PLEDGE OF THE PRAYER LEAGUE.

Believing in the power of united prayer, and in the Savior's promise, "Where two of you shall agree upon earth touching anything ye shall ask, it shall be done for you of my Father which is in Heaven," we, the women of the North Pacific Board of Missions, do herewith pledge ourselves to pour out our hearts daily unto the King touching those things of the Kingdom, whereunto we, as a Board, have set our hands.

We promise to pray for the continued outpouring of the spirit of missions upon all our officers, and upon every woman within our bounds, that we may all be found watching, with our lights burning, when the King shall come to take account of His servants.
Twenty-first Annual Meeting.

The twenty-first annual meeting of the Woman's North Pacific Board of Missions was held April twenty-first and twenty-second in the Third Presbyterian Church in East Portland. The church was filled, the hospitality unbounded, the interest deep and unabated during every session. The President and Associate President presided at all the meetings, except that of Wednesday evening, when Rev. A. J. Montgomery, pastor of the church entertaining, conducted the opening exercises. On that evening Mrs. C. W. Hays, of Portland, gave us glimpses of the missionary stations of our Board, with bright descriptions and lantern slides. Many of the delegates declared they should see that the lantern slides of the Board, which are in charge of Mrs. W. S. Holt, were brought into use in their societies.

Much time was spent on the means of conveying information, each of which has its own application—The Traveling Library, magazines, United Study of Missions, Westminster Guild and the Annual Report, which points out where to get these helps and contains much needed information. It was emphasized that an Annual Report is sent to every society, either to its President or Secretary, and if not presented should be inquired for.

As was said in the admirable summary of the meetings: "We have become inoculated with the Sitka Building Germ." After hearing Mrs. Beattie, of the Sitka Training School, and Miss Frazer, who had visited the school, it was impressed upon us that we must replace the worn-out, dilapidated, germ-infested buildings, and it was voted to have Wednesday, May 26th, 1909, a "Sitka Day," on which the women, young and old, and all Young People's Societies and Children's Bands shall come together in their several meeting places and raise $5000, our share of the $40,000 needed to put up new buildings. The Treasurer announced that our Board raised $5162 for Home Missions the past year, and if we each and every one double the amount we gave last year, there will be enough to keep up old obligations and the $5000 for the Sitka buildings. “Let no one fail in this,” was the watchword.

A new missionary, Miss Lucile Campbell, is ours. She is a trained nurse who goes to Pyeng Yang, Korea, to help Dr. Hunter Wells in the Caroline A. Ladd Hospital.

Westminster Guild reported a promising start. Two hundred and fifty young women of our churches have become members. Twenty-one Chapters are organized and the study of foreign and home lands and the Bible course will make earnest, well-informed women who will enter “a fair domain rightfully belonging to the young women of the church.” The work of the children was more strongly urged than ever. Women were urged to organize a Band or a Junior C. E. and to pray for and with the leader. The children are to have a share in raising the $5000 for the two Sitka buildings our Board is to supply. “Our children are the future of our church and all its work. It is our charge to educate and prepare them for the important work of life,” said Mrs. Léonard, mother of our Dr. Eliza Leonard, of Pekin.

We wish we had space for Miss Clark’s story of her Neah Bay Indians and Mrs. Haworth’s masterly address upon Japan, after eighteen years’ missionary work there. She said there are too many sterling, talented and Christian statesmen there to fear war. They do not want it.

At the closing consecration service all arose, covenanting loving service for the Master.

Report of Recording Secretary.

On Friday morning, after the annual meeting had adjourned one year ago, a conference of workers was held and many of the presbyterial officers from different parts of our territory remained for it. Several matters were discussed and the following points were voted in the affirmative:
First—That all our advance Home Mission money for the year be appropriated to Sitka.

Second—That because of the serious unsanitary condition of our Alaska Training School buildings, we overture the Woman's Home Board, asking that radical changes be made in Sitka as soon as possible.

Third—That the request of Dr. McLean for $500.00, the amount required to supply water for the hospital at Haines, Alaska, be granted. The Washington presbyterials to raise $250.00 and $250.00 to be paid from the Home Mission general fund of the Board.

Fourth—That in future this Friday morning business conference be a regular part of the annual meetings.

On April 20th, 1908, Mrs. Ladd called a meeting of the executive to confer with Mr. Bible, of China, whom the Foreign Board had authorized to raise $100,000.00 in the United States to build and equip a Boys’ College in Hang Chow. It was decided to ask our C. E. Societies to raise $3000.00 for one of these college buildings—a teachers’ house—as their foreign work. The usual number of regular and executive meetings have been held, and all the officers and secretaries of the Board, 18 in number, have rendered faithful, efficient service, as their reports today will testify.

In September, Mrs. Milligan went East to be with her son for eight months. Her work has been carried on by the associate president, Mrs. Mossman, and the recording secretary. As vice-president of Oregon Synod, Mrs. Milligan has attended the meetings of the Woman’s Home Board in New York, which will be greatly to our advantage. One of our consecrated secretaries, Miss Caroline Strong, was promoted in December to higher service. Her loss is keenly felt by all her co-workers and by our missionaries who had received so much comfort and strength from her loving, sympathetic letters. Miss Strong’s devotion to the Mission cause is expressed by her leaving a bequest of $1000.00 to be paid when other obligations of her will have been met.

This Board has asked that $100.00 of our unassigned gifts to Freedmen this year be used to furnish a memorial room for Miss Strong in Faith Hall, Dr. Savage's new school building at Franklington, N. C.

In the death of Dr. Ellinwood, senior secretary of the Foreign Board, we lost a friend who has been tried and true for the 21 years of the existence of this organization. The sad and prolonged illness of Mrs. Darwin R. James, the beloved president of the Woman's Home Board, is a sorrow to us all.

Last summer our missionary, Dr. Maud Allen, took advantage of the six months' furlough allowed after five years on the foreign field, and went to New York City, where she took a post graduate course in her profession. On November 23d, accompanied by her mother, she sailed back to her work in India for another three years.

Two new presbyterial societies, Boise and Kendle, Idaho, have been added to our number.

During the year a letter from some missionary has been sent out with the Board "Notes" almost every month.

In the place of Miss Logan, formerly of Alaska, but now at the Allison Girls' School, Santa Fe, our president supports as her representative in Sitka, Miss Bertha Kale. The new Home Missionary supported by the Board is Miss Edith Toon, also in the Sitka school since last summer.

The Westminster Guild, a new organization for girls started one year ago, is proving popular and successful, and promises to be one of our most important organizations. Miss Southmayd, secretary for Washington Guild work, resigned November 1st, and Mrs. Lemmon was appointed to fill the vacancy. Mrs. Blanford, secretary for Oregon, also found it necessary to resign; Mrs. Roberts is serving in her place. It was decided that for the present, Guild work be done by the state secretaries instead of presbyterially.
In November came the first plea from Dr. Hunter Wells for a trained nurse at the Caroline A. Ladd Hospital at Pyeng Yang, Korea. Miss Lucy Campbell has been commissioned by the Foreign Board, and the N. P. Board has decided to assume her salary as its advance foreign work.

It has been our privilege to hear several missionary visitors during the year. In April, Rev. Mr. Bible, of Hang Chow, China; in June, Rev. Fulton, of Kanazowa, Japan; in September, Mr. Craig, Superintendent of Schools for the Women's Home Board, stopped here both on his way to and from Alaska. Early in March, the missionaries from Korea—Dr. and Mrs. Underwood, Mr. and Mrs. Hall, Dr. Avison and Mr. Hurlburt—spent some time in this territory carrying on their campaign, which was educational, inspirational and financial, and on March 23d, Mr. Beattie, superintendent of the Sitka training school. Added to several other agencies at work, Mr. Craig's report to the Home Board on his return from Alaska, determined them to undertake new buildings for Sitka, and this Board is asked to raise $5000.00. Thus, for the first time in the history of the N. P. Board, the work for the ensuing year has been known in time to be presented to the Presbyterial meetings, so that today every delegate will have an opportunity to say what share her society will have in the new work—$5000.00 for a N. P. Board building in Sitka and $1000.00 for Miss Lucy Campbell in Korea.

LEILA M. CAMPBELL.

Report of Corresponding Secretary
For year ending April, 1909.

The twenty-first annual report of the Corresponding Secretary will not have the accustomed ring, for the work has been done by a substitute. Our capable Secretary, Mrs. J. V. Milligan, who has been absent from her work for several months, will be home in a few days ready for the new year. Mrs. Milligan returns not only refreshed in body and spirit, but full of enthusiasm, having spent the winter in New York and been a frequent visitor of the Board rooms at "156."
Organization.—By the readjustment of territory, we have received from the Board of the Northwest and from the Synod of Utah the Presbyteries of Boise and Kendall, the latter coming from the very center of Mormonism. Truly the North Pacific Board, born on missionary ground, has not been “disobedient to the heavenly vision,” but has joyfully endeavored to open the eyes, not only of the Alaskans and Indians, but also of the “strangers within our gates,” the Chinese.

Now with widespread arms we gather to our hearts these new societies and pledge ourselves to respond to the Macedonian cry from Kendall: “Come over and help us give the Light to these needy people sitting in darkness, whom we bring into your territory.” The following extract gives the keynote to the situation and stirs us with sympathy for the noble women who are, single-handed, holding the torch aloft:

“No one who has not lived in a Mormon field knows how difficult it is to get the so-called professing Christians to do anything financially or otherwise in the work of the church.” “So-called professing Christians” have always been a serious handicap to the progress of missions in every field.

Speakers.—Miss Julia Frazer, Field Secretary for the Woman’s Board of Home Missions, has given addresses in different centers of our territory. Her splendid enthusiasm is contagious and the North Pacific Board credits her with much of the advance in intelligence relative to home missions. Would that it were possible for Miss Frazer to visit every society. Interest in foreign missions has been greatly stimulated by the visitation of the Korean missionaries. But here again it was the larger societies that were favored. In no time in the history of the Board have there been so many requests for Board officers to be present at Presbyterial meetings. As far as possible these requests have been granted. The Presbyteries bordering the Sound arranged their meetings in succession, making it possible for Mrs. H. C. Campbell to be present in Tacoma, Seattle and Anacortes. Mrs. J. W. Goss attended the Walla Walla Pres-
Presbyterian Societies.—The faithful officers have been untiring in correspondence with their respective societies, encouraging and aiding them in many ways by their helpful suggestions. Their promptness in replying to the letters of your Acting Secretary has been most thoroughly appreciated. There can be no failure when each officer is faithful to her trust.

Indian Women Societies.—Your Secretary cannot refrain from commenting on the work among the native women. Miss Gibson, of Sitka, writes of their two-year-old society: "There was not a magazine subscribed for by a member of this society. This year thirteen of our native members have subscribed for some of the magazines."

From Walla Walla Presbytery we glean the following extract from report given by Miss Julia Hatch: "There is now a Woman's Missionary Society in every one of our six Nez Perce churches. By no means all the women of the churches belong to these societies, but as shown in the report, they number about 44 per cent of the membership in the Presbyterial Society. They have good attendances at their meetings as a rule and are very earnest in their work. I believe that they have contributed nearly $100 during the past year, and are planning to send delegates to the Presbyterial meeting at Prescott, which means an expense of more than $10 for each delegate."

Questions.—The questions from the Board were sent out as usual and there is no better way to report the real spirit of our women's societies than to give the gist of answers, so thoughtfully prepared. The first question, "Have you tried forwarding your money in even dollars?" was either answered in the affirmative or by an expressed willingness to try the plan in the future, Boise and Bellingham being the banner societies in this regard. Congratulations to the Treasurers all along the line. "Can your society report progress during the year?" was answered almost unanimously by these words: "In numbers and in interest." Brief the question, brief the answer, but large with a splendid prophecy for the new year.

Many societies report an interest in the work with young people and children, but a number frankly confessed to no such interest. Is it possible that there are societies who are attempting to build the superstructure while neglecting or omitting altogether the very foundation?—mere castles in the air. Two elements are necessary in the formation of an ideal foundation: the training of the young and the education of all Christians along mission lines. While our structure is weakened by neglect of the former, it is being greatly reinforced by the Mission Study Class, which is generally conceded to be the most attractive and helpful feature of the year. Your Secretary, believing that it might be beneficial to see ourselves mirrored in the eyes of our constituents, asked the question, "From your viewpoint how could the methods of the Board be more helpful and ideal?" While many societies reflected a comforting vision of satisfaction and confidence, others with genuine frankness showed our outlines to be somewhat distorted, as is imaged in the following answers: "By answering our letters," "by writing us more letters," "by sending the monthly letter regularly," "by a more personal acquaintance with the individual society," "by sending helps for our programs," "by filling our orders for supplies and helps," "by furnishing a new catalogue from the depository," "by sending someone to instruct and inspire us" and "by providing a Field Secretary."

Have we then as officers of the Board done our best to cheer and instruct the weak societies? Today, as we thus see ourselves, let us not be as "A man beholding his natural face in a glass and goeth away and straightway forgeteth what manner of man he was," but rather, "Being not a hearer that forgeteth, but a doer that worketh," renew our best energies to succor all who are dependent upon us.

The Outlook.—All in all, the work of the year has been most encouraging. It has been a year of splendid growth and progress. There have been two conferences with Synods, thirteen Presbyterian meetings, over fifteen hundred monthly missionary meetings, and unnumbered Executive Committee meetings, both of Presbyterian and local officers, besides many popular meetings, conferences and special prayer meetings. Added to these are the lessons of 103 study classes and a number of Westminster Guild classes, which aggregate at least one thousand meetings. But more than all these have been the uncounted petitions that have been made daily to our God by hundreds of women full of faith. So that today we stand on a higher plane and look out on a wider horizon than ever before. We have a firmer grasp on the promise, "Ask of me and I will give thee the heathen for thine inheritance and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possessions." Then with such a retrospect, we turn our faces to the new year with perfect confidence, knowing that we are able to accomplish the work whereunto we have this day set our hand.

CORNELIA M. MOSSMAN.

Report of Foreign Corresponding Secretary.

It has seemed best to let missionaries make their own reports in their own language. Accordingly this report is a compilation and not at all an original production. Our first message is from Alaska, where Miss Toon and Miss Kale are busily engaged in the Sitka Training School.

Alaska.—Miss Toon writes: "I am busily engaged in the school room, endeavoring to teach 45 or 50 pupils. On account of the children only attending school a half day, we have different grades in the morning and afternoon. This month in the morning I have the sixth and eighth grades, and we pursue as far as we can all of the public school branches. Allow me to correct the mistaken idea that some people have, that we teach only reading, arithmetic and writing. Of course we specialize on those, but language, geography and spelling are given due consideration. There are three pupils in the eighth grade who expect to finish school in May. Two of the three are planning to take a higher course. In the morning I have the fourth and fifth grades, the fourth being composed mostly of boys whose ages range from 15 to 20, who have been in the school only a few years, and could not make themselves understood in English when they came. Both the boys and girls have excellent training in music under the direction of Mr. Beattie and Miss Kale. Three times a week the children spend some time in special Bible study under Mr. McTavish. Miss Kale and Miss Toon both say: 'It is always a comfort to us both, but especially so in time of discouragement, to know there are those who are remembering us in their prayers.'"

China.—From Dr. Leonard comes the following message: "I have been very busy the past three weeks. We have had a terrible case of blood poisoning, and as a last resort the woman had to lose her left arm, practically to the shoulder. We all did our best to save it, but could not. Of course her life was very much in danger, but she put up a splendid fight and willingly let me do as I thought best. She is very far from being a well woman yet, and will require a plastic operation to finish up with. As my most efficient helper had been with me but five months, and had never seen such a case, I have had to carry pretty heavy responsibility for all the hands coming in contact with dressings, etc. Two people outside died of the same infection, so we knew we were dealing with deadly poison. I have taken on a new nurse just recently, and she seems to have pretty good material in her. I have two nurses in training now, and a young woman who has not education enough to take the lecture course, but who is very good and willing, and I think will make a good general utility woman. The girls in the medical school are doing splendid work."

India.—Dr. Allen reports her safe arrival and re-entrance upon her work in the following: "We had a very pleasant passage from New York, arriving in Bombay January 5, and Ferozepore the 9th, having stopped a day in Delhi and one in Agra. I was really glad to be back and I have enjoyed my work more than ever. The following Tuesday Miss Clark and I went to Sikh Mela at a place called Muktsar. We took a small tent and bedding, and boarded with our worker there. There has been so much anti-foreign feeling the past year that I hardly expected to find the people as friendly as they were a few years ago, but we were happily disappointed. But I must tell you something about the hospital. I must confess it was just a bit depressing after seeing the great abundance of home hospitals to come down to my poor little place here. At my first operation I had to use a dust cloth, as the few towels we had were all in the wash. Two in-patients have to sleep together in a single bed, as there is not bedding enough to go round. I had thought I would take the money allowed for whitewashing and repairs this year to put larger windows in the operating room, which is very dark. But, alas, it rained so last summer that the walls all fell down, and the roofs are all leaking. Many of the rooms have had to have new roofs. It is getting warm now and the patients are increasing in numbers—Monday I had sixty-one, Tuesday and today, fifty-three each. Bhagwante, an in-patient, who had been baptized, died a few days after I arrived. She was a great sufferer, and it was beautiful to hear her sing in the night, when kept awake in pain, "The Lord Is Our Strength and Refuge." Although I have been away from India such a short time, I can see a great change. Educated Hindoo gentlemen are breaking caste; education for girls is making great strides; the people are determined to advance; they are awake; dissatisfied with old things. What an opportunity for the Church of Christ! What a privilege to have a share in such a work! O, that young women at home, seeking pleasure, would only realize the joy there is in this service.

Lakawn, Laos.—Miss Van Vrankin says: "In February it was my privilege and pleasure to spend ten days with the Muang Myow Christians, twenty-five miles from the city. Besides visiting in the homes and receiving callers, there were classes every day, in reading, numbers and singing, Bible reading and prayers every evening, and services on Sunday. These occasional visits from the missionaries are worth much to out-village people, but it cannot have been of more true worth or real pleasure to them than to me. Later in February the boys were: called together in the city, and school work began in earnest. As Dr. Taylor's hands were more than full with work on the new school building and innumerable other duties, I was very glad to be able to take his classes, in addition to my own, and to assume almost entire supervision of the school, teaching Sunday School, playing the organ for church and drilling the choir, and part of the time, with other duties, with an attempt at language study. As the term advanced I found everything growing very hard—the simplest daily task required more and more effort, until it was forced upon me that the physical man was far below par. It finally refused to do any more. I was laid aside, with long weary months before me, of seeming uselessness and waiting for return of health and strength. As man looks upon it, the year would seem to count for only what I meant to do, but I try to be patient, remembering "He also serves who only stands and waits."

Miss Carothers of the Laos Mission says: "My work during the year has been varied. First in importance, of course, was the Girls' Boarding and Day School, which was under my care for nearly eight school months, and I have taught for a large part of each day. The women's classes have enrolled eighty-one (81) women who have been taught in their homes by three Bible women. Some have faithfully studied throughout the year. Eight are able to read with very little help. One heathen woman who was a hard student and doing good work was called to cross the dark river. We are thankful that the home influences were not so against Christianity as formerly and the light was beginning to shine into her heart. A young woman who had to run away from home to get a chance to learn to read, now has permission from her parents (who are spirit doctors) and reads daily in her home, while her parents listen to the catechism read. A blind boy is memorizing the child's catechism. This same boy is growing in his efforts to lead in public prayer. Several of the women in the classes are heathen wives of Christians. In one home a heathen man is helping the women and his children with the catechism lesson during the evenings so they may make more rapid progress."
His wife, who listens to the others, said, on hearing the tenth commandment read, 'Those are good teachings, we are so thankful the way is open for us to hear them.' Another woman who was afraid of our 'religion at first,' held strictly to the 'alphabet book.' Now she has put it aside and will read nothing but the child's catechism. Each Bible woman takes her turn at praying in public, and they daily remember the heathen women in their classes before the throne of grace. An earnest company, varying in numbers from ten to thirty, have held a short service for prayer and Bible study at the hospital every morning. Much good has resulted. A number have been received into the church from the hospital; three men are new believers, two of whom are ex-priests who are reading Scriptures and tracts which strengthen their faith. They are patients in the hospital. The Old Testament studies in Genesis and Exodus are made more interesting by the use of picture rolls. There is a spirit of helpfulness felt and the spiritual life of each in attendance has been quickened in the past few months. It has been a great privilege to be associated with this work at the hospital during the past year and a half. In June we held a most successful normal school for our Laos teachers in Chiang Mai for one month. Since January I have made one hundred and forty-five (145) different calls in homes of the women and girls in the city."

North Carolina.—Dr. Savage sends the following account: "My time has been very much divided between my church work and my school work. Indeed the schools have had the lion's share of my time, and so my school report is much better than my church report. Albion Academy has taken almost all my time, except the Sabbath days. I preached every Sabbath excepting the last two, when I was ill. We have almost completed the erection of a very much needed dormitory for girls. The building cost ten thousand ($10,000) dollars and is 'a thing of beauty and a joy forever.' During the past year I have preached ninety sermons, conducted thirty-five prayer meetings, delivered forty lectures, married ten couples, preached four funeral sermons, traveled nine hundred and eighty miles, visited all of my members once during the year, all of the sick several times. Albion Academy is a boarding school, with two hundred and thirty-seven students. Thanks to all of the ladies for their care of me."

Persia.—Mrs. Douglas sends an interesting statement: "Our work here has been so interesting. In spite of all the political troubles there never has been a time of such splendid opportunity for Christian effort. In their distress the people seem more ready to listen to the truth, and all branches of our work have never been more flourishing. Hospital and schools are filled as never before. Large audiences are present at the religious meetings, and many come for religious talk. In my Bible class each Sabbath there are a number of Persian women who are interested in Christianity, and who are interested in themselves for what they have already had to suffer in consequence. My husband is finding many open doors for his evangelistic work. Besides having charge of the Sabbath services in Persian, he is busy throughout the week with inquirers. In the mornings a number of the school boys come regularly and voluntarily for religious instruction. Think of Moslem and Jewish boys facing ridicule of their schoolmates, to come of their own accord, and talk about the Christian religion. Almost every afternoon until sunset the room is full of agitated, animated talkers, for not only does Christian truth need to be proclaimed and explained, but defended against the false teachings so common here. These daily gatherings do much towards strengthening and encouraging new converts, and teaching them to testify for Christ."

Washington, U. S. A.—The work has taken in the old folks this year. Heretofore they have stood aloof, but said they would come now if I had an interpreter. I fear it is more love to me than to the gospel that brings them in, but it is an opportunity to tell them the "old, old story." They are very attentive and love the Chinook hymns they asked us to sing. Dear old souls. I love them all. Last Sunday we could hardly find room to seat them all, young and old. We have 105 enrolled in the Sabbath School. All but the Bible class go into the reading room after service. There are about 20 in the catechism class. One girl has finished committing it to memory. Once each week I go to the Government School with a ten-minute message. There are not so many dances this year. The reading room is a haven for the boys in the evening. I am called on to do a great deal of visiting. The people expect it and the sick require constant attention. We have had socials and entertainments this winter for the younger people and two feasts for the older ones. Then they were asked to come and hear what God has to say to them from His book. Nearly all said they would come. The next Sabbath the room would hardly contain the people who came and since then they have attended regularly. They are not quick to take in spiritual truth. Their old religion was material. We must give them the truth "line upon line, precept upon precept." This report is from our Miss Clark of Neah Bay.

Utah.—From Ferron Miss Stambaugh sends a charming message: "I am happy to say that everything looks bright and hopeful for our cause here. Through long and persuasive efforts we are at last coming more and more to realize that we are winning against this awful Mormon system. Besides the children and young people there are several elderly people who are attending our services very regularly. My heart is set on three of them especially. We have had the deep joy of having one soul proclaim its freedom from sin since I wrote to the Board last. The young physician of this place has come out boldly from among his sinful associates. Our Sunday School is growing. We have such a nice class of boys and girls, and they are very regular in attendance. There are signs of growth in every department of our work. I wish you might visit our junior meetings. They are always led by some of the members, each one taking an active part. Our school is growing. Mr. Mackenzie said yesterday it was the largest one aside from the academies. We have religious teaching every morning, using the Bible as a text-book. The pupils do not seem to resent learning the portions assigned, and can give whole chapters from memory. I have boys 17 and 18 in my room who are just able to read understandingly. All seem pleased with their progress. The school has grown in popularity and there are those who feel willing to help on the building. There will be three class rooms and the auditorium, with the basement for a gymnasium. The building is just up the hill from our cottage. We go about among the homes as often as possible. The people want us to come and we like to go. We feel pretty much at home now after two years in the field. I love our people and would do anything to help them."

Every message from our workers is fraught with hope. There is no word of discouragement from anyone. Is it because they are realizing the promise which follows the last command of our Lord, "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world?" And so, under difficulties and in isolation greater than we can know, they are kept cheerful and happy. Are not the lives of these, our own representatives, an inspiration to us, and may we not be cheered, too, with the knowledge that "we are laborers together with God," in the progress of His Kingdom? Next year we are hoping to have a fresh message from a new worker, for it is now known that Miss Campbell has been appointed to Korea, to the Caroline A. Ladd Hospital at Pyeng Yang. Thus a new name is added to the list of those for whom we are to pray.

FRANCES A. HOLT.

Report of Y. P. S. C. E.,

Junior C. E. and Bands Secretary.

Our North Pacific Board has under its guidance about one hundred and twenty young people's societies. The Board plans the work and places it in the hands of her Young People's Secretary. She, in turn, gives it over to the Presbyterial Secretaries, to again be passed on to the local societies. Passing through so many hands, the work must be promptly and carefully done or things are soon in confusion.

Over four hundred letters have been sent to our young people during the year. This does not include printed letters sent out, through us, by the New York Board. From twenty-one Secretaries written to, we have received replies from twenty. In many cases, however, the letters were not ready in coming, and in several instances the Presbyterial President was written to before the Secretary was heard from at all. The correspondence with some of the Secretaries has been a real joy, so in earnest and willing have they been to follow out the line of work planned by the Board.

There were six resignations during the year. From five of the Secretaries who resigned we did not hear until in February. Of the six vacancies created, three have been filled, and while these new recruits have been willing to do what they could, it is quite impossible to take a new Secretary in February, instruct her in the work and get results by April. Every Presbyterial Secretary should be ready to begin work as soon as instruction comes from the Board after annual meeting.

In gifts our Christian Endeavor work has lost in eight Presbyteries, and advanced in Junior and Band work in seven. The following table shows, by Presbyteries, the amount of loss or gain during the year:

Gifts from our new Presbyterials—

Boise, Christian Endeavor, $139.00; Jr. and Bands, $40.00.

Kendall, L. L., $7.50.

We are glad to note that most societies have given as the Board suggested, to Home, Foreign, and Freedmen Boards.
The work this coming year, because much of it is constructive, will be especially interesting. We will have our share in the work of erecting new school buildings for Sitka Training School in Alaska, and go on with the work begun last year for Hanchow College in China. Dr. Savage, at Franklinton, North Carolina, will still be our missionary among the Freedmen.

We have now under our Board thirteen Presbyterial societies. All have sent offerings either through Christian Endeavor Societies, Juniors or Bands. We welcome the young people from Boise and Kendall, our new Presbyterial Societies, and think it in place this first year to thank them for their generous support.

The young people’s work for the year is perhaps not quite encouraging, but our failures in the past twelve months will help us plan better the new year’s work. We are not cast down, but look forward with increasing hopefulness.

MAUD R. PRATT.

The Westminster Guild.

"Love makes the world go around." Two hundred and fifty young women of our churches have responded to the invitation to become members of The Westminster Guild and are entering earnestly, not only into the courses of study, but also into definite service and into all the work so wisely and lovingly prepared for them.

Twenty-one Chapters are organized and taking the courses of study. The studies for the year include "Islam"—textbook, "The Moslem World"; "The Frontier"—textbook, "The Call of the Waters" and "Prayer"—textbook, the Bible. Chapters are just entering upon the Bible course. The majority of the Chapters are taking shares in the support of the two mission stations assigned to Westminster Guild—Ningpo, China, and Haines Hospital, Alaska. The support of the work is divided into two-dollar shares, certificates for which are issued to the Chapters.
Oregon reports five Chapters. Alpha Chapter, of Eugene, organized September 9th, named Alpha as it was the first Chapter organized under the North Pacific Board, first with gifts and first to receive certificate for paid-up shares; Fidelity Chapter, First Church, Portland; Philothea Chapter, Mt. Tabor Church, Portland; Pendleton Chapter, with thirty-three members and waiting list; Columbia Chapter, Astoria Church. Mission study and work are new to these girls of Columbia Chapter, but true to name, they are courageously taking up every part of the work. Thirty-one shares ($62) are taken by the Oregon Chapters.

Guild work was taken up enthusiastically in Washington and has grown with increasing zeal. Miss Emma Southmayd found it necessary to give up the secretaryship early in the year, but not until she had rendered valuable service in organization. Mrs. C. L. Lemmon was chosen Secretary, and has ably carried forward the work. The Chapters reported are: Sharon, First Church, Seattle; Cherry Street, Seattle; Westminster, Seattle; Carolina A. Ladd and Eliza E. Leonard, both of First Church, Tacoma. These names reveal the allegiance to the North Pacific Board felt by all Chapters. A Chapter in Immanuel Church, Tacoma, organized March 13th; Deborah Chapter of North Yakima, with a membership of twenty-five and waiting list. A Junior Westminster Chapter has also been organized in North Yakima for younger girls who are taking up the course of study with determination. Aberdeen Chapter noted for its extensive use of literature. Members of Chapters in Washington number 153. They have taken twenty-nine shares ($58). An interesting feature of the year was a conference held in Seattle in February in which five Chapters participated. It proved interesting and instructive to both leaders and members. They voted the Westminster Guild a noble organization for young women. Mrs. C. L. Lemmon writes: "I can truthfully say that the Westminster Guild Chapters in this State are among the most enthusiastic missionary organizations." Both she and Mrs. W. A. Roberts, Secretary for Oregon, have been earnest and efficient in their work.
The work has only begun. Many churches are interested and are contemplating organizing. The year has been a busy one for all interested in Westminster Guild, with correspondence with Westminster Guild Committee and new organizations, ordering and distributing literature for the study courses, and distribution of certificates. The work has found many friends. We are indebted to the Secretary of Literature, to capable leaders, to the women in our churches who entertained the young women and assisted them in organizing and conducting Chapters. It has been our desire that young women should take up the work voluntarily, that Chapters be carefully organized and well sustained. We would open wide the way to a fair domain, rightfully belonging to the young women of the church, that they may enter in and fully possess it, that it may become indeed the "Garden of the Lord, where joy and gladness shall be found, thanksgiving and the voice of melody." "Awake, O North wind, and come thou South, blow upon my garden that the spices thereof may flow forth."

MRS. E. P. GEARY.

Report of Secretary for Literature.

If we could but follow the printed page as it leaves the depository, and record its work in the missionary society, in the Guild chapter, in the mission study class, and all other avenues of opportunity, how interesting our report would be, but as this is impossible, we must deal with facts alone.

In order to meet the requirements of different organizations, we have had a multiplicity of study books. For foreign study the "Moslem World," by Samuel M. Lweimer, for the young people's societies; "Nearer and Farther East," by Arthur J. Brown and Samuel M. Lweimer, for the women's societies, and the "How and Why of Foreign Missions," by Arthur J. Brown, while least called for, is full of information, and, as one busy pastor, conducting a mission study class in his church, remarked, "It should have been the first book in the study course. You cannot afford to miss it."
For the home mission study classes we have "The Call of the Waters," written by Katherine R. Crowell for the woman's interdenominational study course.

The latest home mission text-book, "The Frontier," by Rev. Ward Platt, D. D., opens up to us the great West, with its golden opportunities of a spiritual harvest, and the Junior text-book prepared by Katherine R. Crowell, "Pioneers," is intended to teach our boys and girls the outline history of our country in such a way as to make them feel their indebtedness to our pioneers, and, therefore, to the nation and its future, and so to promote home missionary enthusiasm.

It is gratifying to report an increase in the sale of the Year Book and Prayer Calendar, also the envelopes for systematic giving, and reports from Presbyterial Secretaries indicate more general adoption of this most excellent method of meeting our obligations.

Among the latest books added to the depository we would mention "The Nez Perces Indians Since Lewis and Clark," by Miss Kate McBeth, and "Sheldon Jackson," by Stewart.

The work has grown. There are encouraging features and larger fields of usefulness and service are facing us, and much can be accomplished by steady, persistent, united effort.

MRS. E. C. PROTZMAN.
MISS CAROLINE STRONG.

On December the 18th Miss Caroline Strong entered into the "rest that remaineth for the people of God," after an illness extending over several months. Two days later, on her forty-seventh birthday, the last simple and solemn services were held in the church she loved so well, and served so faithfully and efficiently.

What her loss means to the people of Calvary Church none but those who worked there with her will ever know. What her loss means to the North Pacific Board your own hearts will tell you today better than any words can do.

Though she has passed from our sight, she yet lives and speaks in the hearts, and shall we not say also in the lives of all those who had the privilege of her friendship. The beauty and consecration of her daily life, and the unswerving loyalty with which she served Him whom she delighted to call "Master," ought to lead us all to a higher and more devoted service of our common Lord. So while we mourn the loss of her bodily presence among us, we can sing, as she loved to do:

"For all Thy saints who from their labors rest,
Who Thee by faith before the world confessed,
Thy name, O Jesus, be forever blest.

Hallelujah!"

Miss Strong was born in Cathlamet, but came to Portland when a little child and spent a great part of her life here, so she always looked upon this city as her home. She and her sister, Ellen, were graduated from St. Helen's Hall in 1879, and in '85 she began teaching in the public schools here, and later taught in The Dalles. From '93 to '98 she was instructor in English at the Portland Academy. After resigning her position there she spent a year doing special work in English at Wellesley College, and then went abroad for a year, returning to this country in the summer of 1900. The next few years were spent in study at Radcliffe College, where she earned the highest honors, and in teaching at Wellesley and other Eastern schools. In the summer of 1906 she returned to Portland, and from that time until her death threw herself unreservedly into Christian work here, devoting herself with her great gifts and abilities entirely to the interests of the Kingdom.

She often began her prayers, "O, Christ our Lord," and His Lordship in her life was so evident and so real that those with whom she came in contact could not but be impressed with the power which comes only through the surrender of the life to Him. This power was present to a very marked degree in Miss Strong, and was, to a great extent, the source of her influence.

Her work in connection with the North Pacific Board dates back to 1891, when for three years she was on the printing and program committees. In 1894 she was made a life member by Mrs. Ladd. In '98 began her prolonged absence from Portland, but less than a year after her return, in January, 1907, the death of Mrs. James Wilson left vacant the position of secretary for correspondence with missionaries, which position was so ably filled by Miss Strong until her last illness took the work out of her hands. On learning of her death Dr. Savage of North Carolina, who had the privilege of corresponding with her, wrote: "How we shall miss her. and how impossible it will be ever to fill her place."

MARGARET LAMBERSON.
Report of Traveling Library Secretary.

Reports from our Presbyterial secretaries show marked increase of interest in the use of the traveling libraries.

During the year all libraries previously sent out by the Board were returned and new ones sent to replace them. Eleven libraries are at present in circulation, one society having three. Effort was made to supply all societies, but from a few request for a library failed to reach us. One library was donated to a church, whose pastor felt it would be very useful in his work. Requests have come from some societies asking that more than one library be given them. One lady wished to purchase some of the books that were helpful in her church work, showing that interest in missionary literature has been awakened, and that the libraries are appreciated.

During the year over 280 books and pamphlets were purchased by the Board for the libraries, consisting of the latest and best information about the home and foreign field, also biographical and historical information.

Progress has been made in systematic circulation of the libraries, which is encouraging. The greatest hindrance to the work being lack of promptness on the part of auxiliary secretaries in communicating with the presbyterial secretary. We would urge that the traveling library be given a place on the printed program at each presbyterial meeting and that the work be emphasized by the president, as well as by the secretary when she reads her report.

The Board desires the coming year to supply every Presbyterial Society with a library.

Correspondence with reference to the Traveling Library should be addressed to the secretary, MR. M. R. ANDREWS, 243 West Park Street, Portland, Oregon.
Rules for Circulation of the Missionary Traveling Library.

1. When a Traveling Library is sent by the Board to a Presbyterian Society, or when it is returned to the Board, the Board will pay for its transportation.

2. When a library is sent from one auxiliary society to another in the same Presbytery, the society receiving it shall pay transportation charges.

3. A Presbyterial Society, upon receipt of library, should, without delay, notify the chairman of the Traveling Library Committee.

4. The Secretary who takes charge of the library should have a list of all the auxiliary societies in the Presbytery and direct the circulation of the library among the different societies, having them report to her when it is sent from one society to another. Thought and care should be used in the order of sending, that the expense of transportation be as light as possible.

5. Each auxiliary society should appoint a librarian to have charge of the books and keep a record of books borrowed and returned. She should notify delinquent and collect fines when books are kept over time. When time expires for the use of library she should notify the Presbyterial Secretary, asking to what society she should send the library.

6. A society may not keep a library longer than three months. One book may be taken at a time by each person and kept two weeks. A small fine of one cent shall be assessed when books are kept over time. The sum thus obtained to be used by the Board Committee for purchasing new books.

7. Notes or marks of any kind on the books are strictly forbidden and all injuries beyond reasonable wear should be made good by the person to whom the book is charged.

8. Each Presbyterial Society shall be held responsible for the circulation of the library in said society's territory and shall report annually to the Chairman of the Board Committee.

MRS. M. R. ANDREWS,

Report of Magazine Secretary.

In presenting the magazine section or branch of our work, I feel that it is impossible to overestimate its power, scope and influence. These publications are “The Home Mission Monthly,” which gives us in condensed form the news of our home land; “Woman’s Work” presents the foreign phase of the work, and “Over Sea and Land,” the children’s magazine, the title of which tells its own story to children and of children beyond the seas who know not Christ, but who need His gospel. Nothing appeals to the young more than these attractively illustrated stories. With these magazines we are brought in touch with all the world, and as we read, our sympathies are quickened and our horizon broadened, and we feel as if the ends of the earth are brought together.

In receiving reports from the various Presbyteries, there is reason to believe that there is an awakening in a desire to read missionary periodicals and to keep in touch with workers on the field and to know the needs of the work. Many requests for sample copies come from all parts of our territory, and each month during the year a large number of magazines have been sent to these societies.

The Presbyteries of Puget Sound, Olympia, Bellingham and Spokane send encouraging reports. Central Washington deserves special mention. Walla Walla and Wenatchee have made a small advance. It is with regret that we record that Willamette Presbytery has fallen far behind. The Secretary of Literature resigned early in the year and no one was appointed in her place. Southern Oregon shows an increase in subscriptions. Portland Presbytery has made a small advance. The report from Grande Ronde is not very encouraging; only a few magazines are taken in the entire Presbytery. Alaska has made progress. All of the magazines, especially “Over Sea and Land,” have been very much appreciated by the native women.

In visiting this mission field last summer, I was surprised and delighted to see the hold that our magazines are taking upon the home life of these native peoples. They are eager to read, or where they cannot read, to have read to them what is being done in other fields.

The Presbyterial Secretaries write freely about their experiences in making appeals for the magazines. They tell of their discouragements and of success. One of our Secretaries has had remarkable success. With her enthusiasm she presents tactfully the merits of the magazines, giving extracts from special numbers, as she knows each magazine thoroughly. Once when presenting the subject, a friend said to her: "I will take it only as a matter of principle, but will not have time to read it." This new subscriber does read her magazine, and now never loses an opportunity to urge others to read. One of our devoted readers said recently: "My magazines have come, and other things must wait until I run over the news." We should all be eager to read of the victories of the Christian Church. We have ideals of heroism, of devotion and unselfishness in our missionaries, and their lives are vividly portrayed in the columns of our magazines. Each Magazine Secretary is sure to succeed when she commences the year with her campaign planned, carefully and prayerfully.

In making an appeal, the Magazine Committee hears many excuses; sometimes they are good excuses, but frequently given without much thought, such as, "No, I can not afford it. We are now supporting a foreign missionary." The Magazine Solicitor replied readily: "We know you are interested in missions, for you have made an investment; now you need the book that will give you a general knowledge of the work—where your money is invested." She subscribed for "Woman's Work" and now eagerly reads it from cover to cover. Another encouraging feature is found in the fact that woman's clubs are in many instances taking up the study of missions in connection with other literary work.

The dear little magazine, "Over Sea and Land," should be in every home where there are children, and it should be in every Sunday School. By this means the children will have correct ideas of the mission work, and their sympathies being enlisted in the cause of humanity, they will grow in happiness and helpfulness and in a just appreciation of the declaration, “Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto me.”

The number of subscriptions taken this year for the three magazines are as follows:

One word in closing, for the editors of these magazines. Their earnest and self-sacrificing endeavor merits and should receive our warmest appreciation and grateful acknowledgment. Their work is very exacting. We take the finished product from their hands, the gleanings of so many fields, often without stopping to think of the self-denying effort that lies behind it. Therefore, it is with pleasure that we commend the work of these women with our praise and support.

MRS. C. R. TEMPLETON.
Report of Secretary for Mission Study.

The report for Mission Study will be principally figures, for we have reached the place where the figures are sufficiently large to be important. There have been 103 classes this year, compared to eighty-seven the year before. Of these all but one have sent in report cards, and the leaders have received the helps sent out by the Home and Foreign Educational Departments. Last year twenty-nine of our eighty-seven classes sent in no regular report. So a great gain has been made in the systematic reporting of classes. We think this largely due to the place used during the past year. Formerly all leaders sent their report cards to New York, receiving helps from here, but since September these helps have been sent in quantity to the Board Secretary, who has sent them out on receipt of a report card, thus saving much time for the leader and enabling us to keep in better touch with the work.

Nearly all of our Presbyterial Secretaries have worked faithfully a number of reports showing letters and literature sent to every church in the Presbytery. Much of the encouraging progress to be reported is due to their deeper interest in the work.

The following is the report by Presbyteries: Grande Ronde, 5; Pendleton, 1; Portland, 31; Southern Oregon, 6; Willamette, 9; Bellingham, 6; Central Washington, 3; Wenatchee, 6; Olympia, 10; Puget Sound, 12; Spokane, 4; Walla Walla, 6; Boise, 3; Kendall, 1; Home, 36; Foreign, 67; Total, 103. There have been 47 women's classes, 12 church, 20 Guild, 20 C. E., 4 Junior.

We wish to speak of Grande Ronde's five classes, as they have never reported one before; but Spokane had nine last year and only four now, and not one from the city of Spokane. Last year we were inspired by the Missionary Institutes held in our territory. This year the classes have been our own work.

Now, what can we say of results? Down in Tillamook they cannot have a missionary society, but they did have a study class, and that little band of women sent $6.45 for missions.
Eugene and Bellingham have both felt the inspiration in the way of increased gifts. But is giving the only result sought? Why do you attend a study class? To learn about the wonderful resources of China, the customs of the Koreans, the religions of Mohammedanism, Buddhism, Confucianism, the beautiful architecture of India? If you do you have entirely missed the point. What is the aim of a study class? Dr. Sailer says: "To develop the spiritual life of the members of the class; to show the need of the world; to create a realizing sense of personal responsibility; to lead to action." As we study of the people who need our aid, do we pray for them? Do we realize our personal responsibility more fully? If we by our intelligence and enthusiasm can arouse others to the need for prayers, money and workers, our classes are accomplishing their aim. If they are not doing this, they are failures. We feel that more work must be done among our young people. They need information. Where there is no time for a week-day meeting, some societies are studying at the Sunday night meetings, giving up their regular programs for six or eight weeks to learn something of what is being done for missions. Another class met at the close of prayer meeting, everyone being invited to remain, and a splendid amount of enthusiasm is the result.

We are glad to welcome twenty classes from Westminster Guild. Think of what it means to have our young women train intelligently. What ought to be the result of 103 classes of from six to thirty-five members each? Deeper interest, larger gifts. Is this true? A member of a class in Central Washington writes: "We are very earnest in our study and it is doing so much for everyone." A C. E. society says: "We have just finished our work and have received much help and inspiration. We are now giving to and praying for the work in China." Almost the first special offering for the new buildings at Sitka came a few days ago from a study class in Portland Presbytery. As the result of a class, a Woman's Missionary Society in Walla Walla Presbytery has sent to find out the salary of a missionary, hoping to be able to support one. This is interest practically expressed. One leader of a class of six girls reports that every one has become a church member since becoming more interested in the gospel abroad.

While we feel that much has been accomplished in the past year, there is yet much to be desired in the way of definite results. Are you a member of a study class? Is it accomplishing results? If not, why not?

MABEL C. GOSS.

Report of Box Secretary.

Once more reports have come to us of busy, active women giving cheerfully of their time and effort to keep the wardrobes of the Sitka School well supplied, and it is with joy that both Mrs. Eagleson and I quote Mr. Beattie's words: "Every article was highly acceptable." The point so long striven for is being reached and new supplies of good quality are being sent by most of our societies. Christmas boxes were sent to Point Barrow, Gambell, Hoonah, Howkan, Juneau, Shakan, Haines, Kasaan, Klawock, Klinquan, Saxman, Sitka School, Mission and Hospital, Wrangell, all in Alaska; Neah Bay, Spokane Reservation, Wash.; Pendleton, Oregon, most of them giving gratifying satisfaction; some reported too small; some not entirely suitable. None went to Klukwan because the Rev. F. R. Falconer there wished to let his people taste the blessedness of giving. Most wonderful were the results. Letter: Would it not be nice to surprise them with an extra fine box this Christmas?

The Point Barrow box for this year is ready to go, also the one for Gambell, St. Lawrence Island. The new lists have not come, but are promised at once, and the assignments will reach the societies in time for the May meetings, using the same plan as last year. We would like to make one advance step this year, namely, that of sending materials for all the girls over 16 years of age, with patterns, so they can make their own clothes. Could we promise a prize, like a nice work basket or box, for the best work, the judges to be chosen from among the ladies in Sitka? I am much disappointed that the report papers were not generally used as directed last year, except by the Southern Oregon Presbytery and a few societies in the other Presbyteries. I must beg you all to help me by using them this year. Please have all boxes packed and sent away by November 15th; some by October 15th. Allow me also to express my hearty thanks for the quick response to all my letters and the earnest co-operation from all the societies.

At our well-attended annual meeting, held April 21 and 22, the delegates unanimously voted to adopt the following recommendations submitted by a committee on the Treasurer's report:

"First—That the division of funds be continued in the same ratio as that of last year, viz: Four-eighths for Foreign Missions, three-eighths for Home Missions, and one-eighth for Freedmen.

"Second—While the $5000 pledged by this Board for the new buildings for Sitka Training School must be raised early in the year, we urge that our regular contributions be not neglected.

"Third—Recognizing the very efficient work of our Treasurer, and realizing the added work this coming year on account of the funds for the Sitka buildings, we recommend that all money be sent in even dollars.

"Fourth—We recommend that the last Wednesday of May (May 26th) be chosen as 'Sitka Day,' when each society shall meet the amount equal to its gift to Home Missions for the year just closed.

"Fifth—We recommend the continuance and further use of the envelope system in all societies under the North Pacific Board, including Christian Endeavors, Juniors and Bands."

Christian Endeavor societies are asked to continue contributing to the building fund for Hangchow, China, for their Foreign Work, to give to Sitka Training School for their Home Mission Work, and to give to the work of the Freedmen. Rev. J. A. Savage, D. D., of Albion Academy, Franklinton, N. C., is our C. E. missionary among the Freedmen.

Junior C. E.'s and Bands are asked to work for the same as last year, viz: In Home Missions for the Sitka Training School, for the Freedmen, and in Foreign Missions for the building fund for Hangchow, China.
Our women's societies are to have a new missionary to represent us in Korea. She is Miss Lucile Campbell, a trained nurse, who goes to Pyeng Yang to assist Dr. Hunter Wells in the Caroline A. Ladd Hospital. Her salary will add $1000 to the amount raised last year for Foreign Missions. This is an advance we should make and supplies a long-felt want in Dr. Wells' hospital. We feel that the Lord has sent to us Miss Campbell, who is ably equipped for this work.

Societies are urged to place their most competent, devoted women in the office of Secretary of Literature. These Secretaries can do much to awaken interest by a faithful and wise dissemination of missionary literature. It is necessary that members of societies have the women's magazines, the Year Book of Prayer for Foreign Missions and the Home Mission Calendar.

Societies are urged to make much of the Annual Report. In it are the whole plan and policy of the Board, and the reports of the officers give information that will answer many a question.

Constitution of the Woman's North Pacific Presbyterian Board of Missions.

ARTICLE I.

Name.

This society shall be called the Woman's North Pacific Presbyterian Board of Missions.

ARTICLE II.

Object.

The object of this Board shall be to enlarge the number and increase the zeal of Christian women and young people, who are willing to engage in the Master's work, in co-operation with the General Assembly's Boards of Missions.

ARTICLE III.

Membership.

Section A. The Woman's North Pacific Board of Missions is composed of the members of its auxiliary societies, local and presbyterial.

Section B. A group of persons organized for the work of this Board, and contributing annually to it, shall be considered an auxiliary.

Section C. A group of auxiliaries within the bounds of a presbytery, organized for the work of this Board, shall constitute a presbyterial society, whose officers shall form a local executive committee to supervise the work of auxiliaries within its bounds, and be the medium of communication between them and this Board. When not within the bounds of a presbyterial society, the auxiliaries shall be in direct communication with this Board, and all funds shall be sent to the treasurer of this Board.

Section D. The payment at one time of twenty-five ($25) dollars to the contingent fund of this Board by an individual or society gives the privilege of naming a life member of the Board. The payment at one time of an additional twenty-five ($25) dollars, under the same conditions, gives the privilege of making a life member an honorary member. The payment of fifty ($50) dollars, under the same conditions, shall give the privilege of naming an honorary member.

ARTICLE IV

Officers.

The officers of this society shall be a President, one or more Vice-Presidents, appointed from each co-operating presbytery, four or more Corresponding Secretaries, a Recording Secretary, a Treasurer, seven Trustees, and an Auditor.

ARTICLE V.

Executive Committee.

The Executive Committee shall consist of the above-named officers, with the president of each auxiliary or her alternate, and the chairman of standing committees.

ARTICLE VI.

Duties of Officers.

Section A. The President shall preside at all meetings of the Board and of the Executive Committee. She shall have a supervision of the entire work, appoint all standing committees, and be ex-officio a member of the same. She shall also approve all drafts upon the treasury before they are paid.

Section B. The Vice-Presidents shall act as special counselors of the President, and one of them shall perform her duties in her absence.

Section C. The Corresponding Secretaries shall, under the direction of the Board, conduct all correspondence, reporting the same to the Executive Committee. They shall write all notifications, except local, and keep a complete list of auxiliaries. It shall also be their duty to present at the annual meeting of the Board a report of the work accomplished during the year.

Section D. The Recording Secretary shall keep accurate minutes of the proceedings of the Board and present the same at its meetings. She shall in like manner record the doings-of the Executive Committee and report the same at its meetings. She shall keep a correct list of the life and honorary members, give suitable notice of stated and special meetings, notify new officers of their election, and committees of their appointment. She shall also submit an annual report, giving a summary of the meetings held during the year.

Section E. The Treasurer shall receive and receipt all funds paid to the Board and shall pay them into the treasuries of the Assembly's Board of Missions, as may be designated by individuals or auxiliaries. All funds not thus specially designated shall be appropriated according to the decision of the Board. She shall present to the regular meeting each quarter a statement of the receipts and disbursements of the quarter; she shall present to the annual meeting a duly audited report of her accounts.

Section F. The Trustees shall, under the direction of the Board, transact all legal business pertaining to the Board and hold in custody all property belonging to the Board. They shall keep a record of the proceedings, and at each annual meeting shall present a detailed statement, in writing, of all business transacted by them during the year.

Section G. The duties of the Press Secretary shall be to gather from all sources such items as bear upon mission work and will tend to educate the public mind. She shall edit these items and secure their publication in the leading secular papers in our territory.

ARTICLE VII.

Duties of Executive Committee.

The Executive Committee shall consider all communications presented, and prepare the order of business for all meetings of the Board. They shall also appoint suitable persons to fill, until the next annual meeting, all vacancies which may occur.

ARTICLE VIII.

Election of Officers.

The officers of the Board shall be elected at the annual meeting by ballot, a majority of all votes cast being necessary for a choice.
ARTICLE IX.

Meetings.

Section A. The Annual meeting of the Board shall be held on the third Wednesday and Thursday of April at such place as may be determined at the preceding annual meeting.

Section B. The regular popular meeting of the Board shall be held on the third Tuesday of each month at 2:30 P. M.

Section C. The Executive Committee shall meet on the first Tuesday of each month at 10 A. M.

Section D. A special meeting of the Board may be called by the President at any time.

Section E. Five members shall constitute a quorum at meetings of the Executive Committee.

Section F. All meetings shall be opened with Scripture, reading and prayer.

ARTICLE X.

Reports.

The reports of officers shall, after having been received by the Board at its annual meeting, be passed, without delay, into the hands of the Committee on Printing.

ARTICLE XI.

Amendments.

This Constitution may be amended at any regular meeting of the Board by a two-thirds vote of the members present, such amendments having been recommended by the Executive Committee, and notice having been given at a regular meeting of the Board three months previously.

BY-LAWS.

1. The books of the Treasurer of the Board shall close March 25.

2. Those entitled to vote at the annual meeting shall be the Executive Committee, Presbyterial officers, life members and delegates.
CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION
WOMAN'S NORTH PACIFIC PRESBYTERIAN BOARD OF MISSIONS.

State of Oregon, Department of State,
Geo. W. McBride, Secretary of State.
To All to Whom These Presents Come: Greeting—

Whereas, A certificate, duly signed and acknowledged, hav­ing been filed in the office of the Secretary of State on the 4th day of May A. D., 1889, for the organization of the Woman's North Pacific Presbyterian Board of Missions.

Now, therefore, I, Geo. W. McBride, Secretary of State of Oregon, by virtue of the powers and duties vested in me by law, do hereby certify that the Woman's North Pacific Presbyterian Board of Missions is a legally organized corporation under the laws of this state.

In testimony whereof, I hereunto set my hand and cause to be affixed the Great Seal of State.

(SEAL.)

Done in the City of Salem, this 4th day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundredth.

GEO. W. McBRIDE,
Secretary of State.

FORMS OF BEQUEST AND DEVISE.

Personal Estate.

I give and bequeth to the "Woman's North Pacific Presbyterian Board of Missions," a corporation created under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Oregon, and having its principal place of business in the City of Portland the sum of ........................................ dollars.

Real Estate.

I give and devise to the "Woman's North Pacific Presbyterian Board of Missions," a corporation created under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Oregon, and having its principal place of business in the City of Portland (here insert a description of the real estate).
Constitution for a Presbyterian Society.

ARTICLE I.

This society shall be called "The Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbytery of............."

ARTICLE II.

The object shall be to promote the formation of Auxiliary Missionary Societies in all the churches of the Presbytery; to stimulate, encourage and systematize their efforts for the elevation of heathen women and children at home and abroad, as carried on in connection with the Woman's North Pacific Presbyterian Board of Missions; and to diffuse intelligence and excite missionary interest in old and young.

ARTICLE III.

The Presbyterial Society shall consist of the President and Secretaries, and two delegates from each Auxiliary Society, and these only shall be entitled to vote. Five members, representing as many different churches shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

ARTICLE IV.

The officers of this Society shall be a President, three or more Vice-Presidents, a Corresponding, Recording and a Mission Band Secretary, and a Treasurer, to be elected at the annual meeting of the Presbyterial Society, and who shall hold their positions until relieved by their successors.

ARTICLE V.

The President shall preside at all meetings, call special meetings whenever requested by three Auxiliary Societies and aid in forming Auxiliary Societies when desired. She shall also take general supervision of the work, so dividing the labor with the Vice-Presidents that each church in the Presbytery shall be visited, if possible, in the course of the year, and a meeting held with the ladies. In the absence of the President, or her inability to act, the Vice-Presidents shall, in their order, perform the duties of the President.

ARTICLE VI.

The officers of the Presbyterial Society, with the Presidents of the Auxiliary Societies, shall constitute an Executive Committee, whose duty it shall be to make needed arrangements for the annual meeting, to decide where and when special meetings of the society shall be held, secure papers on missionary topics, and addresses from missionaries and others. Five members of the committee, three of whom shall not be officers of the society, shall constitute a quorum. The Executive Committee shall meet at the call of the President. The Secretary of the society shall act as Secretary of this Committee.

ARTICLE VII.

The Recording Secretary shall keep a record of all meetings of the society and the Executive Committee, and shall send notices of meetings. She shall advise all absent members of their appointment on committees, and perform the usual duties of the office.

ARTICLE VIII.

The Corresponding Secretary shall maintain correspondence with the Auxiliary Societies, sending them, quarterly, all needed information. She shall prepare an annual report for the society, and forward one, including that of the Secretary of the Mission Bands, and of the Treasurer, with the list of officers, to the Corresponding Secretary of the Woman's North Pacific Presbyterian Board of Missions. She shall also notify them of the organization of Auxiliaries as soon as reported to her, sending their list of officers and addresses at the same time.

ARTICLE IX.

The Secretary of Mission Bands shall maintain correspondence with the Young People's Auxiliary Societies, sending them all needed information. She shall prepare an annual report of the work of her department for the annual meeting, and for the use of the Corresponding Secretary. She shall report semi-annually to the Presbyterial Corresponding Secretary.

ARTICLE X.

It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to receive all funds, crediting them with care to the society or church from which received. The funds sent to her by Auxiliary Societies, Branches or Bands, she shall pay over quarterly to the Treasurer of the Woman's North Pacific Presbyterian Board of Missions for such objects as may be ordered by the Presbyterial Society, or by the Auxiliary sending the funds. She shall also have charge and keep account of all funds contributed for the incidental expenses of this society, and shall pay out the same only on the written order of the President. It shall be her duty also to report the condition of the treasury to the Executive Committee, and to prepare a report for the annual meeting of the society. She shall submit her accounts annually to an auditing committee.

ARTICLE XI.

The annual meeting shall be held at the same time and place as the spring meeting of the Presbytery.

ARTICLE XII.

The object of the annual meeting shall be to elect officers; to hear the annual report, as condensed from the reports of local societies; to confer as to the best means of developing the missionary spirit among our women and children; also to hear reports from the mission fields, especially as regards any work adopted, and to arrange and decide upon definite plans for the coming year.

ARTICLE XIII.

The object of the special meeting shall be to hear reports from missionaries and Auxiliaries, and to awaken an interest in missions in the place where the meeting shall be held, and to transact whatever business may be necessary for the interest of the society; Provided, The particular business for which the special meeting is called shall be specified in the call for the meeting. No general business not specified in the call shall be transacted at a special meeting.

ARTICLE XIV.

A short report of this society shall be sent to the Presbytery at its spring meeting, to be read at a public meeting during the session of the Presbytery, and to be followed, if possible, by an address in the interest of this special work.

ARTICLE XV.

The reports of the Auxiliary Societies must be made to the Secretary and Treasurer of the Presbyterial Society. Special donations are to be obtained when possible for the fund.

ARTICLE XVI.

A collection may be taken up at the annual meeting to defray the necessary expenses connected with the work of the Presbyterial Societies. Special donations are to be obtained, when possible, for the fund.

ARTICLE XVII.

This Constitution may be amended at any regular meeting of the society by a vote of two-thirds of the members present; but no amendment shall be adopted unless it shall have been submitted in writing at a regular meeting of the society previous to that in which the vote shall be taken, nor unless due notice of the proposed amendment shall have been sent by the Secretary to each Auxiliary Society.

BY-LAWS.

1. The meetings of this society shall always be opened with reading the Scriptures and prayer.

2. All members of this and other societies for missionary work, interested in missions, are invited to join a concert of prayer to be observed during a part, at least, of the hour between 5 and 6 o'clock on Sabbath afternoon.
3. Subscriptions for our missionary periodicals shall be secured by a committee appointed for that purpose in each Auxiliary Society, and the members of the various churches are urged to extend, as far as possible, the circulation of these interesting and valuable missionary publications.

4. The formation of Mission Bands shall be encouraged in every church, and the attention of the Auxiliary Society is especially called to this important department of missionary work among the young people of our churches and Sabbath Schools.

5. Any society can become auxiliary to the Presbyterial Society by sending its name and list of officers to the Secretary, and appointing delegates to represent it at the annual meeting.

Constitution for an Auxiliary to Woman's North Pacific Board of Missions.

ARTICLE I.

This society shall be called the Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church of..............................

ARTICLE II.

Its object shall be to disseminate missionary intelligence; also to encourage missionary effort in our own church, and to secure systematic contributions for missions.

ARTICLE III.

The meetings of this society shall be held monthly, for business, mutual benefit, and the general interest of the cause.

ARTICLE IV.

The officers shall be a President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer, who shall constitute a local Executive Committee, having supervision of the affairs and funds of the Society, which shall be remitted statedly to the Treasurer of the Presbyteral Society, this society having the privilege of indicating the specific purpose for which said funds shall be appropriated.

ARTICLE V.

It shall be the duty of the Secretary to record the proceedings of the society, give notice of meetings, and prepare the annual report. She must at once inform the Secretary of the Presbyteral Society of the organization of this society, giving the name of the church and postoffice address, if different, and also forward to her annually a list of the officers. If this society is not within the bounds of a Presbyteral Society, the Secretary shall report its organization at once to the Corresponding Secretary of the Board, and shall send its funds to the Treasurer of the same.

ARTICLE VI.

The Treasurer's duty shall be to report the state of the treasury at every meeting, and send the funds quarterly to the Presbyteral Treasurer. Her accounts should be audited annually by a competent person.

ARTICLE VII.

Any one may become a member of this society who contributes one dollar each year, or ten cents a month, to its funds. The payment of ten dollars at one time entitles the donor to life membership in this society, and twenty-five dollars makes a person a life member of the "Woman's North Pacific Presbyterian Board of Missions."

ARTICLE VIII.

This society shall report semi-annually to the Corresponding Secretary of the Presbyteral Society four weeks before each Presbyteral meeting. The Secretary may correspond with the Secretary of the Board, and procure missionary intelligence and letters to be read at the monthly meetings.
