"THE DEFENCE AND FURTHERANCE OF THE GOSPEL"

IN his letter to the Philippian Christians, Paul gives thanks to God, with joy, for the fellowship he had with them in the furtherance of the Gospel. No letter is more intimate, and it is clear that the relationship between the Apostle and the members of the Church at Philippi was close and affectionate. He evidently considered that what he was doing at that time in Rome, though in bonds, was a part of the service of the Philippian Church. They had contributed material support to him, and on this occasion, at least, Paul could do no other than accept.

PHILIPPI spoke always to Paul of the furtherance of the Gospel, for it was to that city he first came on that venture when, in obedience to the call from Macedonia, he crossed from Asia to Europe. To one so discerning as Paul this journey must have been recognised as determinative, but probably all the significance of it was not apparent to him. We, looking back upon it, see how critical the entry into Philippi really was. Then Christianity turned westward to capture Rome and Europe.

BUT there was more than that in the phrase he used, for he was able to tell the Philippian Christians that those events in his life which caused them anxiety and trouble were really turning out for the furtherance of the Gospel. What might have appeared as a limitation to his energies and activities, in bondage as he was, and in a prison, had really brought about astounding results. Preachers were springing up everywhere, some not from the best motives, but others stirred by the sight of Paul’s own witness and endurance. Moreover, the guard that watched over him unceasingly was learning to know why he was there, and was being impressed.

TO everyone like the apostle the thing that matters is whether Christ is preached, and it is a great day in any man’s experience when he realises that the ways of preaching are many, that not only by word of mouth, but far more by the testimony of the life, is the witness given. The number of believers was being increased as the Gospel was being preached. But there was yet more, for it is clear that there was a development going on in Christian character. It was already seen in those who were waxing confident, and were emboldened to speak the Word without fear. It was also disclosed in the deeper understanding of the relationship of Christians one with the other.

* * * * *

IN a matter of conduct Paul makes his appeal from the amazing fact of the condescension and humiliation of Christ, set forth in the Incarnation and in His obedience unto death, even the death of the Cross. It is upon this that he bases his plea for Christian conduct and Christian character. And as this grows the Gospel is furthered.

* * * * *

TO those who read these pages it will be made clear that still the Gospel is being furthered. There are records here which tell of new territory that has been occupied, and again and again of men and women who have come to faith for the first time. Undoubtedly, the number of believers is being increased. It is not without interest that it is just fifty years ago that the first convert was baptized in the Congo in connection with our Mission. The date was Monday, March 29th, 1886. Writing about it, Comber, who conducted the service, says this:

"On the Monday morning, as I notified to the people on the Sunday, we proceeded to the nearest pool, a mile away, to carry out for the first time in Congo the ordinance of Believer’s baptism, the subject being my boy, William Mantu Parkinson. . . . It was an impressive service. Several hymns were sung, and a few words spoken on the subject of following and serving. Oh, for the time ‘ when the little one shall be a thousand, and the small one a strong nation!’ The Lord hasten it in His time."

THE one has become a thousand. Last year over 2,000 were baptized in Congo in connection with our Mission. Likewise, these pages report that evidence is forthcoming of the deepening realisation of the meaning of Christ for life and for character. And, above all, there is appearing in clear outline the Church of Jesus Christ in India, in China, and in Congo.

* * * * *

LET the reader seek these things and he will find them. He will then surely join with Paul when he says: ‘I thank my God upon every remembrance of you, always in every prayer of mine for you all making request with joy, for your fellowship in the Gospel from the first day until now: being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ.’
THE FINANCIAL SITUATION

THE APPROACH TO THE CHURCHES

During the year the usual deputation visits were made to the churches. Something of their extent may be judged by the fact that, in a busy month like October or November, speakers are provided for over one thousand meetings, while on each of the last two Sundays in April over forty churches in London alone received missionaries. We would take this opportunity of thanking all who made these visits profitable and also pleasant; in particular, we would thank the ministers, missionary secretaries and hosts, and those who provide transport.

* * * * *

A conference of women auxiliary secretaries in May provided a most useful occasion to discuss the work of the Women's Forward Movement undertaken during the last three years. The secretaries brought to the meeting the experiences of their own districts, and the corporate judgment of local fellow-workers on the value of the enrolment scheme, the usefulness of the Prayer Partners leaflet, and other allied questions. The number of Prayer Partners steadily increased during the year, and we thankfully record that 20,250 leaflets are now issued. Since these leaflets are only given to enrolled members, the figure indicates a larger volume of pledged personal support.

* * * * *

One outcome of the conference has been the holding of similar conferences locally for Church women missionary secretaries. The benefit of frank discussion of difficulties, the exchange of methods that have proved helpful, testimony to what God has wrought in local groups and individual churches, are already bearing fruit.

Note must also be made of the increasing number of individuals in the churches who receive letters from stations and missionaries through the Mission House; in particular, bed supporters are kept in close contact in this way. The Ministers' Letter has been sent out periodically; and each quarter all missionary secretaries receive an eight-page pamphlet relating to their work.

* * * * *

THE RESPONSE OF THE CHURCHES

The first response is to be found in the candidates that offer themselves from time to time. A glance at the Missionary Roll show that a score or more have sailed during the year.
WE are assured that the number of intercessors at the Throne has increased, while it is evident that far more people contribute by gifts than ever before. Yet, on the financial side, there was disappointment: £11,000 less was received in the treasury from the churches and individual givers, although many churches during last year increased the amount of their gifts, for which we are very thankful. Nearly all of this £11,000 is a decline on the General Fund. The contribution to the Women's Fund decreased by £1,500, while that of the Medical Fund showed a slight increase. A gratifying feature was an increase of £1,000 in the Gift and Self-Denial offering.

* * * * *

THE financial result, however, was that we were left with a deficit of £18,600—a somewhat staggering amount. But the word from all is that we must not be overwhelmed, but must make an endeavour to clear it, and that immediately. Let each church inquire as to whether the decline is partly due to a decrease in its own case. Let it also be remembered that this large deficit is not going to be cleared through a few very large donations, although we are hoping for substantial amounts from many quarters. Our hope lies more in that great company of well-wishers to the Society who, we are sure, would desire the work to be continued without decline or decrease.

THE concern of the great missionary St. Paul was that whether by his life or his death, in his liberty or in his bonds, the truth of Christ should be vindicated, and that everything that happened to him should tend to the furtherance of the Gospel. He was set for its defence, and there were many adversaries. But he held that the best defence of the truth was in pressing forward with it to the uttermost parts of the world.

It is so in every age. The Christian Evangel stands as clearly opposed to the accepted ideas of modern paganism as it did to ancient paganism. But the disciples of Christ have no need to apologise for Him. He vindicates His own divine authority as He goes further into human life through the faithful witness of His servants.

EVANGELISM IS THE BEST APOLOGETIC

The extension of the work of the Church in unselfish ministry strengthens its own life. The Church that is not missionary withers. The faith of the missionary church is renewed continually as the trophies of the Gospel are brought back in triumph from the mission field, in redeemed lives and changed communities.

SELF-DENIAL IS THE WAY TO SPIRITUAL ENRICHMENT

One of the chief sources of the strength of the Baptist denomination is its missionary enterprise. The essential things for which we as Baptists really stand, among all the disciples of Christ, are most fully vindicated by being tested and accepted by people of every sort and condition in all parts of the world. As we go on translating the Bible and interpreting its message in many languages, we prove afresh its true inspiration. Men and women who are saved from degrading superstitions and sins by the Gospel of Christ are unanswerable arguments for the truth of His claims. And we as Baptists believe that every new generation needs to be evangelised by the same divine truth with which every non-Christian nation must be brought at first into the light.

THE B.M.S. GOES AHEAD

The story of the B.M.S. in 1935 is a story of strenuous labour for the furtherance of the Gospel in the midst of difficulties which have tested our courage. There has been open-minded adjustment of plans to meet new situations in many places. In finance we had to make a little go a long way. Wherever it was possible for us to break new ground the opportunity was gladly seized. The past gains of evangelism have been confirmed by helping the native churches to become strong and united, to bear their own burdens and to become in their own way a missionary force.

THE RIGHT KIND OF CHRISTIAN UNITY

The B.M.S. has taken a large share in co-operation with other British Missionary Societies and in fellowship with the International Missionary Council. It is our conviction that for the defence of essential truths, for maintaining the liberty of missionary action and for the most effective advance of Christianity, we must make every possible use of united counsel and operation. We are therefore seeking to foster the spirit of practical fellowship among all bodies of believers in Christ, whatever their ecclesiastical differences may be. In this way we seek to bear a clear witness for our Lord in a hostile or indifferent world.

OVERSEAS MISSIONS HELP EVANGELISM AT HOME

There is a current of modern irreligion flowing from the West to the East and to Africa. But it is also happily true that missions are helping to bring back to western lands the reactive influence of revived evangelistic zeal. May this greatly increase, and may the churches of every denomination in our own and other lands soon receive that great revival for which the hearts of God’s servants are longing.

FURTHER FIGURES

There are many results of faithful work which cannot be seen, and it would be wrong to judge a church or a mission only by its statistics. Yet it is with deep thankfulness that we report that the number of conversions and baptisms in connection with the B.M.S. last year showed a total increase on the previous year. The figures from the Congo exceeded 2,000. The baptisms in India were higher than last year—higher than for many years. And but for abnormal conditions in one province of China the increases in the other two provinces would have been ensured a record total in that field.

This is the furtherance of the Gospel and its surest defence.
INDIA

CONGRATULATIONS TO OUR YOUNGER SISTER

The American Baptist Missions have now completed a hundred years of service in the Gospel in India and Burma; and their brethren of the B.M.S., and the Indian churches associated with the British Baptist Missions, rejoice with them in the very wonderful success that God has granted to their labours. The visit of Dr. Truett and Dr. J. H. Rushbrooke, of the Baptist World Alliance, has been a notable feature of the Centennial Celebrations. It has happily been possible also for these distinguished visitors to give encouragement to the staff of the B.M.S. stations during their extended tours.

BENGAL

STRENGTHENING THE STAKES

A fresh stage in the advance of the Christian movement in Bengal has been reached this year in the organisation of the Bengal Baptist Union as a responsible body for the administration of the Church and mission work formerly directed and supported by the B.M.S. through its Missionary Conference. The Rev. W. E. French, B.Sc., elected as the Secretary of the Union, will be succeeded at Bishnupur by the Rev. H. M. Angus, B.A., B.D.

The Society is putting its resources of staff and financial subsidy into this partnership, in the confidence that it is a necessary and hopeful step towards the healthy independence of the Indian Church. Bengal is so vast, its population so numerous and diverse, that it is no easy matter to organise a Union of its small and scattered village Churches, and create a sense of corporate fellowship and responsibility. But a great impetus has been given to all the Churches in Bengal by this new undertaking.

STILL ATTEMPTING GREAT THINGS

Serampore had a year of varied activity. During the furlough of Principal Angus, his duties were cared for by Professor Rawson. A welcome accession to the Serampore Mission circle has come through the marriage of Mr. Wenger to Miss Freda Laws, B.Sc.

The historic College of William Carey provided an appropriate setting for the important meeting at which the Bengal Baptist Union took shape.

There have been a number of notable visitors to the College—Dr. Stanley Jones, Dr. Truett, Dr. Rushbrooke, Dr. Wilson Cash and Sir Cusack Walton, of the C.M.S., Principal Williams, of Bala, and his colleagues of the Welsh Presbyterian Church.
The year's enrolment of students increased to a total of 285. There are 69 residents in the College quadrangle. In the Divinity examinations, conducted by the Senate and open to affiliated Colleges, 17 students graduated B.D. and 15 took the L.Th. diploma. Of the eight theological students who left Serampore at the end of their course, three have entered the pastorate in Ceylon. Fifteen students obtained the Calcutta B.A. degree.

In the town and district of Serampore, Christian elementary schools have been continued. Three baptisms took place during the year. The Christian Student Brotherhood carried on Bible study groups, engaged in village work, open-air preaching at the Jagannath mela, a local club for boys, and Tamil song services in the city of Calcutta.

CALCUTTA: THE THRONGS OF THE CITY

In a vast city like Calcutta everything that is done seems inadequate. The Carey Baptist Church, in the densely crowded area of Bow Bazaar, with a surprising and very interesting mixture of races, has maintained a many-sided ministry, and the week-night evangelistic meetings and lantern services in the Chapel forecourt have drawn large crowds to see and to listen. A flourishing Sunday School and other meetings for children are also carried on. Seven baptisms took place during the year.

The Bengali Churches at Entally, Collinga and Howrah, all situated in the midst of busy streets, have bravely kept up their witness for Christ, and have been the centres of much voluntary lay service.

The Arthington Institute and Hostel in College Square has continued its important Christian witness among the students of the University. The retirement of Mr. Nag from leadership in this work is foreshadowed, and the appointment of his successor is now engaging earnest and prayerful thought.

The Calcutta Mission Press has added another European missionary printer, Mr. Bingham, to its staff. Mr. Ellis is taking furlough in England. The Press had a very successful and profitable year under Mr. Percy Knight.

SAINTS AMONG THE SWAMPS

In the district of Barisal there is now a Christian community of over 10,000 people attached to the Baptist Mission. Two new chapels were built during the year, and some others have been restored. The whole district is divided into five areas for pastoral superintendence. There are 40 village schools. A graduate of Serampore, Mr. S. C. Sarkar, B.D., was inducted to the pastorate of Koligram. There were 35 baptisms.
The Boys' Boarding School has 107 scholars, of whom 73 are boarders. Four have gone forward to the High School at Bishnupur, and one to the Agricultural School at Dacca. Mr. Bury has conducted a Bible Class in English for non-Christian students, and the C.E. Society is active.

KHULNA reports 30 baptisms, and, in spite of the poverty of the Christians through the low price obtained for their rice harvest, they have kept their work going and have carried the Gospel into villages hitherto unevangelised.

TOWARDS THE HILLS

In Chittagong the political conditions are not yet normal, and open-air preaching is not possible. But the evangelistic services in the Chapel, with the magic lantern, have drawn good crowds. Two baptisms took place. There are two Sunday Schools.

The honorary pastor of the Church has celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday.

The work at Chandraghona centres chiefly in the Mission Hospital, of which a report is given on another page. An Elementary School is carried on in the Compound, and a Women's Class. In the rainy season a Bible School was organised and led by Mr. Wenger and Mr. Roy. The Enquirers' Class included candidates for baptism from several tribes. Of the eleven baptized during the year, three were Khyangs.

RANGAMATI was visited by a serious fire in the bazaar. Fortunately no very great damage was done to the Mission premises. The new bungalow on the B.M.S. property is now occupied by the Women Missionaries.

Itineration has taken the missionaries and their helpers over very wide distances of this forest and river area. Travel is very slow and the conditions of life are very primitive. Eleven were baptized.

MORE CONQUESTS FOR CHRIST

The missionaries in South Lushai again report very large increases in the membership of the Christian Church; 672 people have been baptized, including two chiefs. The Pawi tribe on the south-east is now being brought within the scope of the Lushai Mission, and Miss Chapman is living at Darzo.

In the absence of Mr. Carter on furlough, extra responsibility fell upon his junior colleague, Mr. Raper. Mr. Carter has been appointed Government Honorary Inspector of Schools, and in collaboration with the Welsh Mission in North Lushai, is unifying the educational system for the area.

There are now 35 schools, with 1,200 scholars, and more are being called for. The School on the B.M.S. Compound at Lungieh has 180 scholars. Regular Conferences have been held for Pastors and Teachers and Evangelists, and special teaching and tests are being arranged for the large number of candidates for baptism.

Bible translation is being carried on by Senior Pastor Challiana, and Mr. Lorrain, in his retirement, is working hard at the much-needed Lushai Dictionary.

PREPARING FOR THE FUTURE

BISHNUPUR is situated in a wide country area in the B.M.S. field south of Calcutta. It is also the site of the Union Boys’ High School, in which the B.M.S. and L.M.S. are in partnership, a residential school with a fine corporate life and a growing Christian tradition. The enrolment of scholars in 1935 was 312, of whom 148 are from Christian homes. Nine boys matriculated in the year. During Principal Chatterjee’s illness the loyalty of the staff and scholars was very noteworthy. There have been additions and improvements to the building, including a new Sanatorium.

The religious life of the School has been encouraging. Six boys were baptized and received into the membership of the Baptist Church, and a similar number joined the Congregational Church. The senior boys have been helping to maintain a night school for village boys, and have supported a wayside dispensary and other social services. An Old Boys’ Association has now been formed.

The District Magistrate visited and inspected the School during the year, and gave a most gratifying report.

ATTACKING THE STRONGHOLDS

IN Dacca the Hostel for University students has been full, and the work among them exceptionally encouraging. The Lectures in the Hall have been well attended, and six Bible Classes weekly have had a higher enrolment. Two students were baptized during the year—one a Hindu and the other a Moslem. Services were maintained at the Mission Church in English as well as Bengali, and chaplaincy work was carried on among the troops and British residents. Social service and rescue work have also been organised in the city.

The Rev. K. C. Das, B.A., L.Th., has carried on visitation among the Bengali village Churches. The Rev. S. G. Woollard, of Narayan- ganj, has made a good recovery from his severe illness, and the services have been continued. There were 13 baptisms in that district.
THE staff of the Rangpur Mission has been strengthened by the appointment of the Rev. R. B. Sarkar, B.A., L.Th., and the marriage of Mr. F. W. Smith. Mr. Selwood is taking a special course of studies at Lahore with a view to his work among Moslems. Evangelism among the Oraons and Santalis has been most encouraging, and four Oraons have come forward for baptism. The classes for inquirers include Garos and Bengalis.

The small Hostel for students has proved very useful. Classes for preachers and schools for teachers have been shared with the Mission at Dinajpur.

"EVERY KINDRED, EVERY TRIBE"

DINAJPUR.—In the absence of Mr. Edmeades on furlough, the staff had a busy year. Forty-three were baptized, and there is an enrolment of 150 enquirers.

The Church membership is now 1,053 in 27 branches, and the adherents total 2,700. In addition to the more thorough organisation of the Churches of the district as an Association of the Bengal Baptist Union, there was a closer fellowship with the Christian Churches in the parts of Bengal in which the Santali folk are being evangelised.

There are 71 boarders, boys and girls, in the Dinajpur school. The Scouts and Guides have been very active and successful, and a holiday camp went, for the first time, as far as the Himalayas.

Regular services are held in the Chapel in Bengali and Santali, and other dialects have to be employed among the millions in the wide district.

Vacation Schools and Conventions for village teachers, preachers and lay workers, as well as the regular gatherings of the District Church Council, were held in the Mission Compound at frequent intervals. The official visit of H.E. the Governor of Bengal was a very notable occasion.

ORISSA

A COMPACT FIELD

ORISSA will hereafter be a separate Province under its own Governor. There are altogether 25,000 Oriyas who profess the Christian name, and 150 Christian centres of worship. The recently formed Baptist Church Council is working earnestly, and more money is being raised for Church and missionary purposes. A week of special simultaneous Evangelistic effort was organised last Easter, and a Day of Prayer for the Union was observed. There were 713 baptisms.
In the town of Cuttack all the B.M.S. Schools are doing very good work. The Stewart School for Anglo-Indian boys and girls has 204 scholars, of whom 120 are boarders. Forty of the senior scholars are enrolled in the class for young disciples.

The Scouts, Guides and Bluebirds have been very keen, and athletics have flourished. New building extensions are being pushed forward. Gratifying successes have been obtained in the school-leaving examinations.

In view of the new Indian Constitution, the Christian education of the Anglo-Indian community is a matter of very great importance from the missionary point of view.

The Training College at Cuttack had 18 students preparing for their life-work as Christian preachers. The Rev. G. D. Rath and ten of the students belong to the American Baptist Mission, and this co-operation is highly valued by Principal Fellows and his Indian colleague, the Rev. B. Pradhan. In their studies the men have shown interest and zeal, and they have given good service at the Leper Asylum, the Sunday Schools, in bazaar preaching, and in the village churches.

In addition to the 18 theological students there have been 8 Christian students resident in the Hostel, who are working in one or other of the Government Colleges.

The Orissa Mission Press at Cuttack has issued a large amount of literature—Scripture portions, tracts, periodicals and school books. The Press employs a considerable number of Christian men, and is therefore a valuable economic factor in the community.

THE LEPERS ARE CLEANSED

In addition to the management of the Press, Mr. S. F. Robinson has been the Missionary Superintendent of the Cuttack Leper Asylum, where 305 leper inmates have been cared for, and 16 were discharged "symptom free" during the year. Nine of the patients were baptized. Daily school has been held, weaving has been taught, and there are leper Scout and Guide Companies inside the asylum compound. It is a little colony with a wonderful Christian atmosphere.

REALMS OF EVERY TONGUE

Marked progress was made in the Kond Hills Mission, which has now eighteen organised churches in the union, with ten evangelists. The total Church membership is 932, and five new chapels were constructed by the Kui-speaking people. The baptisms numbered 161, and there are sixty-nine catechumens. The translation of the New Testament into the Kui language is being carried on steadily. Three elementary schools are maintained and two adult training classes. Two students are being maintained in the training college at Cuttack.
The advent of the new missionary doctor and his doctor wife is hailed with great gratitude. The senior B.M.S. Missionary, Mr. Grimes, has been nominated representative and spokesman for the Hill tribes in the Advisory Council of the new Province of Orissa.

AT THE CENTRE OF HINDU IDOLATRY

In the Puri district there are eight churches. Three of them were badly affected by the 1933 floods, but they are recovering. A good deal of building and repairing has been undertaken, and the small village communities have contributed to the funds of the Union. Thirty people were baptized, of whom five came from Hinduism. The evangelistic work among the Jagannath pilgrims has been well maintained.

Sambalpur, the centre of a group of six small churches, reports an improvement in the Church life, and a larger interest and responsibility is being taken by the laymen. Instead of the former opposition and persecution of the Christians, many calls are received from non-Christians to come and pray for their sick folk, and tell them of Christ. Three families were received in this way, and the baptisms numbered twenty-one.

"I WILL BUILD MY CHURCH"

The West Orissa district continues to yield most heartening results in Church and evangelistic work, although there is severe poverty among the villagers owing to failure of crops and the high cost of food imported into Patna State. Three new churches were organised, bringing the total to seventy-five, and 427 persons were baptized, more than half of them being from the non-Christian community. It is disappointing to have to report the aggressive activity of the Roman Catholics against this new community of converts.

In every district of the Patna State and in parts of Sonpur there are enquirers attending classes of preparation for baptism. Four hundred and ninety pupils are under instruction in the nineteen Christian schools, and the supply of qualified teachers is insufficient. Three former scholars of the Bolangir school have opened village schools.

The Bible Society's colporteurs had a very busy year in this area. The work of the Church Union has increased and the people are showing great zeal. In the head station of Bolangir the two boarding schools have prospered, and the classes for voluntary workers have been carried on steadily. The Scouts and Guides have flourished.

Some senior scholars have gone forward to the teachers' State training school, with a view to becoming the leaders of their community as village teachers, as others who preceded them are now doing.
BERHAMPORE is an important medical mission station, the report of which is found on another page. It is also the centre of the Ganjam Union of five Baptist churches, the membership of which is 365. Bands of young men have been going out from Berhampore to preach in the villages of the district.

NORTH INDIA

RESTORING THE WASTE PLACES

OUR North India Mission is divided into two widely separated areas—the Bihar and Delhi-Agra groups of stations. The organisation of the churches with their comparatively small membership is rendered more difficult by distance.

In Bihar, slowly recovering from the effects of the earthquake, rebuilding and repairs have been pressed forward, and the people have been bravely facing great hardship. At the capital centre of the Province there are seven churches with a union membership. Fourteen baptisms took place during the year. The hostel for university students, repaired since the earthquake, with a reduced accommodation, has been filled with twenty-eight boarders—eleven Hindus, six Moslems and eleven Christians. There have been regular Bible classes, lectures and English services. Mr. Bridges, the warden of the hostel, has served on the university senate.

In evangelistic work no opposition has been met with in the open-air services. Preaching has been carried on in the Melas, and the sales of Christian books and Scriptures has been above the average.

As there is a considerable number of Bengali people in Government service at Patna, occasional special services in Bengali have proved attractive, as an addition to the regular Hindu services.

THE Monghyr earthquake ruins are slowly being restored, and the Baptist Mission has made a fresh start under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Theaker Stuart, late of Palwal. Student classes have been opened, and the services at Monghyr and in the railway settlement of Jamalpur have been maintained.

AT Gaya the sale of Christian books was carried on by the colporteurs and evangelists without a book shop, but the results have been encouraging. There is a constant flow of pilgrims to the Buddhist and Hindu shrines of Gaya.

The Church increased in membership by eleven baptisms. The superintendence of the large leper asylum has been in the hands of the B.M.S. missionary, and time and care have also been demanded in the oversight of the earthquake damage repairs.
WHERE EMPIRES HAVE PASSED AWAY

In Delhi City, both old and new, the B.M.S. has much important work. The Christian community includes a large proportion of people of the poorer depressed classes. There are several centres where Christian social and educational services are carried on. Bi-weekly open-air meetings are held in the park. The Sunday schools are flourishing. Attempts are being made to raise funds for new buildings. Much interest was awakened by the visit of the Bible Society’s caravan team, and the gracious reception which H.E. the Viceroy gave to them and to the missionaries.

For the pastorate of the central Hindustani Church, the appeal has again been made to the B.M.S. for the loan of the services of Mr. Hubbard for one year after his return from furlough. Mr. Hubbard is also acting again as chaplain in connection with the Union Church in the New City.

The Christian Boys’ High School, which the B.M.S. and the S.P.G. are jointly supporting, had a good year. Mr. Gibbon has been appointed Principal for the coming year, and there are 240 boys on the roll. The new school assembly hall has been opened, and the upper school has now been recognised by Government. Six senior scholars joined the church by baptism. One of the old boys has settled as teacher in the village mission which is the special care of the High School.

Mr. and Mrs. McAndrew have succeeded Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Young as residents in charge of the students’ hostel at Civil Lines.

GOD HAS CHOSEN WHAT IS DESPISED

Palwal sends the encouraging report of thirty-two baptisms, a record not without exciting incident. At one baptismal service a mob of roughs, incited by the local Moslems, broke up the proceedings after six outcaste men had been immersed, and the service had to be continued on a later date when the presence of the police ensured order. At another service seventeen candidates were baptized.

The Baraut churches still suffer from the poverty of their members, but progress is being made. The Delhi-Agra Church Council is now supporting another evangelist for a group of five villages. The baptisms of the year numbered thirty-five, including eight women. There is a great need of more work among the women—very few have joined the Church in comparison with the men.

The Bhiwani Baptist Church is going to build a new chapel in a convenient centre, and the building it has hitherto used will make a useful addition to hospital accommodation. There are reports of high caste oppression of the Christians in country places, and refusal to let them use the public wells. Three young men from the pastor's Bible class were baptized.

THE mission work in the Kasauli-Kalka district of Simla was in the charge of Mr. Lund during the furlough of Mr. C. H. Williams. The work gained encouraging results among the British soldiers, as well as in the Indian congregation. There were five baptisms.

THAT YOUR FAITH MIGHT REST ON THE POWER OF GOD

THE centre of the B.M.S. work in Agra is at the boys' school. It is an evangelistic project, for the large majority of the scholars are from Hindu homes—many of them Brahmans. There has been real encouragement in their reception of Christian teaching and their readiness to purchase Scriptures.

The Fellowship of Old Boys has revealed the sincerity of the religious response. Some of the old boys are taking up active service for Christ, although not yet baptized members of the Church. There were two baptisms at the Havelock Church before Mr. Shears left, and an enquirers' class is now under instruction by Mr. Townsend. Meetings for women, and children's services, are being carried on, and the Sunday school is working well.

FOR DEFENCE AND FURTHERANCE

LAHORE.—After furlough Mr. and Mrs. Bevan Jones have returned to their work at the Henry Martyn School for the training of Christian workers and the promotion of evangelism among Moslems. In this work we have fellowship with other missionary societies, Methodist, Presbyterian and Anglican.

CEYLON

THE ISLAND OF PRECIOUS STONES

CEYLON suffered terribly during the year from a virulent malaria epidemic. It is computed that 100,000 people died of this scourge. Many of the day schools had to be closed, Sunday school work was sadly interrupted, and the ordinary Church work was very difficult. There was a marked drop in the number of baptisms, but many catechumens are under teaching, and a large number of inquirers. One old man of seventy years of age has been baptized. A new evangelistic campaign is being organised by the Christian Churches of all denominations. Dr. Stanley Jones's visit evoked much interest and is being followed up.
The Ceylon Baptist Council is taking its responsibility very bravely and is doing remarkably well. Another graduate from Serampore has been inducted to the pastorate of Ratnapura. The Sinhalese Bible revision, in which Mr. Pearce is taking part, is proceeding rapidly to its completion.

The boys' high school (Carey College, Colombo,) has 222 scholars on the roll. It has won a very good report from the Government examiner. Mr. and Mrs. Charter have returned after furlough with health renewed, but Mr. and Mrs. Radley are, we regret to say, returning to England under medical advice.

CHINA

IN THE STRESS OF CONFLICT

The work of the B.M.S. in China during 1935 was made specially difficult by three causes. The Northern Provinces were troubled on account of Japanese influence in Manchukuo, and the students in particular have been in an excited and resentful frame of mind concerning foreign interference with China's affairs.

The floods in the valleys of the two great rivers, the Yantze Kiang and the Hwangho, have caused widespread havoc and suffering, and hundreds of thousands of people have been made destitute and homeless. Much time and strength have been devoted by our Mission to the administration of relief funds generously contributed in response to appeals by Dr. Edwards and others.

The ravages of the Communist Red Army have been very severe in the provinces of Shensi and Shansi, but the forces of the Central Government in Nanking have been driving them back.

SHENSI

"DIGGING IN" AFTER ADVANCE

Following the remarkable increase in baptisms and additions to the Church membership in Shensi in 1934, this year's figure of 115 shows a decrease, though there has been encouraging progress in the activity of the Church. The centres of Christian worship are multiplying faster than the supply of trained teachers and leaders. Monthly retreats and regular training classes for lay workers were organised, and there was careful revision of the Church membership roll. The problem of illiteracy is being effectively dealt with, and the joint administration of the Church and evangelistic work by the Mission and Church Council is working smoothly.

In the district of Yenanfu the Christians have been subjected to great hardship by the incursions of the Communist army.
TAKING CAPTIVITY CAPTIVE

In the city of Sianfu, preaching at the Central Hall goes on hour after hour, and many new learners have been gathered as the result. Fifty-four people were immersed at one baptismal service.

A new opium refuge has been opened by the Mission, forty patients having voluntarily put themselves under treatment. This has afforded a valuable opportunity for personal evangelism.

One of the five branch churches in the north of Sianfu doubled its membership. The son of a godly widow in whose home the little church was formed has been baptized. Among the three branches on the south there was a six-weeks' evangelistic campaign.

A school for the blind has been opened by the Church.

The City of Sianfu, with its quarter of a million people, has now become quite modernised, with its railway connection with the coast, its cars and well-made motor roads, and its aeroplane service. And the opportunities of Christian witness do not diminish. Mr. Young writes: "Scarcely a day passes without some young official or student coming to see me for a talk on religion. There are several well-attended Bible-classes every week, and a Bible Institute holds meetings three evenings a week. A Christian fellowship of forty members is organised for voluntary work in connection with the Church, as well as for its financial support. Another Communist leader, who was educated in France and Russia has been converted, and is now preaching Christ."

The Shensi Church "Religious Education Board" cares for the thirteen Sunday Schools with 521 scholars, and provides periodical training schools for workers. There were 58 men and women teachers at the Fuyintsim retreat, and 42 men and women evangelists were gathered for eight days in April.

A large quantity of Christian literature was sold during the year.

ADVANCING NORTHWARD

In Shansi there has been real advance and a marked increase in baptisms. Mr. Lower, the provincial secretary, has moved from Taiyuanfu to Sinchow, and his place at the capital has been taken by Mr. Price. The latter reports fine opportunities of evangelism at the Central Preaching Hall in the city. The prison visitation has been maintained regularly.

In the Sinchow district there were fifty-one baptisms, and the Church attendance has been very cheering. The staff at Tai Chow plead earnestly for reinforcements, especially in women workers. The work of the year has greatly refreshed their spirits, for sixty-one were added by baptism.

The railway northward has now reached Sinchow, and the whole area is more easily accessible to the messengers of Christ.
CHRISTIANITY IN THE HOME OF CONFUCIUS

In the province of Shantung the Chinese churches are bearing increased burdens of responsibility owing to the reduction in the number of the foreign missionary staff and the plan of gradual devolution. There has been a record increase in local income for Church work, and an increase in baptisms. The total was 402. There are hundreds of scattered groups of Christian worshippers to be shepherded and brought into corporate union for service. The year was remarkable for the large number of Bible Study classes and training schools for voluntary workers. The regrettable inroad of the "Tongues" sect has revealed the need of more careful and continuous Bible instruction.

Eighty-four schools were carried on in connection with the campaign for teaching adults to read the Chinese New Testament. There were not enough trained men available in 1935 to meet the pastoral calls.

Tent missions were carried on in many country areas.

In the Tsingchowfu district the baptisms numbered 145. These included some of the scholars of the Industrial School. Nineteen men were under training in the Bible School, and of these eight have left to take up regular work as evangelists. During their training these young men give valuable aid and gain useful experience in the town mission halls, the museum, and in the villages. Over 50,000 visits were registered in the small Tsingchowfu Museum, which was the forerunner of the Arthington Institute in the capital. An evangelist is always present whenever the Museum is open, and full advantage is taken of the opportunity of personal friendly intercourse with the visitors to interest them in Christian truth.

There was extra work among the camps of flood refugees in the neighbourhood.

The Society suffered the loss of one of its mission houses by fire, but fortunately no lives were lost.

EVANGELISING THE MULTITUDES

Tsinanfu City has felt in full measure the reaction of Japanese policy in North China. The Shantung Christian University, however, had the advantage of more settled conditions under its newly appointed President, Dr. Shuming T. Liu, and there was a loyal spirit among the Chinese and foreign staff. The number of students on the campus in all faculties was 508, and of these 98 were medical students and 33 were in the Theological School. A new observatory building has been added to the School of Science, and has had installed in it a telescope which formerly belonged to the Rev. Samuel Couling, M.A., who served the B.M.S. in Shantung and the C.L.S. in Shanghai.

Mr. F. S. Drake is the B.M.S. representative on the theological staff, and, in addition to his lectures, had charge of the Sunday services in the University Church and arranged retreats for the students. He also conducted Bible Classes in the Government College for students, one of whom was baptized during the year.

The work of providing Chinese text-books for college use is a very necessary part of the work of the Cheelo staff.

The Arthington Institute, under the personal direction of Dr. Williamson, had a very successful year. The number of visitors recorded at the entrance turnstiles was 423,517, which is equal to the population of Tsinanfu. Of these, 151,751 attended also the services in the preaching hall. The Rev. Y. C. Li acted as the secretary of the Institute.

Dr. Williamson pays a warm tribute to Mr. Wang Pei Nien, who died during the year after fifteen years' service at the Institute. He was a Manchu, and a very earnest and successful Christian worker, tireless in seeking to bring men to Christ. For years he preached twice daily, and he won many converts. He was also a zealous salesman of Christian literature.

Among the new exhibits fitted up recently is a model showing the development of the art of writing from early ages to the present day. A valuable collection of Chinese oracle bones from over 1000 B.C. has been mounted, and in connection with this is a display of versions of the Bible in many languages. There has just been sent to Dr. Williamson from the Library of Furnival Street a copy of the translation of the New Testament made by Joshua Marshman and printed at the Serampore Press in 1811. Other new exhibits include a model on the treatment of leprosy, and a model cotton mill made by a Chinese student of textiles recently returned from England.

A new guest-room at the Institute affords better facilities for religious conversation with individual visitors.

There have been thirty camps for flood refugees in the neighbourhood of Tsinanfu, and the missionaries and Chinese Christian Churches have taken a leading part in the administration of relief. In addition to other services, a special lantern service for the refugees was held in the large hall of the Institute every Sunday.

The Church in the city has helped to sustain the Mission in the west suburb. There were fifty-two baptisms.

CHOWTSUN

IN TOWN AND TENT

In the southern area of the Shantung Baptist Union there were sixty-eight baptisms last year. The day before Mr. and Mrs. Harris left Chowtsun on furlough twenty-seven candidates were received at one service. The new pastor for the town church has gathered round him a strong body of helpers. Very good use has been made of the mission tent in the visitation of the district. The church in this area supports four trained pastors, and plans are being made for the appointment of a fifth. Ten colporteurs sold over 82,000 Scripture portions. Mr. Harris also shared in the work of the northern area centred at Peichen.

SHANGHAI

SPREADING THE GOSPEL BY RADIO

Since the retirement of Dr. Evan Morgan, the B.M.S. has been represented on the staff of the Christian Literature Society in Shanghai by one of its missionaries only, the Rev. Albert Garnier. Mr. Garnier has been very busily occupied with his literary work in co-operation with his colleagues of other missions and churches in association with the C.L.S. He has also taken a very active share in the work of the Christian Broadcasting Station which is being carried on at the C.L.S. House in Museum Road. The transmitter has now been increased in strength, and can be received all over China and the Far East and as far as Australia and New Zealand. Mr. Garnier is able to render valuable service in the studio in several of the languages in which the broadcasting of Christian truth is carried on.

The B.M.S. shares with other Societies the very efficient service of the Associated Mission Treasurer's office in Shanghai, and in particular the work of Mr. Adam Black and Miss H. Stacey.

CONGO

THE LIGHT CONQUERS THE DARKNESS

The story of the Congo Mission for the past year is full of stirring interest, and offers many signs of encouraging progress. The darkness is still very dense, and there is much physical and moral sickness everywhere, but the people generally are ready to give a welcome to the missionaries and to the messengers of the native Church. The attitude of the Government officials has been friendly. Some districts are full of the joy of spiritual revival. In others there is evidence of the strain of working with an inadequate staff. There has been a good deal of sickness among the missionaries, and staffing arrangements have been difficult.

The record of baptisms is a cause of special thanksgiving, for the total is 2,108.
PORTUGUESE ANGOLA

A COUNCIL has been formed of Protestant Missions in Portuguese West Africa, and Signor Moreira, of Lisbon, is appointed missionary representative to the Portuguese Government. In both of these measures the B.M.S. is taking its full share.

OUTGROWING THE OLD BUILDING

SAN SALVADOR, the oldest of our B.M.S. stations in Africa, had a successful year in spite of much ill-health among the staff. The stations school had the great advantage of the services of the new Portuguese teacher, Senor Barosso. The number of boarders at San Salvador is seventy. There are altogether 3,070 scholars in the schools in the district. Two motor vehicles are in constant use for itineration.

The services at the San Salvador Church are now sometimes conducted in the Portuguese language, as well as in Kikongo. The building has become too small, and the question of rebuilding is an urgent problem. The total membership has reached 1,946 for the district, and there were ninety-one baptisms.

A YEAR OF BUILDING UP

IT was a building year at Kibokolo, materially and figuratively. After the rapid increase recently in adherents it is necessary to look carefully to their teaching. There has also been an economic set-back among the Zombos, owing to unemployment, and they have never known such poverty.

Ten requests for new teachers were received, and at Béu the first evangelist has been placed. The people had already built a chapel and were meeting for worship before the evangelist came. Itineration has been greatly assisted by the Boys’ Brigade gift of a motor-car. There were fifty-two baptisms.

With the new Portuguese teacher, Signor Bruno da Sousa, the school made good progress.

Mr. Grenfell has made substantial advance in the building programme. A new road has been cut as far as the river bed, from which stones have been brought up the hill to the station. The house for Women Missionaries has been erected, the Medicine House has been completed, and a concrete watertank has been prepared to hold 6,000 gallons of drinking water; a house is also being erected to replace the old ant-eaten bungalow of the first pioneers.

ANSWERED PRAYER

MR. LAMBOURNE writes that at Bembe it was a wonderful year of service and progress. Prayer offered on account of the peculiar difficulties and obstructions in the Portuguese area has been abundantly answered, and the situation was much easier in respect to the Government. By the re-erection of the old Mabaya buildings the station equipment has been greatly improved. The coming of Mr. and Mrs. Hillard has given welcome relief.

Miss Lambourne's work among the women and girls and the maternity welfare and dispensary clinic are reported on another page. The results are very cheering. Of the 193 people baptized no less than 116 were women, a notable thing in Africa. The church membership has been doubled, and there are thousands inquiring and waiting for baptism.

New supplies of bi-lingual Portuguese-Kongo New Testaments and hymn-books have been issued in co-operation with the Bible Society.

LOWER BELGIAN CONGO

YE SHALL BE WITNESSES UNTO ME

KIMPESE.—The Union Training College, under Mr. W. D. Reynolds, has been enlarged in scope, and includes a normal as well as a theological department. The student enrolment is seventy-eight, of whom sixty-three are married men. Provision is made for the education of the wives and children of the students, so that the Settlement has a population of about 500. Negotiations have been opened with a view to the Swedish Mission coming into partnership with the B.M.S. and the American Baptists.

The staff has mourned the death of Lokwa, one of the early disciples of San Salvador, who has been a faithful and valued worker at Kimpese for many years. Seventeen students completed their courses and left to take up their life-work as teachers or preachers.

Mr. and Mrs. Vesey Thompson have been serving temporarily in the absence on furlough of Mr. and Mrs. Morrish.

WATHEN Station is the missionary residential centre of a wide area in which the Church membership now totals 1,594. Over 100 village outposts are maintained, and the 122 elementary school teachers are supported by the church funds. The station school at Wathen itself is of higher grade and has over 200 boarders, besides day scholars from local villages. Two new "regional schools" of higher grade have been opened.

The staff needs reinforcement, not only for adequate and expert care of the schools and the training of teachers and leaders, but for the visitation of the villages, where the activity of the Roman Catholics is a constant menace.

There were 192 baptisms and many "restorations," and larger numbers attend the inquirers' classes.

A new house has been erected by Mr. Starte, with native helpers, for the use of the women missionaries.
A BALANCE IN HAND

THYSVILLE, though no longer the place of regular call for travellers by railway between the coast and Stanley Pool, is still an important railway town, and is our mission centre for a large area between Wathen and Kibentele. Mr. and Mrs. Jennings and their daughter Muriel have kept the work going with great devotion in the absence of their colleagues on furlough. Mr. and Mrs. Pugh, of Leopoldville, have paid some extended visits to Thysville.

The Dispensary Infant Welfare Clinic has been skilfully carried on by Mrs. Jennings. Over 500 scholars attend the Thysville day schools. Seven young teachers have been sent on to Kimpese for training. The Church has been growing in numbers and in zeal, and the gifts of the people left a balance in hand of 1,000 francs. The baptisms numbered 218 and the membership is now 2,276. The opening of the new School Chapel at Cattier has added greatly to the equipment of the district work.

KIBENTELE, the division to the south of Wathen and Thysville, has welcomed back to Congo for another period of service its old and tried friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Frame. The district is being opened up industrially by foreign capital, and earnest attempts are being made to follow up the opportunity thus given. At the sugar factories in Moerbeke, where Zombo people from the Kibokolo area are employed, over ninety people are seeking Church membership.

There are now 106 outposts of the mission connected with Kibentele, in which eighty teachers are supported by the church. Thirty brick chapels have been built, and there are nine “communion centres.” The total membership exceeds 2,000. The people give well, in spite of their poverty. Pastoral oversight and church discipline have to be carefully maintained, for the old temptations of heathen Africa have not disappeared.

The station school has sixty-four boarders, and four senior scholars have been promoted to the Wathen School.

Mr. Frame has added to his other labours the supervision of the building of a bungalow for the women missionaries.

PAYING UP ARREARS

LEOPOLDVILLE is the capital of the colony, but under recent economic stress its native population has been much reduced in numbers. Mission work is conducted in several languages. French is used as much as is practicable in school, Kikongo for the Lower Congo and local villages, and Lingala for the riverine and Upper Congo folk. The West Coast negro community speak English, and services are held for them in that language. There has been a very cheering record of baptisms, 160 having made their confession, including thirty-nine women. It has been a great advantage that M. Couderc has been able to teach French in the day school.

The village of Kimpoko has had its first baptisms, and the work there in Lingala is very encouraging. A choice story of conscientious giving is recorded from Kinshasa. Pauline, an old church member, had failed to keep up her contributions to the fund, but, coming back, she demanded an account of the unpaid arrears which she called her "debt" to the Church, and resolutely paid in full.

ON THE HIGH TIDE

BoloBo reports a "most wonderful year" following up the revival. The church services are crowded—one Sunday afternoon class has 122 boys. There are large numbers attending the preparation classes for baptism, and 211 were baptized in the year. The membership is now 2,112, grouped in villages covering a wide area, with five "communion centres." The Scriptures have taken a new place in the lives of many, and there have been extraordinary book sales.

The revival began with one of the carpenters. This year several of the men from the carpenters' shop and the printing house have given up their safe and remunerative employment to go out as evangelists on much smaller subsistence pay from the Church.

The theological school, under Mr. MacBeath, is going well, and the men who have been through training there are proving a source of strength to the churches in the district. There is urgent need of better premises for the training school and the girls' school.

"Melbourne Hall," the old timber building erected by gifts from the church in Leicester whose name it bears, is now worn out and must be replaced by something more suited to the requirements of the large women's meetings and classes. It is likely to cost about £150, but the funds of the Church are heavily strained to keep up the growing work in the district, and cannot provide all that is needed for these new premises.

An unexpected gift was received at our two stations of Bolobo and Tsumbiri from the French Government, in recognition of the services rendered by the missionaries and native Christians at the time of the French aeroplane disaster in that area last March. After paying the necessary outlay incurred, the balance of this gift—about £100 to each station—is being devoted to building purposes.

The Bolobo School made good progress under the care of M. Baeten.

ROUSING "QUIESCENT CHRISTIANS"

Tsumbiri, to the south of Bolobo, is in dire need of the rebuilding of the old bungalows of the American Baptist pioneers. Our missionaries have cheerfully made the best of the poor accommodation since the transfer of the station to the B.M.S., and they have indeed been too busy to build, for the demands of the district and the impetus given by the Bolobo revival have occupied all their strength. The membership is now 479, after an encouraging increase through ninety-four baptisms. "There is a definite quickening," the missionaries report, among some whom they describe as being "lethargic and quiescent Christians."

LUKOLELA, to the north of Bolobo, offers scope for a much larger work if only it had a fuller complement of workers. They have done well with their resources. The itinerating teachers have visited all the villages. A teachers' school has been established. There are twenty-five boy boarders at Lukolela. Forty-two people were baptized and the church membership is now 359. We ought to have more missionaries ready to utilise the new facilities for road travel far inland to the east.

UPOTO: DOWN IN THE VALLEY WITH THE HEIGHTS IN VIEW

THE story of the year at Upoto strikes a different note from that which prevails in the rest of the Congo Mission. It is described as one of the most difficult years in Upoto's history. There was the sadness of bereavement in the death of Yamo, one of the most faithful and trusted Christian leaders. There was the serious and disappointing loss through the breakdown of Mrs. Cholerton, necessitating the resignation of Mr. Cholerton and their return to their home in Canada. There was the very active opposition of the Roman Catholics, which hindered the work greatly. Moreover, witchcraft, fetichism, polygamy and palm-wine drunkenness all seemed to rise up with revived power to offer their evil attraction to young and weak disciples.

There is a clear and insistent call in this report to the friends and supporters of the B.M.S. to pray very definitely for Upoto and the Church in that area. Only twelve baptisms are reported for the year, but God is able to make them all apostles! He is also able to turn every difficulty and loss into a means of blessing.

There are no less than 163 outposts in the Upoto Mission area, which extends across the wide river to the south and the district in which the new station of Pimu is being built up.

The impending and much-needed furlough of Mr. and Mrs. Allen implies a further demand on the resources of the Upoto missionary staff for a resident evangelistic missionary to accompany the Pimu doctor. A call for reinforcement is sent. The staff are expecting great things from God. They are erecting new class-rooms for training teachers. They have gratefully received and installed their new motor-boat Mosungi ("Helper"), the gift of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Curtis.

YALEMBA now rejoices in having reached a total church membership exceeding a thousand. There were 165 baptisms, and the station school has 112 boarders, boys and girls. Yalembe girls are a special problem, but grace conquers all. The dispensary attendances were over 40,000.

The district includes a large area across the river southward to Ligasa and Elizabetha. There are many village branches and elementary schools. The Ndeko, ("Friend") motor-boat of the Yalembe Mission, is well-known and always welcome among the riverine folk. But the adequate training of village teachers is still a question that perplexes.

BUILDING ON BIGGER PLANS

YAKUSU has set itself the ambitious task of building a large church capable of holding the normally increasing congregation at Yakusu itself and the crowds that periodically gather there. For this is the Mother Church of the Lokele Christians and of the other tribes who live in the wide area which the Yakusu Mission has opened up for the Gospel, from the Lomami to the Lualaba and beyond Stanleyville. The new church building, of reinforced iron construction, is slowly taking shape as the funds come in.

Church-building is a habit that seems to grow by example. There are twenty-seven more brick chapels being built by the native Christians in the Yakusu and Yalikina districts, in addition to the twenty-one which are already in use.

The total church membership is now 3,532. Only one-fourth of them are women. The baptisms of the year numbered 508. Over 20,000 names are registered in the village schools of the B.M.S., and about 500 men and women teachers are engaged in keeping up these schools. The teachers' training class at Yakusu has fifty students, and twenty young men are preparing for their life work as evangelist pastors.

The supervision of work in so extensive a field is a severe tax upon strength and time. Roadways made in recent years make travel into the interior possible by motor vehicles, and a second-hand Ford camionette has been obtained for use in the Yalikina area. Motor bicycles can be used on some of the forest footpaths, but a good deal of the travel has still to be taken on the rivers, using either the Grenfell or the open motor-boat. But the Grenfell is now getting old, and is somewhat uncertain in her behaviour.
WOMEN'S WORK
REPORT FOR THE YEAR 1935-1936

FOR every opportunity granted to them during the past year of uttering the Good News and calling to repentance and faith, the members of the Women's Committee humbly and reverently thank God.

Miss Robinson, J.P., of Bristol, had to withdraw her promise to serve, on the eve of becoming the committee's chairman. The whole society is deeply indebted to Mrs. C. T. LeQuesne, who willingly accepted a unanimous invitation to serve in the chair for a second consecutive year. Her position has been no sinecure, and the committee gratefully acknowledge the way in which all demands on her time and service have been so generously met.

THE Women's World Day of Prayer has once again proved a time of great blessing and inspiration.

The Joint Standing Committee of the B.W.L. and the B.M.S. Women's Committee has held several meetings during the year, and continues to find spheres of influence where, by co-operation, both bodies can serve the denomination more effectively.

AFRICA

IN Portuguese Angola conditions have been difficult, with increased restrictions in some places, and at times the threat of closure of work. But the Bembe report states: "The year began with a dirge and ends in a paean of praise." The girls' school at San Salvador is finding that Government requirements and the keenness of the girls themselves for education are steadily raising the standard of the school. The teaching staff, drawn from the old girls, willingly serves the school for love of the Master, and in village itineration the missionary rejoices to note the difference in the homes of "old girls" as compared with those who have not had training.

Conditions at Kibokolo called for the service of an experienced woman worker, and Miss Milledge was transferred there when Miss Sleight came on furlough. There are now twenty girls living on the station, with a day-school attendance of 150.

In Bembe 116 women have been baptized during the year, and 393 have been in inquirers' classes. A growing sense of themselves as a part of the Christian community is shown by the share taken by women deacons in dealing with the many human problems that have to be solved in bringing a heathen people into line with the principles of Christ's teaching.
Medical work continues to occupy a large part of the time and energy of the woman missionary, and "to many thousands in the district the magic letters B.M.S. stand for healing."

At Wathen, we are glad to report, the women's work is in a healthy condition. By throwing more responsibility on the girls themselves, the school is steadily showing improvement. At a recent exhibition of native art open to all Congo, the Wathen girls won a prize for basket-making.

Kibentele rejoices at securing girls from more distant towns for training in school. Three former boarders have recently been baptized in their own towns; one has married a teacher evangelist, and all are making a brave stand in difficult places.

The committee are greatly indebted to Miss Muriel Jennings for the whole-hearted and generous honorary service which she has undertaken while staying with her parents at Thysville.

In the capital city of Kinshasa the Lingala school for women and girls maintains a daily average attendance of 150 to 200, and during the year 39 women have been baptized. Among the Bas Kongo community 300 women are regular in attendance at the inquirers' class, many of them being Zombo women needing much help and care. It has been a great joy that sixteen Christian women volunteered to look after the Zombo inquirers.

When last year's report was written the revival at Bolobo had just begun, and had scarcely reached the women. To-day the missionaries are surrounded by an eager company of women ungrudgingly undertaking voluntary service which a year ago they would have spurned. At first only church members seemed touched by the revival, but gradually their changed lives attracted the notice of outsiders, and soon 399 women were under instruction at the station. Fifty Christian women were appointed as "shepherds," each responsible for a group of seven to nine inquirers.

In Lukolela 51 women and 19 girls attend the day-school, while a class is held for women inquirers, most of whom cannot read. The Christian women have a weekly meeting for praise and prayer, and go out twice a week to conduct open-air meetings in surrounding villages.

Tsumbiri has had the joy of witnessing a revival among the women, and 47 inquirers have been enrolled during the year.

At Upoto, on the Upper river, twelve teacher evangelists with their wives have completed the training course and are now placed in various church centres.

Signs of awakened interest in the village women of the Yalemba area later spread to the young men, and there has been more pronounced Christian witness than hitherto. A school-girl who recently married has been able to do splendid work in the distant town where she now lives. She has no fewer than seventeen women starting their probation for baptism and church membership.

The tardiness of the response of the women at Yakusu to the preaching of the Gospel seems at last to be giving way, and at the recent baptisms of seventy persons confessing Christ as Lord, thirty-three were women. In spite of the great work being done, however, the men still outnumber the women church members by three to one.

CEYLON

"As one looks back over the past year in the history of Ceylon, all matters seem to pale before the terrible scourge of malaria that has swept over the island."

So opens the report from Matale, but the statement is typical of conditions in every part of the Ceylon field. Dire poverty, indifference due to impaired physical health, depression and a sense of defeat among the stricken villages, fluctuating numbers in schools and classes, and great disorganisation of every kind of work, have been part of the results of this terrible scourge. But, thank God, there are other results to record!

In spite of enfeebled health, the Matale School tried to render help to stricken villages, teachers and girls joining in relief work and serving in the temporary hospital locally organised.

The Ratnapura School now numbers 150, and has had the joy of welcoming a former pupil, and an old Perediniya student, to the staff.

It is interesting to note that 1,000 girls have now passed through the Colombo School, and as this means that 1,000 girls have lived in a Christian atmosphere, many of them for many years, we may believe that this school has played and is playing an important part in the evangelisation of Ceylon. A member of the school staff, a Buddhist, was baptized on confession of faith, and has now returned to her own home, the only Christian in her village.

The women's side has suffered by death the loss of Mrs. Pearce, herself an ardent and effective evangelist, and two Sinhalese women who were for years on the staff. The committee gratefully acknowledge the goodness of God in those lives spent so joyously and effectively in His service.

It is a growing pleasure and satisfaction to co-operate with the Ceylon Baptist Council in its courageous efforts to maintain the work of the Baptist Church in the island, while prosecuting a vigorous evangelistic programme through many different agencies. The committee rejoices to co-operate with the Council, and looks forward with peculiar pleasure to welcoming, within a few months, Misses Belleth and Perera, for a year’s residence in England while they take a course at Carey Hall in preparation for assuming more onerous positions in the girls’ schools.

INDIA

The reports from the Orissa field are sent home by the Central Church Council, an evidence of the change in administrative responsibility. It is of special interest to note references to work among women in districts now without the supervision of any European colleague.

From Buckley House School, Cuttack, has gone forth year by year a steady stream of girls who, with lives dedicated to the Lord Jesus, are able and willing to use the education they have received in the uplift of their home and family life, thereby influencing many neighbouring lives and even villages. The training class which crowns the work of the school has this year had thirty-two students. It is readily seen what an asset to the Church such girls become as they go out to take up teaching in various centres.

The low level of economic life of many of the Christians in the villages results in immediate reactions to any unfavourable events. An outbreak of cholera in a village, drought or famine in a district, some unexpected economic pressure, will instantly reduce the numbers in schools or adversely affect attendance at Church and Bible classes. In such circumstances the women and girls usually suffer first and most severely. It has happened this year in the Bolangir district, that for some of the foregoing reasons a much younger group of girls is being reached. The fortnightly classes for women from the villages have been maintained.

Similarly in the Kond Hills, where women church members are largely uneducated, an effort is made to bring them to Udayagiri for periods of regular instruction on the station. In the local churches the women hold regular prayer meetings, and by their offerings of a weekly handful of rice, are supporting the work of the churches in their union.

The mission stations in Bihar have been gradually returning to normal conditions after the terrible sufferings occasioned by the earthquake of 1934 and the consequent dislocation of work. Reconstructed and new buildings are making it possible to do better work, and are appreciated by all. The Bible School at Patna again proved a pleasant and profitable occasion of Christian fellowship, and was attended by a larger number of women representing many sister-missions in North India.

There have been many staffing problems with which to contend in North India, and these have made the maintenance of regular work extremely difficult and, at times, impossible.

In reporting on Baraut, Miss Porteous notes as "sensational" the rediscovery of "the enormous leeway we have to make up on the women's side of the work: the proportion of Christian women to Christian men is about one in ten, and in many villages there are none at all. But what is more distressing is the number of men who have been baptized and have entirely slipped back. Why? Chiefly because the wife is not a Christian, and there is no Christian home."

Interesting testimonies have been received that the message proclaimed has taken deeper root than has sometimes seemed likely. A Moslem woman in the Dholpur district had been frequently visited. She was eager to learn to read, but would not receive "the teaching," and sometimes even spat when the name of Jesus was spoken. On the death of King George this very woman surprised the missionary by saying "He was a good king. How well he has reigned and how everyone loved him! It was because he was a follower of Jesus Christ."

A high-caste woman in the Bhiwani area was being visited, and seemed interested and responsive. But opposition from relations terminated the visits for some time, and the missionary's efforts were restricted to loving thought and many prayers. Later the opportunity to visit the home came again, and the missionary was warmly welcomed. On asking the woman if she had continued to think of Jesus in her heart, came the reply, "Oh, yes! I have great gain from receiving the knowledge of Him. He is by my side and stays with me. I am very happy." A high-caste cripple girl once taught by Miss Theobald suddenly realised that she could and should be using her knowledge to help others, and for some months past she has been teaching eight or nine little girls for three or four hours every day in her father's house. She finds great joy in thus helping her neighbours.

The hearts of Delhi workers were rejoiced at the conversion of two girls in the senior department of the Moslem school.

In reporting the baptism of seven girls and the increased activity of the school as a whole in evangelistic effort in nearby houses, Miss Robb, of the Gange High School, Delhi, says: "We feel more and more the greatness and urgency of the task entrusted to us. There have been brought home to us very painfully, now and again, the dangers surrounding the girl who is thrust out into the world of India without having made that absolute surrender of her life to Christ in which lies her only safety."

The needs of Baraut, to which reference has been made, are much in the mind of those working at Salamatpur. In order to help train those who want to follow Christ, a young wives' class has been started for women from the Baraut area. The presence continually in Salamatpur of "old girls" and their children, full of love and loyalty to the school and eager to know more of Christ and of Christian family and home life, provides a splendid example and witness to those who have come from the distant and more backward area.

THE formation of the Bengal Baptist Council has overshadowed every other interest in the province during the year. On the Indian side in recent years one of the most vigorous and progressive pieces of work has been the Mohila Sangha, or Women's Auxiliary. So good has that work been that for the moment there is great reluctance to disturb it, and by the decision of the Council the Women's Auxiliary will continue to function, at the same time keeping itself and its activities in close touch with the Council proper.

The six Bengali women elected to the new Bengal Baptist Council are old girls of Entally, while Miss Biraj Rai, B.A., a member of staff, has been made woman education member on the Working Committee.

The United Missionary Training College at Ballyganj celebrated its silver jubilee on January 26th, 1935. During the quarter century many students have passed through the college, and it is no exaggeration to claim that the high standard of women teachers and teaching in girls' schools in Bengal has been very largely built up by the excellence of the aims and achievements of the college.

There has been definite advance in the willingness of Christian women to take part themselves in local meetings for worship and fellowship. There seems to be a greater understanding of the possibility of a larger corporate life, and a quicker practical response to appeals for help. From Dacca we hear that attempts to reach the women of the Garos have involved difficult touring, but have been successful in that converts have been won and new churches are being formed.

In the Dinajpur area, in addition to regular work among the Bengalis, the Gospel is being preached to women of the Santals and the Mundas. This involves extra languages for those who take the message and the employment of many different methods of work in an effort to win these peoples for Christ.

The workers at Rangamati have been experiencing the difficulties that emerge when the first interest aroused by the settlement of missionaries has worn off. There follows the period of chilling indifference and deadly apathy; but "a few women have become friendly, and are beginning to show signs of listening if not understanding, and our hopes are boundless. There is a vision of consecrated intelligent women in the Hill Tracts, training their children and helping their men to live the perfect life which is found in Christ Jesus."

Two new calls for advance have come to the women's side of the work in Lushai. One was to superintend the whole of the Sunday School work in South Lushai, and to co-operate therein with the North Lushai Mission.

The second call came in an invitation from the Lushai Presbytery to Miss Chapman to go and live amongst the backward Pawi tribe, to teach the women and girls and help in the building-up of the Church. The village of Darzo was chosen, and the villagers built a house and provided gifts of rice and vegetables for the workers.

Miss Clark has returned, and has been in charge of the Serkawn School in Miss Chapman's absence. It is a joy to state that she has had good health, and it is hoped that she may prove well enough to remain in Lushai.

CHINA

Women missionaries in Shantung are rejoicing that the work among women, which was threatened almost with extinction in the years since 1931, is showing most promising signs of life.

"There is reason to hope that before long each district will support a Chinese woman worker as well as a pastor, and already three districts are planning to do this. These women will take a place similar to that of a deaconess in the Home Churches."

Touring in the Peichen district, Miss Thomas is filled with dismay at the ignorance of the ordinary village women Church members. I soon discovered that they learn most quickly if you reach them through their children." At one village, where a week was spent, two little girls were made friends with on the first day. By the end of the week the two had become twenty-five, and at a closing meeting they themselves sang or recited, to an assembled crowd of mothers and big sisters, all that they had learned in seven days' intensive teaching.

It is the work of such a place as the Bible Training School, Choutsun, that will in time eliminate such deep ignorance, and prepare Christian women and girls not only for special posts as evangelists and deaconesses, but for the equally important tasks of Christian wifehood and motherhood. The Bible School has been so full that it had to refuse admission to would-be students.

In June, 1935, the Girls' School in Taiyuan-fu, Shansi, was granted "registration" by the Nanking Government. The religious work of the school is now done entirely through the voluntary attendance of pupils at morning prayers, Bible Classes, Sunday School and church choir. In addition the girls go out in groups on Sunday to conduct services in surrounding villages.

Furloughs and illness have interrupted the more direct evangelistic work in the province, and the wonder is that so much has been done. The new railway operating round Sinchow is proving a great boon in reaching some of the chief evangelistic centres in the district, but the more remote and needier places are still only accessible by mule or on foot.

Some of the keener Christian women of such distant places, eager to benefit by the teaching given in the Women's School in Sinchow, are nevertheless unable to leave home and risk the adventure of a journey to, and a stay in, the city. But recognising that this means of grace cannot be for them, they send their young daughters-in-law for instruction and learn from them on their return.

"One is impressed by the wonderful opportunity this work affords of reaching villages near and far with the Gospel, not only told, but we believe lived, by the students when they go home. A pleasing feature is the girls' keenness to come. Obstacles, financial and family, often arise to keep them away, and it is interesting to see how the students themselves strive to overcome these."

Mrs. Lewis and her Chinese helpers have been visiting regularly in thirty-seven villages round Taiyuan-fu, and during the year two classes, of a week or more, were held on the station, to which village women were invited.

"When visiting the other day, as I entered a doorway a woman standing there said 'Jesus.' It made me realise afresh our terrific responsibility in being out here—that of trying to represent Christ to these people. It is almost more than one can bear." This incident from the northern district of our Shensi field is a striking comment on a sentence from the same report. "All the time in our women's work we are up against the great barrier of illiteracy." And, we might add, of ignorance. In the remote inland areas, even the very common decencies of life have to be taught to women who, having heard of Christ, are eager to follow Him.

In some of the villages, Sunday schools have been opened by girls from the San Yuan and Sianfu schools during their holidays. In Sianfu, to foster Bible knowledge among older women, a Sunday school has been started for them, and is proving helpful. On the other hand, in San Yuan district "it is still considered unseemly for a woman to attend a public meeting or service; she must be reached in her home."
The San Yuan girls' school has fifty boarders, half of whom are in the Bible school department. A hostel for boys has been opened in the Primary Department, and is proving a success.

The Bible school had a good year, "Girls' education is progressing in China, and the number of educated women constantly increasing.
It is difficult for women, however keen on evangelism, to do the work of Bible women unless they have some educational qualification of their own."

The Sianfu girls' school had a most successful year. Numbers have increased, and the school curriculum is more related to the programme of the Government institutions. "The main difficulty resulting is that the margin of leisure which the teachers have is growing smaller as the wider interests brought by the modernising of the city claim their attention and service. Our aim remains clear —to show that only the Spirit of Christ in our own lives can bring the Spirit of Christ for which China longs.

Sunday, the one free day for the teacher in China, is now often fixed for school rallies in the city, or a large muster in a public place to hear some general speak, and our opportunities for Christian preaching in the church building are diminishing. All the teachers of the city have been requested to help Government to promote general knowledge and literacy, and this is required to be done on Sunday. Our girls come from Baptist, Episcopal, C.I.M. families, but the majority are non-Christians. Some have come from other provinces and the large modern cities, bringing with them ways and experiences which break up the narrow ideas of the local country girls. One would not be elsewhere than with them in facing the distresses and problems of the moment. Yet I am sure that our true course lies not in general exhortation and encouragement, but in infinite patience and love, helping individual girls whom God sends to us, and in seeking all such. There is always a crisis in some human life near us, and if we can concern ourselves with that, that, I believe, is our contribution to the world crisis."

This quotation is a fitting close to the report, for it epitomises the aim of every piece of work being carried on. For every time the Gospel is preached, whatever may be the method employed, a crisis confronts the hearer and a choice is open, of rejection or acceptance of the Good News.

A detailed study of the reports shows not only innumerable crises but, praise God, very many decisions to accept His Lordship of life and seek to do His will.

Such crises and choices are seen not only in baptisms on the field, in new pieces of service undertaken in love to the Lord Jesus, in fresh ventures of faith, new methods of work and administration. They are seen also in the going out of new recruits during the year, in the offers of candidates, in the training being undergone at Carey Hall or in some language study centre, in every task, however humble, undertaken for God’s glory and for the extension of His kingdom.

There have been many crises occasioned by ill-health, by resignation or retirement, by openings for service in some new sphere.

On deputation, as the story of God’s grace in lands afar has been rehearsed, new visions have been seen, world-needs realised afresh and personal obligations challenged, and the hearers have had to choose between refusal or response.

For wherever the word is spoken in defence of the Gospel, there comes inevitably the call not only to believe in Him of Whom the Gospel speaks, but to suffer for His sake. To defend the Gospel is to be committed to its furtherance.
OUR MEDICAL WORK
REPORT FOR 1935

In the report for last year, reference was made to an urgent request from India for the appointment of a doctor, and an urgent plea for a hospital at Udayagiri, in the Kond Hills. This year we report with thankfulness that the request has been acceded to, and that Dr. and Mrs. E. Gordon Wilkins have proceeded to that station. It has also been decided to build the Moorshead Memorial Hospital there, and an appeal has been launched for the necessary funds. The total cost will be £7,000, and sanction has already been given for the erection of a residence for the doctor.

It is fitting that this should be recorded at the head of this report, because it follows naturally upon the opening section of that for last year, and, moreover, it represents the great forward movement of the year. It indicates that our work is not static, but that we are always ready to go forward. Last year we recorded the pioneer work at Pimu on the Congo; this year we record this new venture in India. At the time of writing, about £2,000 has been received towards the amount required, and we trust that the appeal will meet with a response amongst our supporters.

INDIA

The hospital at Chandraghona is a general hospital for men and women, and it is therefore noteworthy that the increased attendances at the Out-Patient Department have been specially amongst women. Whilst this has been due in part to the rapid breakdown of the purdah system, it has been largely due to an increased confidence in the staff of the hospital. The Women’s Ward has been particularly busy, and a veranda has been put in use for children.

The nursing staff has been increased, and full day and night nursing provided. One nurse was baptized during the year.

LUNGEH.—Sisters Good and Oliver have been responsible for a large and successful work in the Lushai Hills. Dr. Bottoms, from Chandraghona, paid a visit during the year, and performed a number of operations. The report refers to the fine work being done in the villages by Indian nurses who have been trained. The story is told of one woman who, because she was so poor, became a Christian in the hope that life might be easier, but who, once having confessed Christ, was not moved by fierce persecution, nor even by the fear that her brother would kill her.
AT Udayagiri, to which reference has been made in the opening paragraph, the dispensary, which is to be replaced by a hospital, has treated a large number of patients, but the absence of Sister Gordon has hindered the work.

At Palwal, where there are two hospitals, the Florence Toole Memorial Hospital for men has been in charge of Dr. E. Riley. We regret to report that during the year he has resigned from the Society’s staff. The work of the hospital has been maintained, and two dispensaries at adjacent villages have been under the care of Indian assistants. Sister Throup has continued with marked success a work that all our hospitals endeavour to carry on—that of the following-up of patients who have been in hospital and who live in villages near to it.

The report from the Rahmatpur Hospital for Women calls attention to the remarkable increase in the work since 1914, when 434 patients were admitted as compared with 1,153 during the past year. The midwifery work is a special feature of this hospital, and 119 cases were admitted as compared with 17 in 1914. Special attention is called to the work of the evangelist, who is blind. The daily service for patients continues to draw many visitors from the town. “The opportunities are great, and we look forward to the time when a woman evangelistic missionary may be appointed.” In connection with this hospital a Health Centre is carried on, to which 6,238 visits have been made by patients and 8,153 visits paid to the homes of patients.

The Farrer Hospital at Bhiwani has had a good year’s work, but space will only allow for reference to one aspect of it. This is referred to as “the longed-for follow-up work” carried on by Sister Guyton in the homes and villages of the people who have been patients. Numerous examples are given of the success of this work. It includes advice given on matters of health and hygiene, and the teaching of the women in the homes to sing “songs” in which there is simple religious teaching. On one occasion a neighbour came to a house that was being visited and asked for a “song” heard ten years before when she had been in hospital.

It is not possible to refer in detail to the medical work, but Dr. Bisset says: “So the work goes busily on, straightening out crooked hands and feet, and trying to gain the mastery over fevers and other ailments, while faithfully blind Florence tells the story of God’s Love.”

The hospital at Dholpur belongs to the State, and the cost of maintenance is borne entirely by it. This year a new and beautiful wing has been added, and the hospital is now called the Sri Maharani Kesar Memorial Hospital. Dr. Rutherford has been in charge, and a year of successful work is reported.
Although the hospital is a State institution the staff has full liberty to carry on evangelistic work, and this, as well as the medical and surgical work, has been done effectively.

BERHAMPUR.—The work at this hospital has been carried on very successfully in spite of difficulties caused by the furlough of Dr. Gregory and the illness of the senior Indian doctor.

This brief outline should not only convince us of the value of our Medical work in India, but call forth an increased interest in it.

CHINA

THE year has seen a remarkable advance in the work of the Department of Health of the Central Government, which is making a determined effort to provide an adequate health service for the millions of its people. The help of all Mission hospitals is being enlisted, and each is having to face up to the problem of co-operation. In many cases shortness of staff almost precludes it, but one thing is certain—that any hospital which wishes to maintain its influence must join in the campaign to the extent that its resources will allow.

Health and Hygiene campaigns in the villages are a prominent feature, and some hospitals would be glad to co-operate if the staffs were large enough. More highly trained Chinese nurses are asked for, and all our hospitals have been requested to register with the Ministry of Education. Such registration demands, in almost all cases, an increased nursing staff, and, in some cases, more accommodation. A notable feature is that the Government has not shown any desire to in any way hinder or limit Christian teaching, either among the nursing staff or among the patients. We should be glad that the Government is enlisting the services of our doctors and nurses in the prevention of sickness, and we should remember that this interest of the Government in the health of its people has its origin in the work of medical missionaries.

THE Cheeloo University Hospital and Medical School, in which we are one of the principal partners, has so established its position that it is now one of the most notable in the whole of the country. This year a new and modern wing has been added to the hospital, and even with this addition the accommodation only just meets the needs. The great flood in Shantung has resulted in the opening of huge relief camps at Tsinan, and Dr. Ingle has had a large share in the medical relief work among the refugees.

THE Foster Hospital at Choutsun reports a record year of work. Its staff has been reinforced by the arrival of Dr. Ronald Still, and the strain on Dr. Flowers will thus be relieved. The X-ray apparatus and the Ultra-Violet lamp have proved particularly useful. The number of patients admitted is the largest recorded, and the same can be said of the number of operations performed. In the Nursing School four nurses passed their final examinations—two with honours.

The report of the evangelistic work is equally encouraging. Two Chinese full-time evangelists have been in constant work. The woman evangelist records that 74 women showed a real interest in the Gospel story; 15 more have either linked up with the church or continued study in their homes, and 19 have been visited regularly. From among the patients in the Men's Ward, 40 decided to continue studying the New Testament, and 13 are regular attenders at church and hoping to be baptized. One patient commenced to attend church, and on his return to work infected his fellow-workmen with his enthusiasm. Of these, six are waiting for baptism. At a later stage his employer expressed his interest in Christianity. This report is interesting evidence of the missionary value of medical work.

THE Kuang Tê Hospital at Tsingchowfu has been in the charge of Dr. I. H. Ching, a graduate of the Cheeloo Medical School. Marked advances in the numbers of patients are evident. Owing to the efforts of Dr. Ching, a Leper Hospital has been put up by the local community. A Nursing School has been established, and Mrs. Emmott, who is a registered nurse, is giving assistance. The evangelistic opportunities have been fully used, and a regular Bible Class for the staff has been held. Fifty patients have expressed their desire to continue Bible study, and two have joined the Church.

SIANFU city has become more important because of the extension of the railway to it. This has given increased opportunities for the work of the Jenkins Robertson Memorial Hospital. The year's work is described as without dramatic events, but with steady labour, progress and the raising of standards. The buildings are quite inadequate, and plans are being prepared for a new hospital, for which there are funds in hand. Mr. Suter, who has been appointed as Business Manager, has assumed charge of the evangelistic work. This work has met with success, the stories of patients who have joined the Church being evidence of the value of the hospital as an evangelistic agency.

At Taiyuan-Fu the Schofield Memorial Hospital for men has had a successful year. "There are other hospitals in the city, but our hospital has no serious rival in efficiency, cleanliness or professional standards." The amount of work done has increased, and one innovation has been the establishment of a Dental Department. Sister Nora Wright has joined the staff—the first full-time missionary nurse for nine years. As evidence of the missionary value of the hospital, the story is told of an Army man converted there three years ago, who has brought several of his friends to church. This man and one of his friends have been baptized.

The Arthington Memorial Women's Hospital has continued its valuable work amongst women, and especially its remarkable midwifery service. Speaking of the evangelistic work, the report says: "One of the most encouraging sides of hospital work is the spirit of cheerfulness in every ward, together with mutual goodwill, which definitely centres around the evangelistic work." A "thirteen-year-old" was heard to say from her bed to the whole ward: "Now let us read from Isaiah." The plural was probably a compliment to the illiterate!

Our hospitals in China have made full use of the opportunities afforded them. They have not only been in direct association with the local churches, but have been the means of providing for thousands the first contact with Christianity.

CONGO
ANGOLA

Owing to the illness of Dr. Craven, Dr. Saxton was without a colleague during the year, but Dr. Salzberg has now joined the medical staff. In this area we have a central hospital at San Salvador, and a number of dispensaries in charge of our Sisters. It is hoped to link these more closely to the hospital in future and make medical organisation one unit.

The San Salvador Hospital had a very successful year's work. Major surgical operations have increased in number; ante-natal work is also on the increase, and there were over 240 maternity cases. Attention is called to the fact that the Portuguese Government forbids the sale of medicines, and that the receiving of "gifts" from patients towards the cost of treatment may cause trouble with the State; but, in the absence of a State doctor, Portuguese patients have depended on our hospital for treatment. One Sunday in October was kept as Hospital Sunday, and all the State officials of the town attended a service conducted entirely by the medical staff.

Each morning ward services are held, and each day a well-attended service precedes the seeing of the out-patients.

At the Kibokolo dispensary there have been nearly 3,200 attendances, and valuable work has been done at Bembe by Miss Lambourne, with the help of Mrs. Hillard. "They have achieved wonders under most difficult surroundings."
BELGIAN CONGO.—In this area each of our hospitals is directly related to the State, and has charge of large areas allocated by it. Our doctors are the recognised medical inspectors for the appropriate areas. Although this arrangement ensures a State grant, it involves long and arduous tours of the districts by our doctors.

YAKUSU.—Dr. Chesterman, who left for England about the end of April, gives an account of a remarkable work. The central hospital had a record number of patients admitted, and the major surgical cases increased by 50 per cent. Regular visitation of the districts has taken up a good deal of the time of our doctors. Some 6,000 natives were examined on these tours, and amongst these only six new cases of sleeping sickness were found. In older areas, where up to 20 per cent. of the population was found infected originally, no new cases were found for the sixth year in succession. Truly a triumph of preventive medicine.

There have been many examples of co-operation between the native staff of the hospital and dispensaries, and the teachers in the areas served. The wife of one of the native assistants, who was an infant school teacher under Mrs. Chesterman, has organised a village kindergarten school about seventy miles from Yakusu, at which there are 300 pupils, and her husband takes the pupil teachers in the afternoons. "And this in a village where church life and influence had for some time been decaying."

The pioneer work at Pimu has made great strides. Mr. Allen continued his valuable services in connection with the erection of the new Smith-Thomas Memorial Hospital, now well on its way to completion. The X-ray plant, given by a good friend of the Society, has arrived. Dr. Macgregor has done good work under difficult conditions, and has conducted services with the help of the native assistant. The teachers and visiting staff from Upoto have helped, and on Sundays assistance has been given by the head mason and carpenter.

THE "Liverpool Hospital" at Bolobo has been in charge of Dr. Ernest Price during the absence of Dr. Acres on furlough. A very successful year's work was done, and in addition a large number of patients were seen on tour. Two needs of the hospital are the improvement of the buildings and furniture and the systematic training of native assistants.

The revival in this district has resulted in some of the native nurses feeling a new responsibility for religious work. "Services have been maintained as in former years, but with this difference—that the messages given by the native assistants have been given with a real experience behind them."
It has not been possible to even make a reference to the work done in connection with some of the dispensaries connected with our hospitals. The medical statistics in the Annual Report will give an indication of the magnitude of the medical work of the Society.

This synopsis is closed on a note of thankfulness for a year of successful and progressive work in our older hospitals, for the success which is attending our pioneer work at Pimu, and for the new venture at Udayagiri.

JAMAICA

The theological classes at Calabar College have been suspended during the past year, and the B.M.S. missionaries, Messrs. Price and Davis, have devoted themselves chiefly to the Boys' High School. This has had a very successful year. The number of scholars is 146, of whom 50 are boarders. Principal Price has received many public acknowledgments of the value of his work in Jamaica at the completion of his twenty-five years' service in the island. Mr. Davis will also shortly complete twenty-five years in Jamaica.

BRITTANY

Baptist mission work in Brittany is being sustained by help from the B.M.S.—under the leadership of M. Somerville, at Morlaix, with his Breton colleagues, M. Omnes at Plougrescant, and their associate workers. The faithful proclamation of the Gospel is desperately needed amid the superstition and religious ignorance of that part of France. The small groups of evangelical Christians find it very difficult to maintain organised church life without external aid and encouragement. They need our constant prayers.

CAMEROONS

During the past year regular remittances have been sent to the Cameroons to assist the Baptist Mission in what was once a B.M.S. field in its sore need through the restriction of supplies from Germany. The funds that we have been able thus to dispense were generously contributed in response to an appeal issued by Dr. Rushbrooke. It has been a great joy to us to be able to give this brotherly help.
AT THE HOME BASE

THE YOUNG PEOPLE'S DEPARTMENT

DURING the year the Young People's Department maintained its varied service. Some of it is of a homely character, but we have many evidences that it is used to create interest and to develop character. In many parts of the country there is a special annual children's effort on behalf of the B.M.S., and help is given in organising this, the money going to the long-established Native Preacher Fund. Silver paper and used postage stamps are collected and disposed of profitably. The work of the League of Ropeholders, now in its twenty-fifth year, is fostered. Contacts are maintained with Sunday schools, C.E. Societies, and Young People's Fellowships. Through Our Marching Orders, a quarterly news-sheet, an effort is made to keep in touch with young people's leaders in all our churches. A notable feature of recent months has been the developing of the Girls' Life Brigade Auxiliary and the Boys' Brigade Auxiliary, which, with the approval of the Brigades' Head-quarters, endeavour to link Baptist Companies in the service of the B.M.S. The Baptist Teachers' Association has continued its useful work among the members of the teaching profession.

Those working in Furnival Street have taken their share in the preparation of the important and varied publications of the United Council for Missionary Education, and, in addition, have themselves issued another pamphlet of study outlines, Some Problems of Christian Citizenship. At their request Dr. Marjorie Reeves has written Through the Long Grass, the story of our work at San Salvador, on which in the autumn there is to be an examination and essay competition.

An extensive Summer School programme was carried through successfully. At Bexhill, Seascale and Felixstowe more than one thousand weekly places were taken, and most happy and stimulating fellowship was enjoyed.

The young people of London and of other places have been deeply stirred by the news of the Bolobo revival, and the manner of its beginning. There is evident in many quarters an expectancy and eagerness for adventurous service in the world-wide Kingdom of Christ.

THE GIRLS' AUXILIARY

THE year 1935 was one of steady consolidation and growth for the Girls' Auxiliary. There was a net increase of twenty-three branches, and in many parts of the country district organisation has made possible closer co-operation between branches and has resulted in more efficient service. Twenty-one Personal Members were enrolled during the year—all girls who are deprived of membership in a branch because of studies in college or hospital, or because of local conditions.

Many branches have been using this year's study outlines on "Some Problems of Christian Citizenship," and have had stimulating discussions on the various topics. In addition, there was a great demand for the study outlines on Congo. These are the first of a series on the various B.M.S. fields, and are designed to give definite instruction on conditions, needs and methods of service abroad.

During the year the Auxiliary was sorry to receive the resignation of the National Treasurer, Mrs. G. Wylie. In February, Miss Ethel M. Smith, of Shepherd's Bush Baptist Church, was appointed as her successor.

The Auxiliary has had great joy in handing over to the Society the sum of £1,500, a greater proportion of the money having come in through individual gift boxes. Another cause for thanksgiving is the fact that nine G.A.s left for service abroad and that two more have sailed since.

The Annual National Conference was held at Bristol during the Easter week-end, when Miss M. E. Bowser conducted the devotional sessions on the conference subject—"Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, to-day and for ever." At the Council Meeting, Miss Margaret Findlay, of Queen's Road Baptist Church, Wimbledon, was inducted as President, and Miss Isobel Ralston, B.Sc., of Hillhead Baptist Church, Glasgow, was welcomed as President-Elect.

THE BAPTIST LAYMEN'S MOVEMENT

The past year was one of the best in the history of the Movement. The outstanding public feature was the seventeenth Annual Conference at Swanwick in March, which was attended by over 200 men, with Dr. T. R. Glover as President. By distinguished leaders the world situation at home and abroad was brought under review, and the thoughts of the Conference were focussed upon the power of the risen Christ to meet all its demands and problems.

The Baptist Layman, the organ of the Movement, has earned wide commendation for its improved appearance, and particularly for the quality and variety of its articles, and its issue in its new form has met with an increased circulation.

United gatherings for men have been held in fifty centres throughout the country, and have resulted in an awakening to the calls of the hour, in the enrolment of members and in the formation, in many places, of centres of the Movement, and in the establishment in a large number of churches of meetings for men, under such titles as "Contact Clubs," "Men's Fellowships," etc.

Through its Missionaries' Literature Association, the Movement has enrolled 2,300 donors of papers and magazines, which are sent regularly to nearly 1,500 missionaries and pastors overseas. The Baptist Young Men's Movement has continued to conduct evangelistic campaigns in Home Churches, and to serve missionaries abroad. The resumption of the Monthly Luncheons for business men in the Mission House, London, has been greatly appreciated, and the Movement is being increasingly turned to by the denomination for co-operation in united efforts.

THE HOME PREPARATION UNION

There are four hundred students at work in the H.P.U. under the guidance of one hundred and four tutors. One hundred and sixty-nine of the students are in the Lay Preachers' section, and of these, eighty-nine sat for the Baptist Union examination, eighty of them being successful. Nine H.P.U. members were accepted by the Candidate Board during 1935, bringing up the number of past students now on the B.M.S. staff abroad to eighty. Seventeen past students are among the Baptist Union deaconesses, and over twenty of them are in the home ministry.

The H.P.U. Summer School in August, 1935, was held in the College for Girls at Felixstowe, and the exceptionally beautiful houses and grounds lent themselves admirably for the purpose.

THE "WANTS" DEPARTMENT

The Wants Department has carried on its work during 1935 with difficulties and limitations which seem to increase rather than decrease. The need of the gifts is as great as ever, but the heavy duty and many restrictions make it very difficult to send out all that could be wished. We would send our hearty thanks to all churches and individuals who have sent gifts, and especially to those who have gone "the second mile" by contributing to the cost.

The total number of cases sent out during 1935 was 238, and the value £1,133. Of these 96 went to India, value £473 5s. (medical 44, value £278; general 52, value £194 17s.): 4 to Ceylon, value £2 : 30 to China, value £147 7s. 6d. (medical 22, value £126 17s. 6d.; general 8, value £20 10s.): and 108 to Congo, value £510 9s. 10d. (medical 28, value £160 8s. 10d.; general 80, value £250 1s.).

The cost of freight, cases, insurance, etc., was £198 3s. 4d., towards which the Wants Department paid £154, leaving the amount of £44 3s. 4d. to be paid from the general funds of the B.M.S.

THE SCHOOLS FOR MISSIONARIES' CHILDREN.

ELTHAM COLLEGE for BOYS, and WALTHAMSTOW HALL for GIRLS.

THE Schools, though managed and supported independently of the Missionary Society, form so necessary a part of the home organisation of the missionary enterprise and afford such help to Baptist missionaries, among others, that we recommend them to the sympathy of all who have the cause at heart.

Many missionaries would not be able to stay abroad but for the knowledge that at these Schools their children will be receiving, along with a first-class education, the skilled home-care which they, in the nature of the case, are debarred from giving. For the children themselves, the Schools provide, in many cases, the only hope of the sort of education required to fit them for a worthy career in life in these difficult days.

The Schools print their own Report, in which a full list of subscribers is published, but we are pleased to include here a list of the contributions made by Baptist Churches during the past year, since in helping the missionaries and their children they are in a very direct way helping the mission.

The Secretary is the Rev. H. W. Pike, to whom gifts or communications should be addressed at the Schools' Office, 22, Furnival Street, London, E.C.4.

BAPTIST CHURCHES' AND AUXILIARIES' CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE SCHOOLS FOR MISSIONARIES' CHILDREN. (For Year ending March 31st, 1936.)

LONDON AUXILIARY.

Hon. President—Rev. H. TYDEMAN CHILVERS.
Hon. Treasurer—ROBERT PERCIVAL HIGGS, Esq.

A HOME AND SCHOOL FOR FATHERLESS CHILDREN
FOUNDED BY CHARLES HADDON SPURGEON

Not only have the Homes sheltered and provided for 5,000 necessitous boys and girls, whom bereavement suddenly rendered homeless, but they also continue daily to benefit 400 fatherless children with a sound education and aim at uniting the mental, physical and spiritual training of all who are placed under their care.

Christian and unsectarian, the most necessitous cases are accepted first, and the family life is maintained, for EACH HOUSE IS A HOME.

ALL GIFTS AND DONATIONS WILL BE GRATEFULLY ACKNOWLEDGED BY THE SECRETARY,
SPURGEON'S ORPHAN HOMES, STOCKWELL, S.W.9

Our last Annual Report, containing a legal Form of Bequest, will gladly be sent on application to the Secretary.

VERY quiet and accessible temporary home for Missionaries and Christian friends :: Hot and cold running water and Gas Fires in all Bedrooms :: Electric Light :: Telephone.

The Baptist Missionary Society Corporation holds, on behalf of the Society, certain investments in British Government and other securities of which only the income can be used. These have been given from time to time by benefactors for specific purposes, in some cases on condition that the gifts are to be kept strictly private. Of some of these the income does not accrue to the Society until after the death of the donor.

The Corporation also holds investments accumulated through many years representing funds covering the insurance risks of the Society.

The Corporation holds and uses for the purposes of the Society freehold properties at home and abroad. There are no mortgages on these properties.

The Baptist Missionary Society possesses a Working Capital Fund which was raised mainly by the Centenary Fund of 1892. This Fund is necessary to enable the Society to continue its work during the early months of the financial year.
We have examined with the Books the foregoing Summary of Current Receipts and Payments in respect of the year ending 31st March, 1936, the details of which have been examined and vouched by the Honorary Auditors and the Audit Sub-Committee, and we certify the said Summary to be in accordance therewith.

We have verified the Bank Balances and the Securities held on behalf of the Society by the Baptist Missionary Society Corporation.

We have also examined the Account of the Society's Insurance Funds and the Arthington Superannuation Fund, which are not included in the General Summary, and have found them in order.

NEW BOOKS IN THE CAREY PRESS LIST

WHAT IS A LIVING CHURCH?
By J. S. WHALE
President of Cheshunt College, Cambridge.
A broad but serious treatment within a short compass of the topics chosen by the International Missionary Council for study in preparation for the meeting at Hangchow in 1938. It is vigorous and stimulating and will well repay careful study by thoughtful men and women. Additional illustrative material and questions for discussion will be bound up with the book. The author is the well-known and successful broadcaster, and the book is written in his brilliant conversational style.
