Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society

Forty-Second Annual Report 1912-13

Our Countrymen in India

For work on the Railway Lines, in Planting Districts, Mining Districts, and other unprovided places
The Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society is a continuation of the Anglo-Indian Christian Union. The former name marked its catholicity, which still remains, the latter indicates its work. It also includes the Assam Mission, associated with the name of its founder, the late Colonel Foquett; and the "Winter Mission," first suggested by the late Lady Kinnaird.

OBJECTS OF THE SOCIETY.

I. The maintenance of an unsectarian itinerant evangelisation among the widely scattered groups of Europeans and Eurasians in India, otherwise destitute of Gospel ordinances, at Railway Stations, on Tea Estates, &c. This is the chief object of the Society.

II. The appointment of gifted Evangelists to visit the chief centres of population and influence, bringing the Gospel to bear, apart from denominational distinctions, on all the Churches and Missions, and on the Educated English-speaking Natives. This was the special object of the "Winter Mission."

The following is a form of Bequest or Legacy which may be adopted:

"Item, I give and bequeath the sum of to the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society, and the Receipt of the Treasurer of the Society, for the time being, shall be a sufficient discharge therefor."

ONCE in the early days of Christianity, one of its greatest missionaries to the heathen, expressed himself on this wise:—"Brethren, the longing of my heart, and my prayer to God on behalf of my countrymen is for their salvation."* This is the utterance of a great heart-longing and the solicitude of a man who desired the best and highest for his own kith and kin everywhere. It is a similarly great yearning which has inspired and sustained our workers during another year. The longing for the salvation of our own countrymen in India has been the constraining and impelling motive. In many cases that desire has been definitely fulfilled, and on every hand the work has resulted in "signs following." Lonely hearts have been cherished, callousness, thoughtlessness, and dissipation have given place to a serious and sober manner of living, and souls have been saved. Children also, who were in some instances as ignorant of the love of Jesus as the heathen, have been taught "the sweet story of old." For all these things we give Thee thanks, O Lord!

The year now ended has been one of increased enterprise and effort. Serious changes have, however, taken place, and others are pending. The Rev. A. S. Crichton, who with eminent ability and care has directed the affairs of the Society for the last five years, would, according to arrangements made last year, have given up the Secretaryship in November. He would still, however, have remained a member of the Bombay Committee, and his invaluable experience and advice would have been always available. But, owing to illness, he was peremptorily ordered home, and the Secretaryship was handed over on 1st September. At a Committee meeting held previously to his leaving Bombay, the chairman, Mr James M'Donald, voiced the feeling of all when he said that "words would be too feeble adequately to express appreciation of what Mr Crichton had done for this Society," and emphasised the regret felt at his being forced on account of ill-health to resign so soon. We have no doubt Mr Crichton's experience will be at the service of the Home Board, but here he is, and will be, very much missed. Almost immediately after the close of our Indian year came the sad news that Mrs Thomas, wife of our minister at Abu Road, had also been ordered home as soon as she was fit to travel. This means that the Society loses two most devoted workers whose place will not easily be filled. Mr and Mrs Thomas have, by their winsome geniality and large sympathy, won the affection of the people everywhere. Their farewell to India will be cause for deepest regret amongst those who have proved the value of their ministry and friendship. We further learn with regret that the Secretary of the Calcutta Committee, the Rev. John MacRae, is also about to leave India. Thus we are deprived of another very devoted honorary worker. Such continual and unexpected changes add much to the difficulty of the work.

Only those acquainted with the conditions of the Anglo-Indian's life in out-of-the-way places can set an adequate value on the work recorded in this Report. In order to appreciate it all it must be read with sympathy and an active imagination. Only thus can anyone estimate the meaning, not only of the facts recorded, but of things also which discretion forbids us to tell.

Amidst many difficulties Mr M'Dowall and his wife have established regular services and meetings at Gangapur City, all of which have to be held, for the present, in their own bungalow. Appeals have come to Mr Parker for extension of his work to other places beyond his district. Mr Taylor has organised regular services and Sunday Schools at stations on the East Indian Railway. The work of Mr Thomas in Abu Road and district is the best he has had in any year so far. Mr Gordon records striking instances of blessing at Podanur. Our honorary workers also have rendered most devoted service. Mr Cook at Raichur, amidst the increasing claims of his work among the Indians, has found time to minister to the Europeans in the station. Mr Shaw of Quetta has kept in touch with the civilians there. Mr Slade and his colleagues record a year of unflagging activity at Hubli. Mr Davy has visited various stations in the North, and has kept up interest in Simla, and Mr Chance has maintained the services at Washermanpeth.

A modern writer of repute has said "there are philosophers, clear-sighted enough to perceive, and honest enough to admit, that the negation of religion leads logically and definitely to the negation of moral principles." Then must follow, surely, negation of moral habits. And, since religious worship is essential for the maintenance of religion in the soul, who can wonder if both religion and morality grow slack where people have no opportunity for worship more than once in six, twelve, and even twenty-four months? Our workers are endeavouring to meet the needs of such people. The importance of such service it is impossible to over-emphasise. On the ground of kinship it is our duty. As a means of making and keeping men and women good it is essential. As an adjunct to other missionary enterprise, it is expedient and indispensable, for Christianity in India is estimated and judged indiscriminately by the life of the European.
INDIAN SECRETARY’S DEPUTATION WORK.—In addition to regular district and office duties the Secretary in India has done a considerable amount of deputation work. He has preached for the Society in four of the leading churches in Bombay, also in Kirkee, Poona, and Lanouli.

During October he was twenty-eight days from home on a visit to the North. A Sunday was spent at Itarsi, a few days at Delhi, and enquiries were made en route concerning the religious needs of the railway people at the smaller stations. At Simla he met the local Committee, and was also introduced to several who might become interested in the Society’s work. The need of a regular worker for the great North-Western Railway System was discussed, and the Committee seemed quite prepared to assume their share of the responsibility in supporting such worker. He preached both in the Union and Presbyterian Churches, and spent a good deal of time with their respective ministers, Rev. E. Palgrave Davy and Rev. J. Black, M.A. He also conducted services at Amballa and Lahore, and in each place interviewed friends about the work. Requests have reached the Secretary to visit other districts, but, as travelling facilities for this have not yet been granted, he has been unable to respond.

GLIMPSES OF WORK FROM THE FIELD.

Rev. ARTHUR GILES, Poona-Hutti, G.I.P. Railway, writes—“I have had a happy and encouraging first year. The district was taken over in April. At first the people were rather reluctant and distant, and showed but little inclination to attend the services. In time, however, we came to know one another, and now I find them most cordial and appreciative. At Dhond, Sholapur, and Raichur the attendance is good, and the same may be said for the smaller stations such as Barsi Road, Shahabad, Kalyan, and Amednagar, in proportion to the number of residents. The amount of good done, however, cannot be measured by mere attendance at services, and I have had gratifying instances of blessing on my ministry. Twice in the year I have visited the Hutti Gold Mine, situated fifty miles West of Raichur. This means a journey of twelve hours by train and a similar time by cart. On each occasion the manager and staff have given me a cordial welcome. These visits, with a six months interval between, are the only occasions when a minister visits the mine. The services on each occasion were well attended. Their appreciation of our work was shown by donations to the amount of Rs. 49 (£3, 5s. 4d.), being given to our funds. It is interesting how links are formed with people in the homeland. One of the men at Hutti had, when I called on him, just read our Annual Report, and forthwith had addressed his copy to his father, who is a clergyman in England, as telling of the only Society which takes any interest in him and his companions. At Kalyan I met a lady who had been frequently asked by one of our collectors in England if she had ever met a worker of the A.I.E.S. Hitherto she had not. But now she has written to her friend in appreciative terms of our work. Moreover, her husband has subscribed Rs. 15 (£1), to the funds. At Shahabad I have met on several occasions a lady who knows well the scene of my ministry in London, and friends in the locality. On one of my visits to Bombay I casually met a gentleman who had formerly known our work in Sholapur, and in gratitude for the memory thereof gave a subscription of Rs. 10. Attendance at the services has varied between thirty-four and three. On one occasion only myself and another were present, but we had reading and prayer together. I have made a point of starting or assisting young people’s services wherever possible.

"During the year my wife has tried to stimulate interest at home by writing a series of circular letters telling of Indian life in general, and our own in particular. In addition to this she and Miss Goodey, a friend now visiting us from England, have undertaken to write to all the lady collectors. By this means they hope to lessen the difficulty experienced in keeping up the interest and subscriptions.

"Mrs Giles has been elected President of the Poona Y.W.C.A., into whose varied activities she has heartily thrown herself.

Mr JOHN M’DOWALL, Rutlam-Mutra, B.B. &C.I. Railway, writes:—"Whatever financial benefits India may offer to those whom duty calls to live in this land, these are more than counter-balanced by the price paid in blood, energy, and spiritual loss. As time passes on, indications of such sacrifices become more and more apparent. The spiritual loss is at once the greatest and the most obvious, especially to those resident in the ‘Districts’ of India. The opportunities afforded for the development and maintenance of spiritual life are never many in such places. Before our coming here this was especially true of this district, chiefly on account of it being a new railway line to Delhi, the recently created capital.

"The most populous and needy place is Gangapur, our head-quarters. Here we have a considerable number of railway employees, among whom we have now regular services, a well-attended Sunday School, a weekly children’s service, and Y.W.C.A. meetings. These have been carried on, not without some difficulty and disadvantage, owing to the lack of a meeting-place, there being as yet no institute or other suitable room available. On that account the primitive custom of assembling together in a private house is necessarily ours, the services being held in our bungalow.

"At Rutlam, another large railway centre, I help in the work so long maintained by Dr Campbell of the Canadian Presbyterian Mission. At Kotah, Shamgarh, Sri Madhapur, and Muttra, where the numbers are considerably less, I have sought principally through visitation of the people in their homes to bring before them the claims of Christ. It is at such times more than in the public services that the greatness of the need is most keenly felt. Some are apathetic and indifferent, others ignorant and superstitious, while others again are seeking to live the Christian life as best they can against great odds, but all in need of spiritual help and encouragement. To be a long time without a chance of attending a Divine Service often creates a tendency to do without, even when opportunity offers. As a consequence, in some cases the public service is useless as a means to attain the desired end. What is impossible therefore through the united gathering, I have sought to do privately, and as a rule whatever the opinions entertained by the individual, these efforts have not been resented, and often attended with blessing.

"Whatever doors may be shut, as the result of long habit and neglect, many still stand open wide, inviting an entrance to the servant of Christ. Like much good ground lying fallow in India, through disappointments occasioned by water famines in the past, so many promising lives run to waste for the lack of the means of grace so fruitful in blessing to us all."

Rev. ARNOLD THOMAS, Bulsar-Abu Road, B.B. & C.I.
Railway, writes:—"We think 1912 has been the best of the three years we have spent on the B.B. & C.I. Railway, although we have had more sickness and discouragements than during the two previous years. We have been much encouraged, on these occasions, by remembering that we came out to do this work, because we felt it was God's will for us, and that if He were pleased, every other consideration was secondary and insignificant. We understand our people better, and are glad to say, that many are just as keen and sincere as we could desire.

"Our district being over 500 miles in extent entails much travelling, which would be absolutely impossible to cover if the Railway Company did not help by granting free passes. In some of our stations there are not more than twelve Europeans, but all are keen to attend a service whenever I am able to visit them.

"We have had regular services, meetings, and Sunday Schools in Abu Road and Ahmedabad, and we feel sure that the seed which has been sown will one day bear fruit. The work amongst the children has been very encouraging. We have only a few of the children left who came when we commenced the work, as their parents have either been transferred or they have gone to the hills to study. Others have taken their places, and we are praying, that as they pass through our hands, they will learn that which will enable them to develop into strong Christian men and women. One of the most gratifying features of our work is the readiness with which we are welcomed into the homes, and occasionally after dinner on Sunday night in Ahmedabad, we have gathered in one or another to sing favourite hymns.

"Mrs Thomas' health has been gradually undermined since we came to India, and now she is seriously ill in hospital and ordered to England as soon as she is fit to travel. This is a great disappointment to us, as we had looked forward to many years of usefulness in this work. My wife has been a most devoted co-worker, and has faithfully endeavoured to do all she could for the women and children of Abu Road. Now she is laid aside, and we can only pray that some one else will be raised up, who will carry on this most needy part of the work. The branch of the Y.W.C.A. and the W.C.T.U., of which she has been President, was beginning to show signs of greater activity. Just before her illness they had a very successful work competition and a sale of work, the proceeds of which were given to the Union Church.

"1912 will always be remembered as a very sad year, as quite a number of parents have been bereaved of their children.

"We thank Mrs Orr and the members of the Anglo-Indian Ladies' Union for the Bibles and books they kindly sent before Christmas, and also our good friend Mrs Lewis for so faithfully sending each week a parcel of papers, stories, and texts."

Mr A. P. TAYLOR, Calcutta-Mirzapur, E.I. Railway, writes:—"Under the direction of the Calcutta Committee, the work of the Society, in this part of India, has developed in an encouraging manner. The East Indian Railway has been most liberal in granting free passes to our workers, and they have made it easy to carry on the work as it has extended. Nearly all the railway stations have been visited between Calcutta and Mirzapur, and the needs reported upon.

"Three regular Sunday services have been established in the most needy places, and at each of these centres, Sunday Schools have been organised. Willing workers have come forward to undertake the duties involved. Two Lay Preachers have given us their services each week-end, and they have done most valuable work in preaching and visiting. Services in private homes and prayer meetings have been held, and a considerable amount of visiting has been done in smaller places over the railway.

"Many of the railway employees where we visit have shown great interest in the meetings, and have warmly offered hospitality. There are a number who have testified to change of heart, and in this knowledge we rejoice. As the people are transferred to other places on the line, invitations are received, to visit and hold meetings, and so the work grows. With outside help, we have been able to run a soldiers' meeting at Fort-William every week. These have been times of blessing to many. During the year several valuable gifts of Testaments, and other books have been received from sympathisers in Calcutta; also sixty Sunday School prizes were given. We have also sent a weekly Christian paper to a number of homes in out-of-the-way places.

"The year's work has given cause for great thankfulness, for we have seen changed lives and growth in the work. At the same time there is a dark side, which one does not desire to dwell upon at length. So many do not realise the seriousness of life, and the world and its attractions have made it difficult to make any impression upon them, and they are like the seed which fell among thorns. 'They . when they have heard, go forth, and are choked with the cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection.'"

[Mrs Taylor and her three children sailed for India on 25th December, and word has been received of their safe arrival.]

Mr R. LISH GORDON, Podanur, S.I. Railway, writes:—

"We have much to be thankful for in reviewing another year's work. I am glad to be able to report that the Sunday and mid-week services have been maintained, though, at times, the attendance has been far from encouraging. We have drawn on Coimbatore, as usual, for our Sunday evening services, and the friends there have been ever ready with their help. The variety we aimed at has thus been sustained.

"The Sunday School keeps up, and it is very interesting to observe how the children themselves frequently introduce new-comers. At the end of the year we had sixty-three on the roll, while the average weekly attendance was forty-two. We have lost six children, whose parents have been transferred elsewhere.

"Mrs Gordon and I have continued our visiting, and we have met with much encouragement. We have found a desire on the part of some to talk of the things of God in order to learn more, and we have thus had the opportunity of plain and direct personal dealing. We attribute this, in great measure, to the fact that we have been led to lend out books for perusal. While good story-books have been included, others of a decidedly religious character have been circulated.

"The members of the Y.W.C.A. were brought more closely together by joining in singing practices, they having decided to get up a Song Service in aid of their library. 'St. Paul' was the one selected. It was rendered in the Chapel on 18th December, and was pronounced a success. The Library has since been opened.

"As the year drew to a close, we were very sorry to find that more losses, through transfer, were awaiting us; but we trust that those who have gone may be a means of blessing in their new spheres. Mr Thompson, who was for many years in Podanur, has gone on promotion to Calicut. He will, I am sure, see that services are held on Sundays at the Railway Institute.

"The friends at Coimbatore have maintained the Sunday services at Mettupalaiyam. They used to be held in the waiting-room and afterwards in the refreshment-room, but they are now held at the newly-opened institute, and are thus free from the noise and commotion unavoidable at the station.

"As usual, we closed the year with a 'Watchnight' Service, at which there were over sixty present. I was glad to have the help of Major Tremenheere (Mr Mc'Dowell's father-in-law), who had assisted us for months in the Sunday School, but who has now left the district. All present received motto texts at the close of the service.

"In closing we would commend this station, which has all the disadvantages of a large railway colony, to the prayers of the Lord's people.
Rev. J. PARKER, Bellary-Guntakal, Castle Rock, etc., M. & S. M. Railway, writes:—“In reviewing the past year’s work, I can bless and praise the Lord for opportunities of witnessing for Him, and building up some in their religious experience. One lady remarked, ‘We always feel better for your visits.’ Another said, ‘You give us an uplift whenever you come, but the trouble is, we cannot keep up, there is so much to pull us down before you come again.’

“In going around my district I have invariably engaged in house-to-house visiting, and always had a cordial reception.

“During the past year I received invitations to visit and preach from a few stations situated out of the limits of my railway pass, which I hope to be able to comply with hereafter, and also spend more time at places when occasion arises.

“Opportunities have often occurred during the hours spent in the train for friendly and religious conversation, usually with English-speaking Indians, who, as a rule, appreciate the effort, and express their gratitude with a good grip of the hand when parting. One elderly Indian surprised me with his knowledge of Scripture, and producing from his handbag a well-worn copy of the ‘Imitation of Christ,’ said he found its contents more precious than gold. The travelling work of the Society gives one a fair chance of seeing things as they are, and often calls to mind the Master’s words:—‘The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few.’”

Rev. JAMES SHAW, Quetta, N.W. India, writes:—“In sending a brief report of my work for the past year, I must again call attention to the fact that the number of Europeans, outside of Quetta itself, is exceedingly small in this district, and beyond saying that Evangelistic Services have been held, and the gospel preached throughout the district during the year, there is little to report.

“It is almost impossible to awaken a practical interest in the work of the Society, and to obtain donations for its funds, in this essentially military station, where there is literally no civil community excepting the small railway colony. It may, therefore, interest friends of the Society to learn that, in these circumstances, I was enabled to raise the sum of Rs. 46, 7a. 3p. by singing and selling, sometimes in houses visited, and twice at Evangelistic Services, some verses of my own, which I had printed, and which I called ‘A Prayerful Song,’ and thus secured a sum I could not have hoped to raise, and, at the same time, sent the little song on its mission into many homes and, I trust, hearts. I may also mention, to the glory of God, that another of my songs, which I have styled ‘A Praiseful Testimony,’ but have not printed, has been used to soften hearts, gain attention, and direct conversation into helpful channels, and has not only been a personal testimony for Christ, but has, on more than one occasion, visibly affected listeners.”
Mr H. T. SLADE, Hubli, M.S.M. Railway, writes:—
"Evangelistic Services have been held every Sabbath morning, and have been fairly well attended. We have, therefore, much to thank God for, in His continued blessings, in enabling us to carry on His work, yet there is a great deal more to be done than we have already achieved. I feel there are a number who ought to be with us; aiding, strengthening and supporting us in the Lord's work; but, sad to say, they seem to lack enthusiasm.

"The Sabbath School has been held as usual, each Sabbath evening as in years past; and I have very great pleasure in reporting it to be in an excellent condition; the regular attendance has been very good. This is a cause of great rejoicing to the teachers and myself. Although sickness has been prevalent, as well as a heavy monsoon season, yet the average attendance proved higher than in some years past.

"The Young People's Christian Union is well maintained weekly, and pleasant evenings have been spent. Prayer Meetings are held each week, and are very fairly attended. We are grateful to Rev. J. Parker for his monthly visits to our Station, thus enabling us to participate in the Lord's Supper.

"I earnestly entreat the Lord's people, in the dear home-land, to remember, at the Throne of Grace, their kith and kin across the seas, under the burning sun of India, and uplift and strengthen us by petitioning the eternal God for His favour and blessings on the labours of His servants. Once again I acknowledge the untiring efforts of my dear wife as the Honorary Treasurer of this Station."

Rev. A. E. COOK, Raichur Station, G.I.P. & M.S.M. Railways, writes:—"The Sunday School is doing well under the leadership of Mrs Leither and Mr Tom Fox. From twenty to twenty-five scholars are in regular attendance. Quite a number passed creditably the All-India S.S. Union Examination.

"Regular services are held each Sunday evening (with few exceptions), with an attendance of from twenty to forty people. Christmas and New Year's Day the room was crowded. Lights, pulpit, organ, hymn books, &c., are all paid for by the people. They give a monthly subscription to support an Indian preacher. They are now talking of buying a new organ. Each year we have a delightful Sunday School treat.

"The missionary here has more than he can do to look after his Indian Christians. He had over one thousand baptisms last year. It is only by sacrificing this work that he is able to hold English services. He cannot possibly do much house to house visitation.

"It is a great pity that some evangelistic clergyman cannot come occasionally, and stop long enough to visit all the homes and hold special meetings daily while here."
Rev. W. M. Sutherland, B.D., Chingleput, S.I. Railway, writes:—"In the absence of Rev. A. Andrew, on furlough, the Rev. Mr Sutherland has, along with such help as could be secured, conducted regular services at this Station for civilian and railway residents."

Rev. E. Palgrave Davy, Kalka-Amballa, K.S. & E.I. Railways:—"Owing to the larger demands of his work in Simla, Mr Davy has been unable to give as much time this year as usual to travelling for the Society. He has, however, visited and held services at Kalka, Rajpore, Karnal, and Amballa. It was he, moreover, who made arrangements for the Secretary's visit to Simla in October, and he hopes to do the same this year."

WORK AT HOME.

The work of awakening interest in the Society has gone on steadily during the year. The Secretary has visited London, Liverpool, Birmingham, Cheltenham, Bristol, Cardiff, Reading, Weston-super-Mare, Glasgow, Biggar, Stirling, Perth, Kirriemuir, Brechin, Aberdeen, Ballater, Elgin, Forres, Nairn, Inverness, Beauly, Dingwall, and other places. Meetings have been held, and many people called upon. There has again been a heavy loss to the Society through the death of subscribers, and it has not been easy to fill their places. The Lady Collectors, Secretaries, and Treasurers all over the country have done excellent work, and the Directors are indebted to them for their valued help. Between twenty and thirty lady collectors found it necessary to resign at the beginning of the year, but all the vacancies have been filled up with the exception of one or two places where the Secretary has had to make the collections. The correspondence has been exceptionally heavy, many hundred letters and appeals have been sent out, bringing the work before those whom it was impossible to reach personally.

The Directors again desire to most cordially thank all those who have assisted in the various branches of the work either at Home or in India. The Hon. Secretaries, Treasurers, Lady Collectors; the Hon. Auditors at Home and in India; the friends who have arranged meetings; the valuable auxiliary of the Society, the Anglo-Indian Ladies' Union, of which Mrs Adolphus Orr is Secretary; and very especially Lieut. D. S. Johnston, F.R.E., for carrying on the Indian Treasurership during the absence on furlough of Mr F. J. Page.
FINANCES.

Notwithstanding all our efforts the year has closed with a deficit of £250, 18s. 8d. This is most unfortunate, as it hampers the work for the present year, but it is very encouraging to note that there is an increase in the Indian income. Rev. Arthur Giles, who recently took over the secretarial work, has entered into it most heartily, and has visited many places, enlisting a number of new subscribers. The other workers in India have done loyal, and they are looking forward this year to a still further increase in the income. The Indian Treasurer, Mr F. J. Page, is planning to reach a number who have not hitherto helped, and it is hoped he will meet with a hearty response to his appeals. It is gratifying to find that the Home expenditure has been reduced, while the increase in the Indian expenditure is due to the increase in the staff. This year we must make a special effort to get the work on a better financial footing, and the Directors would urgently appeal to the Lady Collectors and others to try and interest more friends in the work. It is largely by personal influence that others are led to know about the work.

Rev. and Mrs ARNOLD THOMAS.

We regret very much the long and serious illness of Mrs Arnold Thomas. For several months she has been in Bombay Hospital and suffered greatly. The nurses and those who have watched beside her have testified to the Christian fortitude with which this long and painful illness has been borne. More cheering news has come by last mail, and Mr and Mrs Thomas expect to sail for home early in May. The doctors are hopeful that the voyage and change home will be very beneficial. Mr and Mrs Thomas have done excellent work in their district on the Bombay, Baroda and Central, Indian Railway. Rev. David Reid, who has just visited their district, and many others, speak in the warmest terms of the good work done.

INDIAN RAILWAY COMPANIES.

The Directors are again indebted to the Indian Railway Companies for granting passes to the Agents of the Society. Without the assistance thus given it would be practically impossible to carry on the work as it is being done, and it is hoped that these facilities will be extended, especially in the case of our Indian Secretary, so that the work may be developed. From reports which have reached the Directors, it is believed the Railway Companies appreciate and value the good influence which our workers exert on those employed on the different lines.
A CALL TO PRAYER.

The need of prayer for the work is realised more than ever if it is to prosper. The workers in India feel this, and we earnestly urge all who are interested in the welfare of our countrymen in India to remember the work, both at Home and Abroad, at the Throne of Grace. It is God’s work, and He can and will carry it on if we wait on Him according to His will. Sir Andrew Wingate once said, when writing to the Secretary, “Ask the people when they are enjoying their cup of afternoon tea to remember the lonely planters on the sunlit slopes of the Himalayas.” It is hoped that many, who, perhaps, may not be able to do much otherwise, will become “helpers together by prayer,” that this may be the best year spiritually and financially the Society has yet seen.

OBITUARY.

The Directors with sincere regret record the death of Sir Francis B. Outram, Bart., for many years a Vice-President of the Society. Through residence at Pitlochry, Sir Francis was prevented from taking any active part in conducting the business of the Society, but he always took a kindly interest in the furtherance of the work.

Dr D. MacDonald, a member of the Edinburgh Committee, and formerly of the Bombay Committee, has also passed away. He was seldom absent from a Meeting of the Board, and was ever ready to do all in his power to advance the interests of the Society.

Just as we are going to Press, we have received word of the home-call of another old friend and Evangelist of the Society. Rev. H. Rylands Brown, who for twenty-seven years was Minister of the Union Church, Darjeeling, and who devoted three months out of each year to work among the planters in the Doobars and Assam, entered into rest on 12th May 1913. Mr Brown was an earnest and devoted servant of Jesus Christ, and never lost an opportunity of preaching the Gospel and doing all he could in advancing the interests of the Kingdom.

The Directors extend to the members of the families of those who have passed away their heartfelt sympathy, and pray that the God of all consolation may comfort and sustain them in their time of trial and affliction.
ANGLO-INDIAN LADIES’ UNION.

Hon. Secretary and Treasurer—MRS ADOLPHUS ORR, 12 PEMBRIDGE PLACE, BAYSWATER, LONDON, W.

1912-13.

With the kind assistance of four lady members we had the very great pleasure of sending out Bibles and Testaments, also books, suitable as prizes for Sunday School children, for distribution at Christmas time. Letters have been received from some of the workers, in different parts of India, saying what pleasure these books have given. In connection with this branch of the work, there has been great encouragement. A lady, not connected with the Ladies’ Union, having seen in our last Report how gladly these books are received and how much they are appreciated, wrote offering a dozen books. On hearing that her gift would be most thankfully received, she forwarded twelve choice books, which were posted to India at once, and will doubtless gladden many hearts.

Much regret is felt that the Subscription List has fallen short this year. Great hopes are entertained that the deficit will be made up eventually.

The Bi-Annual Sale will be held (D.V.) in June this year. Will all the ladies, who are interested in this branch of the work, kindly help by sending contributions in work or money, and it is earnestly hoped that all who can come and make purchases at the Sale will do so. They will receive a hearty welcome at 12 Pembridge Place, Bayswater, London, W.

Contributions from the Anglo-Indian Ladies’ Union.

APPENDIX.

The Forty-Second Annual Meeting of the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society was held on Thursday afternoon, 8th May 1913, at the Y.M.C.A. Buildings, Tottenham Court Road, London W., under the Presidency of Sir J. Molesworth Macpherson, C.S.I.

The Chairman was accompanied to the platform by Lord Kinnaird, General Grove, Mr W. Coldstream, B.C.S., Mr E. G. Glazier, B.C.S, Mr J. Morris, and others.

The Rev. John Redmond opened the Meeting with prayer.

The Chairman then called upon Mr W. Stewart Thompson, the General Secretary and Treasurer, who said it gave him much pleasure to present the Forty-Second Annual Report for their adoption, and who read extracts therefrom. He also presented the Financial Statement, which, unfortunately, showed a deficit of £250, and urged that a strong effort be made to place the work on a better footing this year.

The Chairman said that it was now his duty to move the first resolution, which was as follows:—“That the Report, extracts of which have just been read, be adopted as the Forty-Second Annual Report of the Anglo-Indian Evangelisation Society, and that it be printed and circulated, and that the Directors and Office-Bearers be re-appointed, with power to add to their number.” He observed that it gave him very great pleasure to be present at the Forty-Second Annual Meeting of the Society, because in one way or another he had been connected with it in India for over thirty years. His first introduction to the Society was when he was residing in Simla, when the late Rev. John Fordyce was the General Secretary of the Society. He was a man who possessed great influence in India; and was succeeded by the Rev. John Forgan, who also was stationed in Simla.
Later on he (the Chairman) joined the Calcutta Committee, where he became acquainted with the good work done by the late Rev. S. J. Jones on the East Indian Railway. Still later, he became a member of the new Simla Committee, in connection with which the Rev. E. Palgrave Davy, an honorary worker of the Society, had done excellent work on the North-Western Railway. The various railway companies had done all in their power to assist the representatives of this Society in the way of granting passes, etc., and he only hoped that the Government would take as liberal a view of the work of the Society on their State Railways, which so far they had unfortunately failed to do.

They were living in critical times in India. Things had changed greatly since the Society was founded over forty years ago, but the need for the Society had not diminished, but had rather increased, owing to more Europeans going to that country, and to the establishment of new industrial enterprises in outlying parts. Those who went to such parts were beyond the ordinary means of grace, and the Society's Evangelists had to go further afield to find them. There was another reason why the Society's agents were required more than ever before. The Indians were much in need of guidance as to their public life and the attitude they should take on public questions. It was most important that Europeans in India should show a high Christian standard in regard to public matters, and thus teach the people of India how they should exercise their new political privileges. It was well known that Western education was progressing in India, both among men and women, therefore, he thought, it was supremely important that Europeans living in that land should maintain the Christian standard before the people, but this was impossible if true spiritual life languished owing to the absence of any religious services. He considered that the Report which had been read by the Secretary showed that the work of the Society was progressing very satisfactorily. He noticed that Mr Giles spoke in the Report of increased enterprise and effort, and he felt sure that if their supporters would read the reports of their Evangelists, they would agree that they were doing most excellent work. Still there was a call for further work, but to carry on this they needed money. In Mr Giles, as Indian Secretary, they had found a worthy successor to Mr Crichton, whose retirement from India they all deplored. Mr Giles appeared to have clearly grasped the position of the Society. Its work was a far-reaching one. It was connected with the good government of India, as well as with the spread of the Gospel there. The lives of professing Christians were watched very closely by their non-Christian neighbours, who judged the individual by his actions. When they found that professing Christians were neglecting their own religion, and not living up to its precepts as laid down in their own holy book, they were naturally turned away from Christ and the Gospel which He gave to this world. By means of the Society, he thought they might indirectly do much to help on the cause of missions in India, as well as minister to the spiritual needs of their own countrymen.
There was one other point to which he would like to draw attention, and that was the financial position of the Society. There was a deficit this year which was chiefly due to the expenditure which the Society had incurred in sending out more Agents to India. He hoped that the friends of the Society would make a great effort, in the coming year to increase its funds; and he believed that if the aims and objects of the Association were more clearly put before the Christian public at home so that they were shown that the Society helped very materially toward that great object the evangelisation of the people of India, as well as of the Anglo-Indians residing there, they would subscribe to the funds in a much more liberal manner than they did at present.

Lord Kinnaird, who seconded the resolution, said that he considered that the Society was performing a great work in teaching and preaching the Gospel to their fellow-countrymen in India. The Society's representatives had hard work to do in India, and they deserved the prayers and the support of all the members of the Society. He hoped that the result of the meeting might be of great advantage to the Society, and that its funds would be benefitted, and thus enable it to carry on the good work that it was performing in India. He hoped that they would all do their best to relieve the Treasurer of the deficit which was shown in the accounts, and, in the coming year, that the subscriptions might be on such a scale as to enable them not only to continue, but to further extend the work of this excellent Society.

The resolution was put to the meeting and adopted.

The Rev. Dr Hobson, who had recently returned from India, gave some of his experiences while travelling there, and the people he met with, and expressed the opinion that the work of the Society was progressing exceedingly satisfactorily. He gave many instances of how he was able to get amongst the Anglo-Indians, and of the great need for the work which the Society was doing. One great thing which the Evangelists of the Society had to contend with was that of the climate. It was undoubtedly very trying, although he might observe from the appearance of their Chairman that it was quite possible to live in India and yet survive. The fact, however, remained that for an Englishman the climate of India was extremely exhausting. In the services in the Churches in India there crept in a kind of lassitude—it did not uplift one. It was necessary to go there in a spirit of prayer, and in a spirit of desire to be uplifted. It was necessary that a man's habits should be properly formed before he went to India. In conclusion he expressed his cordial best wishes for the prosperity of the work carried on by the Society, and concluded by moving:—"That, as those of our countrymen in India, who are removed from the ordinary means of grace, had a strong claim on the sympathy and help of the people at home, and that as their number is constantly growing, the objects of this Society, which was founded to provide for the spiritual welfare of such persons, were deserving of a generous and increasing measure of support."

The Rev. John Redmond said he had very much pleasure in seconding the resolution, and in doing so said that he would like to give the meeting some idea of the actual work which was being done by the Society. He had worked in India for seven years, and his duties lay principally amongst the coffee planters of Mysore and Coorg. He then described in graphic terms the country in which he had to work, and remarked that some of the planters of the districts through which he travelled had been to the Universities in this country, and some had even been brought up for the Church, but had afterwards preferred to adopt a planter’s life. From whatever aspect one chose to view the work done amongst such men, the work was one of the very greatest responsibility. It was surely a very severe indictment of the Church to say that those who had been engaged in the coffee industry in Mysore long before the Indian Mutiny had no Missionary to visit them until he went there. It was true that the Church of England used to send a Chaplain up to Mysore, a distance of several hundreds of miles, but owing to the long distances he had to travel he could only get to the plantations occasionally. He was, therefore, able to do very little for those residing in the coffee districts. It could, therefore, be understood what a condition the place must have got into when it was abandoned for so long a period by the Churches. When he was out there some 80 per cent. of the Mysore planters were bachelors. He then gave a telling picture of the life of the planter in his bungalow, and proceeded to speak of the difficulties and opposition he encountered when first he visited the plantations. He found that he had to enter into all their sports, such as boxing, riding, hunting, shooting, etc., before he was really able to gain their attention, but at last, after years of effort, he had managed, in many instances, to reach the hearts of many residing in those districts. If those at home only knew what hardships the Agents of the Society had to undergo in order to forward its work, he felt sure they would help them to a greater extent than they did at present. He proceeded to say that after about three years’ work the principal opposition to him had broken down, and at the end of the fourth year the fight was won; while at the end of the fifth year the planters passed a very hearty resolution expressing their appreciation of his work, and asking him to continue to carry it on. He did continue it for two years longer, but then had to come home. He was sorry to say there was no one out there now, but he believed that the Bishop of Madras hoped to be able to find someone to go out there and continue the work.

The resolution was carried.

Mr J. Morris then proposed “that the cordial thanks of the Society are due to the Hon. Secretaries, Treasurers, and to the Lady Collectors, and Mrs Orr and members of the Ladies’ Union for their devoted labours during the year.” He was sure that no words were needed from him in support of such a resolution. They were greatly indebted to their lady friends, and only those who knew the difficulty of the work knew how much the Society was indebted to them. Those behind the scenes knew that, but for the persistent help of the ladies who brought in the sinews of war, and were the power behind the throne, the Society would lack the funds which they so very much needed for carrying on its very important work.

Mr W. Coldstream seconded the resolution, remarking that the name of the Secretary had not been mentioned, and he certainly thought that Mr Stewart Thompson should be referred to by name. He was an excellent Secretary and did valuable work for the Society.

The resolution was agreed to.

General Grove, in proposing a vote of thanks to the Chairman for presiding, said it was a very great pleasure to see an old Anglo-Indian present at such a meeting, and he was glad to have heard the statement of the Chairman, which gave them such recent information concerning India, and in doing so he had impressed upon them the need of such a Society as theirs.

The resolution was carried, and the Chairman having returned thanks, the proceedings terminated with the Benediction, pronounced by the Rev. John Redmond.
