- Objects of the Society: 2
- Form of Bequest: 2
- Memoranda: 3
The Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society is a continuation of the Anglo-Indian Christian Union. The former name marked its catholicity, which still remains, the latter indicates its work. It also includes the Assam Mission, associated with the name of its founder, the late Colonel Foquett; and the "Winter Mission," first suggested by the late Lady Kinnaird.

OBJECTS OF THE SOCIETY.

I. The maintenance of an unsectarian itinerant evangelisation among the widely scattered groups of Europeans and Eurasians in India, otherwise destitute of Gospel ordinances, at Railway Stations, on Tea Estates, &c. This is the chief object of the Society.

II. The appointment of gifted Evangelists to visit the chief centres of population and influence, bringing the Gospel to bear, apart from denominational distinctions, on all the Churches and Missions, and on the Educated English-speaking Natives. This was the special object of the "Winter Mission."

The following is a form of Bequest or Legacy which may be adopted:

"Item, I give and bequeath the sum of to the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society, and the Receipt of the Treasurer of the Society, for the time being, shall be a sufficient discharge therefor."

GENERAL REPORT FOR 1906-7

An ever-increasing contingent of our countrymen every year leave the homeland for India. Among them there are many young men who go out for service on the railways, in the tea and coffee plantations, or in branches of industry where they will be settled in remote parts, amid surrounding heathenism, and cut off to a large extent from such society as they have been accustomed to at home. It is an important question, and one of the first that presents itself to the parents and pastors of such young men, what provision is there in such situations for their spiritual needs? Where Christian character has been formed, spiritual life has to be nourished and directed else it is only too apt to languish. Even Missionaries who are engaged in religious work feel the deadening influence of the surrounding heathenism, and it is apt to tell even more injuriously on those engaged in secular pursuits. In the case of such, again, as have not made a decided profession of Christian faith before settling in India, the separation from the helpful influences and guardianship of Church and home is fraught with still greater peril. It is a great comfort when those most deeply concerned in the welfare of young men going to remote parts of India can be informed that the special work of the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society is to care for the souls of our own countrymen scattered over that great land, and that its agents are carrying on their work in the districts in which those dear to them are to be settled. It is matter of thankfulness that the Society has been able to occupy so many portions of the vast field over which our countrymen are dispersed. Our Evangelists visit a large number of stations on the great railway lines of the country, north, south, east, and west, working from some convenient centre on these railways as their headquarters. During the cold season agents of the Society also visit the tea planters among the Himalayas and the Nilgiris, while the coffee planters of Mysore have the services of a Missionary who is also an Evangelist of the Society. There is still much ground to be occupied and outlying districts to be overtaken, and the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society will not have reached its ideal until in no part of our Indian Empire will it be any longer possible for our countrymen to reproach our churches at home with the complaint "No man cared for our souls."

Services at which the gospel of the grace of God is preached are held by our Evangelists in railway Institutes and waiting rooms along the lines, and as they find opportunity in planters' bungalows. Special provision is also made for the children in railway settlements, and these services among old and young supply a much-needed means of grace for railway employees and their families. The ministry of our agents is largely, however, a ministry to individuals. Their periodic visits are a source of strength and encouragement to many who are living in isolation, and in times of sickness, such as are incident to the climate of India, their brotherly sympathy and spiritual help are of special value. One who occupied a high position in the Indian Civil Service, the late Mr Stephen Jacob, in advocating the claims of the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society at a meeting in Calcutta, speaking from his own experience, applied these words of the Apostle Paul to the visits of our Evangelists in lonely out-stations—"God, who comforteth those who are cast down, comforted us by the coming of Titus." Much of this ministry of comfort falls to our Evangelists among our countrymen in India.

The work of the Society is of such importance as to commend it to the sympathy and support of all who are interested in the advancement of the Kingdom of Christ in India. A great Providential task has been assigned to our countrymen in that land, and they occupy positions in which they attract attention and exert influence. They represent Christianity to the natives among whom they live and over whom to so large an extent they exercise authority. The natives have learned to distinguish between real and nominal Christianity, but our common religion has still to bear the reproach of every European life that dishonours the Christian name. The directors therefore renew their appeal to the Churches at home and to all who are interested in India in behalf of the work of the Society. That work is for the sake of our own countrymen to begin with, but it is also for the sake of the natives of India, and is indirectly Foreign Missionary Work of the very highest kind. The directors have confidence that the aims of the Society have only to be known and taken into account to secure such support as will admit of its operations being not only maintained but extended.

JOHN FORGAN, Honorary Secretary.
Indian Secretary.

Almost immediately after his appointment as Indian Secretary Rev. A. S. Crichton was invalided home, and has not since been able to return. It is gratifying to know, however, that after fifteen months' sojourn in this country, during which time he has not been idle, Mr. Crichton hopes to sail from Liverpool for Bombay on July 18th to resume his ministerial duties in connection with the United Free Church, and again take up the secretarial work of the Society. During his absence Mr. James Macdonald kindly took Mr. Crichton's place, and the Directors are much indebted to him for all his services.

Indian Treasurer.

Mr. J. B. Crichton, of the Mercantile Bank of India, has been transferred from Karachi to Calcutta, and therefore found it necessary to resign his position as Treasurer. The Hon. Mr. H. E. E. Procter, of Messrs. Killick, Nixon & Co., Bombay, kindly undertook the duties, and the Directors take this opportunity of thanking both Mr. Crichton and Mr. Procter for the valuable help they have given.

Mr. C. T. Studd, B.A.

Mr. Studd, who has been at home for the past year on furlough, is still connected with the Society as an Honorary Evangelist, and has not been idle during this time. He has addressed several meetings in the interests of the Society, helping to awaken interest in the work at home, and he hopes to help as far as he is able in this way. Mr. Studd did excellent work among the planters in Southern India, and the men will no doubt miss his cheery visits and helpful ministrations.

The Work at Home.

It is difficult to tabulate all that has been done during the past year and to condense into a few lines an account of all the work and effort put forth in awakening interest at home. One would like to tell a little about each meeting held, and something of the kindness of the many friends all over the country who so graciously and unstintingly helped in arranging the meetings and making them so successful, but space will not permit. Ministers, headmasters of the various schools, and Christian workers in each town visited have, without exception, done all they could to assist. It is felt that the meetings have been the means of awakening much fresh interest, and many to-day are praying for the work and workers who never heard of it before, and many new friends have been raised up. One cannot help feeling that the good hand of God is resting on the work. Let us therefore take courage and go forward. Most grateful thanks are due to the ladies. in Edinburgh, Glasgow, Perth, Newport, Dundee, Dunfermline, and other places, who kindly granted the use of their drawing-rooms, and with so much trouble arranged the excellent series of meetings held in this way.

Over eighty meetings of various kinds were held between 1st October and end of March, the most successful of which were those with the Lantern and Cinematograph. This has proved an unfailling source of attraction to old and young, and ministers and others have repeatedly spoken of the beauty of both the still and animated pictures shown, and of the interesting nature of the meetings. Among those who presided at the meetings during the past winter were Lord Overtoun, Sir Daniel Mackinnon Hamilton, who fortunately was at home from Calcutta when the Helensburgh meeting was held, the Lord Provost of Dundee, Sir Robert Pullar, M.P., Provost Macbeth of Dunfermline, Provost Carswell of Newport, and many others both lay and clerical. Children's Meetings were held at nearly every place visited, and these meetings were greatly enjoyed by the young people. The meetings were largely attended, and in one place at least the church was crowded out, and the doors had to be closed both for the children's and adults' meetings. One meeting remembered with great pleasure was held in the church at Quarrier's Homes, Bridge-of-Weir, at which Mr J. P. MacLay presided. One will long remember the sea of eager and interested faces of some twelve or fourteen hundred young people as they listened for an hour and a half to the story of the work, and the kind gift sent in by them next day through Miss Quarrier was eloquent and touching. After deducting all expenses the net proceeds of the collections taken at the Lantern Lectures amounted to £150, 0s. 8d., which is considerably more than any previous year.

Grateful thanks are due the Rev. Arnold Boyd, our late Indian Secretary, for the large amount of time which he devoted to this work, also Rev. A. S. Crichton, Rev. David Reid, Mr Andrew Stewart, and others who have so kindly addressed the meetings; also to the ministers of the various churches where the meetings have been held. One can only hope that the large numbers who attended these meetings during recent years will take a prayerful and sympathetic interest in the work.

LORD POLWARTH'S LETTER.

Our President kindly sent an unsolicited letter which has been printed and widely circulated. Copies of this were sent to the Editors of 150 papers in this country and in India, many of whom were good enough to insert it. Quite a number responded to the appeal made, one gentleman having sent £10 from the heart of India in response to it. The Secretary will gladly send copies of this letter for circulation on receipt of postcard.

SALES OF WORK.

Mrs Wauchope of Niddrie, President, and the members of the Edinburgh Ladies' Committee have arranged to hold a Sale of Work in aid of the funds of the Society in the autumn, and they cordially invite the help of any who can assist in this way. This is the first time the ladies of the Edinburgh Committee have undertaken a Sale of Work, and they are desirous of making it successful. The General Secretary or members of the Ladies' Committee will gladly receive contributions for this.

Mrs Orr, 12 Pembridge Place, Bayswater, London, W., Secretary of the Anglo-Indian Ladies' Union, is also arranging to hold a Sale of Work at her house in March 1908, and will also gladly receive contributions. This Sale has been held bi-annually for a number of years, and is a valuable help to the work.

FINANCES.

Notwithstanding all the effort which has been put forth at home and in India, we have not been able to make both ends meet, and the year has closed with a deficit of £132, 9s. 0d. This is a serious matter and is giving the Directors much cause for anxiety. They are anxious not to reduce the staff in India, which is totally inadequate for the work, but to increase it, and to send men to needy places where our countrymen are much neglected spiritually, but this is impossible until the income is increased. They earnestly appeal to those who have commercial relations with India, or are interested in that country to help them in this important work.

The past year has been a most difficult one for raising funds. This seems to have been the experience of many societies, who have had to close their accounts with a deficit, but it is hoped that the year we have entered upon will see a marked improvement. If there is not a considerable increase in our income this year the expenditure will have to be reduced, and the only way to do this is to reduce our already too meagre staff. In recent years there has been a falling off in legacies which in the past helped the Society so much, and which is greatly to be regretted.

WORKING FUND.

Owing to the deficit this fund has had to be reduced again and now stands at only £240, which is utterly inadequate to meet the demands made upon it during the portion of the year when little money comes in in the regular way. The remittances to India have to be made each month, which means a heavy overdraft at the bank for a considerable portion of the year. A Working Fund of at least £1000 is required, and it is hoped this sum will be raised to keep the Society free from debt and the loss incurred by the overdraft at the bank. Special gifts for this purpose will be gladly welcomed.

HELPERS.

The Directors again desire to record their thanks to the large number of friends, both in this country and in India, who have helped in gathering in the funds of the Society. The large staff of lady collectors deserve special thanks for the very efficient way in which they have helped, and also the local secretaries and treasurers. Some have resigned during the past year but their places have all been filled, and several new collectors have been added, so that at present the staff of lady collectors is larger than at any previous time in the history of the Society. It is hoped that during the coming year many more will offer to help in this way.

The various railway companies in India have again been most kind in granting passes to the agents of the Society, which has helped them very much in their work. Special thanks are due to the Hon. Auditors, Mr Thomas S. Martin, C.A., Edinburgh, and Mr A. C. Owen, Bombay, for their kindness in auditing the accounts of the Society.

GLIMPSES OF WORK FROM THE FIELD.

Rev. John Redmond, B.A., Mysore.

The Directors desire to thank the friends who have so generously and kindly helped in support of this special work, and made it possible for them to continue the arrangement with the Wesleyan Missionary Society whereby Mr Redmond has been retained for this important work. A considerable sum is still required and the Directors hope this will soon be sent in so that the work may not be curtailed. It is manifestly difficult to write glowing accounts of work of this nature, but the importance of it can scarcely be overestimated. The following is a very brief extract from a recent letter:—

"From reports sent you will already know that, with the exception of two small centres, there will now be Divine Service within reasonable reach of every European Coffee Planter in the Mysore as often as I can travel round. This is a condition of things which exists here for the first time.

"Though there are still difficulties in the situation, and though at times unexpected disappointments come, yet I do not think that the advance made is less than could have been reasonably hoped for, or that the general outlook of the work is less promising than could have been expected after eighteen month's effort. I do not think it is too glowing an account to say that, considering all the circumstances, the initial stages of the work have given more encouragement than one could have hoped for.

"In going about amongst the men, I aim at spending as long as possible with each of them, and you will be glad to learn that I usually find them quite willing to discuss moral and religious subjects. I am inclined to think that by my visits and by conversation on moral and spiritual subjects, and on the evidences of Christianity, I sometimes accomplish as much as is done by the average sermon to the average congregation at home."

Rev. H. Rylands Brown.

The following extract from one of Mr Rylands Brown's reports gives a good idea of the nature of the work done by the Evangelists:—

"The first four days were spent in Darjeeling and its neighbourhood holding four services, one of these at Ghoom about four miles from Darjeeling, and another with soldiers about three miles in a different direction. The first Sunday in the month was the day set apart as the Day of Prayer for India, and a Special United Meeting was arranged by me. On the 5th I had a long journey of seventeen miles to a plantation not visited by me for years. Here I was glad to meet a Christian lady. Then on the 7th and 8th of the month I visited plantations on the other side of Darjeeling. After travelling up to Darjeeling, the same day I took train to Teendaria, the railway workshops being there, and a number of Europeans and Eurasians. Spent Saturday, 8th, in visiting everybody, a busy day. In several cases had plain talks on the way of salvation, and spiritual things in general, with prayer, and was thankful for opportunities afforded. On Sunday afternoon, 9th, a service was held at the Institute. There were sixteen at the service, including several children, and two members of the Brahmo Somaj who were among the most interested listeners.

"The next morning, 10th, by train to Kurseong, remaining for the night with a planter, his wife, and daughter. I hope a profitable visit. On the 11th, after riding and walking several miles, breakfasted with a planter's family, who welcomed me most heartily, and then had a long, tedious journey of many miles till nightfall. This was to plantations in an out of the way corner never visited by me before. Evening was spent with a planter and his family. The next day visited three other plantations. Then, on the 13th, started on a journey that took me practically all day. First called at a bungalow where I had Christian fellowship in conversation and prayer with the wife of the planter, she spoke as one who had really been cheered and helped by my visit. It was a joy to me to meet one in this out of the way spot with whom Christian fellowship could be held. Then for hours I was riding over the hills and reached a plantation where I breakfasted. Here I saw the assistant and the engineer. After a journey which consumed most of the afternoon, reached a plantation never visited before. The evening was spent in conversing on the most important things, and was closed with Bible reading and prayer.

"The next afternoon, travelled on to a bungalow of a friend, whom I knew well, the son of a Vicar at home. Here, I trust, the evening was profitably spent. Then, on the 15th, the most of the day spent in journeying over the hills, an interview with a planter in the morning, and afterwards a long journey to an old friend's bungalow. On the afternoon of Sunday, 16th inst., a service was held in the drawing room. There were seven present.

"On 17th, resting. On the 18th, a long journey to a plantation never visited before, where I met a planter and his widowed sister. 19th, another long journey to a family not visited for many years.

28th, travelled by rail to Haldibari, a jute centre on the Northern Bengal Railway. Sunday, 30th, spent in visiting, and held a service in the Dik Bungalow. Room quite full, 16 or 17 present. I try to visit here once or twice a year, and am always kindly received. No one holds services here but myself.

"During the month much excellent gospel literature was circulated, and many personal talks on spiritual matters engaged in. These cannot well be referred to in detail. For the encouragement of the Anglo-Indian Ladies' Union let me state that a young man who did not possess a Bible to whom I gave one last year had been reading it with interest, and is enquiring after the way of salvation."

REV. ISAAC F. ROW, POONA AND JUBBULPORE.

While this Report was being prepared, the sad news was received of the death of the Rev. I. F. Row. Mr Row was long identified with the work of the Society, and reference is made in our Obituary to his valuable services as an Evangelist.

After returning from Australia, at the end of August, Mr Row travelled over his large district visiting places where our countrymen are neglected spiritually, on the South Eastern Section and the North Eastern Section of the Great Indian Peninsular Railway; also Rajputana Malwa Railway and the Nizam's Railway, holding in all over fifty services, up to the end of December. Mr Row gave the following account of his work, which has now a pathetic interest:

"This four months work has involved, as usual, much wearisome travelling. The trip, for instance, from Poona to Raichur takes twenty hours by passenger train, but there is no place on my district more attractive to me, because the people turn out so well for services, especially on the Sabbath evening.

"On the whole I have much to encourage me in my work, but no Evangelist has so large a district to cover, and I would be glad if the Society could find a really suitable man to divide the work with me. I continue to receive much kindness at the hands of Railway employees, Missionaries, and others, and my passes are regularly renewed by the Railway authorities who know me personally, and appreciate my work. I may add that it is a great pleasure to me to be associated in the work with Mr James Macdonald, Acting Indian Secretary, and the Hon. Mr Procter, Treasurer, as both these gentlemen know me well, and are able to appreciate and sympathise with the Evangelist in the difficulties and trials incidental to a work involving such frequent and fatigue journeys in a most enervating and unhealthy climate.""

REV. N. P. NEILSEN.

Mr Neilsen, who was a former agent of the Society, did some work in Mr Row’s district during his absence in Australia. He writes:

"In the absence on leave of Rev. Isaac F. Row, it has once again been my privilege to travel over a portion of the line between Bombay and Raichur; and to meet with people, who, years ago, accepted Jesus Christ as their Saviour while attending the services, and many expressed their sincere thanks to the Society for sending a Minister to these lonely stations. It was a source of great joy to me to see the meetings so well attended and the deep interest manifested. These bore witness to Mr Row’s faithful labours among them. I met with many sincere and earnest Christian people seeking for deeper spiritual truth, and there seemed to be a real longing to know heavenly things. The Sunday School which was started in Sholapur by the Society’s Minister, about seven years ago, I found to be in a beautiful spiritual condition, with an earnest Christian lady as Superintendent. So we see that the Society’s work has borne much good fruit. In almost every station some one bore witness to blessing received during these meetings. At one place the Station Master said to me, ‘I am all alone in this station, God called my wife to Himself some time ago. Were it not for the Railway Mission’s Sahib who comes once in a while, I should despair.’ But this is only one, how many more speak this way, whom the Society never hears about.

"‘The Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society has a grand work to do in India, but many more workers are wanted to travel over sections of the different railways where very little work of this kind is done.’ This is an expression of a high official on the G.I.P. Railway, a few days ago, in conversation about spiritual things.

"I pray that the Society may be most abundantly blessed and used of God in bringing the glorious Gospel of Jesus Christ to the many thousands of lonely railway people and others scattered along the Indian Railways."

REV. F. W. ADAMS, SABARMATI, writes:

"I had a short service in the Permanent Way Inspector’s Bungalow at ——. This is one of the many stations along the line of rail where scattered groups of Europeans and Eurasians are destitute of Gospel ordinances. I left by the early morning passenger train for —— where I had prayer with Mr and Mrs ——, and left booklets. That morning Bubonic Plague had reached the station platform, for only an hour or two before my arrival there, one of the staff had succumbed to the deadly disease. The following Monday I received the sorrowful tidings that he, at whose table I had sat but three days before, had died of the much dreaded pestilence. At —— I visited during the forenoon, and preached in the evening. An assistant engineer of the P.W. Dept., whom I found putting up at the station waiting-room, accompanied me to the service. He afterwards informed me that as his work was mostly in the districts, it was quite three months since he had last had an opportunity of attending a place of worship. I conducted an evening service at ——, attendance 36. This was an exceptionally large congregation considering the thermometer had registered 112 degrees but a few hours before.

"Mr —— to whom I had written a letter of admonition replied as follows:—'
Your letter of protest and advice received, for which I thank you heartily. I realise all you have said to be quite right, and you have done your duty in arousing me to mine.' Mr ——, a railway engineer writes:—"I have pleasure in enclosing you a cheque for thirty-two Rupees, making up my contributions to the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society for the year 1906 to Rs. 50. I hope to have the pleasure of sending you the same sum this year for the same good purpose."

REV. JOHN NELSON, BELGAUM.

"In looking over the past twelve months work, the long, fatiguing journeys— I have travelled about 2500 miles every month, and have been ten consecutive nights in the train—loss of sleep, irregular meals, etc., all for the spiritual welfare of the people in this district, and comparing the results of all this, one is apt to get discouraged. And yet why should we? The good seed has been sown, can we doubt, but that it will spring up, and in His time will bring forth an abundant harvest."

Tho' Earth and Hell the Word gainsay,
The Word of God shall never fail;
The Lord can break sin's iron sway,
'Tis certain tho' impossible.

"In the stations we regularly visit for Sunday services namely, Dharwar, Hubli, Guntakal, and Castle Rock, we have received a warm welcome, and kind hospitality from those who entertained us.

"We have also visited as often as possible, Arsikere, Donakonda, Bellary, Gadag, Miraj, Vasco, Marmagao, and Kirkke, where all services have been heartily appreciated, although the congregation sometimes has only numbered three persons.

"We were privileged at Poona to meet Professor Simpson, and his son. The interview took us back to 1868, when, as a lad, Professor Simpson, as Elder of the late Dr. Andrew Bonar's Church, took my hand and introduced me as a member of the Church.

"I have only visited the gold mines at Gadag once, and held a service in the Survey office, when eighteen were present. As the Superintendent is on leave, the Officiating Superintendent is unable to supply a conveyance, and the difficulty and cost of hiring one from the railway station is too great for our Society to undertake. For this reason the officiating Superintendent proposed deferring another visit, until the Superintendent returns when we hope to arrange to hold a regular monthly service.

"During the year I have had to baptise infants, and to bury the dead in some places where only one English speaking family resides.

"Regular services have been held for the soldiers in the Garrison Prayer Room, and since the opening of the Soldiers' Institute, my wife and I have held Gospel Meetings and Bible Classes, and have assisted at the Temperance Meetings of the Gospel Temperance Association, which has a membership of sixty.

"Our thanks are again due to Colonel Burn Murdoch, for my 2nd Class Passes, and grant towards the prizes and Picnic for Mrs Nelson's Sunday School; also to W. B. Wright, Esq., Traffic Manager, for enabling us to take the children to Khanapur for their Picnic; also to Mrs Adolphus Orr, and the ladies of the Anglo-Indian Ladies' Union for their kind gifts of Bibles and Testaments for the Sunday School Children."
The reports received from Mr. Jones during the nine months in which he has been engaged in the work of the Society have been most encouraging. The following are a few extracts:

"During this month I visited eleven stations in all. Ten services for adults were held, and two services for children. Sometimes the attendances were not large, but this may be attributed to the rainy weather, and when not raining the heat has been excessive. But so far as expressions of gratitude and appreciation go, I have every cause to be thankful that the Word of God has been well received by the people.

"In —,—, a regular service is maintained every Lord's Day, by the Station Master, and the attendance is excellent, and the tone of the station, morally and spiritually, far higher than some places I know of. His method is to read the Church of England Prayers for the day, and then read a sermon by some Evangelical preacher. I wish I could induce others to do likewise. I shall try. The people do not appreciate my visit any the less because of this service, but rather more. The Station Master's daughter carries on a Sunday School and is doing good work.

"I have heard indirectly during the month of comfort and help received by several through the word preached. There are some needy places where Europeans reside which I have never yet been able to visit, and I cannot learn that anyone else has ever visited them. I refer to scattered communities in the coal district. If my pass can be extended as requested I hope (D.V.) to undertake this work.

"The places which cheered me most were Kulti, where I spent three days; Mirzapur which I visited twice; and Moghal Serai. The attendance in each case was remarkable, almost every available person being present, and a grand, fervent spirit manifested. I humbly hope and believe that God is using me to accomplish His gracious purpose in these places. If such expressions as the following, "Come again, and come soon" are a true indication of a gracious awakening and longing for the preached Word, then these signs are very manifest.

"The attendances were in each case encouraging, and the people seemed very much interested. I feel that my work is not so well done as it might be through want of good Christian literature for distribution. Formerly I used to receive a regular monthly supply from friends of the Society in England. Can nothing be done in this direction by inserting a note in the Annual Report, and anything which friends feel disposed to give might be sent direct to me, after intimating to the General Secretary, so as to prevent too many people sending to the same person."

The Secretary will be pleased to receive the names of any who may be able to send Christian literature to the agents of the Society for distribution.

Mr. John M'Dowall, Podanur.

"In the services at Podanur we never had larger gatherings than at present to hear the Word, and we are hoping that real blessing will be the result. The meetings are perhaps better in point of attendance than at any time since coming to India. The Chapel on various occasions has been quite full and I am glad to say that a number are earnest Christians. The same is the case in the Sunday School and Children's Meeting.

"In visiting the other places on the line I travel long distances to meet with the few at those stations. In some cases they have absolutely no other opportunity of hearing the Gospel, so that a few years at such places, surrounded as they are by Heathenism, creates tendencies to indifference and forgetfulness of God, and makes manifest the need of visiting such with the Gospel message. Some require to be individually sought after, while others are of those who belong to the Church of God.

"I feel the need of Divine guidance at such times, since the opportunities are so few, that the right word might be given to meet them in their need."
"I have also well-attended services in Jalarapet where there is a large railway population with very little opportunity of public worship beyond the meetings held in the local doctor’s house."

"I feel often that the Society’s work is best understood by trying to imagine what the position of affairs would be at many stations, were it not for the opportunities which the Society affords to these places of hearing God’s word."

REV. JAMES SHAW, QUETTA.

"In view of the limitations imposed upon my work, as an Agent of the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society, by the sparseness of the European population, and the small number of stations upon the line of railway at which Europeans are to be found at all, there is but little to be said by way of report. These very conditions, however, are a justification of the Society’s work in this territory, for they are conditions in which our countrymen are more than ordinarily likely to forget God, and to lose sight of the obligations connected with the Christian name. As, however, meetings for Christian worship, often very insignificant from a numerical point of view, have been held from time to time, they have been at least a testimony and a confession of Christ before the natives of this Mahomedan country, and often have I felt with satisfaction, that in a specially emphatic and intelligent manner we could, on such occasions, say, ‘we praise Thee O God, we acknowledge Thee to be the Lord.’ But beyond this God has greatly blessed and owned the preaching of His own Word, and has graciously granted ‘signs following.’"

"Very small meetings must obviously be very quiet and undemonstrative, but I have often been cheered and encouraged by a quiet word of thanks, or the assurance voluntarily given that the service had been blessed and helpful, and once at least, a woman whose husband, a railway man, had been transferred a great distance wrote to me saying ‘good-bye,’ and telling me that God had used those quiet little services to bring her into the experience of a complete change of heart and life, and to inspire her with a bright glad hope in Christ.

"I feel as never before the need for maintaining a very clear and definite testimony to Evangelical truth; far off as we are the pernicious influence of the so-called ‘New Theology’ is felt, and comes as an additional danger to persons whose calling is life, and whose isolation from ordinary helps to Christian life, cause them to stand in unusually slippery places. I have had a pressing invitation to give one Sunday in a month to a small military out-station, garrisoned by native troops, but of course, officered by Englishmen, and I am very glad to say that the way has opened for doing this, though at first it seemed impossible to arrange for my three Sunday services. I hope that this new departure may be much blessed in every way."

MR H T SLADE, HUBLI, Hon. Evangelist.

"It gives me very great pleasure to again state that our work for the dear Master has been fully maintained. Each Sabbath Evangelistic services have been held in the S.M.R. Institute, and our best thanks are due to the committee who allowed us the use of their Reading Room. Our meetings have been fairly well attended. As you know ours is a railway centre, and many of our friends cannot always avail themselves of the opportunity to be present, due to their vocation, but it is a joy to know that if possible they do come up. Still there are some who could worship with us, but do not. We can only pray that God will bless them.

"The Sunday School continues to be well-attended, and the children have every appearance of loving their school, and each Sabbath come up most readily.

"Our young people’s Christian Union has been fairly well attended during the seasons it is open, and many a delightful evening has been spent, and we trust many helped.

"In conclusion, I beg to acknowledge the ever ready help our dear friend, Rev. J. Nelson (Agent of our District), gives us here. Mr Nelson takes alternate Sunday morning services, which is a great help to me.

"Our dear friends, Mrs Cumming and Miss Omond, are paying our station a few weeks’ visit. Mrs Cumming is relieving me of most of my work for a few weeks, thus enabling me to rest."
Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society.

Mrs Cumming and Miss Omond.

Mrs Cumming and Miss Omond, who are old and valued Honorary workers for the Society, are again on a visit to India, after a long furlough at home, they have visited Darjeeling, Mussorie, Lucknow, Cawnpore, Nagpur, and several other places. When writing last they were again visiting their old field of work at Hubli, and other stations on the Southern Mahratta Railway. Mrs Cumming writes:—

It is very nice being here again. We got a very warm welcome. Will you keep praying for Hubli, that God may come down with power in the midst, that there may be a real revival? As yet the Europeans and Eurasians have been little touched by the times of revival in India—just the native Christians and those teaching them. We want more continued earnest prayer. I was three weeks in Hyderabad and was kindly welcomed there and had some meetings. I am going to Belgaum for a day next week. This district will be getting more important if the gold mines succeed at Gadak, which is not far off from Hubli. At present the mines are many miles from a railway station.

I have been visiting all the families belonging to the railway in Hubli. I go out every morning and spend two or more hours among them and everywhere get a kind, warm welcome. This week I am having two extra meetings to join in the week of prayer for Great Britain and Ireland, and to pray for a revival for ourselves.

Miss Omond and I were in Belgaum this week. Two meetings had been arranged for me to take for the soldiers. The evening one was a very solemn one. I hope some of the men decided for Christ. When I am travelling I do what I can among the railway men at the stations and the guards with tracts and papers, and a word as opportunity comes.

Pastor W. Mallis, Coonoor.

Mr Mallis who has devoted a part of each month to work in connection with the Society, among the planters in the Nilghiri Hills, has now left India, and gone to Australia. Mr Mallis did valuable work in this district, and will be much missed by those to whom he ministered. It is possible that Mr Mallis may return again, when he will be assured of a hearty welcome.
OBITUARY.

REV. PROFESSOR THOMAS SMITH, D.D.

Indian Missionaries have been ardent supporters of the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society. They have valued its work for the sake of our countrymen, and because they have recognised in it an auxiliary to their own work among the natives. The eminent missionaries, Drs Duff and Murray Mitchell, were among the founders of the Society, and with these the name of the Rev. Dr Thomas Smith is naturally associated. During this past year this venerable missionary has entered into rest in his eighty-ninth year. A peculiar interest attached to Dr T. Smith as the last of the ordained ministers who took part in the Disruption of the Church of Scotland in 1843. At that time he was a missionary in Calcutta, having gone out to India in 1839. He was an able and devoted missionary, and his name will always be remembered along with that of the Rev. John Fordyce, our late Secretary, in connection with the origin of Zenaana Missions in behalf of the women of India. Through failure of health Dr Smith had to abandon India in 1859, and after a ministry in the Cowgate of Edinburgh he was appointed Professor of Evangelistic Theology by the General Assembly of the Free Church of Scotland, a position which he filled for thirteen years.

Dr Thomas Smith ever retained a warm interest in the progress of the Kingdom of Christ in India, and in the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society as an agency working for its advancement. He advocated its claims and sought to enlist in its behalf the sympathy of the Churches at home. In him the Society has lost an old and tried friend, whose cordial support was a source of strength and encouragement to all who were identified with its work.

MR SAMUEL SMITH.

The Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society has during this last year lost a warm friend through the death of Mr Samuel Smith, M.P., who was one of its Vice-Presidents. Mr Smith was, as is well known, a man of earnest Christian character who aimed at serving Christ by maintaining the cause of truth and righteousness in his political life. Early in life he made acquaintance with India, and the interest thus awakened was maintained by repeated visits in later years. It was during the last of these visits that the call came to him, after a long and useful life, to enter into rest. Knowing the situation of our own countrymen in India and the need of special provision being made for their spiritual welfare, he took a deep interest in the work of the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society. He frequently spoke in public in its behalf, and was ever ready to commend it to the sympathy and support of the Churches at home. The Directors will miss his valued help, and they trust that many more such friends may be raised up for the Society.

MR ROBERT SCOTT.

The Society has lost a true friend and generous supporter through the death of Mr Robert Scott, of the firm of Messrs Morgan & Scott. The Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society has always found cordial recognition and earnest advocacy in the pages of The Christian, and many friends have been made and much support derived through its instrumentality. During recent years the link of connection became closer through Mr Scott's becoming a member of the London Committee. Deeply interested in India, and knowing the need of our countrymen in that great dependency of the British Empire, he was ever ready to help forward any effort that was made to bring within their reach the ordinances of the Gospel. The work of the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society appealed to his deepest sympathies, and the Directors valued highly the help so willingly given by one who occupied so influential a position, and who was so highly esteemed for his Christian character.
General Bruce was a well-known figure at the public meetings of the Society in Exeter Hall. He was for many years a member of the London Committee, regularly attending and in general presiding over its meetings. His interest in the work of the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society was constant, and his help in furthering its efforts could always be relied upon. His kindly Christian courtesy and genial presence will be much missed at the meetings of the London Committee, and the Directors trust that others may be raised up to take his place and that of the other friends and helpers whose loss we have had to mourn.

Rev. Isaac F. Row.

The sad news has just reached us of the death of the Rev. Isaac F. Row, the Senior Evangelist of the Society in India. Mr. Row was for a long period in the service of the Society, having been appointed an Evangelist in 1882. He was an impressive speaker and had special gifts as an Evangelist. He travelled many thousands of miles over the railways among our countrymen in India, preaching the Gospel of Christ. His labours were owned and blessed of God, and both as Evangelist and as Secretary—a position he at different times filled in India—he made many friends for the Society. His kindly manner, bright and cheery disposition, and genial sympathy gained access for him and enabled him to commend the Gospel of Christ to those with whom he came in contact in his frequent journeys. The call to enter into rest has come suddenly, and we desire to express our deepest sympathy with Mrs. Row and the members of his family, and to commend them to the God of all comfort in their bereavement.

Touching particulars in regard to Mr. Row’s closing days have come to hand, as we are going to press with this Report. The following account from the Bombay Guardian shows how suddenly the call came.

“Mr. Row, while not enjoying robust health, having had a severe attack of influenza last January, did not give any great concern to his friends who have seen him recently and frequently. During March he made a sea journey to Ceylon with an Australian friend, and returned from the short trip in good spirits, and much benefited in health. Mr. Row was present at the recent Lonavla Convention, which he much enjoyed; and only a few days before his death was in Bombay, and had arranged to spend the month of May in this city. He went to Raichore for Sunday, April 7th, when he preached for the last time. On returning to Poona, Mr. Row went to the Home of the Rev. J. B. Thornton, of the Methodist Episcopal Mission, with whom he expected to spend a short time before coming to Bombay.

“On Wednesday morning, April 10th, Mr. Row, having been out for a short walk, returned, and, after having a pleasant little talk with Mr. Thornton’s children, retired to his room. When breakfast was ready, he was lying on his bed, presumably asleep, and so was not disturbed, but after a little while, as he did not awaken, his servant was sent to summon him. It was then discovered that the spirit of our brother had had taken its flight, and that he had passed away quietly and suddenly, as a newspaper which still lay in his lifeless hand betokened.

“The funeral took place the next morning, several of his friends from Bombay being present, with those of Poona, on the sad occasion. Only two evenings before, in the same cemetery, he had officiated at the funeral of a Christian worker, and had sung “Rock of Ages, cleft for me,” which hymn was now sung by his open grave.

“The same number of the Guardian contains a report of an impressive Memorial Service which was held in the Bowen Memorial M.E. Church, Bombay, of which Mr. Row for some time acted as Pastor. A large attendance was a striking evidence of the esteem in which Mr. Row was held, and warm affectionate tributes to his character and work were paid by Christian friends and fellow-workers. Mr. Row’s removal leaves a blank in India, and many will miss his helpful visits and ministrations on the railway lines.
ANGLO-INDIAN LADIES’ UNION.

Hon. Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs ADOLPHUS ORR,
12 PEMBRIDGE PLACE, BAYSWATER, LONDON, W.

1906-7.

On November 6th, 1906, a most interesting and well-attended meeting was held at Trinity Presbyterian Church, Notting Hill, London, by kind permission of Rev. Hugh Falconer, at which Mr Charles T. Studd kindly gave an account of the work done by the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society in India. Mr Studd spoke of the many difficulties as well as of the great usefulness of the work and mentioned several cases of conversion. At the Social gathering after, tea was kindly provided by Mrs Kenneth Stuart, one of the members of the Ladies' Union. The Collection amounted to £3, 12s.

With the kind assistance of Mrs Godby, Mrs Bullen Smith, and Mrs Kenneth Stuart, a larger number of Bibles and Testaments were sent this year to the Schools at Dinapore, Belgaum, Pudanur, and Darjeeling. The distribution of these books at Christmas time gave immense pleasure, and it is hoped the reading of the books will do incalculable good, with God’s blessing.

It is proposed to hold a Sale of Work early in 1908. Will all the members of the Ladies’ Union and the ladies who have so kindly sent in contributions on former occasions, please keep this in mind and help again? Any contributions will be thankfully received and acknowledged by Mrs Orr, 12 Pembridge Place, Bayswater, London.

Contributions for the Anglo-Indian Ladies’ Union.

Mrs ADOLPHUS ORR, Hon. Secretary and Treasurer, 12 Pembridge Place, Bayswater, London, W.—£43, 18s. 6d.

APPENDIX.

The Thirty-Sixth Annual Meeting of the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society was held on Monday afternoon, April 29th, at Exeter Hall, London. The Right Hon. LORD KINNAIRD was in the Chair, supported by Sir Frederick Lely, K.C.I.E., the Rev. Prebendary Webb-Peploe, Mr Charles T. Studd, B.A., Colonel E. S. Skinner, Mr William Coldstream, Colonel Muir, Mr E. G. Glazier, Mr W. Stewart Thompson, General Secretary and Treasurer to the Society, and others. There was only a moderate attendance of members and friends owing, no doubt, to the fact that a large number of like meetings were being held in the same building and elsewhere.

The proceedings opened with a prayer, offered by Rev. Prebendary Webb-Peploe, which was followed by the Lord's Prayer, taken part in by the whole assemblage. The Secretary, Mr W. Stewart Thompson, then read extracts from the Annual Report and presented an Abstract of the Accounts, which were appreciably received.

The CHAIRMAN, who on rising to move the adoption of the Report met with a very cordial reception, expressed the pleasure it gave him to be present that afternoon. If anyone knew the Society and its connections it was he, for he had been a member of the Board of Directors for many years—since he was a young man. (Applause). The smallness of the attendance that day was, perhaps to some of them at least, not a little disappointing. He had seen much larger gatherings at their Annual Meetings. But when they took into consideration the fact that so many meetings of a like nature were being held at that season all over the country, it would somewhat diminish that feeling and substitute for it one of gladness at the prospect of so much good work going on by the kindred societies throughout Britain. He thought it had been a rather difficult matter to enlist the sympathy of the people in or to get them to become subscribers to the Society this year. Dealing with the Report in general, his Lordship observed that although good work had been accomplished during the past year, much was still desired. The Society had been existent thirty-six years, during which long period it had provided for the Christian welfare of many thousands of their fellow-countrymen in India. Some people thought there were chaplains and missionaries all over India, which was, as all present knew, a great mistake. That was what they desired, and nothing could give him more pleasure than to see such a happy state of things become an accomplished fact. (Applause). Continuing, the speaker said he had recently received a letter from a young Scotstman in India in which the writer pointed out that suitable men were needed, and stated that Roman Catholics were strong in that part of India in which he was stationed. What was needed in India, as in other mission fields, he (the speaker) thought were strong, healthy men to fill the vacancies caused through death. They must have spare men always ready to volunteer for service in the mission fields. As touching upon the financial aspect of the Report he observed that Scotland led the way as far as contributions to the funds of the Society were concerned. Scotland had given during the past year the sum of £881, while England had contributed only £574. Such ought not to be the case. He thought that in sympathy with such a noble cause people should deny themselves and render assistance to the Society. There were three thoughts he wished to express, viz.—(1) He had himself experienced the difficulties to be met with in connection with the work of the Society and therefore, he would the more earnestly urge the need for funds; (2) that good men should work individually in buttonholing subscribers; and (3) able men are wanted and should come forward as volunteers for the mission field, even though it be only for a few months. Much good had been done by the Winter Mission, composed of clergy and laymen. In conclusion, Lord Kinnaird said he considered it the best policy to get popular preachers as missionaries, not to go to great cities but to outlying districts in that great empire of ours. He hoped that at the next Annual Meeting they would have still happier results of good work accomplished, and a substantial balance with which to carry on the noble cause to the extent they so sincerely desired. (Applause).

Sir Frederick Lely rising, amid applause, to second the adoption of the Report, said this was one of the great series of May Meetings, in which the many sections of the Christian Church review their forces—their regiments on foreign service and their militia on work at home. He was sure that it was not necessary in that hall to say a word on behalf of Foreign Missions. But this Society struck a somewhat different, though not a discordant, note. It appealed to us for our own countrymen who were brought up side by side with us, and who were now in the distant wilderness. He doubted if people at home realised how this great Empire had been, and is being built up and consolidated by individual Englishmen—soldiers, civil administrators, engineers, traders, planters, and last, but not least, missionaries. The student of the history of British Africa, British India, and elsewhere, would find how infinitesimally little was due to the wisdom of governments and parliaments, and how much to the handful of men on the spot. It was they who bore the white man's burden. He mentioned facts from Africa and India to show how the good name of England and the religion of Christ depended on solitary Englishmen dotted about in ones, and twos, and threes, doing the work of the race for good or ill. They were just average men, much influenced like all of us by their surroundings. The prevalent belief of the native was that they had no religion at all, but that was partly because he does not understand them. The good Mohammedan drops on his knees at the hour of prayer wherever he happens to be, and he does not appreciate the reticence with which the Englishman often hides his religious feeling. At the same time there is a benumbing atmosphere in India which few can shake off—a moral malaria which may not kill but which weakens the spiritual faculties. It presses on one with almost physical force on Sundays. In our own land we were always conscious of a bush which marked off the Sunday from other days. It might be partly subjective, but it existed, and we all responded to it. There was no trace of it in the Indian city. The spirit of heathenism seemed to rise up and blare at one in the noises of the street and workshop without a sign of religious observance, or even of rest. It was not surprising that when a man is living more or less alone, with nothing to remind him of his faith, this atmosphere of negation and carelessness should steal into his very soul. Was it any wonder that with the great dead sea of heathenism lapping up to his doors, with never the sound of a Church bell, with none of the subtle and gracious influence of his home-life about him, he should forget the Bible of his fathers, and the prayers his mother taught him, and in some cases even abandon the decencies of life? In a more or less sequestered life he was often driven in on himself with not always good results. To such a man, marooned by circumstances, the visit of this Society's Agent, if he were a wise and tactful man, was like a life-line. We often heard of the toll we paid for empire—the lives of our brave men and women. You might see it in the graveyards of the African Veldt, in the enclosure near every Indian station, filled with records of lives, scarcely any over the age of thirty, in the solitary tomb in the distant jungle. But there was a heavier toll still which would be paid if these brothers of ours not only lost their lives, but surrendered their faith, their honour, their better selves—if they gained the whole world for the British Empire and lost their own souls. We could not save them from cholera, from the assassin’s dagger, from the perils of war, but we might help to ward off the dangers that assault and hurt the soul by providing Christian ministration and sympathy. The Speaker illustrated this by many interesting cases, and he also referred to the great Eurasian community, for whose very existence we were as a race responsible, and who often formed the majority of an up-country congregation. He had much pleasure in seconding the adoption of the Report.

The Chairman then called upon the Rev. Prebendary Webb-Peploe to address the gathering.

REV. PREBENDARY WEBB-PEPOE stated that as time was going he would not tire them with a long address. He alluded to the difference in the amounts contributed by Scotland and England to the funds of the Society, which he thought quite disproportionate. He had never been to India, he said, but in his ministerial work at his church in the west of London he had met with many great men whose work in India was well known to them. The sympathy of Britishers should be shown in a practical way as well as spiritually. He had got an idea of the loneliness to which the previous speakers had referred when, with his son (now dead) he had lived in the prairies of North America. Speaking of the desire of many sheepranchers to attend worship and meet their fellows, he told the audience how at times he had seen as many as thirty-eight horses tethered outside the house of worship. Some of the men had travelled thirty miles to hear the Word of God preached. He and his son would often sing to the congregation, composed of nearly all men, with perhaps two or three women. Most of them were gentlemen who had fallen in the battle of temptation. He had seen strong muscular men with tears in their eyes, and many conversions took place. Some had not heard the Word for ten years, and in some cases longer than that. The isolation was terrible. When a man died on the prairie nothing was ever known to the outside world of the occurrence. He hoped the work of the Society would go on and prosper, and it was with a feeling of hopefulness that he moved—"That as those of our countrymen in India who are removed from the ordinary means of Grace have a strong claim on the sympathy and help of the people at home, and as their number is constantly growing, the objects of this Society, which was founded to provide for the spiritual welfare of such persons, are deserving of a generous and increasing measure of support." (Applause).

Mr Charles T. Studd, B.A. said it gave him great pleasure to second the resolution. As time was short he would be very brief. The speaker then proceeded to give some interesting accounts of incidents he had witnessed during his six years' work in Southern India. After an address, full of anecdotes, Mr Studd concluded by seconding the resolution.

Colonel Skinner, in proposing a vote of thanks to the Speakers, moved the following resolution:—"That the Hon. Secretaries, Treasurers, Lady Collectors, and that valuable agency known as the Anglo-Indian Ladies' Union, and other helpers be thanked for their labours of love, and that the Directors and Office-bearers be re-appointed with power to add to their number." He commended in a few words the excellent work which the Society is doing in India.

Mr Coldstream said it gave him great pleasure to second this resolution, and while so doing he took the opportunity of proposing a vote of thanks to Lord Kinnierd for so kindly and ably presiding at the meeting. He referred to the good work which had been done during the past year by the General Secretary, Mr Stewart Thompson. The meetings held in various parts of the country had been the means of awakening much fresh interest in the work.

After the collection, amounting to £13, 12s., had been taken, the Chairman closed the meeting with prayer.

MEMORANDA.

I. The Annual Report is sent directly by post to Subscribers, whose addresses are in the hands of the Secretary. To others, copies will be sent through Local Secretaries, Treasurers, or Collectors.

II. Donations or Subscriptions will be thankfully received by any of the Treasurers or Collectors; or by Miss Foley, 9 Duke Street, Adelphi, London, W.C.

III. Contributions may be paid into the Society’s Account in the Commercial Bank, Edinburgh, or to Messrs Barclay & Co., 1 Pall Mall East, London, S.W. The Secretary, when advised of such payments, will send receipts.

IV. It would be well if designations were given, as Mrs or Miss, Rev. or Esq., &c.

V. The financial year closes in India 31st December; and at Home 31st March; and Contributions received after these dates will be reckoned as belonging to the following year.

VI. Lady Collectors are requested to send their Collecting Books with remittances.
