CALCUTTA ORPHANAGE

Report by Miss A. M. Evans

It is nearly a year since my return to India and it is joy to be with the workers and children again.

We have had good health in the family during the year; the girls have been very well indeed. Two new children have been received, two of our girls have been married and two have been taken from us by death.

Of the latter, one was a little girl of ten years who has never been well and who was not bright, so we can only be thankful for her release. The other was our dear little Rani, our brightest and best girl. She left us with such a beautiful smile and such a radiant look on her upturned face that we felt sure she saw her Saviour.

The school has been carried on by a staff of four teachers and the Matron, the latter teaching two periods each day.

The outstanding events of the year in the minds of the girls are two—their annual trip to the Botanical Gardens and Christmas. Their expeditions to the Exhibition, the Flower Show and the Zoo, and their outings in the park and Miadan, did not seem to make lasting impressions. Their Christmas was a very happy one with all the dolls, toys and gifts from home. Prize distribution day was a happy time for those receiving prizes. We are trying to impress upon the minds of the girls that prizes are the reward for faithful work and are not gifts, either in this world or the next.

Our babies have been well and have enjoyed their little drives with me. When I go out for business I sometimes take the babies with me. One day I made various purchases and placed one parcel in each little outstretched hand. Usha was so interested in receiving hers that in stooping over she tumbled right out of the carriage! She cried only a minute and then sat still in my lap; my fears lest she had been really hurt were soon quieted, for she refused to let go of the box she was holding for me, saying emphatically, "This is mine."

Last May many of the girls had a spiritual awakening and expressed a desire to give their hearts to Christ. Ever since that time they have been coming to me in little groups nearly every day for prayer. Do pray for these young beginners and for me that I may lead them aright.

Our orphanage was honored this year with a visit from Mrs. Gillespie of our Board and her daughter; and later by a visit from Miss Isabel May and her friend. Others have paid us short calls.

May the coming year show among us all greater growth in Christain living, that in this dark land we who are Christ's may show forth the praises of Him who has called us out of darkness into His marvelous light.

CITY AND VILLAGE SCHOOLS

Report by Miss Evans

The Staff of our four city day-schools and one village school consists of Mrs. Renton and 16 teachers. A few of the teachers have suffered from ill health but all are better at present.

In the city a great many non-Christian schools have been started by the Nationalists and these of course have competed with ours for the girls we wish to reach and help.

Prize distribution day was a great day in the city schools for every one received a doll—there were really enough this year to go around! The little tin boxes from the "five-and-ten" in America were greatly admired and inquiries made by parents as to where they could be purchased. The boxes were given only to the girls receiving the highest marks in their secular studies.

When I take these little Hindu girls for their Bible examinations it is most encouraging to see how much of God's word they know, for He has said that it shall not return to Him void, and therein is our hope for their future.

ZENANA WORK

Report by Miss Margaret W. Haines

Number of Homes visited by Workers. 175

Number of women and girls being taught:

Hindu . . . . 194
Mohammedan . . . 50

Total . . . 244
What a contrast is the situation here now to a number of years ago when our workers gained admittance to the homes with difficulty and where, after they had been in a Hindu home, the women would sprinkle Ganges water on the chairs they had occupied to remove the contamination! Now the doors are wide open and the invitations that come are more than they can accept. They are gladly welcomed and go into the homes usually once a week and to others where they cannot go so often, once or twice a month.

Miss Eda Roderick and Mrs. Dutt are stationed at Darragunj, a bigoted Hindu town on the banks of the Ganges three miles out from Allahabad. They are the only Christians there and have a wonderful opportunity in that strategic place as many pilgrims from all parts of India come to worship and to bathe in the sacred river. They give out the word faithfully day by day and on special Hindu feast days when the roads are crowded with people going to bathe they are out in the midst of the crowd with a plentiful supply of tracts that are quickly disposed of.

Recently Miss Eda Roderick brought us a little Hindu girl of six or seven found wandering around the streets alone and homeless. We have sent her to the Broadwell Hospital at Fatehpur for treatment and rejoice at the opportunity to save this little soul.

During January and February at an especially large mela (Hindu festival) held here annually, when literally millions come seeking salvation and the washing away of their sins by bathing at the junction of the Ganges and Jumna rivers, we closed school several days and took a number of Indian Christian women in our school motor-bus out to the mela grounds to help sell Gospels and distribute tracts. Indian pastors had united and pitched a tent on the grounds where workers were stationed continually to preach the Gospel, and from which center others went out among the crowds with literature. We found many who were ready to hear and read the Word of God, although there were many also, who tried to hinder us and prevent the people from buying Gospels. We were glad for the opportunity to witness there for Him, although we were only able to touch the fringes of that vast crowd.

In February Mrs. Emerson, one of our most faithful Bible readers, passed away. She had worked faithfully until within the last four years when she was given a pension. She was greatly loved and has been very much missed, but we are seeing the fruits of her labors. Last winter a Brahman woman came to us to ask whether we would take a Brahman baby boy whom she wished to give to the Mission. One of our teachers recognized her as one who used to come to the house in Miss Bertsch's time and in whose home Mrs. Emerson formerly used to teach and of whom the Brahman woman has often spoken since, remembering her kindness and love. We gladly accepted the little one who was only eleven days old and the woman herself accompanied by some members of the family took him to our hospital at Fatehpur, where under the kind care of the doctors and nurses he is developing into a fine boy. Since then a number of girls from that family have been sent to school. They are all favorably inclined toward Christianity but have not the courage to forsake all and follow Christ. The oldest unmarried girl, aged sixteen, has confessed to us her faith in Jesus Christ and we hope she will definitely come out.

In April Miss McCunn left us for her furlough. We are glad for the time she was able to be with us in Allahabad and appreciate her willingness to fill in the gap here.

We are tempted sometimes to grow discouraged by the apparent failures we see and the lack of baptisms we long for, but results cannot simply be reckoned by baptisms. There are a number in the Zenanas who have really accepted the Lord Jesus Christ as their Saviour and although they cannot come out openly and ally themselves with the Christians they do confess Him in their homes before their relatives and friends. Mrs. Wybrow has told us of five girls in separate homes where she has gone to teach who have given their hearts to Christ. All five were married last spring and in their husbands' homes to which they have gone they are standing firm, some amidst real persecution, and are seeking to win their husbands.

We realize the danger of the work becoming at times mechanical, and ask for prayer that the workers may be filled and guided by the Holy Spirit as they go out day by day and that the Word as they give it out may be always fresh and living. Our Lord has said, "Call unto me and I will answer thee and show thee great and mighty things which thou knowest not." As we look forward to the work of this coming year we are looking for "great and mighty things."

CENTRAL GIRLS' SCHOOL

Report by Miss Haines

Full time teachers, 10.
Part time teachers, 1.

There have been some real changes in a number of the school children this past year and it is a joy to see the light dawn upon their faces as the Gospel message gradually enters their hearts.
God has blessed us in many ways and we cannot but thank Him for His manifold mercies.

The school is divided into two departments, Bengali and Hindustani. In the Bengali department we have five Bengali teachers and the languages taught are Bengali and English. In the Hindustani department are five Hindustani teachers and the languages taught are Urdu, Hindustani and English. In the Bengali department all the pupils are Hindus, while in the Hindu-stani department we have a mixture of Christians, Hindus and Mohammedans. The English section of the kindergarten consists of a number of both Bengali and Hindustani children.

At the end of September the enrollment was as follows:
Christians, 12; Mohammedans, 20; and Hindus, 117, making a total of 149. The number on the roll and the attendance vary from month to month being always less in the summer. Part of last winter we had 160 on the roll and for the month of December the average daily attendance was 123.

In November we started a class for servants' children, consisting of children on our own compound and from other places near by. They also are non-Christian children and from 15 to 20 attend. For this school we have secured a teacher who comes from her home daily for two hours.

At Christmas the school had its entertainment to which mothers, relatives and friends of the children were invited, men being excluded, as most of the older girls and the women cannot appear before men. The teachers worked very hard in training the children and decorating the compound and we had a large number of guests who seemed appreciative of what they saw and heard. Songs and recitations were given in all four languages and we tried to have the Christmas story presented in such a way that its message might be understood by all.

For the last few months we have been somewhat handicapped for room in the school building as the number of class-rooms now is not sufficient for all the classes. We are having two new ones added which will enable us to increase our enrollment.

We find little opposition to the Bible teaching in the school.
Some of the parents tolerate the Bible lessons for the sake of the benefit their children derive from coming here, and some we think are secretly glad. A few children have been removed, but others who at first objected to the daily Bible lesson, when told it is the rule for every child to attend a Bible class, have acquiesced. Last winter one of our teachers went to visit a Hindu girl of about eight, who had been taken out of our school and sent to a Hindu school. The little girl said to her, "Teacher, I pray every morning and evening, and I have not forgotten about Jesus Christ." Another little Hindu girl of six or seven, recited one day to some of the members of her family the Ten Commandments and a part of the twenty-third Psalm which she had learned in school. Then she said to them:

"You are going to hell because you worship idols!" and repeated the first two commandments as her authority. They said to her, “Then where are you going?” She replied, “I am going to Heaven—I’m a Christian, a Christian, a CHRISTIAN!”

So we see that some of the seed at least, is falling into receptive ground.

CITY SCHOOLS

Report by Miss Clara M. Beach

My home-coming, for India is now “home,” was a very happy one; never have I had a warmer welcome and the joy of being here grows greater every day.

I have examined our eight city schools and found them in excellent order. Usually after the annual picnic or prize distribution the attendance diminishes but this year the opposite was true. We actually had, after these events, new pupils entering each of the schools and we now have large enrollments, while the work has been most creditable.

The enrollment in the city schools is 212; the average has been 139 in attendance.

The enrollment in the Sunday Schools is 332 and the average attendance 237 One of these little Sunday Schools is held on our own compound for the wives and children of our servants, over 20 in number. The opportunities for sowing the seed through these native Sunday Schools is boundless and are still ours in spite of Home Rule and the growing spirit of independence and antagonism toward the foreigner, so manifest in India in these days.

We were rejoiced at a visit from our own Cawnpore Secretary, Mrs. Gillespie, during the year, and her good cheer will long live in our hearts and in the hearts of our children. A good year lies behind us, but we believe a better one beckons us on and in the Master's name we go forward to meet the opportunities and the problems of the coming days.

ZENANA WORK

Report by Miss Harriet E. Moore

Zenanas, 162
Persons taught, 200

God has bestowed unnumbered blessings upon the zenana work among Mohammedan and Hindu women. Many doors have been opened to our workers; indeed the Lord has so answered prayer that houses have been opened to some of us without our even searching for them. One day prayer was made for a new zenana to take the place of one where the family had moved away. Three new houses were given in place of the one.

When God's word is barred from a house it does not return unto Him void. A doctor resisted having Christian teaching in his home, but finally the door was opened to us. The wife's brother became so interested in the teaching that was given to the women that he wanted a copy of the New Testament. Another brother heard the truth for the first time and was so impressed that he said if these things were true he wanted to get in touch with Christian missionaries in the place where he was living so that he could hear more about the Word of God.

It is remarkable that many Mohammedan doors have lately been opened to us for teaching, thus giving opportunity for the Gospel message. The women in these Mohammedan houses have shown good interest.
Our five Bible women have been very faithful in going among the secluded women in the homes, and have gained a real influence. Girls who have read for a time and have then been married and sent out to their husbands’ homes express sorrow at having to leave their teachers. God does work in mysterious ways and we believe the message is gaining headway among the people. Many of these women say, "We believe in Christ, we have accepted Him and we pray to Him." We need prayer for those who have made this confession that they may come out wholly for Christ, and also for those who are wavering still, and for those who seem indifferent to His teaching.

MARY A. MERRIMAN SCHOOL AND ORPHANAGE

REPORT by MISS BLANCHE M. LONG

"Hitherto hath the Lord helped us." We praise God for the way in which He has so bountifully provided for our family of 170. The year has not been without sad and testing days, but we have felt His guiding hand through all. In one month three of our girls died; one a dear little Hindu girl who had been with us only a few months, another who was a most lovable child, and the third, one of our older girls.

We had been praying that our girls might be drawn closer to Christ and that many who had never accepted Him might do so. We feel it was in answer to this prayer that we were privileged to have Dr. Stanley Jones with us last January. As a result of his special meetings many girls accepted the Lord Jesus as their Saviour and joined the church soon after. It is a joy to visit the little ones at night and hear their simple prayers as they ask that their hearts may be cleansed and kept by God.

The children were delighted with the visit from their own station secretary, Mrs. Gillespie, and with the candy she bought for them. They did their part too by entertaining Mrs. Gillespie and her daughter with games and songs and their visit was the topic of conversation among the children for weeks after. Their Christmas was also a happy time and our grateful thanks are due the kind friends in America whose money and gifts made everyone so glad. For the entertainment and program the older girls worked up a very pretty cantata while the little ones helped with songs and games. The friends and relatives of the children who attended greatly enjoyed the pleasant evening.

In April came the annual examinations and two of our girls passed the government examinations. One of these is now enrolled in High School in Allahabad. She and the four who went last year are a credit to us. The lowest classes in our school are much larger than the higher classes. Many of the girls are not able to do the work of the higher classes, but all are taught to cook, sew and keep a home clean.

We are thankful that this year we have had less illness than usual and that all the children are looking well and strong.

We thank the friends at home who are making this work possible and covet their prayers that “in all things He may have the preeminence” and be glorified.

(about $2,162)
During the past year there has been an encouraging increase in the number of patients admitted into our wards, and in those attending our dispensaries.

The out-practice has been interesting too, though the actual numbers were somewhat less than those of last year. The reason for this is, I believe, the great number of Indian men more or less qualified in medicine who have crowded into Jhansi City since the closure of many village dispensaries by the new Reformed Government. These men have opened medical halls so-called to get hold of the men of the family, and treat the women through the male members of the household without ever having seen the patients, much to the detriment of the poor women. Later many of these patients find their way to us, and after being helped bring their friends. This keeps the work before the people for we always have to remember that in a place like Jhansi, where so many of the inhabitants are in the employ of the civil and military departments of Government, and of the Railway, transfers are frequent and the population is constantly changing.

One Hindu father had lost five daughters in their first confinements, though he said he had prayed much to his gods and had offered sacrifices to them. When his sixth and only remaining daughter was about to be confined he became hopeless and expected her to die. A missionary who had taught in this home persuaded the family to let her take the patient to our hospital in her car. Here she gave birth to a living son to the great joy of her whole family. After two weeks mother and child were able to return home well. When a living son had been born and the mother had not died, the patient’s father declared before his own people that from that time forward he had finished with his gods and would no longer sacrifice to them.

Others of the ward patients have shown much interest in the Christian instruction received while with us and have liked to ask questions about what they heard; others have been interested in reading helpful books, such as the "Life of Pandita Ramabai” and of the converted Priestess Chandralila. A very dear young woman whom we later sent to an industrial school for the blind accepted Christ while she was a patient in our hospital and is now being prepared for baptism. Many more give us hope that the seed sown will bear fruit in their lives at no distant date. In the meantime we shall endeavor to keep in helpful touch with them.

The regular medical and evangelistic work in the village of Hazari were kept up during the cooler months and were again reopened after the rains. We hope that it may be possible during the coming cold weather to visit other villages near Jhansi. The people need the help we so much desire to take to them, both for their bodies and their souls.

Our seven Sunday Schools were kept open regularly except during the hottest and most rainy months. As four of these schools are by the wayside without proper protection from sun or rain they can only be held in suitable weather.

Several Indian States have been visited and just now an Indian Prince is moving his daughter into Jhansi for a month, at least, to be under our treatment, as his State is more than 100 miles from here and about 60 miles from the nearest railway station, making it impossible for us to visit there regularly. Such interesting women are in that particular palace! If only they could be won for Christ! In conversation with the Prince he said that new light was coming to India and that he was removing some of the restrictions formerly imposed upon the women of his palace.

Scripture portions and Christian tracts have been sold and distributed whenever opportunity offered. The people are very friendly and one only wishes there were more leisure for intimate talks with them.

We were mercifully kept from serious illnesses during the year and opportunity and strength were given for much needed service. We wish that more might have been accomplished but He knows our limitations—may He use them for His opportunity.
I feel more and more that our eyes must be unto Him for guidance and power if these wonderful people are to be won for Christ.

NURSES' TRAINING SCHOOL
Report by Miss Tena McLean

As our thoughts are once more occupied with reports of another year's work the words of an old chorus come to my mind:

"Sweeter as the years go by,
Richer, fuller, deeper,
Jesus' love is sweeter,
Sweeter as the years go by."

The words express much that cannot be put into a report. The growth of a work can be written but the growth in lives and the joy of seeing something of that growth cannot be described by pen.

We have had very few changes among our nurses. The staff of head nurses remains the same as last year. They are six in number and all are our own graduates, having with the exception of the night supervisor, been with us eight and nine years. Premabai, one of our head nurses, has had two offers from other hospitals with larger salary than we are giving her, but she refused even to consider them. We have been thankful for her decision as we would miss her sorely. The second year class of nine members has also remained the same. In their yearly examinations last year four of this class headed the list of all the nurses in the United Provinces who took the examinations.

There have been a few changes among the first year nurses, four in number. Early in the year Munia, the little Hindu girl who came to us for training, accepted Christ as her personal Saviour and gave a clear, bright testimony of the new life she had found in Him. Her life as well as her testimony gives full proof of the reality of her experience. Our hearts were saddened when early in the autumn she showed symptoms of tuberculosis and had to give up her work entirely. We hear from missionaries who visit her in the hospital where she is now a patient that her life continues to witness for Him.

One nurse proved unsatisfactory and was sent back to her own people. Two of our first year nurses stood at the head of the list in their examinations in March and out of thirteen who took examinations during the year there was not one failure in any of the subjects.

Four new nurses came to us during the year. One graduate finished her term of service here and a hospital in her own mission asked for her. She is now one of the head nurses in that hospital. We have had a number of applications from different hospitals and other institutions asking for our graduates and would be glad if we could supply these demands for in these days more of India's women should be filling places of responsibility and usefulness.

We are constantly having applications from young women and from missionaries in charge of girls' schools concerning girls who want to take the nurses' training. It is always with regret that we have to say, "We have no vacancy," for it seems like shutting a door of opportunity to those who are seeking it.

With one or two exceptions the health of our nurses has been good and we have never had so little illness among them during the trying season following the rains. The spirit among them is good and we feel that much has been accomplished through prayer. Apart from our regular meeting times we have had definite times of prayer with the head-nurses and with the younger nurses, and have seen problems disappear at such times. Last spring seven of our nurses united with the Presbyterian Church in this city.

The weekly Christian Endeavor meetings, conducted largely by the nurses themselves, have continued and have been a means of growth. It has been a joy to note the increasing place given in these gatherings to prayer. It was helpful to have Miss Mudge with us for a few of these meetings during the cold season.

At the beginning of the year the nurses undertook, through their Christian Endeavor Society, the support of a child in school.
This includes fees, clothes, books, etc., and they seem to enjoy doing it. This is in addition to their regular contributions to the Church, National Missionary Society and Tract Society.

The older nurses continue to help in the outside Sunday Schools and in the evangelistic work in hospital and dispensary.

One of these nurses always accompanies Dr. Ernst and the Medical Assistant on their calls in the homes, and when necessary they go by themselves to carry out treatments between the physician's visits. They also do good service by visiting prospective mothers known to them and keeping them from falling into the hands of ignorant dais (midwives). Last spring when the "Lady Reading Child Welfare Exhibit," was given in Jhansi four of our graduates were put in charge of different departments of the exhibition and their services were much appreciated.

We regret that recreation has not as large a part in the nurses' lives as we would like, due partly to the fact that hours of duty and class-room work fill so much of their time; and further to their reluctance and lack of initiative in keeping up games and exercises, seeming always to need a leader. We wish we ourselves had more time to devote to their recreation.

As we go forth into another year it is with a desire that there may be yet larger service and greater accomplishments for our Lord and Master.

ZENANA WORK

REPORT by MISS MCLEAN

The Zenana work has had several interruptions during the year and we regret that we did not have more time to give to this work.

Early in the spring plague broke out in Jhansi and many of our zenana pupils fled with others from the city but those who remained were visited regularly as long as it seemed wise and possible to do so. Twenty-five of our regular pupils died of plague and dengue fever during the year and we can only hope that what they had heard of God's Word and His love may have sustained them in their hour of need.

In the beginning of the cold season Adeline, who has been the Bible Woman at the dispensary, entered the Nurses' Training School and as we had no one to fill her place we asked our zenana worker, Mrs. Martin, to take the work at the dispensary and hospital temporarily. At the end of a month she was able to return to the zenana work and since then has found a number of new pupils who we hope will become deeply interested. At present we have only 32 regular zenana pupils, but are looking forward to a large increase with the return of Miss Morrison. I try to get around to each home once a month, but sometimes even this has been impossible. I always find the women interested and glad to welcome the zenana visitors.

The year opened with an addition to the Broadwell Hospital Staff; Miss Cook, an American missionary nurse, arrived in October. The institution in full force welcomed her arrival and we are now looking forward to the time when, having completed her first year of language study, she will begin work in the hospital.

Any report of the year's work must include mention of the Staff Nurse, who also joined us last October. She is herself a convert from Hinduism. As a small child she had read for a very short time in one of the day schools of the Scottish Presbyterian Mission. According to Hindu custom, she was married young, at the age of six, and lived in her husband's home for eight or nine years. She then, without suggestion from anyone, appeared one day at the Mission, and said she had been led to come back. She was taken in, taught, and after a time, baptized. Her husband regarded her as dead from the time she became Christian. Later she trained as a nurse and a midwife. The spirit of her daily life and the way in which she has so completely left behind her Hindu traditions, is certainly a witness to the power of God's spirit to enlighten and a great credit to those who taught her. During the extremely busy days of the last six months, when the hospital has been filled much beyond our accommodation and staff, she has worked many a day uncomplainingly from early morning 'till eight or nine at night, and has always been ready to help us during the night when occasion arose. We feel as though we could never have managed the summer work without her, and we are indeed grateful to the Scottish Presbyterian Mission who sent her to us.

We are also very grateful for the Bible Woman who came in June. She also is a convert from Hinduism about the soundness of whose conversion there is no doubt. She too was married to a Hindu man while quite young, and has two children, the younger of whom is in High School. She was led to accept Christ through a Christian woman who encouraged her to read the Bible for herself. As she is a well read woman, with a good knowledge of English, this was not difficult for her. God’s Spirit used God’s word and she became a Christian. She is very faithful in presenting Christ every day in the hospital and we know she is an answer to prayer.

The cold season in our district was a particularly healthy one. We escaped the epidemic from which some of the surrounding cities suffered, and were even remarkably free from pneumonia, which is usually prevalent at that time. However, with the beginning of hot weather the reverse became true, and we had an extremely busy summer. The patients have exceeded our capacity and staff, and we are in need of more accommodation. We have found the fine brick wall which was built around the hospital during the year a most valuable asset. Not only does it satisfy the Indian idea of pardah, but during the crowded hot summer nights we were able to have a row of beds in the space between the verandah and the wall. An encouraging fact in the work is that the people are becoming more willing to follow our advice, but Fatehpur is a country place and the people as a whole are much more particular than city folk about not breaking caste. One is continually oppressed by the tremendous amount of suffering due to neglect, ignorance and superstition. The absurdity of certain happenings tends to relieve the situation at times, as for instance, when a patient comes for ear drops, bringing with her a sturdy pint bottle in which to take the medicine home with her.

Our out-calls represent work, often under difficulties. The calls were frequently at a distance, and in places not easy of access. However, we wish to express our thanks for the money which has just arrived for the new car. The check for the car was sent in the spring, but was lost in the mail. The duplicate has now arrived, and a new Ford will greatly facilitate our out-call work.

Two of the nurses are now in their third year, having passed their second year examinations. Two are taking their second year in October, and one is completing her first. We are thankful that the nurses have enjoyed good health during the past year.

Kim McKenzie and his wife were working in Jahanabad Dispensary until April. They are now with Dr. McKenzie in Central India. At present we take our helpers with us on dispensary days. We have been asked to run dispensaries in several places in the district but the work has been so heavy in the hospital that we have not been able to do so.

NURSES' TRAINING SCHOOL

During the year ending in October, 1924, the Broadwell Hospital was without a missionary nurse. Miss Sadie E. Cook, who arrived in 1923, spent her first year in language study in one of the hill stations, joining the staff at the Hospital at the end of the year. Miss Cook's work will be the supervision and training of the Indian nurses. A class of pupil nurses were in training during the year, our physicians giving some time to this work.

THE WOMEN'S HOME

Report by Miss Amelia Durrant

As I look back over the past year and see our Father's care and love working in our midst, two verses are before me—Psalm 81:1, "Sing aloud to God our strength"; and Hebrews 4:15 and 5:2, "An High Priest, who can have compassion on the ignorant and on them that are out of the way." Our family in the Home has been unusually large, 131 girls having come to us for help in time of need. We praise God that He has been our strength, and that we have a compassionate Saviour, for it is indeed true that most of our family are ignorant or out of the way.

Over 50 new girls have come in during the year; 29 have gone out; there have been seven marriages, seven births and four deaths. As each girl is a special case who is not suitable for any other Home or School there has had to be much personal work and planning for each one, to meet her special need.

M—is one who came about one year and a half ago, a widow, a teacher, and mother of several children. She had been led astray with the result that she had to leave her work and children and come to us. She had a bad temper and was a difficult young woman. Look at her again after a few months—her temper is changed, she is able to help in the work here, is reliable and trustworthy, is truly repentant and has a smiling face, and has grown in spiritual knowledge. Look again a few months later; she is being married to a Christian widower who takes her and her baby into his home and after a few weeks writes a most thankful letter for having found such a good wife. She also writes that she never can be thankful enough for all the help she received while in this Home, and is most grateful for the good and happy home that is now hers. God did it all!

Here is another case. S——, a bright, happy girl about 17 years of age had been trained as a teacher, missionaries having cared for her and educated her from babyhood. She seldom went to her home; her family were poor and ignorant, her stepmother had a number of young children. One vacation she did go to visit her family. At that time an evil man got her under his power and she was about to be ruined when a missionary heard of her and without waiting even to write us wired that she was bringing a girl in need. We received her, she repented and truly turned to God and we could see her face changing and her love for prayer and Bible study increasing. She, too, after a residence of some months, was suitable to go to a home of her own and thus be saved from her relations. A Christian young man, a boot maker, asked for a wife. S—— was presented to him and after a short time they were married and now we hear only good reports of them and receive grateful letters from the girl for saving and rescuing her. Truly, she was “a brand plucked from the burning.”

Here is another case: A missionary wrote, “Can you help us? We have in our large boarding-school a girl, an orphan, who continually gives trouble. We cannot meet her need here. May we send her to you?”

She arrived—a bright, happy girl, but full of mischief, de-ifying all authority of matron and teachers. One evening on going into the Home grounds I heard these words:

“Here comes the Miss Sahibji!”

And the answer:

“I care for no one. Punishment? They may give it to me, but I care not!”

The Matron said to me, “Look at M——. She is defying all my orders.”

I went up quietly, took her by the hand, and with prayer in my heart, led her away to a room, shut her in and administered punishment. She broke down and said, “Forgive me.” She was forgiven, soon forgot her troubles and fell asleep. Bit by bit she was conquered and became a useful and helpful girl, but not from one punishment or in a day. Her character has been transformed; she is still bright and happy, is good-tempered and has learned to obey, and not to steal and tell lies. We all love her, still we must give her up, but to send her to a good Christian home where there is a kind mother-in-law who will help her in household matters and will teach her how a young married girl should act and live.

Another letter came with this request: “Can you help us?
A young Christian woman with two children, quite small, has just lost her husband. She cannot get work because of the children; also both mother and the children are weak and ill, as the father had been ill so long a time before his death.” Our answer was: “Send her here.” She is now with us, is gradually gaining health and strength and is helping to earn a little toward her own support and that of her children, by sewing.

There came still other letters stating that some girls had been found in a heathen village who were orphans, but were not suitable for an orphanage because they were not bright. We were asked to take them and see what we could do for them. At first all was strange; they were like wild young animals that had had no training. It meant time, patience, and personal work, but in time these girls blossomed out. They learned to read and write, to sew and cook, and to love Jesus Christ, and they are as happy as the day is long. One was ill and went to our hospital. She was only a girl of about twelve years of age. The patients became very fond of her. Why? Because she sang to them and was a real sunshine in their midst.

We could tell much more to the praise of His Glory, but these instances are sufficient to show that God is working in our midst, and this should bring great encouragement to all the friends who pray for and help this Home. It is worth while to help forward His work, is it not? Please continue and increase your help by prayer; this is our earnest desire, in order that this coming year may see even more souls gathered into His kingdom.

Soon after the opening of school a year ago, great evangelistic meetings were held in Shanghai under the auspices of the "China for Christ," movement. These meetings were preceded by weeks of careful preparation and prayer. No Christian was supposed to attend unless accompanied by a non-Christian friend. In the Middle School where we considered the girls old enough to attend the proportion of non-Christians was smaller than that of Christian, so some of the girls, eager to go, begged to be taken by the non-Christian primary children. Through these meetings many of our girls became for the first time, deeply interested in Christianity. The meetings prepared the way for our own evangelistic campaign in the school when each Christian girl chose a non-Christian girl for whom to work and pray. As a result, six girls stood up in our Decision meeting as a sign that they meant to follow Christ. Many were too young to be baptized or too new in the school to well understand the meaning of this decision; but out of the entire number, nineteen were baptized in Van Santvoord Chapel on Christmas Sunday.

We were fortunate in having Miss Chapman with us for a few months to help with music and English, thus giving Miss Nelson an opportunity for language study. Especially were we glad of Miss Chapman's presence at Christmas time for she arranged a beautiful entertainment of hymns, carols and Christmas tableaux. The girls were made very happy with their Christmas dolls dressed and given by the Sandwich Girls' Club.

Other interesting features of the year's work include a campaign of Bible memorizing in the Sunday School when each class was assigned a portion of Scripture to be learned for the following Sunday, the girls entering into the plan so heartily that even the non-Christians did the memorizing; the development of physical activities through games, making the students more active and healthy and teaching them to work together; and the holding in spring of our first school exhibition, to which all parents and friends were invited. The exhibition included a display of school work such as note-books, papers, hand-work, drawings, etc., and demonstrations of physical educational work, English conversations and science experiments.

Commencement was both sad and glad. We graduated a class of nineteen girls whom we were sorry to lose as they have contributed much to the spirit of the school. However, we were glad to send them out into the dark places to be real lights for Christ. All but four are to be teachers and carry the knowledge of a loving Heavenly Father to hundreds of little Chinese children. The other four will go to college for further preparation for service. Three of them hope to be trained as physicians.

In summer a number of the girls did Daily Vacation Bible School work. The school on our own compound was carried on by six of our older girls without a teacher's help and they were given the third prize among all the Shanghai schools.

After one term at Language School Miss Ada Nelson joined us and took up part time work in the school while continuing her language study here. We are glad to have her with us.

THE MARGARET WILLIAMSON HOSPITAL

Work Opened 1884

The Margaret Williamson Hospital has been filled to its capacity throughout the year. The Stevens Maternity, where our representative, Miss Pollock, is supervising nurse, exceeded all past records with a total of 1,001 babies born during the year.
The School of Nursing reports a good year with a graduating class of seven and a large entering class. The number of nurses, graduate and undergraduate, at the close of the year was 47 and every nurse was a baptized Christian. Some of these accepted Christ and confessed Him while in the school, frequently in the face of much opposition from their families. The Woman's Christian Medical College on the Margaret Williamson Hospital compound opened in 1924. It is supported jointly by four Woman's Mission Boards including the Woman's Union Missionary Society of America.

THE WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN MEDICAL COLLEGE

Report by Dr. Josephine Lawney

When we look back one short year and see how slim were our prospects for beginning a medical school, we realize that something rather wonderful has happened. At that time Dr. Love had resigned, Dr. Ingersoll was leaving because of illness, Dr. Polk-Peters was leaving for furlough, and my furlough was due. We had never even heard of Dr. Miller and, while Dr. McDaniel was expected, she was due to go to Language School. It was surely a venture of faith when we met last December and pledged ourselves to open the Medical School this September.
That the loyal women at home have exhibited works as well as faith is self-evident today. The results began to appear in January with the coming of Dr. Miller. Closely associated with Dr. Love on the administrative side during the last three months of Dr. Love's stay, and seeing 2,000 eye cases in her first six months of work as our Ophthalmologist, has made her a fairly busy person. She has carried the work of Superintendent since August 1st, through the whirlpools and rapids of a changing organization.

In August we were very short-staffed and the work was heavy beyond all precedents, but we held on cheerfully with the thought of our new workers coming in September. The task of getting the new building ready for occupancy in September, with the thermometer in the nineties for a stretch of three weeks, was not an easy one.

The Siberia Maru brought us Dr. McDaniel, Miss Taylor, Miss Stone, and Miss Fausnaugh. It seemed best for Miss Taylor and Miss Stone to go to Language School this year, so they left us on October 1st. The next important event was the word that Dr. Sloan was being sent out as pathologist and was to arrive October 7th. With her coming, it was possible to arrange all the teaching in the Medical School and take care of our hospital departments as well.

Up to one month before the scheduled opening we could not be certain that we would have any students for full freshman work. Then, within two weeks' time, it seemed fairly certain that we would have six who met the requirements of two years' college work, although they were short in the required hours of science. Then came the war, and great tenseness and interference with travel, together with the fact that our building was hardly ready for occupancy. This made us decide to delay the opening of the school for two weeks. In the meantime, two of the prospective students were obliged to give up their plans for study this year. Four arrived, however, during registration week, and we have been very much pleased with the way in which they have begun their work. They are rather superior girls, and we think we will have every reason to be proud of them as our pioneer class.

Note: Since the above report was written, a fifth student has been received in the freshman class. She received her pre-medical work at the Peking Union Medical College. In February Dr. Lawney wrote of attending the biennial meeting of the China Medical Missionary Association, held in Hong Kong and Canton. At this conference our new college received provisional registration by the Association. Out of nine schools that applied, seven were registered, among them our own. The Peking Union Medical School was the only one of the seven which received unconditional registration. The provisional registration of our school is an honor—and a challenge, too—to remove the provision in the next two years. At present ours is the only Woman's Medical School in China of A Grade. We count upon the prayers of all its friends that the college may achieve its chief aim, that of making our Lord Jesus Christ known throughout China.

The opening of Doremus Hall, our new building at the Matilda Douw Foundation, has proved a gateway to many new opportunities. To meet them, an Evangelist, Mr. Lieu, has been added to our staff of Chinese workers. He has conducted Sunday services in Mandarin and has held three weekly Bible classes. Some of those reached in these classes have been men in the Army, both officers and privates; they have been truly touched by the Gospel and have witnessed a good confession for Christ. We have also been able to carry on a school for illiterates in Doremus Hall. They are earnest and grateful for this opportunity to learn.

In the Hospital wards we have found as always unexcelled opportunities for giving the Gospel message. One woman, Mrs. Ying, came into the Hospital ill, unhappy and lonely. She could not understand the Shanghai dialect; her husband was away in the fighting zone. When wounded he was sent to the Red Cross Hospital in Shanghai which is near our own Margaret Williamson. From there he could visit his wife. Later came another friend whose home was in Mrs. Ying's own province, and when she heard a language she could understand her hope and courage revived. She and her husband became earnest inquirers and before they left for their home were true believers. Another woman came into the Hospital longing to know more of Christ that she might become a Christian; she was an eager listener and learned to know the Heavenly Father.

The year has brought to us many open doors that we have longed to enter. As a result of the war in and around Shanghai, temples, ancestral halls, guild halls and an orphanage were all filled with wounded soldiers who welcomed our visits and most eagerly listened to our message. We found among them a field for the distribution of Christian literature.

Miss Clara Nelson, who spent her first year at Langlee School, joined us at the Douw Foundation in 1924 and it was a pleasure to welcome her to this department of the work.

BIBLE SCHOOL REPORT, MATILDA DOUW FOUNDATION

By Miss Elizabeth Irvine

The close of the school year brought the thrill of war, caused by rival military lords striving for the control of the Shanghai district. Other thrills have come to us throughout the year as we have felt ourselves in conflict with the powers of darkness, yet with the help of God’s omnipotent arm we have gone forward in confidence that “the work of righteousness shall be peace, and the effect of righteousness quietness and assurance forever.”

One woman has been graduated this year and continues in the work. Another young woman came to us illiterate, timid and superstitious, and has now become an earnest worker. She belongs to that large army of widows whose highest virtue, according to the old Chinese ideas, is in vowing never to marry again. Notwithstanding the old customs which bound her she was consumed with the desire to improve her condition for she was still young in years. Upon the death of her husband, who belonged to a well-to-do family, she received her share of the inheritance. With money at her command, she quietly began to make inquiries about a school where married women might enter. She pursued her inquiries in the face of much opposition from her friends, upon whose part it seemed inconceivable that she lacked anything to make her contented with her lot. The Margaret Williamson Hospital formed the link in the chain of circumstances which led her to us. Though hindered for a time by severe illness, she has overcome much, and today is an earnest student worker. When the Lord is in control of a human heart how he can change the most timid into a “rock” to stand and withstand and to tell of His grace to save!

Just a year ago a school for children was opened on our compound, the need for such a work having during the year been forced upon us. In our neighborhood visiting we were impressed by the large number of children who were springing up to be weeds in society, for the reason that their parents were too poor to afford them the means of even a primary education. The response from the parents seems to justify the new venture. The little school has been a new challenge to the women in our Bible School by awakening them to a realization of their responsibility toward the people of the immediate neighborhood. It gives us all an added contact with those whom we have had very little opportunity to influence with the Gospel message. During all the days of fighting that came in the autumn the children have attended their school regularly, their parents apparently maintaining a feeling of confidence in us. Since the cessation of hostilities the number in attendance has grown, as many families that fled have returned to their homes.

DOREMUS SCHOOL

Report by Miss Clara D. Loomis

During the past year our school has been through the greatest crisis in its history, for the earthquake of September 1st with the fire which followed left the missionaries homeless and penniless and the school with but one bench left of its splendid buildings and equipment. Homes were broken up, teachers and pupils scattered. It seemed as though the work which had been built up through thirty-three years of prayerful toil and effort must be abandoned. But teachers, alumnae and students would not hear to this and the missionaries felt that while any were left who wanted a place and an opportunity for Christian education we must not fail them. The forty-sixth Psalm brought the needed courage, and feeling as never before that God alone was our refuge and strength we gathered our forces together.

We arranged to temporarily entrust our younger girls to other mission schools that could receive them, keeping only the senior class of 22, with the use of a room kindly placed at our disposal in the Bible Training School. It seemed best for Miss Rogers to devote her winter to language study in Tokyo while Miss Tracy and Miss Loomis carried on the English work with the one class, helped in various ways in relief work and attended to the erection of temporary living quarters and the new portable schoolhouse which was shipped from Seattle.

The American Red Cross gave generously of supplies for our immediate needs and soon gifts poured in from Japanese friends and alumnae, from the Board, and from personal friends in America. The need for text-books was met first by Ginn and Company who sent us all the English and History books needed for the senior class. Later the Century Company donated one hundred hymnals and the students of Wheaton College supplied the English text-books needed for the whole school when we reopened in April. The Y. W. C. A. provided us with sewing equipment, the Sunday School Association with a baby organ, and from the Government we have received a large quantity of pencils and paper and of lumber for new buildings.

In spite of the real hardships under which most of our students were living they were eager to keep Thanksgiving and the fifteen yen in money and the warm clothing which our girls were able to make, were a real help in our relief work. At Christmas time our compound was the centre of many gatherings. Our two schools held a joint service followed by the singing of carols around a lighted out-door Christmas tree. The foreign community came up one evening for a song service and supper, the Kaigan Japanese Church which had lost its building celebrated Christ’s birth with us, and hundreds of neighborhood children flocked here to hear the Christmas story and receive gifts provided by the Y. M. C. A. and the Junior Red Cross. It was a truly blessed Christmas season.

In February the death of Miss Katagiri, who had been a teacher in Doremus School for over forty years, came as a great shock to us all. An impressive memorial service was held for her and for the nine graduates and two students of Doremus School who lost their lives at the time of the earthquake, when the Alumnae Association gathered, seventy strong, for their annual meeting at the end of March. At this meeting a committee was formed to help the school in raising funds for equipment and running expenses as the income from students had largely fallen off.

Of the 22 students who graduated on March 28th, several were obliged to go to work at once in order to support families in desperate need. One of the graduates is doing Christian work in a social centre in Tokyo; another is helper at St. Luke’s Hospital; one is teaching in Kanagawa; another is taking kindergarten training in Kobe; two are contributing their services in teaching in Yokohama Christian Blind School; one has recently been married.

On April 11th we reopened with two small cottages set up for the missionaries and teachers and a comfortable school building with accommodation for our six classes. Three new teachers were engaged and have attended with interest a Bible class conducted for them by a Japanese pastor; one plans to unite with the Shiloh Presbyterian Church.

During the spring term an interesting gathering was held for the parents of our students. Miss Tracy and Miss Yuasa told of the beginnings of our mission work on the anniversary of the arrival of our first missionaries in June. Before school closed in July a communion service was held in the new assembly room. In the autumn 17 girls were awarded prizes for memorizing assigned passages of Scripture, and four for keeping health charts.

There have been but five baptisms during the year but active Christian work has been kept up by the Christian girls. The school Y. W C. A., senior and junior branches, the Christian Service League and the class prayer-meetings have been sustained. Chapel attendance has meant something to some of the girls who have risen at half past four or five in order to be present.
Chapel speakers have been impressed by the thoughtful attention their addresses have received.

In a brief report it is impossible to give an adequate idea of all that has taken place during the last twelve months, but we give thanks to God who has indeed been our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.

BIBLE TRAINING SCHOOL (1900)
AND EVANGELISTIC WORK

Report by Mrs. Hazel B. Lynn

The fact that the past year's work has been outstanding in the history of the school may be attributed to three reasons: First, the opportunities created by the great earthquake; second, the fact that the Bible School property was not entirely demolished; and last but by no means least, the consecration of Japanese teachers, workers and students manifested in the way they have taken hold of these new opportunities.

Our Bible School Chapel has been during the year home, school and church. It sheltered a score or more of refugees for six weeks following the earthquake; after it was repaired it provided school-rooms for the Bible School students and for the senior class of Doremus School; it was a dormitory for the Bible students as well. From the second Sunday after the earthquake until the last Sunday of October, 1924, all the activities of Kaigan Church were carried on here. At the latter date the congregation of this church, the oldest Christian church in Japan, dedicated a simple but beautifully practical little building on the historic old site near the water front. We feel that our Woman's Union Missionary Society has had no small part in the re-establishment of this church for if the people had not had the use of our chapel for over a year for their meetings they would have been obliged to put up the unsubstantial sort of make-shift building resorted to by the other churches and which they have found to be unsatisfactory.
Our local Board of Advisors insisted that our school be re-opened in face of what appeared to be insurmountable difficulties. No praise can be too extravagant regarding our self-sacrificing teachers who have given unstintingly of their labor and love during this sad but joyful year, calling no time their own. A new teacher who had been engaged to begin work in September, the very month of the earthquake, came to devastated Yokohama and smilingly bore the hardships of the first months, assisting greatly in the plans and correspondence necessary for the reopening of the school in November. This teacher has not only proved to be excellent in the class-room but has been deeply interested in the evangelistic work, going every Sunday to our village stations at Kasukabe and Kuki. Aoki Tamae, a graduate of four years ago, has returned to assist with the evangelistic and practical work in Yokohama, and is proving a blessing to teachers and students alike. She has charge of the milk distribution and of the factory evangelistic work, making herself so generally useful that she seems indispensable.

Twenty students returned after the earthquake and gladly endured hardships in order to continue their training. Their first practical work after the catastrophe was to spend three afternoons weekly in looking up and reporting needy cases and helping in the distribution of relief. They visited wounded in Red Cross and factory hospitals, and as places became available Sunday Schools were reopened and new ones started. Thus far our students are conducting eighteen independent Sunday Schools, having an enrollment of 580; while others act as teachers in the Sunday Schools of three churches. The Korean students are especially happy to teach Korean girls in a factory Sunday School which meets every week, and to have discovered a group of Korean women who are married to Japanese. These they visit in their rude barrack dwellings.

A promising class of seven entered in April, three more joining the class in September. Of the nine students graduated in June two have gone to assist missionaries, two are with two of our former graduates teaching in the Deaf-Oral School in Tokyo; two have been appointed to work in our own village stations; the two Koreans have returned to their own country, one for kindergarten work, the other as Bible and music teacher in a mission school. The remaining member of the graduating class is conducting Bible classes for nurses in a great Red Cross Hospital in Tokyo, and other Bible classes for employees in a factory between Tokyo and Yokohama.

COUNTRY WORK

There is renewed interest in this branch of our work. Twenty-seven have been baptized and the inquirers' classes are more fully and regularly attended. Connected with our five out-stations are eighteen Sunday Schools with an average attendance of 520 per week. The work at Tsurumi is flourishing and the little group at Fuji, led by our workers from Iwamoto, are now eager to have a meeting place of their own. Our D. M. S. Chapel at Iwamoto has been recognized by the Synod of the Church of Christ in Japan as a regular chapel of that denomination.

Mr. Aoki, a children's evangelist, held a series of meetings in each of our village stations with the result that two hundred children came to think seriously of the claims of Jesus Christ upon their lives. He also held children's meetings in our own school with good results. At the same time he spoke to our students as teachers, warning them against mistakes that might detract from the effectiveness of their work and calling them to a new and deeper consecration to the work of evangelism.
THE HOME BASE

(From the report of the Board, read at Annual Meeting, January 21, 1925.)

We rejoice that our ranks at home and on the mission field have been untouched by death during the past year. Dangers from earthquakes, from civil war and from cholera have come near to our workers. In Fatehpur one of our missionary doctors was stricken with cholera, but was spared to us. The minor earthquakes which followed the great disaster of 1923 in Japan left our workers unharmed and our property untouched. The civil war in and around Shanghai brought in its wake much disorder and looting, but while buildings close at hand suffered our property was mercifully spared.

There have been few changes in our mission force. Miss Pratt returned to her work in Japan and Miss Morrison to Jhansi, India, in 1924. A new missionary, Miss Alda Berry, was appointed for work in Allahabad and sailed with Miss Morrison in October. The prayers of many years have been answered in the appointment at the close of the year of a missionary physician, Dr. Elizabeth H. Thurrott, for Jhansi.

For these and many more blessings, most of all for the privilege of being co-workers with God in the great work of making His Son known throughout the earth, we thank the Heavenly Father.

SIXTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE
PHILADELPHIA BRANCH
OF THE
Woman's Union Missionary Society

Dr. Alice L. Ernst reports from the Ackerman-Hoyt Hospitals (Jhansi, India) as follows:

"The year just closed has brought us many tokens of God's love and care for us, and has given us increased opportunity to show forth His love to India. Notwithstanding unrest and religious racial animosities, there has been a decided increase in the number of patients treated, both in the wards and in the dispensaries, also in the operations performed. This, too, when our missionary staff consisted only of Miss McLean and myself, assisted by our local helpers.

"In no previous year have we attended so many confinement cases in their homes, and at our hospital. This is up-hill work, for religious caste and custom block our way at every step, but more could be accomplished if we had time to visit with the women and have friendly talks with them.

"Our patients come from all classes and grades of society, and from many countries. Lately we have admitted a Chinese woman into our wards, so the work is far-reaching. Princesses from several Indian Independent States have been attended in their palaces, and the beggar from the roadside has not been overlooked, for all are precious in His sight. Several Hindu women have become Christians during the year, and others are enquiring the way. The people say light is coming. Christ is what India needs. It is a privilege to lead the way. I thank you dear Philadelphia friends for the great help you have given us this year, and ask God's richest blessing on you, and your efforts to extend His kingdom."

Miss McLean sends her report of the Nurses' Training School in the same hospital:

"Another year of joyful service has just closed, and it is with truly grateful hearts that we call to remembrance every token of our Heavenly Father's love and care.

"Our six nurses have been with us eight and nine years, except our night supervisor, who returned to us over a year ago. They are all our own graduates and continue to give us good service.

"Last March thirteen of our nurses took their yearly examinations, and six out of that number stood at the head of all the nurses in the United Provinces who took the examinations, and out of the thirteen there was not one failure in any subject.

"We have had many applications from hospitals and other institutions asking for our graduates, and this is but one sign of the advanced step that India's young women are taking. While we rejoice in the success which has been theirs in their class and practical work, we rejoice still more in their spiritual victories.

"Our weekly Christian Endeavor meetings have been a means of real spiritual growth. This year, in addition to their regular contributions to church, missionary society, Bible, and Tract Society, etc., they have undertaken the support of a child in school—this includes clothes, fees and books; and they seem to take so much joy in planning for this their special care. I wish that the kind friends in America, who support so many of them, might know that much of the money that they send for the nurses' support is passed on in this way to help some one else in her preparation for life's work.

"Our older nurses continue to help in the evangelistic work in the hospital wards and dispensary, and in the outside Sunday schools."
"We now have thirty-two women who are being regularly taught in their homes, but we hope in the near future to have that number doubled."

From the Woman's Home in Fatehpur, India, we have this report:

"The Woman's Home stands in the center of Hindustan, welcoming girls from north, south, east and west, who are in need. Their needs vary. Some are homeless, others need to be rescued, some are no longer wanted because they have acknowledged Christ, others repenting, need a Christian home where they may be strengthened in their desire to lead a pure life.

"Visitors often ask, 'What do you do with the many babies, a large percent. of whom are illegitimate?' When they are tiny, they spend the day in a comfortable cradle suspended from the ceiling of our Children's House. Their mothers are busy sewing, making lace, or cooking; but they are well cared for by one of the women. Later, they are well taught in the daily Kindergarten, and when old enough are sent away to a mission boarding school. These young lives, brought into the world under such sad conditions, are now being trained, and are learning what it means to lead the Christian life.

"We thank the Lord for these, as well as for our girls and older women who now have the assurance of salvation through Jesus Christ."
