant Missionary is located. There is here a great lack of arable land for the villagers. Also they are not able to settle in other places if they had the land. This has led some of them to go to a railway centre not very far off in search of work, and in this they have been successful, to the great benefit of themselves and their families. The Sunday School here has this year again done well at the annual India Sunday School Scripture Examination. The two first places in the teachers' examination in Oriya were taken by two teachers from here, and a third teacher passed in the second division. Eight pupils passed also in their respective classes. At Macmillanpatna, another sub-station, a girls' school has been started by one of the Mission ladies, and it bids fair to be of great benefit to the village.

The Protestant European School.

“ The chief event in connection with this school has been the departure for England of the Head Master, Mr. J. Young, and Mrs. Young. The former was Head Master continuously for over 28 years, and the latter was Head Mistress without interruption for a similar period. Mrs. Young was also Lady Superintendent of the Orphanage connected with the school for many years. How faithfully, diligently and perseveringly they devoted themselves and their lives to their work was made known by the high positions taken by their pupils in the public examinations, and by the number of scholarships gained for their own school and for higher schools after the holder of them had passed through the curriculum here. They sometimes had 3, 4, or 5 scholarship holders at the same time in an attendance of from 50 to 60 children. The school is at present in charge of a temporary Head Master.”

Girls' School and Orphanage.

Miss Wigner writes that there are now 120 girls and six teachers living on the premises. Of these about ninety are orphans; the others board here for the sake of their education. Ten of the orphans have left school and spend their time in cooking, weaving, crochet-work, and other manual occupations, while three are as yet too young to begin lessons. Seventeen new ones have joined during the year, six orphans and eleven boarders, including three who have come for a year only, to study in the Training Class for teachers. The youngest orphan, a Hindu child of about eighteen months old, did not know how to smile before she came to the school.

“Two teachers and three girls have been married during the year, and four others have gone back to their own homes. Two of these are teaching in their own village schools. Another of the girls, Daya, has taken up work as a Bible-woman in the Bolangir District, from which she came as a famine waif some years ago, and we expect that a girl, a convert from Hinduism, will shortly leave us to become a nurse-Bible-woman at Berhampore.

“Sixty girls entered for the Sunday School Union examination, and fifty-seven were successful. One girl obtained a medal and three others were placed second on the list in their respective divisions.

“The Christian Endeavour meetings are well attended. The active members carry on the weekly meetings of the junior branch, and several of them teach in local Hindu Sunday Schools.

“One of our number has confessed Christ by baptism, and several others have expressed the wish to be baptized.

“There are 270 children studying in the day school, including those who live here, and sixteen teachers. Last year four girls gained scholarships in Government competitive examinations. In addition, eighteen students are training to become teachers. All who were in the class last year were successful in the Government examination, five in the senior division and thirteen in the junior, and fifteen of them are now at work as teachers in Mission or Government schools.”

Touring.

Mr. Pike writes that during the touring work with which the mission year begins, the missionaries had abundant evidence of the power of God's weak things and the wisdom of His “foolishness.”

“Our party consisted of six, two Bible-women, three Indian brethren and myself. We travelled in boats, covering about 300 miles during our six-week's tour, and were for a good part of the time working on ground that had not been visited for ten years past. In some places, it appeared, we were the first to preach the gospel. This will show how large the district is and how much needs to be done. Can anyone imagine English villages hearing the gospel once in ten years!

“We met with all kinds of experiences, but in talking over the tour with our senior Indian helper, Rev. Doli Patra, a man who has thirty-six years of work behind him, he said that what had struck him most was the remarkable change that had come over the people of late years in regard to their attitude towards the preaching of the Gospel. In former times they used to be frankly hostile, whereas now people are often glad to hear the Gospel message. What a cause of thankfulness is here! This brother, like so many who have gone before, has spent a lifetime working in an apparently barren field, but he can now rejoice in a vision of harvest to be.”

Translation Work.

“We have, as everybody knows, had an Oriya Bible longer than there has been an Orissa mission. Dr. Carey put the Oriya Bible into the hands of Messrs. Bampton and Peggs when they first arrived in the country. That translation was the work of a great Sanscrit scholar, but for a long time missionaries have been feeling that a simpler version, whose language shall more nearly resemble the daily speech of the people, is urgently needed. For the great majority it is true to say that were they to read the Bible they could not understand it. Two years ago, Messrs. Vaughan, Brajanand Das, B.A., and myself were appointed as a Translation Committee to take up this work in earnest. Up to the present time we have completed Matthew and Mark.'

"We hope to produce a version that will be, as far as possible, acceptable wherever the Oriya language is spoken. This will be by no means easy. There are many varieties of Oriya, and the case is complicated by the admixture of Oriya with other languages; with Bengali in one direction, with Hindi in another and with aboriginal tongues in a third. Still we believe it is possible to make a version that will satisfy this need much better than the present one does."

Mission College.

"The work of the Vernacular Theological College has gone on during the year with four men in the class. I think the Mission will be glad to have them, for the staff has been greatly depleted of late years. We already need quite a number of new men in order to bring the staff up to the strength at which it stood a few years back. And there are retirements looming in the near future too. Unless we decide that it is not worth while preaching the Gospel in Orissa, or sending men to preach it, it seems clear to me that we cannot do without the College for many years to come. But this is to be a report, not an argument.

"We have had a happy and uninterrupted year's work, and the results of the annual examination are distinctly encouraging."

The Mission Press.

Mr. Grundy writes that the past year has been full of work: "We have now got our new rooms occupied and our new double demy machine running, thus relieving the congestion we had been experiencing for some time. Again we have had the joy of contributing to the general funds of the Society and in this way helping to send the message of the Cross to those who know it not."

PURI.

The Puri District has an area of 2,473 square miles. There are 5,000 towns and villages, with a population of 1,071,297. The town of Puri has a population of 30,000.

Mr. Young, who superintended the Puri work during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Davies, on furlough, writes the following report for 1913:

Station Work.

"In this department of our work there is not much calling for special notice this year. Again candidates were sent up for the annual All India Sunday School Scripture Examination from the school at Pipli, and the teachers had the pleasure of seeing that 14 of those sent had passed. The C. E. Societies continue to engage the attention of those interested in them and in the spiritual welfare of the children.

Evangelistic Work.

"Touring parties were sent out last cold season in different directions as was thought desirable, and the preaching at the heathen festivals has also been maintained. The Rath Jatra has been the annual glory of Puri for many generations, and the presence of its tens of thousands of pilgrims has often been pointed out to the Christian preachers as a proof of the exceeding great glory of the Puri Jagannath as compared with anything that they could produce. Doing this seems to the people quite a sufficient reason for us to quit the field and appear no more at Puri. They know not the secret of our power, and that, because of the might of that secret power, the idols, even Puri Jagannath, the Great Lord of the World, shall in due time be utterly abolished, and the Lord alone, even King Jesus, shall be exalted for ever to rule over His eternal kingdom.

"Because of other work that needed to be done, I was unable to be at the first part of what may be called a double festival, the procession of Jagannath, his brother and sister, to their garden house, and the journey back to the temple nine days after. I was at Puri during these nine days and helped at the Book Room as well as at the Garden House. Only once before was I at the second half of the festival, years ago, and there was, this time, a decided improvement in the manner in which the people listened to the preaching."

BERHAMPORE (Ganjam).

The Berhampore Division, with an area of 477½ square miles, has a population of 386,082, living in 547 villages. Hindus number, 376,958; Mohammedans, 1,847; Christians, 911; and others, 6,364. Of the total population, only 26,197 males and 1,968 females are literate. The town of Berhampore has a population of 31,456.

Mr. Cross writes that during the past year the fewness of the labourers has been made more noticeable on account of so many workers having to leave the field because of ill-health. Berhampore has shared in the difficulties consequent on the shortness of staff. At the beginning of the year Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins left to take up their work in the Padampur District, and this left him to endeavour to carry on the work which had previously been done by two men. It was, of course, quite impossible for all the work to be carried on in the same way as when two missionaries were stationed here, and as the institutional work of the station is such to make the constant presence of one man imperative, that in the district had to be neglected. Before leaving, however, Mr. Wilkins was able to do a little touring, and the good hearing he received in the various villages made it a matter for regret that more time could not be devoted to this most important part of a missionary's work.

Among the Students.

"Opportunities for work among the students of the Kallikote College have been frequent. The young men take a great deal of interest in outdoor sports, and a sympathetic interest in these sports has opened the way for religious work among them. Several have frequently attended the Sunday evening service, and about twenty of them have attended a Bible Class on Sunday mornings. Mr. Stevens, who is here to finish his course of language study, has been able to render good service."

Book Selling.

"Our colporteur, Lazarus Singh, reports that the spirit of antagonism to the Christian Scriptures is gradually but surely dying out. About two years ago he went to a certain village to sell books, and was greatly hindered by a man who followed him all round the village and poured abuse upon him and the books he was offering for sale. A few weeks ago the same village was again visited, and the first person to meet the colporteur was the man who had formerly abused him. 'Brother,' he said, 'the last time you came here I gave you very bad abuse, but you did not abuse me in return. I have since felt very sorry for what I said, and now I want to buy some of your books.' He bought several Gospel portions and promised to read them."

The Oriya Church.

"Jabez Babu has continued to render excellent service as Pastor of the Oriya Church, being supported entirely by the contributions of the Church. A pleasing feature of the Church work during the year has been the formation of a band of young men who go out to villages on Saturday afternoons and preach the Gospel. We want much more of this voluntary service."

Educational Work.

"We have had a very successful year of work in our Secondary School. The headmaster is never satisfied unless his pupils take a higher place in the examinations than the pupils of any other school in the Presidency. This is generally accomplished, and the result is that we now have difficulty in finding room for all the students who have been attracted to the school. Rather more than half of the students are Hindus. All of these receive Bible teaching for one hour daily, and also take their part in the religious service which marks the opening and closing of each day's work. We thus have a large number of Hindu youths who are being brought under Christian influences at the time when their characters and opinions are being formed."

The Orphanage.

“The year has been one of the best in the history of the orphanage, from a health point of view. The care which has been bestowed on the boys during all these years has had its effect on their constitutions and made them better able to resist disease. Except for minor ailments we have had a perfectly clean bill of health. Some of the boys are in the Industrial School, making progress in the direction of becoming self-supporting, while the remainder are spending their days in acquiring an education in our Mission day school. A recently appointed house-father takes a sympathetic interest in the games and other occupations of the boys, and is proving of great use in stimulating a spirit of mutual helpfulness. Family worship each evening is led by the house-father, and some of the elder boys take part in it. On a recent Sunday I had the joy of baptising two of the elder boys who had been accepted by the Church here.

Work at Padre=Polli.

“Previously, our only agent at this place was a colporteur, but about a year ago this man was removed and Evangelist Albert Padhan went to take his place. This brother has gained the whole-hearted respect of the villagers, and while helping them in their material concerns is unceasing in his efforts to deepen the spiritual life of the place. His efforts are very ably seconded by his wife, who holds meetings and classes for the women and girls of the village, and in every possible way seeks to help her husband in his work. A school-house has been built in the village, not a pretentious edifice, being only built of mud and thatched with straw, but suitable to the condition of the people.”

RUSSELLKONDA.

Russellkonda is the principal town of Gumsar, which contains an area of 554 square miles, and a population of 317,952. In addition there is the Suruda Division with 18,000 inhabitants.

This station opened the year well with a visit from the Revs. G. S. Wilkins and J. T. Stevens, with a band of evangelists. The people decorated the churches and approaches, and took a keen interest in the meetings. Mr. Wilkins is a favourite speaker in Uriya with the people of Russellkonda.

Touring.

“‘We did some touring in the cold season,’ writes Mr. Macdonald, ‘visiting about 130 villages and towns. At Bodogada, the Rajah seemed to be much interested in our message, and kindly arranged a lecture for us in his palace. On these journeys we often speak to passers by, ‘sowing beside all waters.’ One man to whom we spoke told us that he had been trying hard to get salvation. ‘How?’ enquired I. ‘I have been making an offering of milk to my god every day for three years past,’ he returned, ‘but without result.’ We naturally told him to offer his own heart to God, who would certainly accept him.’”

Lecture-Hall and Institute.

“Almost ever since I have been here I have been trying to get a suitable building site whereon to erect a Gospel-Hall which would serve also as an Institute for school-boys and students generally. Not very long ago our efforts were crowned with success, for the best site in the town was purchased on behalf of the B. M. S. It was a big price,—Rs.168, i.e., about Rs.5,000 per acre. It will admit of a building 43 feet in length, and Building operations have commenced. I am very grateful to our Society for making a grant of Rs.500.

“Many schoolboys have of late been to my house for Bible reading, conversation, and to learn the use of the typewriter, etc. I have had as many as 60 per week for several weeks. I look for a development of this work when the Institute is completed, which will be, I hope, in May, 1914.”

The Sunday School.

“The Sunday School has gone on steadily under the careful supervision of Mr. Aram Patra. Other teachers have been Miss Thatcher, who has kindly started an elder girls' class, Mr. Nathan Patra, and Mr. Poornananda Senapoty. The latter, who is the Mission schoolmaster here, has also helped us a few times in the open-air preaching. Dr. Ottmann lent us her dispensary at Bijiput to use as a Sunday School, but we have been unable to supply a suitable teacher for it.”

Church Roll.

“We have had a decrease in numbers owing to transfers of a good many of our community. Several of our people are Government servants, and so are liable to be sent to other towns in the capacity of elephant-drivers, forest-guards, office-peons (messengers) and clerks. There have been two candidates for baptism, but the Church did not accept them, there not being sufficient proof of their spiritual regeneration.”

“The darkness of this place is intense. One works like a diver under some fathoms of water, but He never fails.”

SAMBALPUR.

Sambalpur is situated on the North Bank of the Mahanadi River, and has a population of 12,980. It was the centre of Christian work in the District and in the surrounding Native States, but for Mission purposes it has been divided into the Sambalpur, Patna and Padampur sections. The Sambalpur section has a population of 793,341.

Mr. Vaughan writes that in the autumn of 1886, his first year in SAMBALPUR, Mr. Pike and he toured 82 miles west in the direction of Raipur, occasionally striking off from the main road to visit distant markets. In all they travelled probably 240 miles, but never met an Indian Christian the whole way. “Now we should come across villages containing Christians every few miles of the journey we then took. According to last year's report the Church membership of Sambalpur and Padampur was 781, and the total Christian community 2,441; if to these the Bolangir figures were added the numbers would reach 1,380 and 5,695 respectively. The above does not give occasion for anything except humble joy and gratitude, but it does give that. How brethren Pike, Heberlet, Thoma Santra, Daniel Das and others longed for firstfruits during the years of seedsowing followed by no apparent harvest! How they recalled the first years of Carey and Thomas' efforts in Bengal! Tracts sold in abundance, long journeys taken, the mouths of blasphemers stopped, but no converts! Truly one sows and another reaps and workers are removed, but God continues the work and gives the increase."

Organisation.

"We rejoice that our new chapel is completed and that our C.E. has taken up the work at Barmunda so heartily and effectively. Some of our intelligent Christian women have also started a little Sunday class for low-caste children in our old school-chapel. It is refreshing to hear these mites sing Mr. Heberlet's Gospel Songs. The original Sunday School is held in the new chapel, and some of the scholars have again done well in the Annual Examination. The Biblewomen still continue their plodding work, and are encouraged. The ordinary work in the station has been continued."

Christian Endeavour Society.

"It was reported last year that a special worker was appointed by us for some months to minister to our brethren and sisters in Baranda, and to preach the Gospel of Christ to others in the neighbouring villages. We are glad to report that through the efforts of untiring labour of this worker, eighteen persons in a village called Chhatargarha, which is situated one mile from Barmunda, were led to Christ, and two others elsewhere. It was encouraging to some of our Endeavourers to witness the baptism of these persons, which took place in Barmunda on the last Sunday of December, 1912, and also on the first Sunday of this year. These people were all formerly either idolaters or demon-worshippers. There are now many inquirers in other villages within the radius of three miles from Barmunda. Some of these have already turned their hearts to the Lord, though they have not yet received baptism. We have been able to appoint a Munda preacher to labour among these people. He is a very willing and hard worker, and takes much interest in his ministry among his own people.

"Weekly and consecration meetings have been held as usual, and found to be very helpful."

Bargarh.

Rev. Daniel Das writes, with regard to this out-station, that in the course of the year six have been baptized, but in accordance with local custom they will not be added to the church roll until a year of consistent behaviour after baptism bears evidence to their sincerity.

The decrease from all causes is ten, owing chiefly to five families removing to the Phuljhar Church in Padampur. The membership is 247, the Christian community numbers 845. Christians are found in 46 villages contained in an area of about 32 miles in length by 18 or 20 miles in width. There are only two evangelists, eight masters, and two female helpers at work among them. Day and Sunday Schools are carried on as usual.

Barmunda and Telanpali.

Mr. Vaughan concludes :

“Reference has already been made to the successful and cheering work carried on by the C.E. at Barmunda. The membership there is 56, of whom 20 have been baptized this year. The Christian Community numbers 129.

“Telanpali, about thirty-five miles north of Sambalpur, is still under the care of two good Kol Masters, generously assisted by the son and widow of our late evangelist, Banachanidhi Mahapatra. The work there is peculiarly trying, and the Kol Christians do not respect teachers drawn from their own ranks as they formerly respected the Oriya evangelist whose place we cannot fill. Still, there have been 8 baptisms there during the year, and the total membership is 79. The Christian community live in villages many miles apart, and number 242. There are many Lutheran Christians near them.

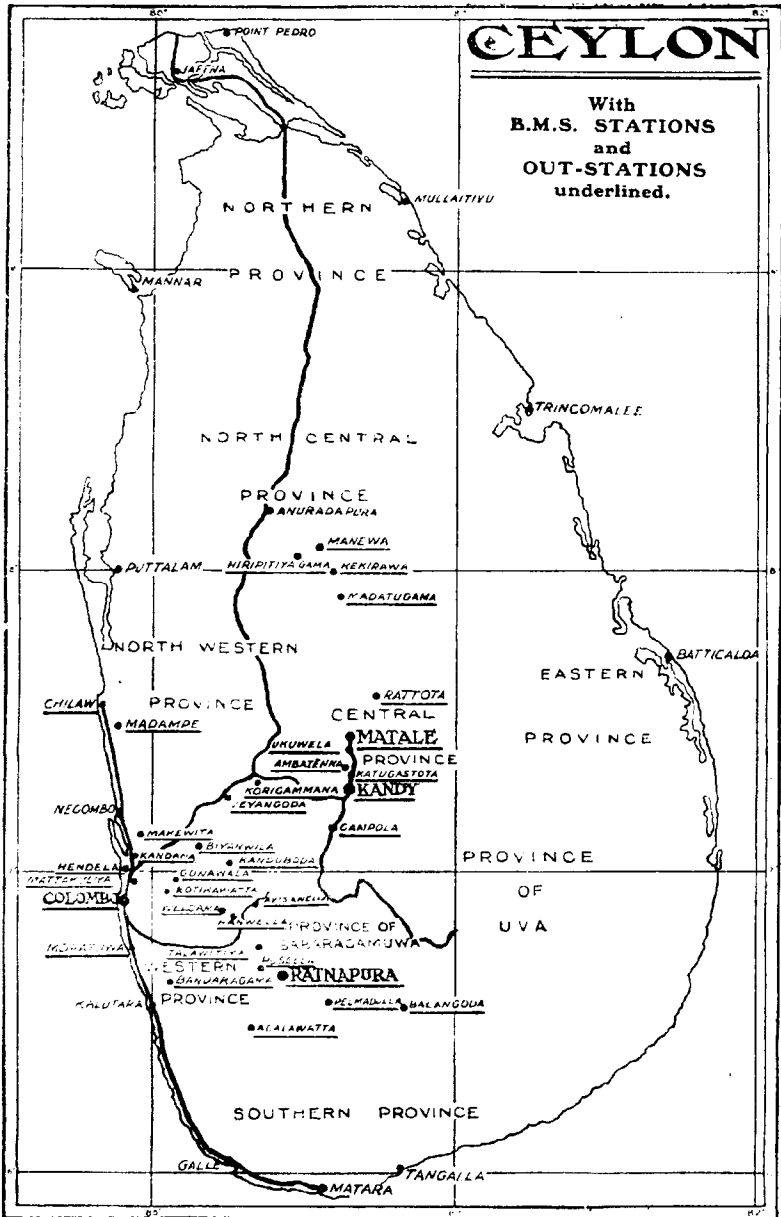

“The total membership of the Sambalpur District is 437, and the Christian community 1,325.”

BOMBAY BAPTIST CHURCH.

Mr. Barrell writes that the new church is taking root in its new district, and the year's work has therefore been quiet and continuous, with nothing that might be called striking to report. The membership stands at 73, of whom 14 are non-resident in Bombay but come in as opportunity offers. Neither soldiers nor sailors have been forgotten in the work of the church.

“The debt is still the millstone around the neck of the church. We have this year sold the old Byculla Manse for Rs.43,100, the last of the old property, which has therefore realized in all Rs.71,169. Our latest Balance Sheet shows the amount necessitated by the erection of the new church, with legal, purchase and sale expenses, interest, etc., to be Rs.1,31,008-6-6, and the present debt stands at Rs.26,564. Who will help us to clear this amount? Perhaps some one who will read these lines in the annual report and could easily, without much sacrifice, clear this amount or help to do so, may feel a constraint in that direction, and if such should come to pass, we would first thank the Lord, then thank them, and finally throw our cap into the air.

“ Congregations, outside the monsoon season and the very hot weather, have been really good. The visit of Dr. Horton will be long remembered. But oh! for a big spiritual reviving in this great city of deep and dark indifference, especially amongst those who have been such shining lights in the churches at home, but whose fervour becomes so easily rarified beneath a tropic sun !

CEYLON.

The past year saw the foundations laid of a second century of Baptist Mission work in Ceylon. We praise God for what has been accomplished in the first century, despite its disappointments and retreats, and we look forward hopefully to the future. The year gave us, in the "All-Ceylon Conference" held in November, 1912, under the presidency of Dr. J. R. Mott, a demonstration of the advance made by the whole church in the evangelization of Ceylon. It was a manifestation also of the Church's Unity.

Mr. Ewing writes :

"We were deeply privileged in having the Rev. Herbert Anderson with us for our Centenary Celebrations. Through the kindness of Mr. Pearce in retaining the supervision of the Colombo District till the end of the year, I was enabled on my return from furlough to accompany Mr. Anderson and Mr. Charter to the various churches and mission stations in the Colombo and Kandy Districts, where inspiring meetings were held."

COLOMBO DISTRICT.

"The work at the various evangelistic centres as well as in the churches has been maintained, and there has been a good deal of 'expression work' on the part of our Christian community. Over Rs.17,000 was given towards the Centenary High School and Waldoek Memorial Hall, a response as unexpected as it was pleasing, to God's goodness to us as a Mission throughout the century. Mr. Anderson laid the foundation stone of a new chapel at Moratuwa, for which most of the material has been collected, and considerable part of the woodwork finished. The old chapel at Korawella has been renovated, whilst at Gonawala a commencement has been made by the members with a fund for building a residence for the pastor.

"The church at Grand Pass, Colombo, has had a much-needed and well-built vestry added to it, and also a library stocked with good books for the young people, all being the gift of a member.

"The increased responsibility of Kotikawatte Church for the support of its pastor, Rev. W. J. Perera, through separation from the Gonawala Church, has resulted in increased liberality on the part of the members. The break-up of this partnership, which had lasted nineteen years, was rendered necessary because of the health of Mr. Perera, and the enlarged demands of the work at Kotikawatte. Here the Hostel primarily intended for ordinary village boys has now seven boarders, one of whom is a boy from that benighted district of Kekirawa, who is being supported by a liberal Christian Sinhalese gentleman in Colombo. Nine bright additions were made to the church during the year by baptism, three of whom, being members of Buddhist families, can be reckoned as results of our School work.

“The Grand Pass pastor, Rev. J. R. Perera, has opened a new preaching station at Waragoda. An evening service has been commenced by Mr. A. P. Gomes at Mattakkuliya in addition to the morning service, and is being well attended. The churches at Biyanwila and Imbulgoda have made progress during the past year under their new pastor, Rev. C. D. Hendrick. Seven persons were baptized, the church showing a net gain for the year of four members; and there is a well-established Sunday School of thirty-seven boys and twenty-eight girls. At Hanwella there are two candidates for baptism and a few inquirers. At Moratuwa also there are several enquirers, one of whom has applied for baptism.

“Our evangelists at work in the various Buddhist districts have proclaimed the truth by open-air preaching, house-to-house visitation, individual dealing, and the distribution of Christian literature.

“Mrs. Rodrigo, the Biblewoman, working in the densely-populated slums of Colombo, finds that the opposition she formerly experienced has subsided. The women now welcome her, and some even prepare tea for her. There is much to thank God for in the forty-eight baptisms of last year, for the signs of awakening in the Ceylon Church to the claims of those who are still in darkness, as witnessed by the increased support to the Lanka Mission, and for the young people who are doing active and devoted Christian service in our Sunday and Day Schools.”

THEOLOGICAL TRAINING WORK AND HOSTEL.

Mr. Charter writes that “our Theological Training Work was resumed, after a break of two years, in January. After the Easter vacation our new premises were available, and this, needless to say, is a great help both to tutors and students. The students each have a small study bedroom which provides full opportunity for private study. Mr. De Saram and I have shared the classes between us, and I am indebted to him for constant help in revising my Sinhalese.

“The Hostel was opened in June. At present we only have four boys, but our numbers will increase after the High School is opened next January. The High School, of which I have been asked by the School Board to act as Principal, is in process of building. We hope to open it in January, but have been delayed owing to a difficulty in obtaining timber.”

GIRLS' BOARDING SCHOOL, COLOMBO.

“The work of this school has gone on satisfactorily during the past year, the Government Examination results for November, 1912, being very good.

“There are more than eighty resident in the school now, and although we get applications, we have no room to take in more boarders. Because of this a fund has been started in order to enlarge the school. Thanks to the help of many friends, and especially to the generosity of Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Leechman, we shall be able to start our extension at the beginning of 1914.

“Nearly half the school sat for the I.S.S.U. Examination last July, and the Christian Endeavour Society has never been larger or more active than it is now. Many girls take part every week, and I think they are finding it a real help to themselves. Two girls from Christian homes were baptized at the beginning of the year, and about seven more have applied for baptism. We rejoice over these definite results of our work.”

KANDY AND SABARAGAMUWA.

Mr. Pearce writes that at all the regular stations the work has been well maintained except at Ukuwela, which has been unoccupied for want of men. In almost all cases the schools have made steady progress, and in some the progress has been considerable. An encouraging feature is the growth of the Sunday Schools.

“There are inquirers at nearly all the stations, but it is difficult to induce them to make a definite stand for Christ, in consequence of the secret but steady opposition that is brought to bear upon them. Mrs. Markus, Biblewoman at Matale, reports twenty converts or inquirers, but the bulk of these must be regarded rather as ‘well disposed’ than definite converts; similarly with the eleven referred to by the Colporteur, Mr. Pietersz. It is a good sign, however, that in these as in several other instances there are not a few who would seem to be ‘not far from the Kingdom.’

“Our work in Sabaragamuwa seems to be almost at a standstill except in the schools, where there is again a decided increase both in the day and Sunday classes.

“As has often been pointed out, Sabaragamuwa offers splendid scope for evangelistic work, but unless we can further develop it and keep it properly supervised we cannot hope to make permanent headway. I believe the establishment of the new work that Miss Lapham and Miss Evans are about to commence will do much to help on our cause, but continuous occupation is absolutely essential for our success. My visits are necessarily inadequate, though I have been to all the stations as often as possible.”

Tours.

Several tours have been undertaken in both districts, though the number in the Kandy District has been less this year, as only three brethren have been available for the purpose. The Rev. R. O. Price, the pastor of Cinnamon Gardens English Church, in company with Mr. Ewing, joined us in one of the tours in the Kekirawa District.

“I have paid regular visits to all the schools and stations in both districts as often as possible, and have found my motor bicycle an immense help in this direction. It has also enabled me to make frequent visits to the Kekirawa District and hold monthly meetings there with the teachers without seriously interfering with the rest of my district itineracy.”

GIRLS' HIGH SCHOOL, MATALE.

Miss J. N. Thomson writes :

“The year 1913 has outwardly been one of steady progress. We began the year with 46 names on the Register, and have now 56. The boarders have increased from 8 to 17. Of these 17, 8 come from Baptist families, 3 from Christian families of other denominations, 3 are Buddhists, and 3 Hindus. The day-scholars are even more varied—there being among them Protestants, Roman Catholics, Buddhists, Hindus and Mohammedans. We are very thankful that the boarding school is so increasing, as living in a Christian home has such a much greater influence on the lives of the children than merely attending school. Both teachers and pupils have worked well and shown an interest in their work. The Kindergarten Department has developed very much. Some new forms of work have been introduced, and the little articles they make afford the children much pleasure. We have applied for Government Inspection for the school, and expect the first examination soon.

“The Christian Endeavour meetings have been held very regularly on Saturday afternoons, and considerable interest has been shown in them. Several of the elder day girls come to them, and one is especially interesting us at present, as she is a Hindu, but very seldom misses a meeting.

“Several children—both boarders and day-girls—entered for the All-India Sunday School Examination in July, but the results are not yet known.

“During Miss Collier's absence in England, we have been glad to have Miss Ethel Evans with us in Matale. While studying the language she has given as much time as is possible to work in connection with the Boarding Department, and that work has been much appreciated.”

The Lanka Baptist Missionary Society, mainly supported by Baptist Sinhalese Christians, has opened work in two districts, and good results have already been obtained.

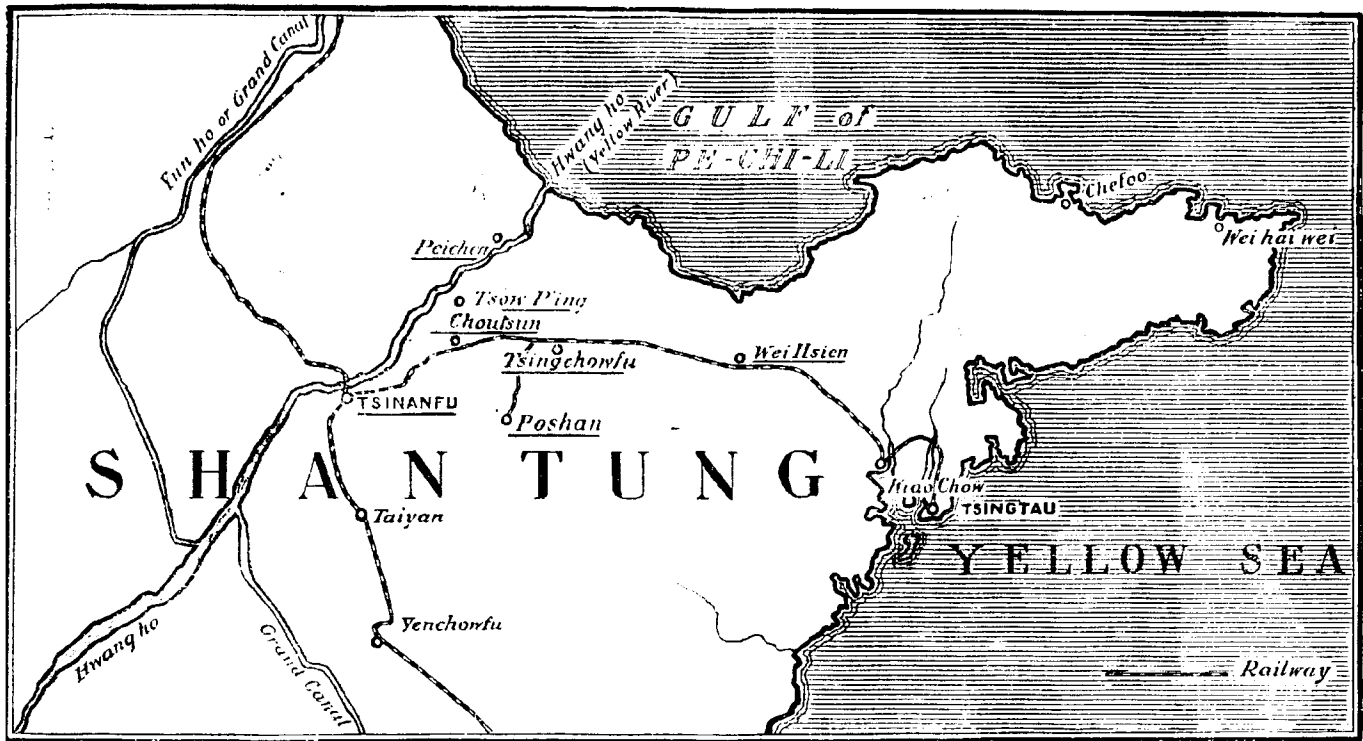

CHINA.

OUR Mission is touching the life of New China at many points, and the influence exercised by the missionaries is disproportionately great in comparison with their numbers. During the year there has been renewed anxiety as to the safety of our inland missions, owing to the ineffectual control of the Peking Government and the raids of insurgents.

Before referring to the main operations in the three great northern provinces, we record the share taken by the B.M.S. in the preparation and distribution of Christian Literature. Dr. Timothy Richard, upon whom fresh academic honours have been conferred by the University of his native Wales, and Mr. Evan Morgan, have been our representatives on the C.L.S. staff in Shanghai, and Mr. Arthur Sowerby has been engaged in literary and tutorial work in Peking. The C.L.S. has distributed, among officials and the educated gentry, through our own and other missionaries, books to the value of 43,000 dollars, thus sowing the best kind of seed. A new avenue for the advance of Christianity is now open in the larger sale of English books in China, and the C.L.S. is endeavouring to take advantage of this.

Our mission in SHENSI has suffered most by the recent political disturbances, and has also been bereaved by the removal of three highly gifted and greatly loved missionaries, Drs. Jenkins and Robertson and Miss Beckingsale. The vacancies in the staff have yet to be filled, and the appeal for reinforcements is strong.

Our missionaries have re-occupied Yenanku this year, but the Sui-techow mission is still without foreign leadership, and the claims of North Shensi are a burden upon the hearts of our brethren and sisters on the field in their lack of the required numbers to hold all the outposts. The Yenanku parish alone is as big as Wales, and the workers now stationed there are trying to supervise all the substations to the northern frontier, a distance of 250 miles. More than 200 people are already in the outer court of the Lord's house, being regular hearers of the gospel, and there is a much larger company who have become friendly occasional visitors. There are 50 members. The term "Rice Christian" is aptly applied to many of the converts, for they give rice as their free-will offering to the funds of the Church.

College Work.

“During the year 1913,” writes Mr. Burt, “I continued to act as locum tenens for Mr. Bruce. The stream of College life flowed on smoothly and quietly, and a good spirit prevailed among teachers and students.

“The twenty Theological students went out on Sundays in rotation to take services in the country churches, and also spent their vacations in preaching under the earnest leadership of one of the Presbyterian teachers—the Rev. Lin Yen T'ing. The Normal students also did good evangelistic work in the city and neighbourhood. The College Y.M.C.A. held regular meetings for Bible study on Sunday mornings and evenings, in which Dr. Hayes and others gave personal help.

“The physical health of the men has been better than in former years, and this we attribute largely to the daily compulsory drill. We have, however, to mourn the death of one student from rapid consumption, and another had to undergo a serious operation at short notice. Special continuous prayer was made for him by his fellow-students, and we are grateful to God that the operation performed by Drs. Watson and Roys was successful, and that the boy has gone home with every prospect of complete recovery.

“On Mr. Fisk has fallen the chief burden of superintending the Normal School, though I am glad to say that in the autumn term Dr. Hayes found time to teach astronomy, and I took a large daily class through the Teaching of our Lord. And here I desire to make grateful mention of Mrs. Hayes' kind services in relieving me of the Senior English class. Without her timely aid it would have been impossible for me to teach these seventy young men who aspire to become teachers of our village schools.

“The year closed with a total number of 143 students on the Roll—88 Presbyterian and 55 Baptist. Of these, 24 graduated from the Normal School (15 Presbyterian and 9 Baptist) and have found positions in their respective missions as village school teachers. From the Theological class 2 only graduated this year (as against 10 last year). Both were Baptists, viz., Sun Yuan Shan, a former graduate of the Normal School, who becomes Pastor in North Pinchow, and Chang Mu Teh, a former graduate of Wehsien, who for the past four years has been acting as one of the teachers in the Normal Department.

“Next term we expect to admit several new men to the Theological Class from the ranks of those who were formerly in the Normal School and who have since been out acting as evangelists or teachers, also two students from the English Baptist Missions in Shansi and Shensi respectively. These, we hope, will be the forerunners of many others from those provinces in years to come.

“We rejoice to hear from time to time of the good work being done by the men who once lived in our cloisters, and we note with satisfaction that one graduate—Yin Hsueh Ts'ung—who taught a school in Manchuria last year, is now returning to his vocation and is to be Pastor at Choutsun, where his friend and class-mate, Chang Ssu Ching, has already done a year's earnest evangelistic work in connection with the new Institute."

"The demand for evangelists reaches us from all sides, and it would seem wise for the College and the Missions to concentrate more closely in the selecting and training of men for the work of preaching rather than teaching. We know that only God can call and make the preacher, but we can all do much by precept and example to exalt the preacher's vocation and to lead the thoughts of our young men in this direction."

The Church.

Through Mr. Madeley's absence on furlough, the superintendence of the whole of the evangelistic work, as well as the Church and the Village Schools, devolved on Mr. Nickalls. The year was, therefore, a strenuous one. The additions by baptism were 112, and the total membership of the church in this district is 2,147. Mr. Nickalls writes :

"There is a considerable decrease in the number of the Primary Schools. This is largely due to the management of the Government Schools in this county being in the hands of a Christian man (educated by our old friends Mr. and Mrs. Couling), who has made these schools more efficient than ordinary. Also to the fact that as the Christians pay the education tax they find the maintenance of their own schools an additional burden they can ill bear.

Evangelistic Work.

"The Evangelistic work has been very encouraging. There have been fourteen evangelists at work, twelve working in pairs and two singly. In five out of seven centres of work, converts have been gathered, and in three the number gathered permits of new branch-churches being established. From these centres of evangelisation an attempt has been made, by the aid of specially prepared maps, to reach every neighbouring village and town. The magnitude of this undertaking may be estimated from the fact that within a five mile radius from one centre there were found to be upwards of 270 villages. The importance and urgency of evangelistic work at this juncture is beyond words to express, and our foreign and Chinese staff is utterly inadequate to overtake it. But while our Society is forced to call for retrenchment, and there are hardly any recruits coming forward, the prospect of advance is not inspiring. England appears to be woefully behind America in her appreciation of the situation in China at this time. While we employ 37 evangelists in 17½ counties, which include the great Provincial capital and other large cities, the American Baptist Church has 42 evangelists at work in one county, with the result that while we have in all our Mission baptized 404 this last year, our American friends in a single county baptized 1,335. These facts want the fullest and most prayerful consideration. There are signs that the Chinese Church in our midst is awaking to some sense of its privilege in this direction, and we need to undertake work on a scale that will be a challenge and inspiration to it."

Various Activities.

"We can but mention the work that has been attempted in the city preaching hall, the reception and converse with the numerous visitors to the museum, the classes that have been held for voluntary workers from the country, both men and women, besides repeated visits to the country stations and evangelistic centres. The band of voluntary workers in the city had to desist during the Revolution, but they have recently been re-organised, and a goodly number are again going out to preach the Gospel. They have distributed thousands of invitations to our Sunday services, which are well attended. We have also had several lantern-services.

Remarkable Gatherings.

"There were three remarkable gatherings in the year. In June and August we gathered to pray for rain at times of threatened drought. Our hearts were greatly refreshed, and the needed rain was mercifully given. Then in July we had a Conference of Chinese women, attended by some hundreds from all parts of the Church. Not only did the pastors and missionaries take part, but the young women who had passed through Miss Sifton's School were specially helpful, both in discussions and organisation. Thus they showed the thoroughness of the mental and religious training they had received at school.

The Manchus.

"We are much encouraged by the increased interest in the Gospel shown by the Manchus in the North city. There are now about 170 attending our services. For the first time we have been urged to rent a place of meeting in their own city. As a suitable room has not yet been found, one convert has offered his house for services. One of the Presbyterian professors has taken a great interest in this work, and has frequently led a band of students to preach on the streets of the North City.

"The Children's Service and Sunday School, started by Miss Goodchild, has been carried on energetically by Miss Sifton and a band of her School-girls. There are now 150 in attendance at the service and 100 at the school. The teachers number thirty. Suitable and adequate premises for this work are badly needed.

"The work among women done by the ladies of the W.M.A. and others will be reported by themselves. But I would draw attention to the fact that the staff is quite inadequate to the vast work we ought to do. Many country stations are never visited by a missionary. Mrs. Nickalls has become responsible for the work among women in one pastoral district; visits have been made by her to several of the out-stations, and women have been gathered in this city for classes."

NORTHERN ASSOCIATION. PEICHEN.

Mr. Greening reports that only fifty-seven have been baptized this year, and that deaths and exclusions reduce the clear gain in membership to less than forty. In three of the pastoral districts the Christians have not raised enough money to invite pastors for the new year, so two districts have been temporarily amalgamated and the other district will be worked by an evangelist, the church's contributions going towards his support. "These facts are certainly discouraging, but in spite of the adverse appearance, there is much earnest spiritual life in the church. The fact is that the field assigned to the individual worker is far too large. There is a rich harvest to be reaped, but the reapers are all too few."

Evangelistic Work.

"In evangelistic work there has been the usual preaching on markets and fairs by the eight evangelists, and in Peichen every market day some two or three hundred people hear the Gospel in our little preaching room. When we are able to put up a proper place of worship and preaching room on the main street I feel sure there will be those who will be ready to join the church.

"The most encouraging work is in Lichun city and county. There are six whom we hope to baptize this year, the first-fruits of the work; among them is the head of the Government Schools in the city. He first heard the Gospel at the Tsinan Institute. He is enthusiastic, and helps us in preaching, and also holds a Bible class for the students in his schools, and a number of the students come regularly to our Christian Sunday services.

Schools.

"Good work has been done in the twenty-seven schools, and the Boys' BOARDING SCHOOL has had a satisfactory year. The people now appreciate more than ever the education in our schools. During the summer a special class of twelve boys met daily with the missionary for the study of the Catechism with a view to baptism. The senior boys have often visited the nearer stations to lead worship, and have also helped in the preaching on Peichen market.

Medical.

"The number of patients seen at the dispensary was 2,794; in addition, 70 cases of poisoning suicide have been attended to. £4 was received for medicines and as subscriptions. In November we had the pleasure of a visit from Dr. Edwards and Dr. Balme, when a deputation from the four counties of Putai, Binchow, Bahsing and Lichun waited upon them to urge the pressing need of a Hospital at this centre. Our fervent hope is that the Society will soon be able to respond to our oft-repeated plea for a doctor and hospital for this station.

Tracts and Books.

"Several thousands of Scripture portions have been sold, and many thousands of tracts given away, whilst many valuable books sent by the Christian Literature Society have been circulated among the officials and teachers of the Government Schools.

“Mr. Comerford has had to leave us and take charge of the work in the Western district, after having done so much to help us in this district. We now welcome Mr. and Mrs. Sutton Smith as colleagues in the work, but during the next year Mr. Smith's time will be taken up with learning the language.”

“In regard to the work as a whole, the opportunities are increasing on all sides, but unfortunately the workers are not increasing. There is need for a deeper earnestness and greater passion for souls on the part of the present workers, and also need that we all join in our Lord's prayer that more workers may be thrust out into His harvest.”

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION, CHOUT'SUN.

Mr. Castleton and Mr. Harris report that at this centre over eighty have been received into the church by baptism, while the work in the Hsin Cheng and Chang Shan counties is especially promising. Some 6,000 Scripture portions have been sold and 200 enquirers are meeting for worship.

Country Work.

“In Poshan the outlook is very encouraging. At one fair in Poshan city over 500 Gospels were sold in three hours. In Chih Chuan, owing to what are practically famine conditions, there is very little progress. Many of the Christians have had to leave home in search of food.

City Work.

“In Chout'sun good use has been made of the fine church and institute buildings. The church has almost daily been used for preaching. By its aid prejudice has been broken down and a distinct change for the better is taking place in the attitude of the city people to the Gospel. During the summer months we had well-attended open-air services in the open space in front of the church, four nights weekly. Many came regularly to listen, and were most attentive.

“In August, with the assistance of Mr. Payne, we had a fortnight's class for twenty evangelists, teaching them during the day and leading them in an evangelistic campaign in the evenings. Every evening three big open-air meetings were held at different centres, and nightly the church was filled to overflowing for a lantern service.

A Games Room.

“Through the kindness of Mr. Whitewright we have been able to fit up a games room and to make our walls more attractive by pictures and charts. Classes in English and Arithmetic have enabled us to get into more personal contact with a few promising young men. These classes are followed by a few minutes' straight talk and prayer, and we have been pleased to see some thus influenced attending our regular Sunday services. A reading room, occasional lectures on popular subjects, a weekly report of the news of the week, and maps and pictures, have all aided in attracting the people to the place where both printed texts and preacher seek to make the Gospel known. We have accepted invitations to preach in factories and schools, held meetings in the shops of the Christians, and in the open market, besides doing a little shop-to-shop visitation. On Christmas morning Christians and scholars, on their own initiative, paraded the city singing carols and announcing our Christmas service. At service time a crowded congregation learnt why the birth of Christ meant so much to the world.

Women's Work.

"The work among women, in which all the ladies of the station share, is giving cause for encouragement. The regular women's meetings are well attended, and larger numbers of women come to Sunday worship. About once a month we have a lantern service for women, when we preach to a church full of eager listeners.

"The Girls' Boarding School has been opened this year, and under the superintendence of Miss Thomas has done good work. Owing to its distance from the church, a separate service on Sundays is arranged for women and girls in the west end of the town.

Buildings.

"During the year the Boys' Boarding School has been built, and the adjoining residence completed. During building operations a daily service has been held for the workmen. In September the school moved from Tsow-p'ing to the new building, of which all feel justly proud. On the opening day we had the presence of representatives of the chief public offices, official schools, and some of the leading merchants.

"The prospect of the Hospital being built within the next few months has filled us all with gladness and thanksgiving.

WESTERN ASSOCIATION, TSOW-P'ING.

"In this Association the past year has been a good one," writes Mr. Payne. "I think I may say that Church, Evangelistic and Educational work have all gone forward.

Church Work.

"A glance at the record of the last eight years shows that 1913 tops all in direct gains. There have been 101 baptisms and a net gain of 63, while the church area has continued to widen. Although there seems a lack of trained paid workers, yet an increasing number of Christians are willing to shoulder the burden of evangelisation, by freely giving of their time and strength. The churches have nobly responded to the increased calls in support of their own pastorate, no less than £34 being subscribed on behalf of the three pastors working in this district. In addition £10 has been subscribed by the Chinese church towards direct evangelistic work. It seems quite certain that the Chinese Christian, when once roused to a sense of duty, will not fall short in zeal for the furtherance and proclamation of the Gospel. The dearth is not of means, but of men, for a group of churches in Tsow-p'ing subscribed this year a further sum of money for evangelistic work, but failed to find a man worthy enough.

Evangelistic Work.

“It is good to be able to report that this work has amply repaid for the time given to it. Over a hundred lantern lectures in the open air have been given, when the Saviour's story has never been missing.

“Work in co-operation with the British and Foreign Bible Society has also been carried on, and about 15,000 portions of Scripture have been sold to people outside the church area. Two colporteurs in our district, and under our charge, are supported by the Bible Society, but about half of the total sales have been made by voluntary workers and evangelists.

Women's Work.

“The usual visiting of Christian women in their city or village homes has been carried out by Miss Simpson, Mrs. Burt, Mrs. Jones, and Mrs. Payne, while Mrs. Paterson has maintained, at their usual efficiency, the day and boarding schools for girls.”

Educational Work.

“In the early autumn the boarding school moved into its commodious new premises at Chow Ts'un, and is now well established under the supervision of Mr. Castleton.

“Eighteen village schools, with 255 boys, also constitute a record for this district, and this in spite of increased fees required from the parents. Two schools are self-supporting, except for a small bonus given to the teacher for each boy who passes, this enabling us to have control of the curriculum. It was expected that the new type of official schools, with their extremely low fees, would mean a great decrease in our more expensive schools, but lack of true discipline in the official schools, and a curriculum which is merely a paper one, have had the effect of bringing more boys into our Mission schools.

“I must mention the help that Dr. Jones is rendering. Though scarcely out of his first year's curriculum, he has been able to take over the Sunday School in Tsow Ping, and has also started a Bible Class there, held every Sunday afternoon, both of which meetings are proving a success in numbers, and usefulness.”

SHANSI.

TAI YUAN FU.

During 1913 Mr. T. E. Lower had the work of local secretary, local treasurer, convener of the Examining Board, charge of the work in the Showyang and Wen Shui districts, in addition to the Taiyuanfu Church work. Thus his hands were very full. "Of course," he writes, "I have been able to do very little for Showyang and Wen Shui. I have paid occasional visits, and have given a general oversight to the work; but all these details of administration take up time, and leave very little for the kind of work that ought to be reported on."

Station Work.

"We have been able to maintain all our ordinary work. The Sunday services have been very well attended, and on several occasions we have been unable to find room in the church for would-be listeners. It is worthy of remark that there has been an increased attendance of the Student class, and in some cases this attendance has been very regular. My Monday evening Bible Class has had an average attendance of from thirty to forty. We have had Station Classes on two occasions: once for enquirers, and once for specially-invited members from the three southern districts. In these classes Mr. Williamson has given valuable help.

"In the Street Chapel we have not been able at all adequately to make use of our great opportunities. Mr. Turner has given some time to the work, though his health has not permitted him to do all he could wish. Mr. Williamson and I also have been able to preach there occasionally, but we all feel that it is very unsatisfactory not to be able to keep the place open continually. We are doing our best to find a capable Chinese preacher who will give his whole time to this work, and we trust that before long the man we need will be sent to us.

"The Village Preaching Band, in connection with the local church, has continued its good work, and has helped to keep our village members in touch with the central church, and we trust in touch with their Lord.

"Mr. and Mrs. Williamson and myself were able to help with the special effort at the Showyang Annual Fair, and we were much encouraged both by the numbers who listened to the preaching, and by the increased sale of Gospels and tracts.

"There have been eleven baptisms here and fifteen at Chiao Ch'eng. We are grateful to God for this evidence of His presence and saving grace among us, and we are confident that the future holds still greater blessing for us. There are many enquirers, many more than are recorded on our lists. There are signs of a deepening longing for the truth both within and outside the Church. And we feel that if a few more workers were forthcoming, both foreign and Chinese, we should be able far better to conserve the results of the many agencies at work already, and should soon have the joy of leading many, who at present are earnestly seeking, to find their heart's desire and their true life in Christ."

SINCHOW AND DISTRICT.

In stating that the usual work of the Mission has been carried on at SINCHOW during 1913, Mr. Percy J. Smith adds: "The ordinary work of the stations does not—thank God—get less year by year, and with the special efforts by which we attempt to widen our circle of opportunity, we find more than enough to keep us going. The dominant note of the year has been the attempt to sow 'beside all waters,' and from some of these the promise of a harvest has already begun to appear. The actual garnering has brought an addition of thirty-nine to the number of our church members. This, as will be seen, is a great increase on any previous year.

Among the People.

"During the Fair in June, a month of open-air meetings was held in the city, in Temple courtyards, where good crowds gathered daily, and gave a good hearing to the message. During some of the spring evenings, we carried our Lantern to the villages round, and at ten different villages gave an exhibition of pictures, accompanied with Gospel messages on the theatre platforms. These open-air theatres will, we trust, come to have a new association for some of the villagers who first heard from them the word of life and salvation.

"Two of our own evangelists wrote a special tract, which was printed, and in the early part of the year every shop in the city and suburbs was visited, and the tracts distributed to the shop managers and assistants. All were received courteously and readily.

"Special services, held weekly at one of the cloth factories in the city, have been very useful. Two of the assistants have already joined the Church, and one or two are enquirers.

"The English Class, started last year in the Government High School, has been continued, and no small opportunity has been offered of getting into personal touch with the scholars. The tangible results at present appear in two ways: (a) Two from among them this year confessed Christ in baptism, and (b) a weekly Bible Class has been formed on our own premises for these High School scholars, and every week from twenty to forty of them meet for the study of Mark's Gospel. We have hopes of some definite results from this gathering.

Schools.

"An organised Sunday School has been commenced, and although at present it only consists of the scholars who attend our Day School, we look for extension. Five regular teachers are on our Sunday School staff, and by this a new interest in the work of Christ has been aroused in them.

Among the Out-Stations.

"The Out-stations have been visited—in the main by Mr. Fowles—and the work in each of them shows signs of steady increase. One of the most encouraging signs of the whole year has been the opening by the associated churches of a new Out-station at Tung Yueh, about thirty miles east of Sinchow, and a populous market town with great opportunities. The brethren, with no expense to the Mission funds, have appointed one of their number to live there and preach. This brother has had encouraging signs of blessing during the ten months he has been there, and a small band of enquirers has been gathered out.

“In this district the Chinese Independent Church has a centre, and at a village near, splendid schools for boys and girls have been erected, a Preaching Hall is in course of preparation, and the nucleus of a good and useful work is being formed.

Among the Women.

“Work among the women is developing finely, and the labours of our sisters are being blessed. The number of attendances at Women’s Meetings is exceedingly encouraging, and about a dozen women have joined the Church during the year.

“Although the work done is faulty and leaves much to be desired, yet we may surely expect a blessing, for He has said, ‘Blessed are ye that sow beside all waters.’”

SHENSI.

SIAN FU.

“This year,” writes Mr. Shorrock, “has been the most sorrowfully eventful one in the history of our SHENSI Mission. The loss of Drs. Jenkins and Robertson is increasingly felt, and the death of Miss Beckingsale leaves a gap in our ranks which cannot be filled. It cannot be that three of our best workers have been taken from us to our permanent loss; we can only believe that by their early death, rather than by their prolonged life, Christ will be glorified. But at present we miss our departed fellow-workers more and more. We can only take up our tasks with renewed consecration, feeling more intensely the sacredness of life, and the shortness of our opportunity.”

Wanted—More Workers.

“Owing to our weakened staff, we have had to relinquish Sui Te Chou as a residential station for the present. We trust that the withdrawal is only temporary; but, unless our staff is greatly strengthened, the hope of re-occupation is small.

Results of Revolution.

“Preaching goes on with greater vigour and acceptance than ever before. One of the most notable changes effected by the Revolution is in the greater freedom and higher standing of women and girls. Schools for girls flourish as was never thought possible before. In Sianfu there are now more than 600 girl students in the various Government schools. These schools are well organised, and two of the largest, containing over 200 and 300 pupils respectively, are also well staffed. But there is dissatisfaction in many quarters because religion in any form is ruled out of the school curricula, and now parents who two years ago would, on no account, send their girls to a Christian school, are showing their confidence in us by placing their daughters under our care, and are pleased that they should be instructed in Christian truth, as well as in general subjects. A great and effectual door is thus opened to our lady missionaries.

The Independent Chinese Church.

“The movement in favour of an independent Church began with the hope that official recognition and support might be secured for Christianity. At first the movement gained great momentum, but no official status or support has been given to the effort, and the expectations of the leaders have, in consequence, been greatly disappointed. For this we are profoundly thankful, for the tendency at first was rather to depend on worldly methods of establishing the so-called Independent Church, and furthering the spread of Christianity. Now, however, a small company of Christians meet for worship in a place hired by themselves. They have spent over £20 in repairing and adorning it; they give regularly to the support of two preachers; and no longer foster the expectation or hope of official co-operation. The city of Sianfu is large enough for all, and we pray that this little band of Christian men and women may be so grounded in the truth, and so filled with the Divine Spirit, that many may be brought to a saving knowledge of Christ by their testimony.

“The main body of the Shensi Church is not in Sianfu, but in the San Yüan district. The effect of the Independent Movement upon the Christians there has been to promote a distinct advance in assuming new and proper responsibilities. Mr. Bell has done invaluable service in guiding the members, and we are now rejoicing in what seems to be a forward movement in the direction of full co-operation between ourselves and the Native Church, which will naturally culminate, under God's blessing, in complete self-support and true independence.

Medical Work.

“It is not for me to report on some branches of the work, but I cannot refrain from saying how very valuable our Medical Branch has been this year. Drs. Young, Charter, and Scollay have done nobly. A pleasant and touching function was performed two weeks ago by the Governor of the Province, who, in recognition of the special medical services rendered during the Revolution by Drs. Young and Robertson, came in state to the Hospital, by order of the President of the Republic, to present Dr. Young with an order of Merit of the Fifth Rank, and to hand over to our Mission a similar Order on behalf of Dr. Robertson, for whom, alas! it had arrived too late. The beneficent work of our doctors is bearing fruit, and will continue to do so in every part of our Province.

Students.

“ Mr. Keyte has done excellent work in getting into touch with students in the Government Schools. For the first time in the history of our Mission work in this city, a group of students has been gathered together Sunday by Sunday for Bible study, and their interest and reverence have been good to see. Mr. Keyte, in addition to his work in the Government College, has taken charge of the Mission Accounts, and entirely relieved me of this increasingly heavy burden. We all rejoice in his restoration to health, and pray that he may be enabled to continue and develop the special work for which he is so well fitted among the students of Sianfu.

The Preaching Centres.

“ Mr. Smith for the whole year, and Mr. Mudd for most of it, have overlooked the preaching and Church work in the city and district of Sianfu. We have now four centres of worship in the city and suburbs, where, week by week, good congregations gather to hear the preaching of the Word. Yenafu is now re-occupied, and Mr. Borst Smith and Mr. Shields send encouraging reports of their work there. Mr. Fairburn, who has joined us this year, is a great addition to our staff. He is now busy with the erection of the new Hospital, for which a splendid site has been granted to us by the Shensi Government.”

“ We ask for special prayer for this great city, and for all our workers here, native and foreign, that, during the coming year there may be a great awakening and a turning of many to God and righteousness.”

In separate reports the Revs. Donald Smith and William Mudd deal with details of the evangelistic and church work. During the year twenty-nine persons were baptized and joined the fellowship of the native church, and special efforts were made to teach and influence some of the Moslem population, Mr. Smith also superintended the work of a small band of colporteurs in the employment of the British and Foreign Bible Society.

A weekly women's class for Christians and learners was held in the east suburb, with an attendance of twelve, and during the year four members of the class were baptized, while three others are candidates for baptism. Numerous meetings were held for women and many homes were visited.

Encouraging reports are given of the out-station work at Weinan, Suitung, Hsie Kou, Chen Chia Kou, and Shen Lu Fang. At the last named place the influence of a woman who had been helped at the hospital won over her whole family, and they have presented to the church a piece of land for a place of worship.

Mr. Mudd speaks warmly of the prospects of Sianfu: “ The number of those who are making an intelligent enquiry into the claims of Jesus is on the increase, and the class of enquirer is good. Altogether the prospects are excellent, and one's only regret is that there are so few to share the work.”

SAN YUAN.

“The year in this district has been a very chequered one,” writes Mr. Bell. “After an opening with bright sunshine, clouds soon gathered, but the year closes with the brightest of promise.”

The Staff.

“Our staff has changed considerably. Dr. and Mrs. Dr. Young had perforce to go to Sianfu owing to the death of Drs. Jenkins and Robertson. We look for another devoted couple to come and take their place. The need for a hospital and an efficient medical staff remains. Mr. and Mrs. Shields went to Yenafu in October, and just before they left I had the joy of bringing back my wife and children. In November we had the pleasure of welcoming Mr. and Mrs. Watson, who are now going to be stationed here, as Su Te Chou, unfortunately, must be left for a time to be worked by native brethren.

The Church.

“At the beginning of the year the church in the whole district, with its five sections, was to be a unit or one association. It was to take on the burden of the work, pastoral, evangelistic, and educational, with the Mission helping yearly in a diminishing degree. During the early part of the year there was a movement by a few for the entire independence of the church, but this movement was so narrow in its ideas and ideals that it failed to carry the body of the church. It put new life, however, into the five sections, so that, by the end of the year, we find these have become associations, with a desire for a closer union with the foreigner, and a fuller recognition of the Chinese in educational and evangelistic work. They will doubtless soon form into a union which will be a much healthier and stronger body than that of former years. Each association has its committee with its executive committee. These executive committees will consult with us on all general findings, and they will carry out these in detail, while we are at hand to counsel and encourage. The different associations have been evincing a great deal of energy, and it is believed greater attention will be given to the smaller causes. Altogether ninety-one have been baptized during the year, and two were received by transfer. This is by far the greatest number for the last six years. We lost, however, thirteen by death, and six by transfer, leaving the membership at the close of the year 1,163, showing a net increase of seventy-four.

“The monthly meetings of the church were in abeyance for some time, but they have been restarted with vigour, and the members are showing a great deal of zeal. Here and there are some most encouraging signs.

The Cities.

“The work in the cities has also been very encouraging. Everywhere our evangelists find a hearty welcome. ‘So different from former years, they say. Here in San Yuan the daily congregation is composed chiefly of villagers marketing, but in the evening, during the autumn and winter, our shop is crowded with shop assistants, clerks, and others. Two learners of long standing have been baptized.

Women's and Children's Work.

"The work amongst the women and children is being continued, and we hope soon to have a suitable building for them. My wife has got a Sunday School started, and there are some thirty children on the roll. At Christmas time we had a Children's Day, and about 100 children came in from villages from three to six English miles distance. There is also to be a Children's Day in each of the other districts, and we are trusting that as an outcome Sunday Schools will be started in all the churches. Some six schools have already been formed."

Day Schools.

"For the last two years it has not been practical to restart the day schools, though some have continued throughout. But next year we shall get on to normal lines, and already about twenty schools have arranged to open in the new year—all with trained Christian teachers. An elementary Bible school is to be attempted in Fu Yin Ts'un, from which it is hoped a few of the younger students will be able to proceed to the Theological School in Sianfu, while others who cannot reach that standard will, at any rate, be better fitted to be witnesses for Christ, and preachers of the Gospel to their fellowmen. There is also to be a Normal School for girls started in the same village, and these will take some of the doctrinal classes in the Bible school."

"Altogether the prospect for 1914 is a very bright one, and we pray that our hopes in every direction may be abundantly fulfilled."

The evangelistic work at the Hospital, including the daily services and the talks with the patients in the wards, was in the care of Mr. Watson for a part of the year. Mr. Watson also relieved Mr. Keyte for a few weeks in the tutorial work at the University, taking two classes daily with from thirty to forty students.

CHRISTIAN LITERATURE IN CHINA.

DR. TIMOTHY RICHARD'S REPORT.

"The question for China has been the same as the question all over the world—Who shall have dominion over us? The old question took different forms, viz., Shall it be the Chinese President, or shall it be the Parliament? Shall it be the old experienced officials, or the young and inexperienced foreign-educated ones? Shall it be some State religion—Confucianism, Buddhism, Taoism or Christianity, or religious liberty to all? Shall it be entirely economic and materialistic, or shall it have a spiritual and ethical basis? The revolutionary wave in China, where many Japanese took part, assisting the revolutionaries and rebels, reacted on Japan very strongly, and the old hereditary clans who ruled at the head of the Japanese Government were shaken to their foundations. The C.L.S. has striven to reach the heart and mind of the nation, for it is there that the issues of life and death are. We have published a series of Lives of the leading statesmen of Christendom. We have issued a series of Tracts for the Times. We have commenced the translation of Hastings' Bible Dictionary, in which over forty missionaries co-operate, and we are planning a series of books on over thirty subjects of great importance to China, to be written by other missionaries at their respective stations and to be published by us. We have distributed among officials and gentry and literati and students this year free grants of books to the value of $43,000 through the missionaries of the B.M.S. in Shantung, Shansi and Shensi, and through the L.M.S., the C.M.S., the Methodist and other Missions.

"It is the sowing of the best seed we know of, in the hope of its falling into good ground and bringing forth a rich harvest of blessing to China. We are extending our work so as to include the sale of books in English from the best publishers at home, so that Anglo-Chinese men and women students, who are rapidly increasing in number, shall have sound ideas of life in their hearts.

"During the year I have translated and published a Chinese masterpiece, viz., an epic and allegory, called "A Mission to Heaven," by a Nestorian Christian of the thirteenth century, which some think will be of no small help to all missionaries in this land.

"Pray for us that our staff may be greatly increased and that we may have sufficient grace to guide China in the path of life, so that the whole earth may become loyal to the King of Kings."

THE CONGO MISSION.

THE Congo Mission during 1913 has been blessed with signal success, the number of candidates baptized showing a considerable advance on 1912, in spite of the rigid revision of church rolls and the care exercised in the examination of candidates. The use of the Grenfell has greatly simplified the work of itineration on the Upper Congo, and partly accounts for the increase reported from Yakusu, while the villages in the Lake Leopold district have again shown a rich harvest.

Perhaps the most memorable event of the year in connection with the mission has been the experience of Mr. Bowskill at San Salvador, fully described in our magazine, the Herald, and in a separate publication. It is unnecessary to repeat a story already familiar, but we may remind our readers that the San Salvador incident is one of deep significance. Once again the Baptist Mission has come into conflict with the abuses of slavery, and we have to rejoice that our representative on the spot has been prompt to claim for the natives their just rights under International Law. We are confident that the ultimate result will be a real triumph for the spirit of liberty, and that in spite of a temporary check to the work of the Mission, the year will be a memorable one for a good fight bravely fought.

LOWER CONGO. MATADI.

During the past year the work at the Base station has increased owing to the greater detail required for Customs purposes. The return of the Rev. Ross Phillips was heartily welcomed both by his colleague, the Rev. Robert Glennie, who had been acting-secretary during his furlough, and by the large number of natives who have learned to look up to him as their spiritual counsellor and friend. In June the Rev. David Jones came down from San Salvador to take a share in the work and allow Mr. Glennie to visit the up-river stations before his return to England.

“The services at Sancel for the English-speaking coast-men have been maintained, and on many occasions the little chapel has been filled to its utmost capacity. A steady flow of gifts towards the building of the new chapel has been maintained. Some of the men rescued from the brink of the gulf, and started on the upward journey, have continued to give good evidence of their fidelity and love, and this in spite of manifold temptations.

“The attendances at our school-chapel of the members of our Wathen and San Salvador churches have been satisfactory, and their life has been a continual testimony of the Grace that saves. One backslider found his way back to the fold, and the church at Wathen has re-admitted him.

“The very large native community at Matadi presents a grave problem. There are some two thousand of various tribes, and for six, and, in many cases, six-and-a-half, days a week most of them are at work: the afternoon and evening of the seventh day being given up to drink and noise. Fortunately, by the new Ordinance prohibiting the sale or gift of spirits to natives, which is being well enforced, some diminution of the disorder has been seen. But still remains the question, what can we do for those who are thus engaged?

“The day school on the station remains very small, but if one may judge by the sale of “The Gateway of Knowledge” there must be a large amount of work done by our people working privately.

“Mr. Phillips was able to send off his manuscript of the Book of Job to be printed in the next Old Testament volume by the Bible Translation Society.

“The health of the Europeans and workmen on the station has been satisfactory; the considerable amount of medical help given has been mainly needed by those who have had connection with the Mission in past days.”

KIMPESE.

In 1908 this Institution was commenced for the purpose of training native teachers of the American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society and the Baptist Missionary Society. Instruction is given in Kongo, and when Mr. Powell wrote his report there were seventeen men and thirteen women under instruction. The standard is distinctly higher than hitherto. All men do manual work for two hours per day—from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. and the children on the station, numbering about fifty, form a school, in which the teachers practice the art of teaching. Each man spends one hour per day for a month in this school.

“Often the question has been asked,” writes Mr. Powell, “as to whether the results are good or otherwise. Perhaps the time is not yet ripe for an answer. Suffice it now to say that from Banza Manteke and Mpalabala, San Salvador, Sona Bata, and Wathen we have reports of men doing good work. In many cases the missionaries in charge of these stations are able to detect a great improvement. There are disappointments; but as far as we know there is no case of a lapse into sin among men who have completed their course.

“All missionaries concerned are agreed that we cannot force the pace with regard to the number of students. Our brethren on the stations which supply our men prefer to keep their teachers back for a while for fuller preparation, in order that they may the better appreciate the training at Kimpese. With this attitude the staff is in entire agreement, and we gladly welcome every sign of co-operation in the way of fuller preparation of candidates."

THYSVILLE.

At this station, the railway depot for the Lower Congo, Mr. Cameron reports: "The population has continued to increase during the year; a few of the new-comers have been church members, many have been nominal Protestants, and many have been untaught heathen.

"In visiting the native quarters we have found many who called themselves Protestants, but who did not care to attend the preaching services. Some of these as well as many of the heathen have been induced to come under the sound of the Gospel more or less regularly. Our Night-School is specially helpful to young men living alone. It is such an effort as is often associated with Y.M.C.A. work. The scholars are being kept from temptation while being taught subjects that will make them more efficient in daily life, as well as knowledge of the life to come. Frequent shifting of the men prevents in most cases the attainment of a high standard, but it has the advantage of bringing a large number under our influence.

Work of the Station.

"This remark may also be made of the Day-School. Many have been helped a little, and a few have been helped a great deal. In both Night and Day Schools are some who have made very good progress in French and Arithmetic, and we hope, also, in knowledge of the Bible. The Preaching Services have been well attended and a few of the Thysville Christians have been zealous and faithful in helping in the Sunday School and in visiting the villages near by. The Hospital has been visited regularly.

"In the Village Work there has been much backsliding and indifference, with encouragement in some directions. The lack of a sense of responsibility on the part of some of the Teachers has given much anxiety."

WATHEN.

The close of 1913 marked the completion of twenty-five years of church life and work in the WATHEN district. "One can find," writes Mr. Frame, "a spiritual uplift in reading the reports on the first years of work. They are full of expressions of faith and hope that the coming years would see great things wrought in the name of the Saviour. In the large membership of the church, with its many outposts and activities, we now see the vision and hopes of early years realized, at least in part. God is faithful, and we raise again our Ebenezer.

The Roll.

“The year closes with a membership of 2,194. We much deplore that for the first time in the history of the Church we have to report a decrease of eleven, and this in spite of the fact that during the year we have received 210 by baptism, 19 by transfer, and 18 by restoration—total 247. Our losses by death have been 56 and by expulsion 202—total 258. Too often the joy of welcoming the new members has been marred by the cutting off of some who have fallen away from their allegiance to the Saviour. But this year has been one of sifting, and the check on increasing membership will have a salutary effect on the Church members.

The District.

“The work has been well maintained throughout the district, and new work has been begun or old revived in twenty-six towns. Our 223 outposts demand that one in five of our male members be actively engaged in Christian work as teachers and evangelist, and we bless God for the responsive hearts of those who attempt this service for Jesus' sake. It is largely through them that the Gospel story has been told throughout our district.

Gifts.

“The Government tax of 12 francs per man makes it harder for our members, yet the Church has contributed £237 7s. 2d. during the year, and this sum has gone to the support of eighty-nine evangelists. As our Annual Meeting drew near we were somewhat troubled at the prospect of a £28 deficit, but gifts came in thick and fast and we came to the Annual Church Meeting with a simple debt of £8, which was soon converted into a balance in hand of over £2, plus promises for £4 more.

New Chapels.

“Brick chapels have been erected at the outposts of Luzizila, Masangi, Kinsende and Mputu, the labour and expenses in each case being contributed by the local Christians. The station work in all its branches has been maintained, and though there have been but three men on the field, we have been able to make the usual itinerations and visit each part of the district twice during the year.

The School.

“We have had 180 boarders in the school. To clothe, feed and educate such a large number of young people involves much work, but some of the lads have who just left us give promise of doing useful work and have gone with the determination to serve Christ in their towns. During the dry season our boys were engaged in brick making, and the construction of a necessary store for Mr. Exell's house, and a new wing to the ladies' house, has given a number of them practice in building and carpentry that should be of service to them in the future.”

“We thank God for another year of service, and as we think of the hundreds of scholars in our schools and the thousands who gather at our Sunday services, our hearts are thrilled with the possibilities of the opening year."

In a separate report of the school work, Mr. Exell writes that during the year 48 new scholars were enrolled, but 108 left or were dismissed from the Station, showing a total reduction of 60 scholars. Of the 108 who left, 38 passed from the first class during the year, 15 of whom have served as teachers for periods of 3 to 18 months. "We rejoice in the admission of 22 of these first class boys into Church Fellowship, and hope that their return to the towns or to other work will result in faithful witness for their Saviour and His power in their own lives.

"The restriction to a definite total of 150 boys, in addition to as many girls as we can get, has caused great competition for entrance, and at Christmas we had a rush of 40 boys from one district alone to fill 7 vacancies allotted to that district. When applications come from heathen towns or towns where we have only just gained an entrance, it is heartrending to refuse; and yet this must be done if we are to reduce expenditure on our work. The work of God suffers because his stewards withhold the means.

"The numbers remaining in the school at the close of the year are 158, to be increased by twenty-five awaiting enrolment."

Women's Work.

The report on Women's work at Wathen is prepared by Miss Shead, who writes: "We are sorry to report that we have not so many girls in our school as last year. Some have left and gone back to their towns, having been with us three years, but we trust they have gone to witness for Jesus Christ.

"Besides the School work, we have an Enquirers' Class for our girls every week: one for the senior girls, which Mrs. Frame takes, and one for the juniors, taken by Nurse Jackson and myself. Some of them appear to be very anxious to know more about God's word.

"Our C. E. meeting, held every Thursday meeting, seems quite a success. All the station children attend this meeting, and really take part well in each meeting.

"A women's school is held every day—taken by Mrs. Frame—and a Bible Class on Sunday afternoon taken by myself.

"I mentioned in last year's report that I was looking forward to going into some of the near towns to reach some of the women who do not come to us. During the past year I have had much joy in visiting some of these villages, and I feel sure God has blessed this effort. The people seem most anxious to learn to read, and they listen most attentively to the Gospel message. I should be glad if the friends at home would pray very especially for this effort, that the people may be willing to give up their old customs and accept the Lord Christ."

KIBOKOLO.

Long one of our most unfruitful centres on the Congo, KIBOKOLO has lately given promise and much more than promise. "Although we close the year with exactly the same number of members on the church roll," writes Mr. Lewis, "we have all felt that the work has never before been in such a hopeful condition. One of our members died a few months ago, and we have just baptized a young man, who has proved himself a faithful follower of Jesus for some time. He is a lad who came to me about five years ago, and has been with me ever since, and is one of the most reliable and helpful boys I have ever had in my care. He will be a great assistance to the small company of evangelists in Zomboland.

Itineration Work.

"In spite of the fact that we have been only two missionaries on the Station most of the time, we have done more outside work in the district than ever before. Mr. and Mrs. Hooper especially have given much of their time in visiting to the South and South-West. The reception we have received in all the places visited has been most cordial, and in many instances enthusiastic. Never before have we had so many invitations to go and teach the people the Word of God. How different from former days! I went on a trip through Nkusu to Ndamba country last October, and not once was I attacked. Eight years ago we met with quite a different reception—then they met us outside their towns with guns and knives. The fact is that our names are now well-known far and wide, and as soon as they find out we are 'white men of God' from Kibokolo, there is a warm welcome. Lately we have received several requests from hitherto unreached districts for us to come to them.

The First Sub-Station.

"The chief event of the year has been the establishment of our first proper Sub-station at Kinfut, a district comprising about twenty villages in the Nkusu country. The people at their own expense have built a school-chapel, and also a substantial grass house for the white men to reside in when visiting the district. Some years ago (thirteen years) the chief of this district sent his son to our School at Kibokolo, and later he sent a young girl who was to become his wife. These are the two who have now returned married to their native place and are accredited teachers supported by our little church of eight members—including themselves. There is a Day School with an average of 30 scholars, and at the Sunday Services they have about 150 or 200.

The Station Day School.

"The most important station work is our Day School. We have received a number of new boarders from distant towns, and we begin the New Year with a boarding establishment of seventy-two boys, and eleven girls. Mr. and Mrs. Hooper had charge of the Day School on the boys' side for the first part of the year, while Mrs. Lewis teaches the girls and women. It is a heavy strain on them, for native helpers are not many, and Zombo boys and also women are exceptionally wild. But it is most gratifying to note the great change in behaviour and order on the part of the children. Mr. and Mrs. Beale are now in charge of the School and are putting much heart and energy into it, while my wife keeps on her part with the women. There has been a great change in many of the lads lately, and about twenty of them have expressed a desire to follow Christ. Some of them are young, and perhaps do not quite understand the whole meaning yet, so none of them have been baptized. We give them special Bible teaching in a weekly class, and if we see proof of their sincerity we hope next year to receive some into the Church.

Medical Work.

“Dispensary patients are not so numerous as in previous years. We have become stricter in the matter of asking a small fee, and those who came for the sake of getting ‘something for nothing’ have ‘recovered their health.’ But we have done much more medical work in the villages during itineration than ever before. This, however, does not appear in the returns.

“Classes have been held as usual for advanced lads, and Mrs. Beale has a good women’s class every Sabbath afternoon.

“At Kibokolo we have tilled the ground often with tears, and also planted—now we see the growth of the trees, and the blossoms give forth agreeable perfume, and there is a prospect of a glorious gathering of ripe fruits.”

SAN SALVADOR.

The disturbances in the San Salvador district are now known all over the civilized world, and it was to be expected that they would find some place in the Station Report.

“It is only possible for me to give a brief and incomplete account of this last year’s work here,” writes Mr. Bowskill. “I am writing this while the country from end to end is in a great ferment; with rumours of war in the air, and with fears in many hearts that a great storm may soon burst, bringing devastation in its train. For a long time the natives bore patiently the horrible persecutions inflicted on them by certain Government officials, but when their own native king joined hands with these officials against them, they could stand it no longer, and rose in rebellion.”

Results of Under-staffing.

“For the first part of this year this station was so pitifully under-staffed that the greater part of the work had to take care of itself. And with the inevitable result—a serious decline all around. On my arrival here in June, I found I had a task before me which made me quail with fear.

And ever since then I have been striving early and late to pull things around, and I have by no means succeeded yet. Had this war trouble not come, I had hopes of seeing matters restored to their former prosperous state ere many months passed, but now these hopes are far from strong. Nevertheless I cannot write a gloomy report: there have been continually signs that God is working in our midst; the fact that 111 people were baptized is surely enough to make our hearts full of gratitude to God. It is a small number compared with what we anticipated, but it would be reckoned almost a miracle if it happened in a church in England."

Enthusiastic Giving.

"And then there is the matter of our Church debt. All our Native teachers are supported by the monthly subscriptions of our church members. I found a debt of a thousand francs when I arrived. I sent for all our teachers and asked them what they could suggest that this debt might be wiped off. They themselves proposed that they should each forego two months' salary and so lighten the burden for the current year. They also said that if any debt remained at the end of the year, they would take no salary till it disappeared. I can assure you, my heart welled up with thankfulness when I heard this generous and hearty proposal. And they carried it out."

"The heavy building operations—hospital and medical buildings—which have so handicapped us for the last few years, are almost completed, and now that our staff is numerically what it ought always to be, we are hoping to see great things done during the coming year. We have no cause for despondency; weeds grew because there was no one to do the hoeing; the flock got scattered and torn by wild beasts because of the insufficiency of shepherds. The harvest was poor because the sowing was scanty. We hope to remedy these things now, and by God's help we will. And I trust that this time next year, when I sit down to write the report of the year, I may have to chronicle a season of glorious progress, a year full of the blessing and favour of our Lord."

KINSHASA.

KINSHASA is now one of the five townships of the Congo, and surveyors are at work laying out avenues and roads. Close to our station is being built one of the biggest wireless installations on this coast of Africa. It is well on the way, and already the missionaries can send wireless messages to Bopoto, Yalamba, and Yakusa via the State stations near these places. "The telephone is coming," writes Mr. Howell, "and we can now, by going to the Post Office, talk to Mr. Ross Phillips in his office at Matadi."

The Mission at Kinshasa, however, has had an unfortunate experience during the year, and for the first time shows a decrease in membership. A Christian chief, having become afflicted with sleep-sickness, lost his faith in Christ and turned to the witch doctor for help.

“He put up fetishes, and made his people follow in his steps, and so to-day here we are with reduced numbers and sorrow in our hearts. He lies at the gate of death, mad, but not lost, and we hope to hear that ere he passes there may be a gleam of light to cheer us and the few who are troubled about it in the villages.

“There is yet one other prominent question—the needs of this growing place. We shall have to change our methods, may be, to meet these new needs. We pray for grace and gumption to go ahead, and go ahead in the right way. We are confident of success. God is in the battle, and the victory is sure.”

UPPER CONGO. UPOTO.

“Unusual days,” writes Mr. Kenred Smith, “have brought brightness and hope into an uneventful and ordinary year at Upoto. One such day was the Anniversary Day of the opening of the Upoto Church. That occasion was marked by a crowded congregation and a collection amounting to over £17. Another such day was the day when our new colleague, Rev. W. D. Reynolds, B.A., B.D., was welcomed at Upoto; and other such days have been the days when men and women, youths and maidens, have openly confessed Christ by baptism in the waters of the River Congo.

The Church.

“Forty-six candidates have been baptized during the year, but a large number of suspensions and erasures from the Church roll has reduced the total of our Church members in good standing. Quite a number of young men have been led astray by palm-wine drinking. The prevailing passion for palm wine has perhaps, increased since secret and illicit stills for the manufacture of palm wine spirit were introduced into the district. Although Government Officials took prompt measures to stop the output, the taste for alcohol seems to have increased, and has become a serious menace to many of our Church members.

Women's Work and Medical.

“Good progress has been going forward in the work amongst the women of the district by the wives of the missionaries. Over 9,000 attendances at the Dispensary, five white men (Traders and Government Officials) receiving medical attention, and nursing on the Station, with the usual amount of maternity work and minor surgical operations, has meant a good year of Medical work ; while gifts of over £20 for medicine and attention, has proved that some patients, at least, have been grateful for help and healing.

“ The School work amongst the boys and the women and girls, carried on by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Forfeitt, is in their absence being energetically done by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Marker, while the workmen of the Station have also received instruction during the year.

The “ Grenfell.”

“ Owing to a number of reasons outside our control we have only had the S.S. Grenfell for one term of five weeks, but during that time Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Forfeitt made an Evangelistic tour up the Mongala river, and Mr. and Mrs. Marker up the Itimbiri river. One inland Itineration to Ngwenjali was made by Mr. and Mrs. Marker, and another by Mr. W. L. Forfeitt.

The Children.

“ A successful Service for Children has been held during the year, and the splendid attendances week by week shews how much the little ones appreciate their own service.

Literary Work.

“ Spare hours, and even rest hours, have been given by the missionaries to Translation work, and the first whole translation of the New Testament into the Lingombe language has been accomplished. A good deal of the work needs revision, but with thankful hearts your missionaries record this stage in the history of their Translation work.

Teachers.

“ The problem of a sufficient supply of efficient Teacher-Evangelists is ever present on the Congo. At Upoto systematic training of a number of young men is now going forward with the earnest hope that after a few years our supply of more efficient Teachers will meet some of the demands of the district.

“ The Preaching Bands have preached regularly in the surrounding villages, amongst three tribes, without opposition, and oftentimes have been heard with marked attention. Also Outpost work has been steadily carried on, and the increasing number of Church members from the surrounding villages marks out this as not the least important of all the work being done in the district.

“ There shall be an handful of corn in the earth upon the top of the mountains, the fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon.”

BOLOBO.

BOLOBO has had no less than five of the staff away on furlough for the whole or part of the year, and it is a matter for great thankfulness that in spite of this we can report steady progress of the work in nearly every one of its many branches.

“Of baptisms there have been 216, less than last year owing to a slight decrease in the number from the immediate neighbourhood of the Station. In the Lake Leopold II. district the total was greater even than last year, which we thought was exceptional. Monies collected from the members shew an increase, amounting to £122 3s. 4d., with an additional sum of £15 3s. at Lukolela. But the reserve fund has been largely drawn upon, in fact almost exhausted, the total expended on outpost work being £152 2s. 1d. This has meant nearly doubling the number of evangelists supported by the church, there being now forty-seven. The presence in the region of the Lake of a large Roman Catholic Mission has stimulated our members there, some of the evangelists consenting to a reduction of their small allowances by one-third to make an increase of their number possible! So we close the year with a total of 707 in membership, after a thorough revision of the roll. This does not include the members (68) at Lukolela.

The Schools.

“School work has been well maintained since the departure of Mrs. Clark by Mrs. Stonelake, and later by Miss de Hailes, assisted by our new workers, Miss Wilson and Miss Hickson. Our boarding school on the Station continues a most important feature of the educational work. Boys come to us from distances varying from 20 to 150 miles away, and after two or three years return to their homes, many of them with a saving knowledge of Christ. This is to a considerable extent the reason for our success in the Lake Leopold II. district.

Industrial Work.

“Industrial training has occupied, as usual, a large position. Brick-making, bricklaying, carpentering, printing, bookbinding, painting, etc., etc., have been carried on without intermission. All the building and repairs are executed by the lads, no men from the coast being necessary. The lads are now engaged on a new carpenters' shop, the old (temporary?) one having done service since 1895.

Literary Work and Printing.

“In translation work we have made a beginning by the publication of the Old Testament, the book of Genesis having been issued in conjunction with our friends of the American Baptist Mission at Tshumbiri. The Bolobo Press has had a busy year, employing a staff of twelve. Besides the usual school readers and other books, we have issued quarterly the Congo Mission News, for the Conference of Protestant Congo Missionaries, and the Congo News Letter, for the American Mission. Work in hand now includes the ‘Acts’ for Bopoto, a revised edition of Mr. Stapleton's Bangala grammar and dictionary, and ‘The Days of the Prophets,’ a book in our Bobangi language which will complete the Old Testament History. In connection with the Press, the sales of books and stationery have been large, and our stall on the beach, for the crews of passing steamers, evidently meets a great need. The number of men teaching one another to read and write on Government and trading steamers must be very large.

Lukolela.

"Lukolela has been visited several times, Miss de Hailes spending some six or seven weeks there during the year. We much regret that the fewness of our numbers during the year has prevented our giving adequate attention to the work there.

Medical.

"Although the Medical work here will be dealt with in the report of the Medical Auxiliary, we feel it should also have a place in this report. The presence of the Liverpool Hospital on the Station is no doubt exerting a great influence for good in the district. Dr. Girling, assisted by his indefatigable wife, has had a busy year, the accommodation provided being taxed again and again to the utmost. Dr. Girling takes a full share in the Station services, and is, besides, responsible for one of the large classes for enquirers.

Services.

"It goes without saying that the services have been held regularly. These are the work of the station. Alas that stress of other work often prevents proper preparation.

"Meetings for girls and women are held regularly, and are now better accommodated in the re-constructed 'Melbourne Hall.' And, of course, the ladies have been busy throughout the year in the training of the girls attached to their households.

"Plans and specifications for the roof of our new church are now in the builders' hands and we trust the coming year will see, if not its completion, very substantial progress in the erection of this very necessary building."

"Have I not shown," concludes Mr. Scrivener, "that we have abundant cause for gratitude? May God help us to 'attempt great things,' relying on our 'great resources' in Him."

YAKUSU.

"In the main this has been a year of good things," writes Mr. Millman. "The staff has been kept complete without any break-downs; the evangelistic steamer Grenfell has lent us its aid, and there has been a gratifying increase of Church membership. During the year there have been added to the Church by baptism 221 members, the largest number in any one year since the first baptism in 1902. Most of these have been awaiting acceptance for two or three years. Last year Mr. Wilford reported that there were over 400 applicants for baptism still on the books, and the number of examinations recorded this year for admission to Church membership exceeds 500.

The total number of members on the roll is now 671. These live in 70 different villages in a district 100 miles long and 20 miles wide. Owing to deaths and to other causes the actual advance is 201.

Gain by the "Grenfell."

"The full staff, and the coming of the Grenfell, made it possible to examine the applicants in their own towns, which is manifestly a great advantage. Then, too, the ceremony of baptizing the candidates before their own townfolk and relatives was of more value than if performed at Yakusu.

School Work.

"The school work in the villages, though a little better than last year, is not yet very encouraging. The present improvement is due to the Grenfell's visits, but it has not yet been possible to keep the new steamer long enough in the Yakusu district to enable us to exercise efficient oversight over schools as well as Churches, let alone the evangelising of villages where there are neither schools nor Churches. Although it has not been to us all the help we hoped and still expect, yet by its aid the itineration has been done better than ever before, and both schools and Churches are already feeling the benefit.

The Bamanga.

"The Bamanga folk on the North, whose school teachers were withdrawn some four years ago owing to the failure of the Native Church to provide the needful funds, have recommenced the work. Altogether there are now 79 out-schools at work and there are, besides, a score of other villages where work is carried on in a more or less regular fashion by occasional visitors. The numbers actually examined by missionaries on itineration reach nearly 3,000.

"The Roman Catholics are planting native teachers about where they can, side by side with ours, on the ground that, having a choice, more may be suited, with the result that disaffected ones try to play one off against the other either to get a chaplet to wear or to avoid our rules of regular contributions for the support of native evangelists and teachers."

Finance.

"The money subscribed by the Church members for this year is £42, which has sufficed to pay all demands, and there is no Church debt. The helpers in the schools are all voluntary workers, and the Evangelists agree to be satisfied with what the Church can give.

Training Institute.

"The Institute is at present unused, though Mr. Wilford has managed to have it in session two or three months during the year in what time could be spared from the other work. Since my return I have not yet been able to re-open it while the other missionaries have been away on the Grenfell, but I hope, after completing what remains of district visitation, to be back in February and settle down to that for which there is no greater need just now in all our work.

Medical Work.

“The Hospital is still only a hospital-dispensary, and Miss Gee, who came here expecting to be fully occupied as a doctor’s adjutant in a sick ward, has had to be content with what honours she could attain as chief apothecary. God has blessed her and she has had some wonderful successes. Moreover, the principle of paying for medicines has been irrevocably established.

Station Schools and Women’s Work.

“The Yakusu Station School for boys has been in Mr. Pugh’s hands. The daily attendance is about a hundred. The Girls’ School of about sixty is under the direction of Miss James, and the Women’s classes have been taken by Mrs. Wilford and Mrs. Pugh. The C.E. is prospering and the Enquirers’ Class under Mr. Pugh is bearing good fruit, but the Members’ prayer meeting leaves much to be desired. Pray God He will increase the love of united prayer. The Sunday School for juniors, that was started some years ago by Mr. Wilford and closed by him last year while the staff was so small, has been re-opened and continued throughout this year by the unmarried lady missionaries. It has been held in the Hospital waiting room.

The Staff.

“The staff during this year has been a bigger one than before, and as the younger members acquire the language, we are becoming as a body more efficient. Now Mr. Mill has gone on furlough, and two out of three ladies are getting married, and it seems also as if the claims of forward work are such that others of our number will be moving on later. With these changes in view we cannot pre-arrange much for the coming year. But it has always been so, and God’s mercies have been new every morning.”

WAYIKA.

“It is still the day of planning and pioneering at WAYIKA. During the year,” writes Mr. Whitehead, “we had an increase in the number of workmen, which has enabled us to proceed more rapidly with the settlement of the station. This increase also demanded more supervision direct from the missionaries themselves, and the teaching which the men required occasioned for their teachers a very considerable amount of manual labour. This supervision and teaching in manual labour has been so paramount that the visitation to the villages on the river and inland has had to be neglected for the present. But, of course, as soon as the necessity is over we shall, with joy, begin our itinerations."

Progress Made.

"The first house is nearing completion, and the bungalow has got as far as the floor. The fine steel boat which has been sent out to us is nearing completion; the men selected for the riveting were troublesome at first, but by the time a third of it was done they were getting into line. Our great difficulty in teaching this type of men is their utter denial of their responsibility for their actions, and you cannot put them on the right track while they blame somebody else, the tool, the substance they work on, the sun, the rain, the heat, the cold, anything but themselves. But immediately they yield the point and acknowledge their own error, it is easy teaching, and things are progressing in this line."

Work at Hand.

"But while the missionaries have not been able to do visiting, the nearer places have not been without attention. The young man whom we took from Mabondo has done a good work here in the weekly round of visits he has been able to pay. Generally fortified with a picture, he has gone forth sowing the seed of the kingdom in his humble way. He was not a brilliant lad but he was faithful, and his Christian life alone was enough to convert a tribe. We were sorry to part with him when his term was up.

"The time-expired workmen of the State and others have also had visits on the Sunday from Digwoso, our Christian Capita who came with us from Yakusu, and who is doing a steady work daily. His wife has not yet got through the primer, but in spite of the many calls of her family of five, she gathers the wives of the men together daily in the afternoon for school at the site; while Mrs. Whitehead gathers the boys, and all others who will come, at the brick house where we still live, for the main school. Two good houses have been erected to house suitably the men and boys.

"We hailed the advent of Mr. Wilkerson in July with great delight, and wish him a long course of happy labour at Wayika."

Medical Work.

"Over 5,000 attendances to receive medicine have kept Mrs. Whitehead very busy most mornings, but this work is steadily growing both in extent and in its influence in securing the goodwill of the people towards the Gospel message."

ITALY.

IT gives Mr. Landels great pleasure to be able to write more cheerfully of the work in Italy than has been possible for some years past. We are still in the days of small things, but the fact that we are able to report two and a half times as many baptisms as last year, gives us good reason to hope that we are about to reap an abundant harvest. This hope is strengthened by another fact ; that at the present time in his own district the missionaries are preparing other eighteen converts for baptism.

The new distribution of our forces will, it is hoped, result in great good. The removal of Mr. Wall from Florence to Turin, while it means a loss to the former city, will be a great gain to the north ; and those of us who know Signor Rivera best, have no doubt that he will be able to carry on effectively the work in the Tuscan capital. Mr. Wall, in Turin, will have an excellent assistant in Signor Gresafi, a man full of energy and zeal, and of wide experience, who has lately been added to our staff.

“The Churches in the S. Antonino district are fortunate in having Signor Buffa as their bishop. He is highly esteemed by all who know him, for his sterling character, for his great gifts, and for his abundant zeal. The late Rev. Forbes Jackson gauged his character well when he wrote of him : ‘Signor Buffa has the character of a man who could kill two men at once, i.e., you with kindness, and himself with rendering it.’

“The removal of Signor Renzi to Genoa will strengthen that station, and we trust that he will be able, before long, to take such a hold of the work as to render possible the retirement of Signor Nardi-Greco, who is now seventy-four years of age.

“I lately visited the Churches in Florence and in the North, and everywhere was greatly cheered by the signs of the good work being done, and filled with hope for the future.”

ROME.

“The work in the Eternal City has, during the past year, been exceptionally difficult, not only on account of the opposition of the Papal Church, and of the economic condition of the people, but also, and principally, because we have been so short-handed. For a large part of the year we have been three male workers, where formerly there were six ; and of the three, one is an old man seventy-three years of age, who, in ordinary course, should have been put on to the retired list. The work has greatly suffered through the removal of Signor Buffa to the North. He was the youngest among us, and had gifts which were very valuable to the work. It is well-nigh impossible for us to supply his place.

“Notwithstanding the smallness of our staff in Rome, a large amount of work has been done. During each week, in connection with the Mission proper, some seventeen services are held, and in addition to these there are five Sunday Schools. The baptisms were only six, but at the present time in our catechumen classes there are double that number of enquirers, who before long will publicly profess Christ.

“The work in Piazza Lucina is the least encouraging and the most difficult. There are, nevertheless, signs that things are improving. The attendance at the Sunday morning worship is increasing, and in the evening we get a good attendance at the public meeting for the preaching of the Gospel. We find it, however, very difficult to get people into the week-night services. The most encouraging meeting is that for prayer on the Monday evening. There are usually about forty people present, and a true spirit of prayer is manifested among them. Suffice it to say that in the short space of an hour as many as fifteen prayers are offered to God, both men and women taking part. This meeting fills us with hope for the future.

“A good work is being done in Via Urbana. The brethren there seem to be filled with love for one another, and with zeal for the cause of Christ. This happy state of affairs is due in great part to the influence of Signor and Signora Petocchi. The latter is a great power for good, and it is largely for her sake that I am anxious to keep Signor Petocchi for as long as possible on the active staff of the Mission. He, too, works with zeal, and is much loved by the people, but the weight of seventy-three years, forty-three of which have been spent in the service of the Mission, begins to tell upon him.

“In Trastevere, too, there is much to encourage. The work there has suffered from not having a fixed evangelist in charge. For some time back I have been giving special attention to this branch of the Mission, but my many occupations have prevented me doing all I could have wished. We have now arranged for Signor Besesti to take charge there, while Signor Nagni and I manage Piazza Lucina and Via Urbana, Signor Petocchi having the pastoral care of the latter place. By this arrangement we hope to work the whole field more effectively.

“The work in the two hired halls has been carried on with energy. Via degli Equi has been under the care of Mr. and Mrs. Petocchi, who have a flourishing Sunday School of about a hundred children, and two evangelistic services during the week. Many of the most zealous members connected with the Church in Via Urbana have been gathered in this hall. In Via Cola di Rienzo the evangelistic services have been well attended, very largely by soldiers. This station has been under the charge of Signor Besesti, but, under the new arrangement, will pass into the hands of Signor Nagni.”

The Provincial Work.

“Our provincial work is carried on from six principal centres :

“1. Civitavecchia. Our brother, Ignazio Rivera, was stationed here for about a year, and enjoyed much blessing. Seven baptisms were the visible results of his labours. On his removal to Florence, his place has been taken by Signor Vittorio Bertrando.

“2. Tivoli. Signor Dal Canto, formerly of Rome, is now living here in semi-retirement. There are few members connected with the Church, but he has a flourishing Sunday School, with sixty-eight on the roll, of whom fifty attend regularly. In addition to the sixty-eight, numbers of other children come occasionally.

"3. Terni. I have been much pleased with what I have seen of the work here. Signor Pasella and his wife are full of zeal, and have gained the respect and affection of the whole district. The beautiful little hall is a credit to the Mission, and the services are well attended. There are five converts who will be baptised in the course of a few weeks. Mrs. Pasella, who is a fully-certificated teacher, has had a day school which has been well attended, and has proved a useful auxiliary to the work of the Church. Signor Pasella regularly visits a large number of out-stations, in several of which we have groups of believers.

"4. S. Benedetto. This station has suffered through the removal of Signor and Signora Besesti, whose methods, excellent in themselves, could not be altogether adopted by those who followed them. Signor Bottazzi and his wife have had, therefore, a trying time, but they seem to be getting over their difficulties, and are looking forward to a period of blessing.

"5. Montenerodomo is very out-of-the-way, placed on the top of a high hill, at an elevation of between three and four thousand feet. Signor Re and his wife have to lead a hard life. They are full of zeal and of good works, and have had the joy of seeing some fruit to their labours. Arrangements were lately made for the baptism of three new converts, but, unfortunately two of the candidates, at the last moment, were prevented from coming. This was all the more disappointing, owing to the fact that there is no water in the town, and that all that is needed to fill the baptistery has to be carried up on mules' backs. Signor Re regularly visits a number of places where there are groups of believers, or where there are those who are interested in the Gospel.

"6. Pescara. In Pescara, on the shore of the Adriatic, we have a small Church which has, nearer than any in connection with our Mission, reached the point of becoming independent and self-supporting. The pastor, Signor Giuseppe Motti, has a small pension, and gives his services free of all charge. He lately had the joy of baptising three new converts. All that the Society contributes towards the support of this station is fifteen francs a month (£7 4s. per annum) for a part of the rent."

Christian Endeavour.

"In connection with our Churches in Rome, a Society of Christian Endeavour was formed some time ago under the presidency of my son Reynold. We have already fifty members connected with it, and they are full of zeal and of earnest desire to do something for the cause of Christ. The Society meets once a week, alternately in Piazza Lucina and Via Urbana, and its good influence is being felt in both places."

Future Policy.

"I feel that the time has now come in which steps ought to be taken to render at least our provincial Churches independent and self-supporting. The much harder problem of the city Churches will be dealt with later on. In the meantime I am working out a plan for the provinces which I think ought to be effective, and which, after being discussed at our next Missionaries' Conference, will be sent on to London for the approval of the Home Committee. This is a question about which I have felt very strongly for many years past; but until the present I have never been free to take action, except in the case of the Churches in the Susa Valley, which, by the grace of God, have very nearly approached the ideal."

BRITTANY.

"I am glad to say," writes Mr. Jenkins, "that, despite difficulties and shortcomings during 1913, it has been a period of steady work and progress, and of cheerful and brotherly co-operation between all the workers in the Mission. The general condition of the country is encouraging, for education is spreading rapidly among the lower classes, through the national schools. The rural population is becoming more prosperous, and consequently more independent, whilst the social and moral problems, which are to the front, exercise the thought and mind of the people. All this is favourable to the Gospel, and detrimental to a religion of blind obedience to one man, like that of the Church of Rome."

MORLAIX.

"In Morlaix the French services have been continued on the Sabbath, and have been attended with praiseworthy regularity by our French friends, who, though belonging to different classes of society, keep well knit together by the bond of the same Spirit. A few Roman Catholics also follow our services, and reckon themselves as belonging to the body of believers. We have lost some good friends by death, and others by removals to other centres. One of the former was a lady friend who formerly was a Roman Catholic like her husband, but they both left the Church of Rome some years ago. On the death of her husband the widow came to Morlaix, and took a great interest in our work. Her death was a great loss, and so was the removal to another town of the engineer of the Government tobacco factory, who was a Protestant like his wife, and never failed to attend our place of worship. Their place has, however, been supplied since by two lady professors of the young girls' college. The Bible Class and the small Sunday School for the younger children have been kept up by myself and my wife through the year.

"The Breton meetings at the Madeleine, a suburb of our town, have been encouraging, both as to the number and the standing of the congregation. The Clergy close their eyes when the people spend the Sabbath in drinking or dancing, but if any come to our meetings they are immediately on the warpath. People are, however, getting bolder, and resist if once they have felt the power of the truth. An aged woman who lived at the Madeleine, and had for a long time past been a regular attendant of the Breton meetings, died. When she was on her death-bed some neighbours suggested that a priest might be called in, but the old woman firmly refused, and as her family was well aware of her sentiments, I was asked to hold a meeting on the watch-night, and to perform the funeral on the next day.

“The work on the sea-coast, at Primel, has occupied a good deal of my time and attention, owing to the persistent efforts of the parish priest. This man has built a chapel and a Primary School in the place, hoping to destroy our work, and shows himself unscrupulous in the means he uses to draw away the children from our Infant School. He has only been partly successful in his efforts. The meetings, if not quite so well attended, are followed by those who are most intelligent and interesting from a religious point of view, whilst our teacher, Miss Oria, has been able to keep together her twenty-four pupils. On the other hand, Miss Oria is strongly of opinion that it is necessary that the Infant School be changed into a Primary School. The reason is that the children cannot remain in an Infant School beyond the age of seven, when they must pass into a Primary School, and the consequence is that they must either go to the National School, which is far off, or to the Roman Catholic School, close by, and either way are lost to our influence. I wish the Committee could see its way to grant us the means of carrying out such a plan.

“The Sunday School numbers thirty-five boys and girls, who meet on the Sunday morning. The Misses Jenkins give the work their support in every way they can, by visits to the people and to the sick.

“We had the pleasure of securing last year the service of Mr. and Mrs. Rousseau to take the direction of the Guilly School, and they entered upon their duties after the summer holidays. About Christmas-time, however, we had the sorrow of losing Mrs. Rousseau, who died after a few days' illness. Mr. Rousseau writes that he has seventy-one pupils (boys and girls) in the School, and that during the few months he has been at the Guilly their progress with regard to School work, cleanliness, and behaviour has been satisfactory. The number of Sunday School children is thirty-five.

“The Breton services have been carried on at the Guilly School on Sunday evenings by our friend Collober, and have been generally well attended.

“The work at Lanneanou, under the care of Mr. Collober, has been carried on, on the Sabbath, as usual, and the attendance has been good. On week days the meetings have been held in three different hamlets, at regular intervals, and as far as opportunities have presented themselves, in several homesteads between Lanneanou and the Guilly. The effect of these meetings cannot easily be gauged by our standard of conversion, but they are certainly effective in spreading the knowledge of saving truth. The parish priest has ceased to speak publicly against Protestants, knowing that such conduct would not meet with general approval.

“Our sister, Jeanne Yvonne André, after an absence of several months at the Guilly, returned last October to Le Cloître, and resumed her duties there as a Biblewoman. The meetings have continued through the winter. I cannot say that the attendance has been what we could have wished; but our experience is that it takes more time to form a congregation in a village than in a hamlet, and the cause is simply that in every village you find three men whose interest is to keep things as they ever were—the priest, the publican, and the rich farmer, who is generally the mayor of the village, whilst in the hamlet these three friends are rarely to be found together. We have, however, some faithful and interesting friends at Le Cloître, who come despite all difficulties, so that we are bound to go on hoping that things will improve.

“ Our brother David pursues his work at La Feuillie and Kellercun. He meets with scant encouragement at La Feuillie, owing to the indifference of the people and the influence of the vicar and his curate, so that he has several times suggested the desirability of making Huelgoat his centre instead. This plan would offer some advantages, no doubt, but the drawback is that Kellercun would in that case receive scantier attention, being eight or ten miles from his residence. I hardly think, therefore, that this plan is to be recommended for the present.

“ At Kellercun things are encouraging. The meetings are well attended, and the people accessible and interesting. Our friend Hervet, the aged colporteur, and his wife, are a great help to the work there, as they visit the people and are ever ready to give them a hand at any time they need it. Mr. David has occasionally preached in different hamlets about Lafeuillie, but has not, as yet, succeeded in getting a permanent footing in these places.

“ Mr. Hammer Jenkins is getting on with the languages, and more especially with the French, in which he is sufficiently skilled to hold conversations; but it will take some time yet before he is in a position to undertake public speaking with ease. He visits Roscoff once a week, and gives religious instruction to the children of a Protestant family there, and tries at the same time to get acquainted with the Roscoff people with a view to future effort in that part of Brittany. He goes once a week to Primel to teach the school-children to sing by the tonic sol-fa system, and he also accompanies me in my visits to the rural districts.

“ Our colporteur Norvan has kept at his work through the whole year, selling the Scriptures and giving his help when needed for the meetings in the country.”

THE ARTHINGTON FUND

INDIA

CHITTAGONG HILL TRACTS.

Population, 153,830 (1911 Census). Tribes—Maghs, Chackmas, Tipperas, Mroongs, Mroos, Khyengs, etc. Religion—101,177 Buddhists, 14,239 Hindus, 5,098 Mohammedans, 33,144 Animists, 172 Christians.

Our work in the Chittagong is now arranged in two districts, Chandraghona being in the care of the Rev. P. H. Jones and the Rangamati centre being in charge of the Rev. George Hughes, who has now resumed his old work after a period of absence. The Hospital work at Chandraghona is superintended by Dr. G. O. Teichmann, whose report appears in the medical section of this volume.

CHANDRAGHONA.

Mr. Jones writes: "The chief thing we aim is that Chandraghona shall be a strong station from which centre the work can spread as quickly as thorough organization can be built up. The foundation of all village work must be the village school, but such schools can only be founded as teachers are supplied by the Chandraghona Boarding School.

Chandraghona Church.

"The Church is managed by the Indian Staff with R. L. Biswas, the Hospital Assistant, as Pastor. There is an attendance of about sixty at the Sunday evening service and half that number at the Tuesday prayer meeting.

Christian Endeavour.

"The Christian Endeavour has been divided into four classes—for women, children, active workers, and illiterates—as it was found that in the general meeting only the staff took any real part, and the subjects they cared to discuss were not suitable for the others. The Children's Endeavour has been a great success. The children both arrange and conduct the meetings themselves, and they take much greater care in preparing the subjects than the seniors. This meeting has been quite a revelation to us, and is one of the most encouraging features of the year's work. In their own meetings we are surprised at the confident way that it is taken for granted that Christianity is the one true religion, and impressed by the fervent prayers that are offered for the conversion of their own tribes and that they themselves may have the grace to engage in this work.

Boarding School.

"The number of girls increased from six to twelve, which enables us to start next term with a Bengali lady teacher in charge. The boys number sixteen. A Magh boy, who went from the old Rangamati School to Serampore, has returned here as Schoolmaster, another of our boys is in the Government training class for teachers at Rangamati, and one of our girls is being trained, with the approval of the Director of Public Instruction, in our own school. We have at last arrived at the point where we can confidently expect to turn out regularly one or two trained teachers every year, and thus push out our organized work into the district. To begin teaching children the alphabet in order to get trained teachers is a slow but very sure process, and directly one or two get through there is a larger number in each lower class ever following on. One is tempted to dream of the way this will change the conditions of our work during the next ten years. As usual, all our boarders were sent in for the Sunday School Union Examination, and with one exception all passed.

District Work.

"This has consisted almost entirely of the occupation of Arachari as an out-station, with three Sunday services, a day school, and two village agricultural banks. When we have gone further afield it has been simply with a view to the occupation of Kakrachori, a day's journey further on, during the present cold weather. As we have no preachers now, touring has to be done alone until the Boarding School supplies helpers."

Language and Literature.

"In every Magh village there is some one who can read the Burmese characters. We are desirous of getting the Gospel of Mark, in Maghi, written in these characters, distributed far and wide. The translation of this Gospel and also the Sermon on the Mount will be finished by the end of the year. The Roman characters are the only ones suitable for our organized work. We have now overcome the various difficulties of representing Maghi in these characters, and this system of reading is being taught in our schools."

RANGAMATI.

Mr. Hughes writes: "It is good to be back again in our old district and at our old work. Our work in Calcutta was the same—with a difference. It was this difference we longed for. Now we have it and are glad.

Itinerating.

“When Mr. Wenger left, the itinerating season was over. We wish Mr. Wenger, who delights himself in long tours, were here to write his experience during the last cold season. He found the people everywhere very ready to listen to his message, and as usual had no difficulty in selling hundreds of Bengali Gospels and other Christian literature. Our hands, however, were filled with work from the day we took over charge.”

Famine.

“When we returned from furlough in 1905, it was to find the district in the grip of famine. We returned in April, 1913, to meet the same experience.

“This year the Government with unusual alacrity came to the people’s aid, with relief to the amount of £8,000. Its great value lay in the fact that help rendered thus early enabled the folk generally to set to and sow their seeds. But there was a submerged tenth of deeply destitute ones whose one harbour of refuge was the Mission House. The amount at our disposal was woefully small, but all the more acceptable because there was no help anywhere else. Some of our missionary friends came to our assistance to the amount of Rs.120, and with this sum many whose condition was extremely sad were encouraged to make a new start. For some three months the people came to us in crowds, and the verandah of the Mission House was thronged almost daily with hungry men who listened with commendable patience to all we had to say.”

Afterwards.

“They did not all stop coming when the treasury doors were closed against them. Some learnt the deeper hunger of the Spirit, and came again for no other reason than to hear the Gospel story told once more. The men folk of two villages, one a Chakma village of eight houses, and the other a Tipperah village of eighteen houses, declared themselves Christian. They came again and again, and have been visited several times by us. Marks of their sincerity are not lacking. These Chakma disciples went across the river to the Buddhist Temple, near the Chakma Chief’s house, and told the High Priest that they had become Christians, and would no longer be visiting him for instruction, or the temple for worship. We are specially pleased at this their boldness, for if one thing more than another has checked our work among the Chakmas, it has been a subduing fear of their own chief and a great dread of the inmates of this little Caesar’s household. We trust, now that ‘the break’ has been made, that Ramachand and his little company may be kept strong to endure, by His grace, all the future may unfold, and that we may clearly witness the advance of our cause all along the line.

“The Tipperahs, too, have offered a bold witness for Christ. Drunken and rowdy, as a tribe, especially upon festive occasions, these of ours have shown a great change in the way of abstinence from strong drink, and a general sobriety of speech and conduct. The usual sacrifices of pigs and goats and hens, etc., in times of storm and sickness, to appease the spirits oppressing them, have been withheld this year. They have duly honoured the Sabbath and have met regularly on that day for prayer and praise. After each visit to them the report has been encouraging, and their neighbours have been found willing to bear witness to this change. Both villages are known far and wide as Christian villages, and they add 177 to the number of those who name the Name of Christ."

Station Work.

"We have been enabled during this long rainy season to strengthen our work nearer home in several ways.

"A prayer meeting has been held each morning at six o'clock for the past four months. The average attendance has been fourteen. An Enquirers' Class has met on Tuesday for further instruction in the way of life. A week-night service has been kept going with only one break, and has been well attended. On Sunday mornings, for five months, Sonaram and Kamal Charan have taken a student each with them for Sunday School work in two neighbouring villages. A delightful Bible Class has been held on Sunday mornings at seven o'clock, when some eighteen students from the Government Higher English School have regularly attended. They are mostly Chakmas and Maghs. On Sunday at noon our own school is held. Last year this school reported the regular attendance of four Christian boys. In May of this year we turned this into a mixed school after the Welsh model, and all on the premises, old and young, have been persuaded to attend. The average attendance has been fifteen. At four o'clock our public service has regularly been held, and on the whole well attended. Several outsiders have come in, and inquirers from outlying villages have seen that our little folk are diligent about their Father's business, and that the praise and worship of Him in His house is a source of pleasure and profit to us all.

Baptisms.

"Mr. Wenger had the pleasure of baptizing four about the beginning of this year, and the church at its last meeting accepted the application of others for this privilege."

SOUTH LUSHAI.

South Lushai is the name given to the wild, forest-covered mountainous region, lying just within the tropics, bounded on the north by the North Lushai Hills of Assam, on the south by the Lakher Hills of Arakan, on the east by the Chin Hills of Burma, and on the west by the Chittagong Hill Tracts of East Bengal.

In March the missionaries in this district celebrated the tenth anniversary of their arrival to commence work for God under the B.M.S. Twenty years ago the name of Jesus had never been uttered by lips Lushai. God, as such, was unknown and unworshipped. In every home throughout both the northern and southern hills the Evil One held complete and undisputed sway. Darkness covered the land and gross darkness the people. Then God's clock struck the hour, and His messengers, who had been waiting three years outside the closed door, had the inestimable privilege of entering Lushailand and kindling the first spark of light to disperse the gloom of ages.

Their first message was of a Saviour from sin : but the people had no sense of sin and felt no need for such a Saviour. Then they proclaimed Jesus as the vanquisher of the Devil—as the One who had bound the “strong man” and taken away from him “all his armour wherein he trusted,” and so had made it possible for his slaves to be free. This to the Lushais was “Good News” indeed and exactly met their great need.

Mr. Lorrain writes :

Mr. Anderson's Visit.

“The year 1913 was made memorable by the visit of the Rev. Herbert Anderson, who was accompanied by Rev. L. G. Webb of Chittagong. They arrived on January 24th and left on February 10th. Every department of the work was carefully inspected and tactfully criticized or commended according to its merits.”

Church Membership.

“Ten years ago we began with a Church membership of thirteen men and women who had been baptized by the Welsh Missionaries previous to our arrival in South Lushai. Last year these had increased to 199. A solemn baptismal service was held once a year at the time of the ‘Great Gathering’ of converts, and the average number thus annually baptized was twenty-six. Throughout all those years the Christian community had been increasing six times as rapidly as the Church membership, and it became apparent that our method was at fault. We accordingly wrote to the scattered congregations of converts pointing out the necessity for all true followers of Christ to be baptized into His Name. This led to the formation of a number of catechumen classes in different villages. Soon afterwards Mr. Anderson’s visit convinced us of the necessity of holding the Lord’s Supper more frequently than we were in the habit of doing. Then the Revival brought a new accession of spiritual life into the community and with it a desire to be as closely identified with the Master as possible. The result of this has been a much larger number of converts seeking baptism, and now we have set apart the first Sunday of every month for a baptismal service on the Mission compound, which is followed in the evening by the Lord’s Supper.”

The first baptisms this year took place at the “Great Gathering” in March. Including those who were admitted into the Church then, 140 have been baptized during the last seven months. The South Lushai Church membership now stands at 348, which is an increase of 155 over last year’s figures.

Solemn Covenant.

“We have introduced into our Church this year a Solemn Covenant which all who present themselves for baptism are expected to make before the congregation. This Covenant, after declaring the candidate’s faith in Jesus as his Saviour, goes on to promise that he will, by God's help, seek in word and deed to do all in his power to glorify his Master and extend His Kingdom, systematically contribute to the funds of the Church, keep the Sabbath as a day of spiritual refreshment, worship, and Christian service, be regular in his attendance at the meetings of Believers, diligently read, or listen to the reading of the Scriptures, and never neglect the privilege of prayer.

"A printed copy of this 'Solemn Covenant' is given to each new Church member. Upon it is written his name and the date on which he was baptized. The idea is that the document shall be preserved carefully according to Lushai custom in a small bamboo cylinder, so that in times of temptation to laxity of life it may be a reminder of the day when the owner dedicated himself to God in the waters of baptism and may lead him to surrender himself anew to the Master."

Christian Community.

"To-day we are able to report a Christian Community of 2,647, scattered all over the district in 103 different villages. This is a net increase during the past twelve months of 1,103. In no previous year have we been able to record such an accession to the Christian Fold. The blessed influence of the Holy Spirit has been felt all over the field, and ever day of the year, on an average, has seen at least three women, men, or children leaving behind the bondage of Satan for the happy service of the Lord Jesus. Since the Revival began the tone of the whole country has been raised, and most of those who have joined our ranks of late have a clearer knowledge of the truths of Christianity than the older members had when they first became Christians. The only explanation which can be given is that the Holy Spirit is working in our midst and bringing to fruition the seed sown by our faithful evangelists and converts during the years which have gone."

Church Organization.

"At our last 'Great Gathering' it was felt that the time had come for an advance in church organization, and it was decided to adopt as far as possible the church government which has been found to suit the Lushais so well in the Northern Hills. It seems to be that of the Presbyterians, while the conducting of their services is much more akin to that of the Methodists.

"Our experience has taught us that the Lushais are born Methodists. No one in the early head-hunting days would have suspected that people so cruel and unfeeling as the Lushais were—and as many of them still are—could have hidden away within their hearts such a wealth of emotion. The love of God in Christ Jesus has brought this to the surface. It must find an outlet. To lead our Lushai Christians aright we shall, in the years to come, need much heavenly wisdom. We are not here to make them Eastern duplicates of Western Baptists, but to bring them to Christ and to so guide them that they shall develop along their own national lines into a strong Lushai Church of God, a living witness of the power of the Gospel to change savages into saints and head-hunters into soul-hunters. We look forward to the time when the Lushai Church shall be a happy blend of all that is best in Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist, with something added perhaps which no Western denomination can supply.

“Elders have now been elected to examine and accept candidates for baptism, and to deal with all matters connected with their own church. The Elders of the Mission Station Church form a sort of central committee, which, for the time being, will exercise a certain amount of control over all the churches. Special meetings will be held on the Mission Station in the spring and autumn on the same lines as what has hitherto been called our annual ‘Great Gathering.’ At such times the Elders from the different churches will meet to discuss matters of importance. A committee has already been formed to appoint and pay the evangelists and deal with all matters connected with the finance of the church. Six evangelists are being supported this year.”

Revival Blessings.

“Last March, after an interval of five years, a wave of Revival blessing swept over the audience. This has been followed by Pentecostal experiences both on the Mission compound and in different villages. The Holy Spirit has come upon the people and revealed to them the love of God as displayed on Calvary so vividly that they have been completely overcome by grief at the thought of their own past ingratitude, or else filled with a joy so great that it could only find expression in rapturous hymns of praise, accompanied often by clapping of hands and other signs of excessive happiness. Many of the Christians have been lifted on to a higher plane of life altogether. Some have been so completely changed that they look upon their past Christian life with amazement and declare that they were not Christians at all. Many of the boys in Mr. Savidge’s boarding school have been converted, and several of them were baptized last week. Others are still under instruction in the catechumen class.

“In the village of Dawn large numbers of young people have been wonderfully blessed. A report reaches me that nearly all the boys and girls in the village have given themselves to Jesus. Little groups of these young folks go out into the neighbouring forest in the evening to commune with God. The girls, as they help one another with their plantation weeding, find opportunity to lift up their voices in prayer and praise.

“In some places far away the Holy Spirit has been working just as wonderfully. A short time ago a man and three or four lads came in from one of our distant villages—a place so difficult of access that of late years it has only been visited once by myself and twice by the evangelists. Our visitors said that they had come to be baptized. When they were questioned by the Elders and ourselves as to their faith and experience, their answers were surprising. In that far-off village the Holy Spirit had Himself instructed them through the printed Gospels, which some of them were able to read a little, and they had given themselves unreservedly to God. They had already suffered much persecution, and declared that they were ready to die for Christ if need be. As we listened to their testimony, one of the Elders exclaimed, ‘We cannot but baptize these brothers, for not one of us, I am sure, at the time of baptism had such a clear vision of God’s love and such faith in the Saviour as they have.’ Never did Christian converts enter the waters of baptism more joyfully than did those five young fellows, and they have now gone home to witness a good confession for their Master and Lord.

Sunday Schools.

“In Lushai our Sunday Schools exist for the purpose of instructing both Christians and non-Christians in the truths of the Bible, and teaching as many as possible to read the Scriptures for themselves. We believe in winning the boys and girls for Jesus. Their fresh young hearts turn as readily to Him as does a flower to the light. But our Sunday Schools are not for boys and girls alone. We try to get as many of the Christian adults as possible to attend, and as a rule we succeed in getting the majority of them. Small rewards of soap and safety-pins are distributed every quarter for attendance. The teaching is voluntary and honorary. There has been an increase during the past three years of 63 schools and 1,718 scholars, and during the past twelve months of 21 schools and 795 scholars, so that we have now 76 schools and 2,190 scholars.

“A number of the teachers and scholars went in for the All-India S.S. Examination again this year, with the following passes: Teachers' Department, 4; Senior Department, 10; Intermediate Department, 15; Junior Department, 27; Oral Department, 18. There was only one failure—a little girl in the Oral Department. The topmost candidate in each of the first four departments mentioned won a silver medal.

Education.

“It has been very difficult to establish day-schools in the villages of South Lushai on account of the small number of boys willing to attend regularly. Up to the present the educational work has been largely concentrated upon the Mission Station, where we have a boarding school for boys with 57 pupils, and a smaller one for girls with 3 pupils, making a total of 60 boarders. Only three boys in the whole school are now non-Christian. Besides these 60 boarders we have some 24 boys coming daily from neighbouring villages to attend the classes, making a total of 84 pupils. Within a radius of about seven miles we have three village schools which we hope will be the forerunners of a much larger number before long. These schools have 17, 20 and 34 pupils respectively.

“Female education in South Lushai, however, is a problem which has yet to be solved. A Lushai girl, from the time she is about four years of age, begins to help her mother. She is constantly busy and so useful that she cannot possibly be spared to come to school. We have a girls' hostel capable of accommodating a matron and some 12 or 15 pupils; but up to the present that good woman has only 3 girls under her care.

Medical Work.

“The dispensary work has been carried on ably by Chalhiana since Mr. Savidge's departure. He reports 4,146 attendances.

Literary Work.

“A great deal of our time has been spent of late upon translation work. The Epistle to the Romans and a revised edition of the Acts of the Apostles are in the Press. The first and second Epistles to Timothy, and the Epistles of James and John, are in preparation, and will shortly be in print. A supplement to the Lushai Hymn Book has recently been printed by the new Aijal Christian Press in the North Lushai Hills, which brings the number of hymns in the Lushai language to over 400. The great increase of converts in these hills, both in the north and in the south, makes it imperative that the Lushais should be given the whole Bible in their own language, and especially that the New Testament should be completed as soon as possible. We have now in regular circulation the four Gospels, the Acts of the Apostles, and the first and second Epistles to Corinthians. To these will soon be added those portions which are either in the Press or in preparation."

KOND HILL TRACTS. UDAYAGIRI.

Udayagiri has a population of 81,730. Of these 982 are Christians. Some 40,000 are designated Hindus, and the remainder Animists.

Mr. Millman writes that the Christians in the above table are mostly Roman Catholics, and except for the workers here, and stray officials, there are no Protestants. At the next Census, however, a number of Baptists will be included.

The People.

"Attached to every Kond village there are a few Dom houses, more or less apart. These interesting people perform all sorts of menial service for the Konds. They are weavers, petty traders, and act as middlemen between a Kond and a plains-trader. They attend weddings, deaths, and sacrifices in the character of musicians. They have a wonderful propensity for thieving, and three villages quite close to us provide more criminals than all the rest of the district of Udayagiri. But our largest school taps two of these villages, and it is a remarkable fact that during the last three years crime has been on the decrease. One drink shop has been closed, and a second, from being the most highly licensed, at the last auction sales this year only brought Rs.750. We have both Dom and Kond children in the schools, and the Dom boy or girl is, in nearly every case, the apter pupil.

Educational.

"Our first school at Mallikapori, now five years old, is fully up to the standard required by the Government for a Primary School. It was inspected for the first time in September, 1912, and has received its first grant-in-aid of Rs. 300. It is equal to the highest Government school in the Hill Tracts. The great difference between the Mission school and the others is the fact that the children in the Mission school are instructed in their own tongue. All Government schools give education through the medium of a foreign speech, and the results, as far as the Konds are concerned, are very disappointing. However, this policy is being changed. Bengal has already sanctioned the teaching of the Kond language, and three readers, a primer and two arithmetics, have been prepared for use in the Kondmahal schools. The Madras side has stopped recruiting its teachers from the plains, and is encouraging Konds in every way. Some Kond boys who have passed the fourth standard in the Government schools have come to our Mission school to study their native speech, that they may eventually qualify for the posts of teachers in Kui or Kond schools.

“Again, our schools are the only Protestant Christian schools in the district. Every morning they are opened with prayer, singing, and a Bible lesson. Such influence is telling in many remarkable ways, and will tell in the future still more.

“Our schools at present number three. The oldest, now five years, has a population of 2,500 around it. Dakpala, one of our new schools, is surrounded by 3,700 people, and is four to five miles distant. Sujeli, another new school, is in the midst of 2,500 people, and is two miles away in another direction.”

Training Teachers.

“This year we were able to conduct our training classes for the two months of the rains, July and August. Mr. Evans, my wife, and I were kept busy the whole of that time with work that was a real joy to us all. Besides our own student teachers, others interested came in daily, some from villages five miles away. One young man has introduced all the hymns he has learned into the school of which he is headmaster. Some of our student-teachers are now able to give simple Bible lessons to the children, some preach in the villages and markets. Some of these have spoken to us about baptism.”

Evangelistic Work.

“Our school work and evangelistic work are very closely related. Each school is in a populous centre, and a considerable portion of the touring of January and February was done in centres around the school. Mr. Evans, accompanied by John Biswas, was most enthusiastic in this work, and had most encouraging times.

“The annual festival at Konjur was visited, and many books sold. All around this centre are populous villages, and the gospel was preached several times in them all. We rejoice that this work can receive more attention now than in the past. The markets have been more regularly visited. Here our boys and teachers have been an immense aid to Messrs. Evans and John by helping in the singing.

Building.

“Another notable event of the year is the completion of the second bungalow. Our Boarding School has still to be erected, and on the site a large portion of land has been specially reserved for the Hospital; so sure are we that the need for medical work is fully realised at home.

Medical Work.

“The sick and suffering are constantly receiving attention and relief. We praise God for what has been done around these parts to break the power of the evil one. But the skilled Christian doctor would work wonders in destroying the beliefs of these people in the efficacy of evil spirits, and would win many for the Name that is above every name to which they appeal for help."

BOLANGIR.

Bolangir is the Capital of the Patna State. The population is 408,821. For Mission purposes Bolangir is now the centre of a District comprising the above together with the population of Sonpur, 215,716, and of the Northern half of Kalahandi State, 209,701; making a total of 834,238. The Station was occupied in November, 1911.

Failure of health compelled Mr. Heberlet to return to England in March, and the Report is written by Mr. J. T. Stevens. He states that the necessary work of preparing BOLANGIR as a station has claimed constant attention, and it has been impossible to enter upon any highly organized plan of evangelistic work. Several colporteurs and Bible-women have been at work in the district and have proved one means of keeping in touch with what is at least elementary principles. On Sundays, services have been held at the bungalow for both children and adults. These services have not been largely attended, but the numbers have been satisfactory when it is recognized that the Christians living within easy reach are but a small part of the total community.

Among Schoolboys.

"In Bolangir there are excellent schools attended by some hundreds of boys of ages varying up to seventeen years. On frequent occasions many of these boys have visited me. At such times they have shown deep interest in examining and hearing explained pictures of Scriptural scenes and incidents. Several points of contact were to be found, and I was always a welcome participator in their sports, literary society's meetings, and occasionally a visitor to the schools."

This year twenty-seven persons have been baptized at Bolangir, and there are in addition some candidates awaiting baptism. The total membership is 915, the Christian community 2927, and Christian villages 115.

PADAMPUR.

Padampur is a small town of 3,108 inhabitants, but is the centre of Mission work among some 250,000 people.

In March the Rev. Gordon Wilkins and Mrs. Wilkins removed to PADAMPUR from Berhampur, arriving just as Mr. and Mrs. Dawson left. Mr. Wilkins writes :

"It has been our privilege to organise three local Churches during the year, at Carpali, Candipali, and Denglikendu respectively. In the matter of finance we have not much to boast of yet, but promises have been made, and some already fulfilled. It is certainly gratifying to find that every member of the Church is often present at the Lord's Supper."

Teacher Evangelists.

"The teacher-evangelist is a very important factor. We have thirteen of these brethren, and they are our hope and joy. They come in every "lunar" month for a few days of instruction and mutual edification. We then hear from them as to the condition of the villages where they work, and also of enquirers in other villagers. So far they are supported by Mission money, but where churches have been formed and the services of the teacher-evangelist requisitioned, the Church is paying something towards its support, and has the possibility set before it of having him entirely for its pastor when it can afford to keep him. The annual examination of these teacher-evangelists took place in May, and the results were most satisfactory."

Markets.

"All through the year we have never missed the Padampur market, which is held on a Saturday, and at first the presence of the European missionaries drew large audiences. There is a market at Lakhmara each Sunday, and Monday is the day for the Jamurla market, eight miles in the opposite direction. Palsada market is on Friday, and there the people listen well, and buy our books with some avidity. Thus it will be seen that at least on four days a week audiences can be found under more or less favourable circumstances."

Car Festival.

"There were four Jagannath Car festivals in various villages in our immediate neighbourhood. At these, some hundreds of people heard the Gospel, and we sold quite a number of books. Perhaps it was due to the fact that a new missionary was present, but, from whatever cause, it was very pleasant to find that one could get such a good hearing for the Word. During a temporary shower the curtain over the head of the god was blown down, and he was exposed to the elements, and soon exhibited a very forlorn appearance; and one of our evangelists was not slow to point out that He who sustains the heavens, and holds the canopy on high, could not be reduced to such a plight."

Baptisms.

"We have witnessed no baptisms since we came, but in Bodasambar last Christmas Day some eighteen persons, on New Year's Day three, and during July in the Phuljhar District 12, were baptised, making a total for the year of 33."

Touring.

Mr. Guest writes: "Last November, Mr. Dawson, two Evangelists and I, in the Phuljhar District, camped at four different centres, visited forty-two villages and three markets, and preached the Gospel to all comers.

It was a special joy to visit a number of remote villages. In not a few of them the Gospel was preached for the first time. One man openly confessed his faith in Jesus as his Saviour, and renounced Hinduism. The Truth had gripped him. It was a great moment to witness such a sight. We knelt down in the midst of the village, and gave thanks and commended this new convert to God. Since then he and one other have been baptised, and others are under instruction.

"In January Babu Prassanna Chuan and I made a tour in the Bodasambar District. On this tour we visited forty villages and three markets. Nearly half of the places visited were new to us. In some villages the people were afraid, and fled on seeing us coming, but they soon returned when they knew the purpose of our visit. Their simplicity and generosity were delightful. Gifts of tobacco, rice, vegetables, milk and money were offered to us, books sold like ripe cherries, and we had to send to Padampur for fresh supplies. There is a spirit of enquiry among the Gandas in many villages, and we have hopes of a large ingathering from among them.

Book Sales.

"During the year the book sales have gone up by leaps and bounds. Last year the receipts were Rs.15, this year we have reached Rs. 60. This represents roughly about 2,500 books and tracts. We are now stocking Hindi books, and so can appeal to a larger community."

PHULBANI.

The Phulbani District has an area of 800 square miles. There are 1,002 villages with a population of 74,218, of whom 56,307 are Animists, 17,847 Hindus, 42 Mohammedans, and 22 Christians. Number of literate persons, 826.

Mr. Grimes writes that the first year in Phulbani has not been lacking in incidents and experiences connected with pioneering work and the opening up of a new station. As there was no other place available, the missionaries had to accommodate themselves in a large tent, with a small one for a dining room. A mud hut for servants' quarters and kitchen was also erected. "We had varied experiences in the tent, from the cold of winter (the thermometer at times registering below 40) to nearly being blown away and washed out by a heavy storm that broke one evening about 8 p.m.

Building Work.

"We have had a very strenuous time with the building work. Difficulties of various kinds soon presented themselves, one of the chief being that of labour. The people were quite indifferent to work, and even if they did come it was more to fill in time than work, so very close supervision was necessary. This condition of things, however, did not last long, for Mr. Ager's services having been kindly sanctioned he brought over labourers from Bolangir who had worked under him there. On Monday, March 17th, the first sod was turned. Busy days followed, excavating and putting in the foundations, which were completed early in April. About this time

Mr. Ager had to return to Bolangir. During his absence I went on with the construction of a temporary residence, which was completed sufficiently for us to move into by the end of May, soon after Mr. Ager's return. Up to this time we had been living under canvas. By the end of November we hope to have the building completed.

The People.

"With the continued abolition of the drink shops the condition of the people continues to improve. There is much less crime, and prosperity abounds amongst all classes. Last year all arrears in loans from Government were paid up, and this year what adverse season there has been the people have been able to meet themselves, so Government has had no need to advance any loans. The money lender's business has also diminished, new lands have been cleared and planted, and industry has taken the place of drunken brawls, quarrels and laziness. Potatoes have been introduced into the district and are likely to become largely cultivated. All this goes to prove what a real enemy of the people drink has been.

"Now that the building work will soon be off our hands we hope to get out among the people and tell out the glorious story of Jesus and His love."

CHINA.

TSINANFU.

Church and Evangelistic Work.

"The eight months of 1913 which we have spent in Tsinanfu have shown some changes which could not fail to impress one fresh from home," writes Mr. Harmon, "developments which accompanied or followed the Revolution. Social intercourse with Chinese officials and gentry has suffered something of a set-back; most of those with whom we were on terms of intimacy were of the old regime, and are now, nearly all of them, out of office and living in retirement; the new officials, while very friendly when we meet, do not seem disposed to cultivate our acquaintance very diligently.

Services.

"The congregations at the ordinary Sunday services are excellent, and we have considered several times the advisability of giving up the English church-room to the Chinese congregation; this seems, however, to be a great pity; the room is so well adapted to its purpose of holding English services, and has been so well fitted up by foreigners for that purpose, that it would be a pity to disturb it, and we rather hope for the grant of a small sum from home with which to place a small gallery in the north end of the church.

"Some of the members of the Institute staff have rendered efficient service at the preaching hall, and I am much indebted to Dr. Balme for also speaking in the hall almost every week. Dr. Balme's help in our English services has been greatly appreciated.

Girl Students.

"A very pleasant feature of our Sunday congregation is the presence of a party of Government girls students who have been gathered into a Bible class held before service by Mrs. Neal; in her absence Mrs. Balme conducted the class, and always after class the girls came into the regular service in the church."

Women's Work.

"The women's class carried on for so many years by Mrs. Whitewright has also been faithfully held, the numbers attending averaging about 30. The Girls' School, under the general superintendance of Mrs. Harmon, has done excellent work, and the session closed with 33 girls in attendance, about half of whom are boarders.

"During the year we received into the Church by baptism 34 members, and by transfer, etc., 36 others; the statistics are not in a very satisfactory condition, but the Chinese are taking charge of things and we must expect for a time some inaccuracies and looseness."

Mr. Harmon writes very cordially of the services rendered by Mr. H. R. Williamson during his stay at Tsinanfu. "He earned golden opinions from both Chinese and foreigners, and left behind him a memory of strenuous work and kindly intercourse."

The Arthington Institute and Museum.

Mr. Whitewright reports that the work of the Institute has been carried on during the year on the same lines as formerly, and it is gratifying to be able to record a large increase in the number of visitors. The most important event was the opening of the Branch Institute for Soldiers in April by H. E., the Provincial Governor, and General Chin, the military commandant, in the presence of leading officials, civil and military, and other visitors. The appreciation of the various branches of the Institute by the soldiers in their use of the Reading Room, Recreation Room, and attendance at evangelistic addresses in the Lecture Hall has been gratifying, for over 25,000 visits have been paid to the branch institute by soldiers, as well as over 10,000 visits by civilians. It is satisfactory to be able to report that General Chin and his officers have subscribed one thousand dollars towards the cost of apparatus for lantern lectures and other work, and have promised to meet the current expenses of this institute,

The Institute's Influence.

"Encouraging reports reach us from time to time of the influence of this work on visitors from a distance. One such account comes from a colleague, telling of a man who is head of the educational work of a city three days' journey away. He first came under the influence of Christianity in the Institute and is now a Christian, exercising a most beneficial influence in the schools under his charge.

"During the great annual fair, which lasts about a month, special evangelistic work was carried on with the aid of picked men, pastors and evangelists, from other parts of the field. Large numbers of people from over a wide area heard, some of them for the first time, the message of Christianity. It is estimated that of those who heard these special addresses, about 29,000 were pilgrims.

"The Lectures to students of the government schools and others have been well attended. Several of these Lectures were on Hygiene, and were listened to with marked attention.

"The new recreation room, which was started on funds outside the ordinary funds of the institute, has been greatly appreciated by the large numbers of students living in the neighbourhood for whom no wholesome provision on these lines is otherwise made. From twenty to over a hundred students and teachers of Government schools and colleges have visited this room during each day, making a total of 8,000 visits in the six months that it has been in operation. We have thus one more valuable means for getting into friendly contact with the student classes and of helping them. Incidentally, through this agency, we are able to get men to attend the Bible classes, one of which is held in this room on Sunday afternoons.

"The Bible classes give ground for encouragement. As many as a hundred students of the Government schools have been in attendance at one time.

"Work amongst women has been carried on as formerly, and there have been larger numbers of women visitors than ever before. Special lectures were arranged for women and girl students, and were well attended."

The record of visits for the year is by far the largest in the history of the Institute. Visits paid by men amounted to 282,163, and by women 39,862, making a total of 322,025.

SHANSI.

TAI CHOW.

Two main incidents mark the year 1913 at Tai Chow—the baptisms, and the arrival of the doctor so long expected. "We have every reason to be encouraged," writes Mr. Henderson Smith; "We are at the beginning of days. We expect to see miracles in the very near future, and, in fact, we have the earnest of great things in what has come to pass in 1913.

Baptisms.

“Ten men and one woman have been baptised during the year. One of the ten, Mr. Bien, is a scholar of the Old School in China, a rare Confucianist. For many years he maintained that Confucius was far superior to Jesus Christ. But Mr. Bien has come to know the Saviour, and to put his trust in Him. His testimony is excellent, and it was my great joy recently, on more than one occasion, to stand with him right upon the main street of his native town and to hear him telling of Jesus as the only Redeemer from sin! Then Mr. Lee has been a real joy to my heart many times. He first decided for Christ about two years ago, and was compelled to leave the business he was in. For some time now he has been a helper of the Church. He lives with us in the City of Tai Chow, and acts as Chapel-keeper. He is a very valuable man, can read well and preach quite acceptably, and is a man of prayer.

The Medical Colleague.

“Dr. Thomas Kirkwood has been with us now since the month of March, and I could write much concerning the high hopes that have been realised already in his being in our midst. We had hoped and prayed for a doctor for Tai Chow, and the Lord has heard us. The Hospital is now ready for opening, and soon we shall all be busy helping the doctor in his efforts to relieve men of their burdens and pains. Dr. Kirkwood is an out-and-out Evangelist, and in all his work aims at nothing less than conversion. We believe that through the Hospital 1914 will record the salvation of many souls. This is his one object, and our united prayer.

Special Efforts.

“During this winter season we have put forth special efforts of a distinctly evangelistic type. We have organised three ‘Missions’ to the three districts in which we are working, and the Gospel has been preached during these special days to 7,800 people. This work has been done chiefly in the open air, and I can confidently say that it has been the simple Gospel that has been heard. More than 6,000 Sheet Tracts have been freely distributed. Beyond the three cities that have been the centres, we have visited forty-eight villages.

An Out-Station.

“The work at Shwan Gong Jun is supported by our Tai Chow Church, and comes in no way upon the Funds of the Home Society. It has not been easy to get the money together, but this being the first year the effort has been tried, we are not disappointed. The work, at present, is made up of a small Boys’ school. Mr. Jah, who is leader in this work, bought Gospels from Mr. Dixon (who was martyred in Hsin Chou in 1900) on one of his trips up to Ning Wu Fu. Last year Mr. Jah began to hear more about the Christian religion, and he began to enquire into these things. He had kept the Gospels in his home. He is a bit of a doctor, and his medicine shop is used as the local Post-office. One day the postal runner came into his shop, and he asked him if he knew anything about the Christian faith. The postal runner happened to be Mr. Chun, one of our Tai Chow Church-members! From this time we have kept in touch with Mr. Jah, and he has himself been in here to my Bible Classes. It has been a good thing for our Tai Chow Church to begin a small work of its own in this way, and the mother Church will be all the stronger for its care of this child! Over two pounds has been collected for this cause—no small amount for our people!

SHENSI.

YENANFU.

There were no foreign missionaries resident at Yen-anfu from December, 1911, until October of this year. Mr. and Mrs. Shields arrived about the middle of October, and Mr. and Mrs. Smith in November. Mr. Smith writes:

A Reunion.

“The time was past for the usual half yearly united meeting of preachers, members and associates, yet no better opening of the Second Chapter of the Yen-anfu work could be conceived than some such gathering. Six men walked ninety English miles each way, over high mountains, to be present: twelve came sixty miles; four others thirty miles; many, including some women, twenty miles. Those from a distance were the guests of the local Church members, who bore the entire expense of their entertainment.

“The house, which three years ago we converted into a chapel by knocking down all the interior partitions, and which at the time was considered far too large for the purpose, was crowded at every service, and would have been had it been three times as large. For there are now in the Yen-anfu parish, which is about as big as Wales, not less than 200 people who have already entered the outer court, that is, who attend worship at one or other of the local centres, besides the general public, who are often well represented at our services, and who are entirely friendly.”

“On the first day twelve persons were baptized, each giving some token of love and loyalty to their New Master. Not one atom of material advantage of any kind is offered to any of these, rather the reverse. And there are others preparing for a similar step.”

“There are three out-stations. In only one of these are there baptized members, but every one of them sent contributions; and liberality is admittedly not a heathen virtue. The term ‘Rice Christian’ is accurate of them, as well as picturesque, but they give the rice, and some, too poor to give either cash, flour or rice, gave firewood. That Christianity means giving is instilled into their minds from the very first.”

“The united contributions at these meetings reached £8 10s. and this in one of the very poorest districts in the whole of China. Thus this Church, gathered in three years, already raises enough to support its own pastor, though that is not the form of expenditure they purpose adopting. A contrast irresistibly forced itself into the front of one's mind. As recently as February, 1910, the only approach to Christian worship in the whole area was when each Sunday one man with his little boy went to the small room that had been procured for worship, struck the bell a few times, knelt in prayer and departed. Now, before 1913 closes there is a Church of fifty members, whose Christian giving far exceeds that of communities many times its size.

"How did this come about? Under God it is due to the faithfulness, industry and enthusiasm of the three men who were left in charge when the missionaries were compelled to leave: Evangelists Djung and Chü, and the school teacher Hou. The Boys' School was kept together, though all Government schools collapsed; preaching and visitation were carried on; and the missionaries returned to find the work more advanced than when they left."

"We are anticipating the reopening of the girls' school shortly under the control of Mrs. Shields; while Mrs. Smith has already commenced meetings for women, and visits to their homes. Special Christian work amongst children will commence in a few weeks."

Mr. Shield's Report.

Three days after the meetings described by Mr. Smith, Mr. Shield and an evangelist started on a preaching and general inspection tour round the district, going as far north as Yü-linfu and Chian-Chou. They were on the road for twenty-four days, and returned just in time to take part in the Christmas meetings. It was their happy privilege to organize a new church.

"At Yenanfu Mr. Shields has had charge of the street preaching hall; it has been opened daily, and in the evenings magic-lantern exhibitions have brought crowds under the sound of the Gospel."

CONGO.

MABAYA.

Mr. Kirkland reports that 1913 was a year of peace and quiet in the Mabaya district. Our missionaries are able to report progress all along the line. All branches of station work have been fully maintained. The services have been well attended, and the attention given to the Word has been remarkable.

School Work.

"The School Work has been most cheering. The children have come out well day by day, and many of them have made good progress in their studies. There has been a larger number of women and girls coming to school than ever before. This is a good sign, as they are the keenest adherents of the old fetish worship and other degraded superstitions. We find that the school teaching has great influence in destroying the old faith."

Medical Work.

"Our Medical Work has been successful in helping many to health and strength, and others have been brought under the power of the Gospel for the first time by coming to be treated of their sicknesses. Sleep-sickness patients and serious cases are advised to go to the doctor at San Salvador, and many of our people are now there for treatment."

Itinerations.

"Several most interesting and profitable Itinerations have been made in different parts of our wide district. We have been very well received in most villages, and considerable interest manifested in our Message, but as yet it is all a mystery to very many. One interesting feature of the good influence of the Gospel has been the burning and destroying of fetishes in many of the adjacent villages. Our old chief led the way by burning and throwing away a lot of his stuff, and his example has been followed by many others. We rejoice at this, but earnestly pray that they may not only turn from their superstitions, but also turn to God."

Candidates.

"Quite a number of young people have professed faith in Christ, and are trying to walk in the New Way. We are giving them special teaching, and expect that some of this band will be ready to be baptized next year. If so, we look for a marked extension of our work. As our converts go about trading or visiting their friends they will bear testimony for the Saviour, and in so doing make a wonderful impression on their fellows."

Yalemba.

The workers at Yalemba have to strike the note of praise for continual blessing. Beginning the year with a staff of three, in July they welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Palmer, and in October Mr. and Mrs. Burrett; so they close the year with a staff of seven, including Mr. Davies, now on furlough. Owing to this increase the work was much easier, and they were able to make some long-promised visits to various parts of the district.

"Right through the year," writes Mr. Kirby, "our influence among the people has been felt, if attendance at services and friendly interest are any criterion. Our Sabbath services are better attended, and a greater proportion of those who attend are showing an interest in the messages we deliver. The two Yalemba chiefs very rarely miss the morning services, and their influence for good is felt in the village. A supreme joy has come to us in the conversion of some who, for several years, have been attendants at our Schools and services; notably some of the women who have had to fight against great odds in the life of a Congo village."

Statistics.

“Our Church membership now stands at fifty-eight, an increase of twenty by baptism. All our members are now pledged abstainers, not by compulsion but by the recognition of the need to abstain from what is known to be a serious cause of offence to many. We have formed a branch of the Belgian Blue Cross Society, and have secured already a good number of members. We are fortunate in having in our Church a few excellent native leaders who are exercised in all that tends to make for true discipleship.”

Schools.

“The Schools have kept up well through the year, and several of our new members are the fruit of the work of our teachers. Though we would gladly have a more efficient band of teachers if we could, we cannot but rejoice at their devotion and sincerity. Industrial work has gone on steadily, the girls of our boarding school making the clothes for all the school boys as well as for themselves. They are also kept in touch with the native methods of gardening, etc., and I am glad to say we have not had any serious trouble with them through the year. A condition of their acceptance is that they agreed to stay at the Mission for two years. By the end of that time they are able to make some use of what they have learnt. The boys, some carpenters, some printers, some bricklayers, have made good progress, and in the School they have shown an increased interest.”

Touring.

“Itineration work has been carried on all over our district. In this work we have been greatly helped by the use of the Grenfell. New ground has been worked and old places revisited. At all towns visited we have had a hearty welcome, and great interest was shown in the lantern-services.”

Medical.

“Owing to the continual daily increase in the attendance at our dispensary at the beginning of the year, we were obliged to make a rule that the dispensary would only be opened three times a week. The work entailed in daily dispensing was out of all proportion to our powers to meet it, and again we express the hope that suitable buildings and a doctor may be granted to us, so that the ministry of healing may be properly carried on.”

THE YEAR AT HOME.

THE work at home in its increasing unity has been symbolized by our flag. This has been manifested both between the churches and the Society, and between the various branches of the missionary enterprise itself. The London Baptist Missionary Union, under the chairmanship of J. A. Compton, Esq., K.C., and the Vice-Chairmanship of Miss Kemp, has justified its existence by a large increase in the London contributions. The Young People's Missionary Association, which has so well served the young people of the metropolis for sixty-five years, has been merged in the happiest way with the work of our Young People's Department, and, as a result, a new series of London Monthly Conferences has been successfully begun. And before this report is issued it may be confidently anticipated that the Baptist Zenana Mission shall have been definitely united to the B.M.S. in order that the women at home may assume the responsibility for all the women's work abroad.

Largely in the interests of this wider union the Chairman of Committee and the Foreign Secretary have during the year been on a deputation to India. At the spring meetings we not only heard their reinforced plea for that country, but the report from Jamaica, which was presented by the deputation which visited that island for the Centenary of the Mission there.

PUBLICATIONS.

The Publication Department has had an especially encouraging year. The circulation of The Herald and Wonderlands has increased, and although free literature has been issued in larger quantities, the income has been considerably in excess of last year. Special mention should be made of books published with the imprint of "The Carey Press"—the biographies of Cecil Robertson and of Stanley Jenkins, and the story of "San Salvador."

In addition to the Prayer Calendars, of which more have been sold than ever before, there is now being issued each month a series of B.M.S. Prayer Booklets which are having wide acceptance.

Deepening emphasis has been put on prayer, by the memorable answer to our intercessions for the clearance of the deficit on last year's accounts, and a new confidence in God has been begotten in many hearts. This does not mean, cannot mean, any slackening of effort. The great endeavour which the churches have been making for the Sustentation Fund is both a spur and an inspiration to the missionary enterprise, and though, for the time being, it has undoubtedly hindered the expansion of missionary contributions, its ultimate effect should be to increase them.

THE FUNDS.

The announcement that the Zenana Society and the Medical Auxiliary end the year with deficits so slight as almost to be negligible is a matter of great congratulation. The special funds for Native Preachers and for Widows and Orphans also show an encouraging increase. Gift-week produced financial results a little ahead of the previous year, but not nearly as much as we had hoped : possibly it was affected in no small degree by the other efforts in the churches, impending at the same time.

The amount which remained to be made up to balance our accounts for the year was £9,927.*

* As readers of this report are aware, this deficit was cleared off, to our great joy, within a few weeks of the close of the financial year.

CALLED TO THE COLOURS.

The number of men and women accepted for foreign service by our Society was unusually small in the year under review. The ability of the new recruits, their devotion and their equipment for their ministry, have been of a high standard; but it is a matter for wonder that the missionary call does not command a larger response from our young men and women in the home churches. Christ's banner must be planted upon every stronghold until His kingdom is won. Soldiers of the Cross are wanted, and what if the battle should fail in some place because we refused to go?

The following is the list of those accepted:

Mr. E. R. LAZARUS	of Regent's Park	for India.
„ W. C. MORTON, B.A.	„ Cardiff	„ „
„ P. N. BUSHILL, B.A.	„ Bristol	„ „
„ C. G. CARPENTER, B.A.	„ Regent's Park	„ „
„ F. S. RUSSELL	„ Midland	„ China.
„ W. P. PAILING	„ Regent's Park	„ „
„ F. S. DRAKE, B.A.	„ Regent's Park	„ „
„ C. H. JENKINS	„ London Hospital	„ Brittany.
Miss K. CLAPPEN	„ Westminster Hospital	„ Congo.
„ ROBERTS	„ London	„ Ceylon.
„ EDGHILL	„ London	„ India.

In addition to the above-named the following were appointed for special service: Dr. H. C. Gilmore, for San Salvador Hospital; Mr. A. A. G. Toone, Building Superintendent for Shansi; Mr. H. Carey Edmunds, Assistant Building Superintendent for Shantung.

The missionary ranks suffered loss by the death of one retired Missionary, Rev. Nathaniel H. Shaw, of Italy, and three married ladies—Mrs. J. W. Thomas, Mrs. Joel Lall and Mrs. S. S. Thomas, of India. Two senior Indian missionaries, Revs. J. Ellison and J. Vaughan, retired from active foreign service, and three brethren, for various reasons, had to relinquish their work in India.

PLAN AND REGULATIONS OF THE SOCIETY.

NAME.

The name by which the Society has been, and is, designated is "THE BAPTIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY," including "The Particular Baptist Missionary Society for Propagating the Gospel among the Heathen," which was formed in 1792, and "The General Baptist Missionary Society," which was formed in 1816.

OBJECT.

The great object of this Society is the diffusion of the knowledge of the religion of Jesus Christ throughout the whole world, beyond the British Isles, by the preaching of the Gospel, the translation and publication of the Holy Scriptures, and the establishment of schools.

MEMBERS.

The following persons shall be considered Members—viz., pastors of churches making an annual contribution; ministers who collect annually; and all Christian persons concurring in the objects of the Society, who are donors of ten pounds and upwards, or subscribers of ten shillings and sixpence annually to its funds.

GENERAL MEETING OF MEMBERS AND APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE.

A General Meeting of Members only shall be held annually, at which the Officers shall be chosen for the year ensuing, the Auditors of accounts appointed, and any other business pertaining to the Society transacted.

For the conduct of the affairs of the Society there shall be, irrespective of Honorary and ex-officio Members, a Committee of SEVENTY-SEVEN persons, of whom not more than eighteen shall be resident within twelve miles of Charing Cross. These shall be appointed, as to FIFTY-THREE of their number, by the direct votes of contributing churches in England, and by the Baptist Unions of Wales, Scotland, and Ireland, according to the accompanying schedule; and as to TWELVE of their number, by ballot at the General Meeting of Members held annually. The SIXTY-FIVE Members of Committee so appointed shall be empowered to fill up the number to SEVENTY-SEVEN Members, by co-optation from the list of nominations from which they were themselves elected. In addition THIRTY Members shall be elected by the Committee of the Women's Missionary Association.

The Committee shall be empowered to fill up vacancies, and shall meet by arrangement; seven Members to be deemed a quorum.

The following is the schedule showing the distribution of the FIFTY-THREE Members :—

To be elected in the following areas :—	No. of Members to be elected :—	To be elected in the following areas :—	No. of Members to be elected :—

PUBLIC MEETINGS.

A Public Meeting of the Society shall be held annually, when the list of the Committee shall be read, the accounts presented, and the proceedings of the previous year reported. The Committee shall also be empowered to summon Public Meetings, in London or elsewhere, whenever the interests of the Society may seem to require.

CORRESPONDING MEMBERS.

All Treasurers and Secretaries of Missionary Auxiliaries shall be CORRESPONDING MEMBERS of the Committee, together with such persons as it may be found necessary to add to their number

HONORARY MEMBERS.

The General Meeting of Members shall also be empowered to appoint as HONORARY MEMBERS of the Committee any who have rendered important services to the Society; provided the nomination of such Honorary Members of Committee shall proceed only from a resolution of the General Committee of the Society, or from six Members of the Society who are combined therein.

HONORARY MEMBERS (EX-OFFICIO).

Presidents or Principals of Denominational Colleges, and Presidents or Principals of Mission Colleges or Training Institutions on the Mission Field connected with the Baptist Missionary Society, shall be ex-officio Members of the Committee of the Society.

Presidents for the time being of the Baptist Unions of England, Scotland, Ireland, and Wales shall be ex-officio Members of the Committee of the Society during their respective terms of office.

MEMBERS OF THE SOCIETY ENTITLED TO VOTE AT COMMITTEE MEETINGS.

All Honorary and Corresponding Members of the Committee, and all Ministers who are Members of the Society, who may occasionally be in London; and also Ministers residing in London, similarly qualified, together with the Treasurers and Secretaries of London Auxiliaries, shall be entitled to attend and vote at the Meetings of the Committee.

FUNDS.

All moneys received on behalf of the Society shall be lodged in the hands of the Treasurer, or of Trustees to be chosen by the Society. When the amount received shall exceed the sum needed for the current expenses of the month, it shall be invested in the Public Funds until required for the use of the Mission.

ALTERATION OF CONSTITUTION.

No alteration in the constitution of the Society shall be made without twelve months' notice having been given at a previous Annual General Meeting.

MINUTES OF GENERAL MEETING

HELD IN THE MISSION HOUSE, FURNIVAL STREET, E.C., TUESDAY, APRIL 28TH, 1914.

1. After the singing of a hymn, Rev. J. R. WOOD read the Scripture and offered prayer.

2. Sir GEORGE MACALPINE, of Accrington, was unanimously called to the Chair.

3. On behalf of the General Committee, the HOME SECRETARY then proposed that the following gentlemen be elected Honorary Life Members of the Society in recognition of important services rendered to the Society, viz.: W. GOODE DAVIES, Esq., J.P., of Newcastle-on-Tyne, Rev. EBENEZER HENDERSON, of London, and Rev. JOHN BROWN MYERS, late Home Secretary of the Society.

This was seconded from the Chair and carried unanimously.

4. The CHAIRMAN then nominated the following gentlemen to act as scrutineers to report to the Officers, for publication, the result of the examination of the balloting papers for the election of twelve Members of Committee, viz.: Messrs. C. H. CHAPMAN, H. H. COLLIER, W. E. CULE, T. DENMAN, J. R. EVANS, W. D. HOWISON, H. W. PEWTRESS, A. J. SIMMS, B. R. WHEELER, and Rev. L. TUCKER, M.A.; this appointment to carry with it also the duty of scrutiny of the votes for the fifty-three representatives elected directly by the contributing churches throughout the country.

5. The list of nominations of Members to serve on the Committee having been supplied, the voting papers were collected and referred to the Scrutineers.

6. The Rev. C. E. WILSON, B.A., presented the Report of the year's work, and gave a brief summary of the proceedings of the Committee.

7. The TREASURER (Mr. Edward Robinson, J.P.) presented the Balance Sheet and Abstract of Accounts for the past year as duly audited and certified.

7A. On the motion of Rev. Principal W. J. HENDERSON, LL.D., seconded from the Chair, it was resolved:—

That the Report now presented for the year ending March 31st, 1914, together with the duly audited Balance Sheet and Statement of Accounts, be adopted and published.

8. The CHAIRMAN then welcomed, on his return from Jamaica, F. J. GODDEN, Esq., J.P., of Canterbury, who gave an interesting account of the Centenary Celebrations of Baptist Missions in the Island of Jamaica, which he attended with Mrs. Godden, and with Mr. and Mrs. J. Winsor Bond, of Birmingham. The Chairman, on behalf of the Society, thanked Mr. Godden for his valuable services rendered with such devotion and generosity to the Mission.

9. Sir GEORGE MACALPINE, in accordance with the notice he had given at the Members' Meeting in April, 1913, then moved the following resolutions, which were seconded by Mr. WILSON :—

(i) That in the interest of all branches of the Baptist Missionary enterprise, the administration of the women's work of the Baptist Zenana Mission, and of the women's work of the Baptist Missionary Society, should be united.

(ii) That for this purpose the Baptist Zenana Mission become the Women's Auxiliary of the Baptist Missionary Society.

(iii) That the following words be added to the second paragraph of the fourth clause of the "Plan and Regulations of the Society," under the heading "General Meeting of Members and Appointment of Committee," viz. :—

"In addition, thirty members shall be elected by the Committee of the Women's Missionary Association."

Rev. W. Y. FULLERTON then moved as an amendment the following addition to the second clause, which was seconded by Mrs. E. ROBINSON and accepted by the mover and seconder of the resolution, and supported by Dr. PERCY J. LUSH, of Hampstead, viz. :—

"under the title of the Women's Missionary Association of the Baptist Missionary Society (incorporating the Baptist Zenana Mission)."

The resolution was carried unanimously.

10. Notice was given by the Foreign Secretary, on behalf of the Committee, of an amendment of the constitution of the Society to be moved at the next Annual Members' Meeting, as follows :—

That the present "Plan and Regulations of the Society" be rescinded, and that the following be substituted :—

CONSTITUTION OF THE SOCIETY.

1. NAME.—The name by which the Society is designated is, "THE BAPTIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY," including "The Particular Baptist Missionary Society for Propagating the Gospel among the Heathen," formed in 1792, "The General Baptist Missionary Society," formed in 1816, and the Baptist Zenana Mission, formed in 1867.

2. OBJECT.—The object of this Society is the diffusion of the knowledge of the religion of Jesus Christ throughout the whole world, beyond the British Isles, by the preaching of the Gospel, the translation and publication of the Holy Scriptures, and the establishment of schools.

3. MEMBERS.—The following persons shall be considered members :—Pastors of churches making an annual contribution, and all donors of ten pounds and upwards, or subscribers of ten shillings and upwards annually.

4. GENERAL MEETING OF MEMBERS.—A General Meeting of Members only shall be held annually, at which the following business shall be transacted :—The presentation of a digest of the minutes of the Committee for the past year ; the presentation and adoption of the report, together with the financial statement ; the election of the Officers and auditors for the ensuing year ; and any other business of which two months' notice has been given or which may be brought forward by the Committee.

5. COMMITTEE.—For the conduct of the affairs of the Society there shall be, irrespective of Honorary and ex-officio Members, a Committee of not more than one hundred and seven persons. These shall be appointed, as to fifty-three of their number, by the direct votes of contributing churches in England, and by the Baptist Unions of Wales, Scotland and Ireland, according to the accompanying schedule ; and as to twelve of their number, by ballot at the General Meeting of Members held annually. The sixty-five members of Committee so appointed shall be empowered to fill up the number to seventy-seven Members, by co-optation from the list of nominations from which they were themselves elected. In addition thirty members shall be elected by the Committee of the Women's Missionary Association.

The Committee shall be empowered to fill up vacancies : fifteen members to be deemed a quorum.

The following is the schedule showing the distribution of the fifty-three members :—

Bedfordshire	1	Home Counties	1	Shropshire	1
Berkshire	1	Huntingdonshire	1	Southern	1
Bristol and Bath	2	Ireland	1	Suffolk	1

6. HONORARY LIFE MEMBERS.—The General Meeting of Members shall also be empowered to appoint as Honorary Members of the Committee any who have rendered important services to the Society; provided the nomination of such Honorary Members of Committee shall proceed only from a resolution of the Committee of the Society.

7. EX-OFFICIO MEMBERS.—Presidents or Principals of Denominational Colleges, and Presidents or Principals of Colleges or Training Institutions on the Mission Field connected with the Baptist Missionary Society, and the Field Secretaries shall be ex-officio Members of the Committee of the Society.

Presidents for the time being of the Baptist Unions of England, Scotland, Ireland, and Wales shall be ex-officio Members of the Committee of the Society during their respective terms of office.

8. PROPERTY.—The Baptist Missionary Society Corporation (incorporated on 15th November, 1888) under the Companies' Acts, 1862 to 1886, shall be trustee of the Society's property and invested funds.

9. ALTERATION OF CONSTITUTION.—No alteration in the constitution of the Society shall be made without notice having been given at a previous Annual General Meeting.

11. On the motion of Rev. RICHARD GLOVER, D.D., seconded from the Chair, the following resolution was carried unanimously :—

“That the members of the Baptist Missionary Society, in annual meeting assembled, desire to express their deep regret that Mr. Edward Robinson is unable to continue to serve the Society in the office of treasurer.

“The ten years during which he has held that position have been marked by great progress and prosperity in the work of the Mission. There has been a considerable increase in the total income of the Society and in the number of its missionaries, and at no period in all its long history has it possessed in greater measure than it does at present the confidence of the churches at home, or the stimulus of growing success and responsibility abroad.

“To Mr. Robinson's generous support and leadership in its financial affairs the Society owes an incalculable debt. The gracious and considerate hospitality which he and his honoured wife have shown, both in London and in Bristol, has been to the missionaries of the Society a continual source of encouragement and pleasure, and all the supporters of this enterprise are well aware that in himself as B.M.S. Treasurer, and Mrs. Robinson as President of the Baptist Zenana

Mission, the great work of proclaiming the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ throughout the world has found two of its most earnest and devoted advocates.

"This meeting rejoices in the assurance that in his retirement from the office of treasurer, Mr. Robinson will relinquish none of his interest in the work of the Mission. As the name of Gotch-Robinson is associated with one of the Society's most valuable institutions on the China Mission field, the personal influence and support of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson will abide as an enduring strength to the Society at home.

"The members of the Society respectfully offer to Mr. Robinson their thanks for all his conspicuous and important services in the past, and an expression of their earnest hope that in the counsels of the Committee as an Honorary Member and in the maintenance of all the Society's interests at home and abroad, he will long continue to take an active share."

12. Mr. EDWARD ROBINSON then addressed the meeting, and proposed that Sir ALFRED PEARCE GOULD, K.C.V.O., M.S., be cordially requested to accept the office of treasurer of this Society for the ensuing year.

This was seconded by Mr. C. F. FOSTER, J.P., of Cambridge, and carried unanimously.

13. On the motion of Rev. C. M. HARDY, B.A., seconded from the Chair, it was resolved :—

That the Revs. C. E. Wilson, B.A., and W. Y. Fullerton, be re-appointed joint Secretaries of this Society for the year ensuing, the former having special charge of the Foreign, and the latter of the Home Department.

14. On the motion of Rev. E. MEDLEY, B.A., seconded from the Chair, it was resolved :—

That Dr. R. Fletcher Moorhead, F.R.C.S., be re-appointed Secretary of the Medical Mission Auxiliary for the year ensuing.

15. The following resolution was moved by Rev. J. H. ATKINSON, seconded from the Chair, and carried :—

That the best thanks of the meeting be given to the Honorary Auditors, Messrs. T. W. Smith and F. Robertson, for their services; and that they be requested to act for the year ensuing with the Finance Committee's Audit Sub-Committee in the scrutiny of the Society's accounts, on behalf of the subscribers.

16. On the motion of Rev. Dr. EWING, it was unanimously resolved :—

That the grateful thanks of this meeting be given to Sir George Macalpines for the valuable services he has rendered to the Society as Chairman of the General Committee and as Chairman of this meeting.

17. The foregoing minutes were read and confirmed, and the meeting was closed with the Benediction, pronounced by the CHAIRMAN.

Obituary, Resolutions of Committee, &c.

MISS JENNIE BECKINGSALE, B.A. Died at Si-an-fu, Shensi,
June 22nd, 1913.

The Committee desire to record their deep sense of the great loss sustained by the Baptist Zenana Mission, and by the whole of the Baptist Mission in China, through the death of Miss Jennie Beckingsale, of Si-an-fu. They realise how great a cause of grief it will be to the relatives and friends in Cheltenham to receive news so sudden and unexpected, and to the Committee and Officers of the B.Z.M. to lose one upon whom great reliance was deservedly placed in connection with the women's work and girls' schools in Shensi. They pray that Divine comfort may be given to the bereaved family, and to the faithful and devoted workers at Si-an-fu, whom recent events have so closely knit together, and that in God's own way the work in Shensi, so strangely bereft and tried during the past few months, may be sustained and strengthened.

MR. S. B. BURTON. Died at Highworth, Wilts, July 17th, 1913.

The Committee record, in affectionate remembrance of a tried and valuable friend of the B.M.S., the death of Alderman Samuel Bosden Burton, F.R.G.S. Mr. Burton was seventy years of age, and from the time he was elected a member of the Committee in 1890 always showed the deepest interest in all the work of the Mission, and especially in regard to the Mission property and buildings. His expert knowledge was invaluable. He took a number of journeys abroad, to Italy and the West Indies, in order to be able to advise and save expense to the Mission, and after his retirement from business in Newcastle-on-Tyne he was always most regular in his attendance at the many meetings at the Mission House of the Sub-Committees of which he was a member. The last months of his life were filled with suffering and weakness. His memory will be cherished by many with whom he laboured in the Lord, and to those who are bereaved by his removal the Committee respectfully offer their condolence and the assurance of their prayer that they may have all the comforts of the Gospel.

REV CHARLES CARTER. Died at Ponsonby, New Zealand, July 8th, 1914.

The Committee desire to place on record their profound sense of loss in the home-call of the Rev. Charles Carter.

Appointed a missionary of the Society in 1853, he spent his energy freely for twenty-eight years in Ceylon, until the impairment of his voice caused him to relinquish the work of preaching and retire to New Zealand, where he continued his literary work in the Sinhalese. In 1869, as a preliminary to the translation into Sinhalese, he made an English translation from the Hebrew of the Book of Psalms, which evoked the praise of eminent scholars, and he was encouraged to publish it. In 1877 he was in England in prosecution of his great purpose of translation, and his wife wrote the whole MS. of the Sinhalese translation of the Old Testament in order to aid him. He was then regarded as "one of the most competent scholars in the Sinhalese language."

After the publication of the Old Testament he engaged in the revision of the New Testament, and completed this before he was forced to retire to New Zealand in 1881. Ceylon was revisited in 1888-91. Having published a fresh revision of the New Testament in 1899, he began once more to revise the Old Testament, publishing the result in 1905. Since then he has passed the whole Bible in review, and has had the joy of knowing that his version is understood and appreciated alike by the learned and unlearned, and that its pure, chaste style, alike far from the slang of the bazaar and the high-flown, pedantic style of the academy, is likely to make another revision unnecessary for many years to come.

At the present time there is passing through the press his great dictionary of more than 80,000 Sinhalese words. His lesson-book for Sinhalese students has been so popular that it has earned a profit of £120 for the work of the Mission.

He prepared also a lesson-book for missionaries and others, and a large collection of Sinhalese hymns with the correct accent, which former hymns lacked.

For the untiring, devoted labours of these sixty years they give thanks to God, and heartily acknowledge the great indebtedness of the Church in Ceylon to his work. They would offer to his widow and family the assurance of their heartfelt sympathy in the bereavement they have sustained.

MR. JAMES CLARK. Died at Streatham, December 5th, 1913.

With deep regret the Committee of the Baptist Missionary Society place on record the death of Mr. James Clark, after a brief illness. Their brother was for many years a member of Upton Chapel, and a generous friend of the churches in his own neighbourhood. He was keenly interested in denominational matters, and especially in the work of this Society, being a member of the Committee for seventeen years, and elected to honorary membership in 1907. In matters of finance his counsel was most valued, but all missionary enterprise had his warm sympathy and unstinted support.

He leaves a memory of integrity, devotion and humility, which is a precious heritage to his fellow-workers and his family, and, as sharers in their sorrow, the Committee express their deep sympathy with his widow and children, praying for them the consolation and support of the Lord whom he loved and served, whom they trust and follow.

MRS. G. C. CLARIDGE. Died at Kindwalu, Congo, May 22nd, 1914.

The Committee have received with much sorrow the tidings of the death of Mrs. Claridge, wife of the Rev. G. C. Claridge, of San Salvador.

Mrs. Claridge (née Darcy) went out to Africa as a missionary bride so recently as the beginning of this year, and was at San Salvador during the trying experiences of the native revolt.

Mrs. Claridge's health had for some time given cause for anxiety, and on the advice of Dr. Gilmore her husband set out from San Salvador with her for the coast, Dr. Gilmore and Miss Coppin accompanying them. Notwithstanding all the efforts of the doctor, Mrs. Claridge died on the road two days' journey from Kimpese, to which place her remains were carried for burial in the cemetery of the United Training Institution.

The Committee record their sense of the loss the Mission has sustained in the early death of their sister, Mrs. Claridge, and their heartfelt sympathy with their brother, Mr. Claridge, and all the bereaved relatives, in their great sorrow, and commend them affectionately to the comfort and grace of the Saviour.

MISS MARY COOMBS. Died at Palwal, N. India, July 25th, 1914.

We regret to have to record the death of Miss Mary Coombs, after an illness of only twelve hours. She was the daughter of Dr. Coombs, of Castle Cary, Somerset, and was connected with the Baptist Church, Frome. She was appointed to the Indian Mission in 1893, and stationed at Delhi, where she laboured till 1900, when she was located at Palwal, and has been associated with the work there ever since. She will long be remembered for her faithful and varied service in assisting in the Industrial Settlement, in famine relief, and in visits in city and village. We realise that the Women's Missionary Association has lost a tried and trusted worker, whose place it will be difficult to fill. We desire to sympathise very sincerely with her sorrowing relatives, and we pray that they may be comforted in the memory of so devoted a servant of Christ, REV EVAN EDWARDS. Died at Torquay, January 9th, 1914.

In recording the death in his ninety-ninth year of their beloved and venerable colleague, the Rev. Evan Edwards, this Committee desire to express their appreciation of his noble character, his devoted labours as a minister of Christ, and the valuable services he rendered to this Society.

Born of godly parents, consecrated to the service of the Gospel at a very early age, he possessed in an eminent degree the qualities which have made the Welsh ministry so distinguished. As pastor, successively, of the churches at Beckington, Chard, and Torquay, he laboured with great fidelity, fervour and success. He also gave without stint of his time and strength and experience to other churches, especially those of the Western Counties. He was ever the trusted friend and counsellor of his ministerial brethren, a tower of strength to which they often resorted, whilst his life was a fine illustration of what a Christian minister should be.

He was an enthusiastic advocate and supporter of missionary work, keeping its claim continually before the churches under his care, and enforcing his appeals by his own generous example. Fifty-one years ago he joined this Committee, and was its oldest member, becoming an honorary member in 1881. When no longer able to attend the meetings of the Committee, he followed their proceedings with eager interest and constant prayer. Many of our missionaries, living and departed, who visited him when on deputation, were refreshed and strengthened by his gracious sympathy and cheering words. His fine presence corresponded with his manly spirit. In him strength and tenderness were combined. He was a singularly attractive personality, winning both respect and love from those who knew him. Even slighter acquaintances felt the charm.

It is good to know that he retained his faculties to the very last—that after nearly one hundred years of life this servant of the Lord Jesus passed into his Master's presence in the conscious possession of his powers.

His name deserves an honourable place in the long roll of devoted men and women who, in the distant fields of heathenism, or here at home, have served in the great missionary enterprise for the subjugation of the world to Christ as Saviour and King.

MRS. T. R. EDWARDS. Died at Eastwood, Essex, July 8th, 1914.

It is the sorrowful duty of the Committee to record the death of Mrs. Edwards (née Clara Walduck), wife of the Rev. T. R. Edwards, late of Suri, India. She was married in the year 1887, and proceeded with Mr. Edwards to the land of her adoption. Her devoted labours in Serampore, Jessore, and Suri will long be remembered. Failing health, however, compelled her return to England in 1904; since then life has simply been prolonged in quiet retirement. Latterly she suffered increasing weakness, and passed away on the 8th July.

To her husband and her family the Committee desire to tender an expression of heartfelt sympathy in their grief, and the assurance that they are not forgotten at the Throne of Grace.

MR. JOHN FERGUSON, C.M.G. Died at Chilworth, Surrey,
October 17th, 1913.

The Committee record, with very sincere sorrow, the death of the generous and devoted friend of the Ceylon Mission, Mr. John Ferguson, C.M.G., and they offer to his widow and all the members of his family the respectful and sincere assurance of their deep sympathy with them in their bereavement, and their prayer for God's comfort in their loss. The position which Mr. Ferguson held in Ceylon as a prominent Christian layman and influential journalist, and as a member of the Legislative Council, was always exercised on behalf of every good cause, and he will be sorely missed. His attachment to the Baptist Church at Cinnamon Gardens, of which he was a life-deacon, and his labours for thirty years as superintendent of the Sunday School, will long be remembered. He was always an enthusiastic supporter of the work of the Baptist Missionary Society, and it was a valuable assistance to the Committee to have the counsel and support of one who so thoroughly understood the conditions and needs of the work, and whose own missionary spirit was so constant.

MRS. J. J. FULLER. Died at Beccles, October 15th, 1913.

The Committee have heard with much regret of the death of Mrs. Fuller, the widow of their esteemed and valued missionary, the late Rev. J. J. Fuller, at the age of 81 years. The Committee recall with gratitude the devoted labour which Mrs. Fuller shared with her husband for so many years in connection with the Cameroons Mission, and express their deep sympathy with her son, Mr. J. A. A. Fuller, and other members of the family in their bereavement, and affectionately commend them to the consolation of the Heavenly Father.

NURSE EMILY SYBIL GAUTREY. Died at Bhiwani, N. India,
May 18th, 1914.

It is with the deepest regret that we record the death of Nurse Emily Gautrey from enteric fever. Nurse Gautrey had only left England, for return after furlough, on the 27th of last February, and thus could only have just reached her station when the dread malady began its fatal course. Full details are still awaited, but it is all too plain that this "scourge of the Mission field" has claimed one more of its victims. We bow in silent submission before this heavy dispensation of God's Providence, which to our human vision is so hard to be understood. The fact that "He doeth all things well" is our sole consolation in this hour of distressing loss. For Nurse Gautrey's relatives the deepest sympathy will be felt, especially for a solitary sister now left in Cambridge. The prayers of many friends will also ascend on behalf of her bereft colleagues at Bhiwani, who have lost in Nurse Gautrey a much-valued fellow labourer and a devoted nurse missionary. May her home-call prove the Master's call to service to some nurses in this country. (For "Appreciation," written by the Rev. W. Bampton Taylor, see The Herald for July, 1914.)

MISS MARJORIE LEWIS, B.A. Died at Sianfu, Shensi, July 31st, 1914.

The Women's Missionary Association has been called upon yet again to mourn the loss, from typhoid, of another valued and gifted worker. She was a member of the church at Grange Road, Darlington, and was appointed to the China Field in 1912. In January, 1913, she went to the Language School at Peking for a few months, and then was located at Sianfu to join Miss Shekleton in educational work. Miss Lewis was the daughter of the Rev. Robert Lewis, formerly Pastor of the Princes Gate Chapel, Liverpool. While preparing for the teaching profession, she became a student volunteer. After completing her training, she was a mistress in the Darlington High School. We thank God for the beautiful and devoted life which was so fully yielded to the service of Christ, and for the fragrant memory of the months given to God's work in China. We commend very affectionately to the consolation of the Saviour her parents, who throughout encouraged their daughter in her consecration to the great enterprise.

MRS. JOEL W. LALL. Died at Delhi, May 5th, 1913.

The Committee have heard with sorrow of the death of Mrs. Lall, the wife of the Rev. Joel W. Lall, M.A., M.O.L., of Delhi. Mrs. Lall was the daughter of Dr. Saul David, who was working in connection with the B.M.S. Medical Mission, and the Sub-Committee desire to express to their brother, Mr. Lall, and to the parents and all the members of the family, their very sincere sympathy and the assurance of their prayer that God will give to them His comfort and sustaining grace at this time. They recognise how deeply this loss will be felt in the home and in connection with the Mission in Delhi.

REV. A. M. NICKALLS. Died at Bournemouth, May 14th, 1914.

The Committee have received, with deep regret, the news of the death of their colleague, the Rev. A. M. Nickalls, of Huntingdon. Mr. Nickalls was trained for the ministry at Bristol College, and entered upon his first pastorate at Broughton, Manchester, in 1887. After successful pastorates at Nailsworth and Falmouth, Mr. Nickalls removed to Huntingdon in 1907, and was elected as the representative of the Huntingdonshire Association on the General Committee of the Baptist Missionary Society in 1911. He was a valued member of the China Sub-Committee, in whose work he naturally took a special interest, since his brother, the Rev. E. C. Nickalls, has been one of the Society's missionaries in China for many years.

The Committee, while mourning the loss of a much-esteemed colleague, thank God for his valuable life and faithful ministry, and fervently commend to the grace and consolation of the Saviour the bereaved family and church at Huntingdon, earnestly praying that they may be mercifully comforted and sustained in their heavy bereavement.

REV. N. H. SHAW. Died at Ross, Herefordshire, February 19th, 1914.

The Committee record with sincere sorrow the death of the Rev. Nathaniel H. Shaw, formerly of Rome. He was on deputation work in Herefordshire, when sudden illness seized him. An operation was performed, but he passed away on the following day, the 19th of February, in his seventy-third year. He entered Chillwell College in 1864, and at the end of his course settled as pastor of the church at Dewsbury. In 1878 he was accepted by the General Baptist Missionary Society for work in Rome, and on the fusion with the B.M.S. was transferred to Florence; he afterwards returned to Rome, completing in all a period of service of thirty-four years. He was an able and well-equipped exponent of evangelical truth. He won for himself the esteem and affection of both his Italian and English colleagues, and his memory will long be cherished by all who had the privilege of knowing him.

The Committee earnestly pray on behalf of Mrs. Shaw and her family that they may continue to be conscious of the Divine presence and support in their great sorrow.

MR. SAMUEL SOUTHALL. Died at Leeds, January 17th, 1914.

The Committee of the Baptist Missionary Society learn with much regret of the death of Mr. Samuel Southall, of Leeds, at the age of 84. As one of the trustees of Mr. Robert Arthington, he was appointed an honorary member of this Committee in 1900, and, notwithstanding his advanced age, attended most of the meetings of Arthington Committee (No. 1) and other meetings of Committee. Already associated with the work of the Friends' Foreign Mission in Madagascar and China, and the Anti-Opium Society, he took an intelligent, though unobtrusive, part in the work of the Committees, and, as a friend of the Arthington family, he was always anxious to carry out Mr. Arthington's wishes. In recording their sense of loss sustained by the removal of so valued a colleague, the Committee would offer to the members of his family their sincere sympathy.

MRS. JOSEPH W THOMAS, of Bengal. Died at Ootacamund,
June 11th, 1913.

The Committee report with sympathy and regret the bereavement which has befallen their brother, the Rev. Joseph W. Thomas, in the death of his wife, after forty-five years of married life. Mr. Thomas retired last year from active service in Bengal, where he has laboured as a missionary of the B.M.S. since 1867. Mrs. Thomas was a Miss Wyatt, and herself lived a life of quiet fidelity and whole-hearted devotion to the cause for which she has laboured with her husband for many years. One of her sisters is Mrs. James, the wife of the Rev. W. Bowen James, who has recently retired from active service in India. Her son, Dr. F. Vincent Thomas, is now working as a medical missionary at Palwal.

The Committee record their high sense of the value of the services rendered by Mrs. Thomas in her long missionary life. They affectionately commend in sympathetic prayer to God the bereaved husband and all the members of the family, praying that the noble Christian example which was left by Mrs. Thomas may continue to be an inspiration to many, and that Divine comfort may be granted to those who are called to mourn her loss.

MRS. S. S. THOMAS, of Delhi. Died at Blackrock, Ireland, November 5th, 1913.

The Committee record, with very sincere regret and sympathy, the bereavement which has befallen their brother, Rev. S. S. Thomas, in the death of his wife. They offer him and all the members of his family the assurance of their prayer that in this time of sorrow they may realise the Divine comfort.

The Committee understand that Mr. Thomas hopes to be able to make arrangements for his return to India. They are glad that his health has been so far re-established, and they pray that by God's blessing he may be able to render many years of fruitful service for Christ in India.

MISS JANE WATSON.

Miss Jane Watson joined the staff of the Baptist Zenana Mission in India in 1889, and was stationed in Agra, where she remained to the end of her period of active service. Born and brought up in India, she understood the people, their language, religion and customs as few missionaries understand them, and was a welcome visitor in their homes. Miss Watson left Agra in 1910 to take furlough, hoping to return with renewed strength to her work, but that hope was not destined to be realised. After a long period of increasing weakness our friend passed to the heavenly service in the autumn of 1913. Having no direct connection with England, Miss Watson never visited this country, and so was known only to the workers on the field. Without possessing brilliant gifts, she was a faithful missionary of the Society, esteemed by her fellow-workers, and beloved by her pupils, old and young, among whom her memory is revered.

REV. ERNEST E. WILFORD. Died at Yakusu, June 25th, 1914.

The Committee have received with profound sorrow the sad news of the death of their honoured missionary brother, the Rev. Ernest E. Wilford, after an attack of enteritis. Mr. Wilford was forty years of age; he was appointed to missionary service at Yakusu, on the Upper Congo, in the year 1902, after a full course of theological training at Manchester Baptist College. Mr. Wilford was a man of conspicuous devotion, and rendered steady, faithful, and most efficient service. No part of the work of the Baptist Mission has been more inspiring in its results than the mission at Yakusu, and the latest letters and reports of Mr. Wilford's work were full of encouragement and hope for the future. He was much beloved by his colleagues, and trusted by the people among whom he laboured.

A month before his death he and his wife sustained the sad bereavement of the death of their little daughter, Kathleen, who was born in Yakusu a few months ago.

To the stricken widow, thus doubly bereft within so short a time, the Committee offer their deep and heartfelt sympathy, and to all the members of the family they give the assurance of their prayer for Divine comfort and support in this time of grief and loss.

The story of the Congo Mission has been a record of the heroic labours of men who were called away while still in the strength of their manhood. While the Committee bow before the mystery of the Providence that has removed a life so useful, they cannot but give thanks to God for the memory of one who offered himself freely to Christ's service on behalf of the people of Africa.

CHURCHES IN THE JAMAICA BAPTIST UNION, 1914.

EXTRACT FROM THE SIXTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE UNION.

"We are celebrating the centenary of the work of the Baptist Missionary Society in Jamaica. It was in February, 1814, that the first Baptist missionary, the Rev. John Rowe, a student of Bristol College, came to this island. The Baptist Missionary Society has never forsaken Jamaica, notwithstanding the decision of 1842. They have regarded Calabar College as their peculiar charge, and from the first have supplied it with its Presidents and Tutors, and supported them out of their funds. Four Presidents and six Tutors have thus been sent to assist the Jamaica Mission, and of immeasurable value has this assistance been. At sundry times, too, since 1842, the Committee have sent out men to occupy certain positions, which at the time could not otherwise have been suitably provided for; and on occasions of exceptional difficulty, arising from excessive commercial depression, or storm, or drought, or earthquake, the Committee have liberally responded to Jamaica's appeals. Five times has a deputation been appointed by the Committee to come to Jamaica to see if it were well with their brethren, and to-day we most heartily welcome the latest of these in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Godden and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bond, and ask them to inform the Committee, whose worthy representatives they are, that the pastors and delegates of the churches of the Jamaica Baptist Union gratefully record their sense of indebtedness to the Society, through whose instrumentality, under the providence of God, so large a measure of blessing has come to this land, in connection with the Mission which they started and sustained for so long, and in which they continue to take a sympathetic and practical interest.

"The Centenary Year cannot be described as a prosperous one, the cyclone of 1912 and the long-continued drought giving the island a serious set-back. Reports have been received from 197 churches. Of these 79 report an increase in their membership of 786, and 103 a decrease of 1,344. Amongst those that have gained are several churches that have had exceptionally happy experience in connection with their work. The number added to the churches by baptism has been smaller than usual, only 1,355 having thus followed their Lord. The restorations, too, were below the average: 987 sought readmission to fellowship in this way. The gross additions to the churches were 2,660. In several places, however, in the west end of the island, which was struck most severely by the hurricane of 1912, there are many candidates awaiting baptism.

"The losses sustained by various churches were: By death, 700; by exclusion, 894; by dismissal, 192; by withdrawal, 196; and by erasure, 1,235; the total being 3,217. These figures show a net decrease in the number of members of 557. The enrolment of members, after the revision of the year, contains 33,441 names. Two small churches withdrew from the Union during the year, and connected themselves with other associations. The enrolment of inquirers is 3,338, of deacons and leaders 1,783, and of local preachers 549. The efforts of the churches for the erection or restoration or repairs of their buildings are represented by money gifts amounting to £1,782 4s. 10d.

"Two important pastorates, Stewart Town and Falmouth, were provided for through the medium of the Committee. In the case of Falmouth, the Executive, at the request of the churches concerned, communicated with the Committee of the Baptist Missionary Society, London, with a view to inviting a minister from England. That Committee kindly secured the Rev. George Stone, and made a grant towards the expense of the voyage of himself and Mrs. Stone. Mr. Stone enters upon his labours immediately, in succession to the Rev. John Kingdon, who retires from the pastorate after faithful toil of over fifty years.

"The sincere thanks of this Union are due to the Committee of the Baptist Missionary Society for opening a relief fund again on behalf of Jamaica, and for its appeals to English Christians for contributions."

CONTRIBUTIONS

FROM

AUXILIARY SOCIETIES IN GREAT BRITAIN.

NOTES.

1.—When contributions are given for special objects, they are denoted as follows:—The letter T is placed before the sum when it is intended for Translations; N P, for Native Preachers; W & O for Widows and Orphans; S D, Self Denial; G W, Gift Week.

2.—It will be found that, in some instances, the connection of Churches in Auxiliary Societies interferes with the correctness of county arrangement; but this cannot be avoided without inconvenience.

3.—Where the name of a place appears without any amount, no contributions were received during the Financial Year. In some cases these were received after the close of the Accounts,

BAPTIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY, LONDON.

We, the undersigned, hereby certify that we have examined the foregoing Accounts, and compared them with the vouchers of receipt and expenditure, and found the same to be correct.

(Signed)	JOHN TOWN, EDWARD MORGAN, W. PARKER GRAY,	}	Members of the Finance Sub-Committee.
----------	-------------------------------------------------	---	--------------------------------------------------

TOM W. SMITH, F. ROBERTSON,	}	Honorary Auditors.
--------------------------------	---	---------------------------

21st day of April, 1914.

We have examined with the Books the foregoing General Summary of Current Receipts and Payments, and the Account of the Arthington Fund in respect of the year ending 31st March, 1914, the details of which have been examined and vouched by the Honorary Auditors and the Audit Sub-Committee, and we certify the said General Summary and Account to be in accordance therewith. Certain Payments made before 31st March, 1914, considered by the Finance Committee to have been made on the New Year's Account, are not included therein.

We have verified the Bank Balances and the Securities held on behalf of the Society by the Baptist Missionary Society Corporation.

We have also examined the Accounts of the Society's Insurance Funds and Arthington Superannuation Fund, which are not included in the General Summary, and have found them in order.

The Society is entitled to the benefit of certain other securities under the Will of the late Robert Arthington which have not yet been transferred to the Society.

(Signed) MELLORS, BASDEN & CO.,
Chartered Accountants.

Ideal Milk Foods for Tropical Climates.

The Allenburys' Foods

FOR INFANTS.

The "Allenburys" Milk Foods closely resemble healthy human milk in composition, nutritive value, and digestibility; they are particularly valuable in hot climates, for they keep thoroughly well in the unopened containers, and need but the addition of hot water to prepare them for use.

Milk Food No. 1

Milk Food No. 2

From 3 to 6 months.

Malted Food No. 3

From 6 months upwards.

Rusks (Malted)

From 10 months.

FOR ADULTS.

The "Allenburys" DIET is a food for adults, and is quite distinct from the well-known "Allenburys" Foods for Infants. It is prepared from pure milk and whole wheat, and is partially predigested in the process of manufacture. The "Allenburys" DIET is the best form of nourishment for Invalids, the Aged, and those who live in tropical climates.

The Allenburys'
DIET

It is made in a minute by adding boiling water only.

The Report of the Year 1914.

“The one aim and controlling desire of the ideal Medical Missionary must be to reveal the Love of God in Christ to the people to whom he is sent.”

IT would be difficult to find any words more illuminative of the supreme purpose of Medical Missions than those in which, as quoted above, Dr. J. L. Maxwell, of Formosa, sums up the basic principle that should become operative in the life-work of every Medical Missionary. To make known God's redeeming Love, to interpret it, so to speak, by way of illustration, and then by that “incomparably the most important qualification for Medical Missionary service, a love that can be felt, that practises as well as preaches” (Dr. Howard Taylor) to lead men and women to the living Christ, that, and nothing less than that, is what lies at the heart of the whole enterprise of Medical Missions. Any conception of this part of the work that our Society is doing to-day “Under Six Flags” which falls short of the foregoing ideal, is unworthy and defective. Medical Missions are not just a “bait” for the Gospel, they are a tangible expression of the Message itself. The evangelistic passion is their life-blood, the quest of the soul is for ever their central mission. And in presenting “God's saving grace” to sinful and suffering men and women, Medical Missions establish vital kinship with the highest forms of Missionary labour.

The outstanding regret of the year is the failure to add any new Medical Missionaries to the staff in either Field. No words can overstate the seriousness of this sad and disappointing fact. The Committee had hoped, when last year they were called upon to chronicle the deaths of those devoted doctors, Stanley Jenkins and Cecil Robertson, that volunteers would have come forward with eagerness and promptitude to go forth and take the places of the men who had fallen in the fight. Alas, such has not come to pass, and to-day those gaps remain unfilled, whilst needs in other centres are crying aloud for an augmented staff. The Red Cross Company of our Baptist Missionary regiment is standing still, when the situation demands advance. Happily one nurse—Miss Kate Clappen—has been accepted for the Congo, and the Committee rejoice at the help she will bring to the Medical Mission at Bolobo, but nurses cannot be doctors, and it is the want of the latter, both men and women, that is the acute need of our Medical Missionary field at the present moment.

The past year has, however, had its joys as well as its sorrows, and foremost amongst the former has been the triumphant success which God has graciously granted to the appeal for three new China Hospitals. Hardly had the year commenced when the Committee were faced with a call from China for the erection of a modern, well-equipped teaching hospital for the Tsinanfu Medical Missionary College, a similarly up-to-date one for the new Choutsun Medical Mission, and a third—a fitting memorial to Dr. Jenkins and Dr. Robertson—for the important city of Sianfu. Coming as this appeal did in one of the great "Sustentation" years, there were not a few who deemed it impossible to respond to all three claims. But the generosity of many of God's stewards proved equal to the need, and by the close of the autumn, through gifts both small and great, the large sum of £10,000 was assured, and the building of the three hospitals made possible. The Committee humbly record this notable success with devout thanksgiving to God, and with heartfelt gratitude to the many consecrated donors who gave so liberally to this special Fund.

During the course of the twelve months the Committee have had the pleasure of welcoming home and wishing Godspeed to a number of their doctors and nurses. Dr. and Mrs. Mercier Gamble, Mrs. Daisy Longland, M.B., Dr. E. R. Jones, and Mrs. Girling have arrived on furlough from the Congo and Dr. Mary Bisset and Nurse Henry from India. Dr. and Mrs. Russell Watson, Dr. and Mrs. Andrew Young, Dr. and Mrs. Charter, Mrs. Fairburn, M.B., Mrs. Scollay (Nurse Watt) have returned to China, Dr. Mary Bisset, Nurse Gautrey, and Nurse Henry to India, and Dr. Haldane Gilmore, Mrs. Longland, Mrs. Girling and Nurse Bell to Congo. In addition to the foregoing, the Committee have bade farewell to their dear friend and colleague, Dr. E. H. Edwards, who, with Mrs. Edwards, has gone out to China for a time, and who, during the past winter, has been visiting the stations in the various Provinces, coming into close touch with the problems of the work, bringing cheer to the workers, and sending home some most valuable information concerning the field. To all amongst those mentioned who have taken a share in deputation work, as well as to several other friends here at home, the Committee would tender most grateful thanks for very valuable help in the work of advocacy on behalf of the Auxiliary.

The statistics of the medical work show that at present there are 3 men and 6 women doctors, with 6 nurses on the Indian staff; 11 men and 2 women doctors, with 4 nurses on the China staff; and 8 men and one woman doctor, with 3 nurses (and 1 nurse designate) on the Congo staff. These workers prosecute their mission of healing and preaching in 17 hospitals and 13 branch dispensaries. In these institutions there have been treated 4,052 in-patients and 88,498 out-patients, whilst 833,478 total attendances have been registered. As many as 4,807 operations, major and minor, have been performed, and 5,842 visits to homes have been paid. A sum of £1,738 has been received at the various Medical Missions in shape of local receipts, or an amount equivalent to about one-sixth of the entire current income of the M.M.A.

MEDICAL WORK IN BRITISH INDIA.

Medical Missionaries	...	9	Operations	1,395
Missionary Nurses	...	6	Attendances at Dispensaries	167,755

THE immense need and field for Medical Missions under the British flag in Imperial India has received striking emphasis from the following "findings" of the Continuation Committee Conferences, held in India at the close of 1912:

"Government provision of medical relief in India reaches only a fraction of the people. It is estimated that about 100 millions are either entirely without any such opportunities of relief, or at most receive inadequate relief through very poorly trained apothecaries or hospital assistants."

"Mission hospitals afford the sole and only means provided by the Church (except for women taught in Zenanas) whereby men and women of middle and older life can receive daily instruction in the truths of Christianity for considerable periods lasting several weeks or months."

"For bringing the Gospel message into vital contact with large numbers of people of all classes . . . it has been established by experience that there is no agency more powerful than that of Medical Missions."

These mature conclusions, taken with others which were drawn attention to by Dr. Vincent Thomas in THE HERALD for April, reveal in bold relief how great is the sphere that India presents for Medical Missions. Alas! that it is so terribly unoccupied. In only two places are there B.M.S. Hospitals, and in only four are Zenana Hospitals to be found throughout the whole of our Indian field, which has a total population about equal to that of the British Isles. The B.M.S. Deputation to India testify in their report that "a great field of advance in Medical Missionary work awaits us in India, and what we ourselves saw of the work and its results has still further confirmed our belief in, and increased our zeal for, this branch of our great enterprise." In face of all this it is not surprising that at the recent United Conference held at Calcutta, the following resolution was carried unanimously:

Resolved—

"This Conference being convinced that the time has come for a large expansion of medical missionary work throughout our Indian field, would urge 'That the need should be laid before the home churches with an earnest appeal for the necessary reinforcements and funds.'"

Can it be that such an appeal as this, supported by so overwhelming an array of fact as is the case, shall be allowed to pass without a prompt and sympathetic response?

Amongst the Men and Boys.

At Palwal, the centre of a large and needy village area that lies to the South of Delhi, in the north of India, Drs. Vincent Thomas and A. E. Moore have been labouring throughout the year, and the former gives this glimpse into his work :

" . . . An entirely new set of duties has devolved upon me this year, owing to my appointment by Government as a Municipal Commissioner for Palwal in the place of Mr. Hale, who has been on furlough. Public health has, of course, been my chief concern in such a position, including sanitation and the 'prevention of malaria, cholera and plague'—not that we have done all that yet. It has been at times rather embarrassing to have a good deal else put on to one's engagement list. This work has opened up for me many opportunities for moral and spiritual influence that might never have presented themselves otherwise."

Dr. Thomas has now three branch dispensaries in places situated from eight to fifteen miles from Palwal, and in daily charge of young native Christian medical assistants whom he has trained. This is a development full of promise and encouragement. No fewer than 17,000 attendances were registered at these branches of the Palwal Medical Mission—a fact that indicates the enormous Evangelistic possibilities of such work.

Dr. Moore has been mainly occupied with language study, but has, in addition, rendered great help in the work of the hospital, and is eagerly anticipating full service next year.

The other B.M.S. Hospital is at Chandraghona in the Chittagong Hill Tracts, and from this station Dr. Gottfried Teichmann sends word concerning the latest addition to his equipment :

"The most important occurrence during the past year was the arrival of the motor boat. The need of some rapid method of locomotion had long been felt in the district, where most of our travelling is done by boat. This need, as far as the larger streams are concerned, has been met by this motor boat. We have given it the name of 'Hope,' as it will carry hope for body and soul into many of the villages of the Hill Tracts."

At present Dr. Teichmann has no medical colleague, and the necessity of adding a second medical missionary to the staff of this Medical Mission has been strongly emphasised.

Amongst the Women and Girls.

The most noteworthy event of our Zenana Medical work in India during the past twelve months has undoubtedly been the completion of the new women's hospital at Palwal, whose actual opening was performed by Miss Lydia Kemp early in 1914. This much-needed and long-awaited-for building will be an inestimable boon to Dr. Edith Young, Dr. Florence Payne, Nurse Muriel Hawkins, and their native staff, and patients, and the following report of Dr. Young will be read with deep interest :

"India might be called, above everything, a land of delays, so after all it is perhaps a matter for congratulation and grateful surprise that after only eight years of proposing, discussing, planning and building, we find ourselves at last in our new home. 'Deferred hope maketh the heart sick'—but may also serve a useful purpose, and as we remember the difficulties there used to be in persuading the patients to stop in the old hospital, within the friendly shelter of the town, and yet now see the readiness with which they are coming in at once to the new one close to the Christian Church, a few minutes' walk from a Christian settlement—one feels that the delay has not been an unmitigated evil. However that may be, it would be difficult to emphasise the delight of being at last in suitable buildings. . . . Will friends remember in prayer the principal request of our first little prayer meeting in the new hospital—that the inner spiritual side of our work may be worthy, and even more than worthy, of the outward show of bricks and mortar? May the whole Christian staff, Doctors, Sister Compounder and Nurses, in the midst of hot and weary days, in the hurry of sudden rushes of work which every hospital knows, in their contact with stupid, cantankerous and ungrateful patients, no less than with those for whom it is a pleasure to work—consistently fulfil the ideal voiced to our village missionary by one of the Palwal women. 'You had before,' she said, 'the "Abode of Peace" (Salamatpur), now, in the new hospital, you have the "Abode of Compassion" (Rahmatpur).'

We deeply regret that during part of the year Dr. Florence Payne was laid aside with serious fever, which debilitated her considerably. Happily, she is now restored, and anticipating, at the close of her language studies, full work with Dr. Edith Young. Nurse Hawkins, who has been busily engaged in training native nurses, comes on furlough this spring, and in her absence Nurse Margaret Rawson, who took Nurse Gautrey's place at Bhiwani last year, takes on "sister's" duties at Palwal.

The medical work at the Bhiwani Zenana Hospital has been mainly carried on by Dr. Ellen Farrer and Nurse Rawson during the twelve months, Dr. Mary Bisset and Nurse Gautrey being absent on furlough for most of the year. The hospital has witnessed a busy time, no fewer than 19,000 out-patient attendances being registered, and 346 operations being performed. Two weekly branch dispensaries are now run in connection with the Medical Mission, these being in charge of Dr. Bisset. The much-needed Nurses' Home has not been erected owing to the necessary site being unobtainable at present. That the owner of the ground may be induced to sell or give the plot should be the earnest prayer of all our friends. During her absence on furlough Nurse Gautrey has taken a course of training in massage, in which she hopes to train native nurses at Bhiwani.

At Dholpur, Dr. Mary Raw has had a heavy year owing to the absence on furlough of Nurse Marion Henry. She has, however, had many signs of encouragement, and has had a total attendance of nearly 17,000 patients. The B.M.S. deputation say in their report:

"The peculiar value of Medical Missionary work, as a pioneer method, is nowhere better illustrated than in Dholpur, where all other 'foreign' Christian agency was disapproved, and where in appreciation of the services those devoted ladies are rendering to the people and to the State, land has been given for the ladies' bungalow, and a well-equipped women's hospital for twenty in-patients has been built for their use at the public expense."

The Mission Hospital at Berhampore has still, alas! no missionary doctor, and this is one of the greatest needs of our Indian Medical Missions. Happily the services of a sympathetic locum tenens have been obtained, and those two devoted missionaries, Nurse Stanford and Nurse Soper, are indefatigable in their efforts to maintain a high standard in the medical and spiritual work of the hospital, but the call for the permanent appointment of two lady medical missionaries is loud and insistent. The B.M.S. Deputation who visited this hospital pay a high tribute in their report to "the loving tenderness and skill of the nurses," who, though they have had to contend with constant changing in regard to the doctors during the past few years, are able to present a record for the preceding twelve months of a higher number of in-patients than in any previous year. The deputation further say, "We had touching evidence here that the high spiritual objects of a Mission Hospital are not lost sight of, even by the Indian nurses. The buildings are good, and the opportunity is splendid."

From the report of Nurse Stanford we learn the following instances of definite spiritual result :

"Last year an in-patient listened well, and on returning home told her mother, who became interested in the Gospel; the Bible-women visited her, and now she has removed idols from her house, and is worshipping the only true God. Two weeks ago she was ill, but rejoicingly assured the Hindu neighbours that she had no fear of death, for Christ had given her salvation. She has recovered from her illness, and we hope she will still be a witness in that village. Shetha, a Hindu girl, who was rescued from the 'dancing women' through becoming an in-patient about three years back, and is now about fifteen years of age, was baptised three months ago."

In the station and district of Russell Kondah, Dr. Nina Ottmann has had another active year, meeting with success, and at the same time with many difficulties, as the following extract from her report will show :

"The numbers in the Town Dispensary fell because of the convert. (A Telegu high caste woman whose conversion was reported last year.) One whole caste met in Conference and decided that their women should not attend our dispensary. Many of our old patients confessed that they were afraid to come. The convert, after having had a little more than a year's training at Cuttack and Berhampore, has come here and is doing excellent work as a Bible-woman. Some of her book sales are phenomenal. She was led to God largely through the reading of tracts, so she knows their value. We are looking forward to her work in the town during the hot weather."

MEDICAL WORK IN THE CHINESE REPUBLIC.

Medical Missionaries	...	14	Operations	2,987
Missionary Nurses	...	4	Attendances at Dispensaries				87,853

THERE can be no question as to the important part which the events of the past year on the China Mission field are destined to play in the future work of medical missions in that great land. Early in the year came the triennial Conference of the China Medical Missionary Association, which met at Peking, and which represented the views of 500 medical missionaries upon the present situation in China. An important list of recommendations was drawn up, and two months later these were adopted by the Continuation Committee National Conference at Shanghai, emphasis being laid upon four things: First, the immediacy of the need for Christian medical education in China; second, the absolute necessity that all medical colleges must be efficiently staffed and equipped; third, the impossibility of securing this efficiency without co-operation and concentration on the part of the various missionary societies, and between the missionaries and the Chinese; and fourth, the great importance of linking the work of medical missions more closely with the Chinese Christian Church.

The far-reaching character of all these points, and the relation they bear to the general policy of medical missions in China, cannot be exaggerated, and our own Society is alive to the importance of this epoch-making moment in the history of its medical work. The pregnant words of Dr. Duncan Main, of Hangchow (C.M.S.), President of the C.M.M.A., may be fitly taken as a correct summary of the present position. "The opportunity is urgent, the crisis is pressing, and the preaching of Christ and healing in His Name are THE NEEDS of the country. It is a living Saviour China wants, and God always blesses the healing art and preaching of Christ and His Gospel. . . . Let us be united, and up and doing."

Medical Work in Shantung.

The past year has worked considerable progress in the maturing of plans for the more efficient equipment of our medical stations in this province. At Tsinanfu the work of the Union Medical College is rapidly developing, and the addition of Dr. Harold Balme and Dr. W. Fleming to the staff has brought much additional strength to the faculty. The number of students has more than doubled, and will this year be trebled, and there is an earnest Christian spirit in the College. The outstanding need has been for a properly equipped modern hospital, and it is a matter of devout thanksgiving that, as already recorded, this need is in process of being met during the present year by the erection of a hospital with one hundred beds. The urgency of the call for this building can be realised from the following extract from Dr. Balme's report:

"In one day alone fifteen needy patients had to be refused admittance and when it is remembered that many of these patients travel fifty to one hundred miles in the hope of obtaining relief, it will at once be seen what hardship the refusal inflicts."

Furthermore it needs no emphasis to point out the obvious impossibility of training medical missionary students efficiently without a hospital. Funds are required to thoroughly equip the new buildings and to support beds at £7 a year. It is hoped that many friends may come forward to do this, so that by the time the hospital is opened in the autumn all the beds may be supported. An early augmentation of the medical staff for both college and hospital is also urgently needed in view of modern teaching requirements, and an anatomist who could go out this year would be specially welcomed.

Nurse Margaret Logan has joined the staff in Tsinanfu, particularly for the work of the new hospital, and she hopes to train native Chinese nurses. A second nurse is, however, necessary at once.

The work of the Tsingchowfu Hospital has been carried on by Dr. Russell Watson since his return from furlough last summer, and that of the Tsow-ping Hospital by Dr. Paterson and Dr. Jones. The building of the new hospital in Choutsun, which has been made possible through the generous gifts of a family devoted to the missionary cause, will mark the transfer of the work from Tsow-ping to the far more populous and strategic centre. Much prayer is asked for all this activity in our Shantung Mission.

Medical Work in Shansi.

The work of the "Schofield Memorial Hospital," and its associated women's hospital at T'ai Yuan Fu under the care of Dr. Broomhall, Dr. Lewis, Nurse Ellis, and Nurse Rossiter, has become growingly heavy throughout the past year, and so much pressure has been felt upon the existing space that an appeal has been sent home for isolation blocks for both hospitals and additional wards for the men's hospital. Moreover, in view of immediate furlough emergencies, an acute need exists for another doctor to be added to the medical staff. Shall these urgent needs pass unnoticed? The following illuminating extract from Dr. Lewis' report speaks for itself:

"Probably our 413 in-patients (men's hospital) represent fully 300 different districts, many of them not yet touched by missionaries, either native or foreign. While they are in hospital they cannot but learn something of our faith, and we pray that they may not forget what they have learned, but may seek to learn more. Can any other missionary agency diffuse Christian knowledge so widely, and at the same time so thoroughly?"

The Medical Missionaries at this centre are fully alive to the importance of developing local self-support for our medical missions, and during the past year have obtained in this way no less a sum than £501, bringing great relief in consequence to the funds available for the work.

At T'ai Chow, in the north of Shansi, Dr. Kirkwood has only been able to start medical work recently owing to the lack of proper premises. He has, however, been busy in evangelistic effort. The prayers of all God's people are asked for this young medical mission as well as for the more established one at T'ai Yuan Fu.

Medical Work in Shensi.

The shadow of the terrible losses of last spring still hangs heavily upon the Sianfu Medical Mission, and it is impossible to turn to the record of the work there during the past twelve months without realising how well-nigh irreparable has been the removal of our sainted brethren, Stanley Jenkins and Cecil Robertson. Alas! as reported already, none have yet come forward to take their places. With great heroism Dr. Andrew Young and Dr. Charter cut short their well-earned furlough last May to return to join Dr. Scollay at Sianfu.

Unhappily, not long after his arrival, Dr. Charter fell ill with typhus fever, but mercifully his life was preserved, and no further attack of the fever has befallen our staff. In the autumn Mrs. Andrew Young, M.D., and Mrs. Harold Fairburn, M.B. (Dr. Paula Maier), reached Sianfu, as also Mrs. Scollay (Nurse Watt). Nurse Jessie Smyth also proceeded there after a course of language study at Peking. The work of the hospital has grown in volume, and at the close of the year the staff were very glad to welcome three Chinese medical graduates who had been sent five years ago from Shensi to Hankow, there to study for medical missions. Their help marks the interesting stage when our Chinese medical missionary brethren will begin to take up the work that we have been privileged to commence, and much prayer should be offered on their behalf. It is now proposed that Dr. Scollay should proceed this year to open a medical mission at Yen-an-Fu, in the north of Shensi, whilst Dr. Charter and one of the Chinese doctors should recommence the San-Yuan Medical Mission, which will be a branch of Sianfu hospital.

We report with much thankfulness that last summer the Chinese authorities made a gift of a site in the old Manchu city of Sianfu for the erection of the large new hospital, which, by many generous donations, added to a previous grant from the Arthington Fund, is being built as a memorial to the brethren who died last year. This hospital will occupy an excellent position in the heart of Sianfu, and will afford those who labour as medical missionaries in that city magnificent scope. Who will offer to go and join Dr. and Mrs. Young, Mrs. Fairburn, and their Chinese colleagues in this work of healing for Christ?

MEDICAL WORK IN AFRICA.

Medical Missionaries	...	4	Operations	125
Missionary Nurses	...	3	Attendances at Dispensaries	77,870

THE Dark Continent, whose present stage is so aptly described by the title of the Rev. Norman Maclean's thrilling book, "Africa in Transformation," may well be regarded as one of the world's needy spheres for medical missions. The problems may not be the same as in India, or in China, but the need and opportunity for extending the Gospel in Africa through medical mission work is as real as in any field. Beyond this, there are special considerations which give to our Congo field an additional claim upon the sympathies of God's people. To name no other, the Congo is one of those sad regions where the scourges of sleeping sickness and malaria carry havoc on every hand. There can be no doubt as to the obvious call from Congo for a multiplication of our little band of four missionary doctors and four nurses.

Under the Portuguese Flag.

The medical mission at San Salvador, capital of Portuguese Congo, has had a year of change and anxiety, during which the need for this work of healing has been made more than ever manifest. Early in the summer Nurse Bell returned, and Dr. Haldane Gilmore went forth to take the place of Dr. Mercier Gamble during the latter's furlough. It has therefore been possible for the medical work to be continued without interruption, and great as were the figures for the previous year, they are yet larger for this past one. There have been 32,719 attendances of out-patients—an increase of over 4,000—and of sleep-sickness patients no fewer than 7,441 attendances have been registered, an increase of over 2,000.

Dr. Gilmore says in his report:

"Hardly a week goes by without our seeing people from new districts, and we are longing for itinerating work, to enable us to keep hold of these people and make use of them in other districts. The steady flow of sleep-sickness patients from Mabaya district is appalling, and shows every sign of increasing as the people up there are getting confidence in us."

How clear it is, in face of such facts, that the plea of Dr. Gamble, supported by Dr. Gilmore, for two doctors permanently on the staff of this medical mission is but the request for a vital necessity!

Alas! the end of the year and the commencement of the present one has been marked by the terrible upheaval and fighting at San Salvador, which has already been recorded in the HERALD. The deepest sympathy will be felt with Dr. Gilmore and Nurse Bell, as well as with Dr. and Mrs. Gamble, at this heartless blow to their encouraging work, and many prayers will go up that even this set-back may prove to be for "the furtherance of the Gospel."

Under the Belgian Flag.

Last summer Dr. E. R. Jones had to come home on furlough from Wathen, leaving a large medical work in the hands of the Rev. S. F. Thompson and Nurse Jackson. The way in which the patients have thronged for treatment may be gathered from these words of Mr. Thompson :

"At one time we had seventy-three in-patients sleeping in rooms which would comfortably hold thirty people, and during the year we have had 13,143 attendances."

At Kinshasa the work of the small dispensary hospital has grown considerably. Dr. Daisy Longland was absent for part of the year, having a much-needed furlough, and the Rev. John Howell carried on the work amongst the patients. Now Mrs. Longland has returned, and has been gladdened by the gift of a much-needed new building with accommodation for twelve beds.

From Bolobo, on the Upper Congo, Dr. E. C. Girling reports another year of "great progress." The "Liverpool" Hospital has had nearly 100 more in-patients than in 1912, and upon many of these major operations have been performed. Testimony has been given by a missionary living 600 miles away of patients who, after being treated by Dr. Girling and cured, have gone back to their far-away homes, have there witnessed to the faith they had heard in the hospital, and are to-day "veritable chapters of Christian evidences." Dr. Girling says that about five per cent. of the local population have been under treatment for sleeping sickness, and he has been encouraged by the results obtained in early cases.

The Government have supplied gratis the requisite drug, and have also granted a hunting licence free of charge, so that fresh meat may be obtained for the hospital. In return for this material help, which has been most gratefully received, Dr. Girling has attended 400 State workmen free of charge, and several white officials. Dr. Girling looks forward to welcoming Nurse Clappen in June, but also emphasises the need of a doctor at Bolobo during his furlough next year. We earnestly trust that his desire in this direction may be soon realised.

At Yakusu Nurse Gee has been working with much devotion throughout the year, and writes urging the need of that district for a missionary doctor.

THE HOME BASE.

WE are prevented by lack of space from giving more than a passing note respecting the loyal and devoted service that has been rendered at the Home Base.

The "Wants" Department.

The Hon. Secretaries of this branch of the M.M.A. thankfully report that supplies to the value of £276 3s. 3d. were sent to seventeen medical mission stations. This splendid result has meant much real self-sacrifice, and Miss Head and Miss Cook wish that it were possible to publish some of the letters accompanying the gifts.

The Bed and Cot Department.

Considerable progress has been made during the past year, but Miss Hayward, the Hon. Secretary, desires to point out that 94 beds in India and China still need support, and she appeals for friends who will take them up at £10 and £7 respectively.

The Sale of Work Department.

Early last year Miss Helen G. Tarn felt obliged to give up the Hon. Secretaryship of this branch, and the Committee, whilst most regretful that Miss Tarn could not continue, were exceedingly glad to learn that Miss Burdett, of Shipley, had kindly consented to become Hon. Secretary. She will be glad to hear from ladies willing to render a service to the cause of our medical missions by holding a £10 sale.

The Birthday Scheme.

Here again we are thankful to know from Dr. Ingle that definite progress has been made. There are now 616 churches that have adopted this excellent method, and £964 has been specified in the shape of Birthday Gifts.

The Red Cross League.

Miss F. M. Leonard, Hon. Secretary of this branch, reports special difficulties that have had to be faced during the year, but feels thankful that signs are not lacking of a real living interest in several branches of the League. A separate report will be ready shortly, and the Hon. Sec. will be glad to send it to anyone who will apply.

The Boys' Brigade Branch.

Efforts have been put forth by Mr. W. J. Cole, of Brighton, who has kindly become Honorary Secretary of this branch, to interest Baptist Companies in the Boys' Brigade Ward at T'ai Yuan Fu, in which 3 out of the 10 beds are taken up. He will be very glad to hear from any officers who could give an opportunity for their Companies to be interested in the work of a Mission hospital.

Medical Mission Finances.

The year now under review will be remembered as the period when the appeal was issued for funds to erect three new hospitals in China. The Committee consequently rejoice all the more that they are able to report an increase in the ordinary receipts. The aggregate income of the M.M.A., apart from £6,381 which has been contributed on account of the Special Hospital Appeal, and what was given for last year's deficit, has amounted to £10,698, made up of £6,278 given for the specified objects, and £4,420 for the general purposes of the Auxiliary. This indicates an advance of £376 in the year. The expenditure which the M.M.A. has been asked to meet for the current medical work has involved a sum of £7,205 for the B.M.S. and one of £2,443 for the B.Z.M., in all £9,648.

After making allowance for gifts given for particular objects and not yet spent, and providing for the whole home and foreign expenditure of the M.M.A., the Committee regret to have to report a deficit of £130 3s. 11d., whilst at the same time they are thankful that it is much smaller than last year. They earnestly trust that it may be speedily cleared.

A FINAL WORD.

AS we read through this brief account of the work of our Medical Auxiliary during the past year, let us endeavour to realise in some way what it all means. If we take the actual figures and consider that 426,028 different people have been relieved when they have been suffering, just as much as we should have been if we had been in similar circumstances, this surely has been something well worth the doing. But in coming to get the help for their physical needs, which they could not have had but for our Doctors and Nurses being accessible, all these people have come within sound of the Gospel message, the spreading of which is ever the highest aim of Medical Missions. Many have had their lives brightened with a new joy that has come to them as they have grasped the truth as it is in Jesus, and have gone away to take the good tidings to others, sometimes in far distant places. Instances might be given where there is now Sunday by Sunday a little group of native Christians meeting to worship our God and pour out their needs before him, in villages where no missionary has ever been, but from which some sufferer has made his way to one of our hospitals in search of physical help, and as there come to realise that he has deeper spiritual needs. Then, having found that these needs can be met in Him for whose sake the Doctors and Nurses have gone out to minister, he has gone to tell others the glad tidings.

Reader, if you can realise what all this means, you will understand what a joy it has been to the officers and Committee of the Auxiliary that they have been privileged to have some share in helping to carry on this work; and they would take this opportunity of thanking all those kind friends who have so generously subscribed what has been required to make it possible. They are anxious that all who have helped the cause this past year, and but for whose support the work could not have been carried on, should share in this joy; there are those who have been relieved and made happier for what you have done, and who would thank you if they could.

But there are still greater needs to be met, and glorious opportunities before us. The work that has been done has only served to show how much more there is to be done, and how appalling is the suffering on the Mission field. Oh! the pity of it that such a work should be hindered for want of funds. Are there not many others who might share in our work, and also in our joy—even should it mean some degree of sacrifice to do so?

It is our earnest prayer that many more may be led of God to come to our aid, as we thus seek to follow the example and instructions of Our Lord and Master.

PROPER FORM of the BEQUEST of a COMMON LEGACY to the MEDICAL MISSION AUXILIARY by WILL.

3 Give and Bequeath to the Treasurer for the time being of the Medical Mission Auxiliary of the Baptist Missionary Society, the sum of _____ Pounds, free of duty,* for the Medical Mission Auxiliary Fund, such sum and the duty thereon to be paid within _____ calendar months next after my death. And I declare that the Receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Auxiliary shall be an effectual discharge for the said Legacy.

* If so intended.

ADVERTISEMENT RATES.

The Baptist Missionary Society's Annual Report has by far the largest circulation of any annual publication among the Baptist Denomination. The funds of the Society amount to over £100,000, and every subscriber of 10/- and upwards receives a copy of this book, which is also sold, price one shilling. It is an excellent advertising medium.

The rates for Advertisements are—

A Position page	£4 4 0
An Ordinary page	£3 3 0 (and pro rata)

Special Rates for Religious Societies.

All enquiries and orders should be sent to—

JOHN GLOVER, Publication Department, 19, Farnival Street, London, E.C.

HOW TO HELP.

In addition to direct gifts to the Society in Subscriptions and Donations, there are many ways in which help can be given.

IN THE HOME.

Take "The Herald." It is one of the best of Missionary Magazines. It will educate, inform and inspire.

Have a Missionary Box. It will enable your family and your guests to give at stated and at special times.

IN THE CHURCH.

Form a Missionary Council to gather up and represent all the Missionary interests of the Church.

Accept a specific quota of the expense of the Society as the share of your church, and definitely undertake to raise it. We will tell you how to do it.

IN THE SCHOOL.

Affiliate with the Young People's Department at the Mission House. It can supply you with hints and apparatus.

Circulate "Wonderlands," the Young Folks Magazine, amongst the scholars. It is crammed with good things.

IN THE CONGREGATION.

Start Mission Study Circles. The text-books this winter are "The Renaissance in India," "The Outcastes' Hope," "Our First Field," and "Talks on India's Boys and Girls."

Organize a Branch of The League of Ropeholders, which has as its object to encourage young people in Missions—to know, to pray, to work, to give. There are Senior as well as Junior Branches. Write for particulars.

We publish a great variety of Free Literature and shall be glad to send you Samples of it.

Do not Forget Gift-Week.
